THE OLD COTTAGE CLOCK.

BY CHARLES SWAIN.

Oh! the old, old clock of the household stock,
Was the brightest thing and the neatest;
Its hands though old, had a touch of gold,
And its chime still rang the sweetest;
'Twas a monitor, too, though its words were few,
Yet they lived through nations after'd;
And its voice still strong, warned old and young,
When the voice of friendship faltered;
Tick! tick! it said—quick, quick to bed!
For ten I've given warning;
Up, up, and go—or else you know,
You'll ne'er rise soon in the morning!

A friendly voice was that old, old clock,
As it stood in the corner smiling;
And blessed the time with a merry chime,
The winter hours beguiling;
But a coarse old voice was a tiresome clock,
As it called at daybreak boldly;
When the dawn looked gray o'er the misty way,
And the early air blew coldly;
Tick! tick! it said—quick out of bed,
For five I've given warning;
You'll never have health, you'll never have wealth
Unless you're up soon in the morning!

Still hourly the sound goes round—and round,
With a tone that ceases never;
While tears are shed for the bright days fled,
And the old friends lost forever;
Its heart beats on—though hearts are gone,
That warmer beat and stronger;
Its hands still move—though hands we love,
Are clasped on earth no longer;
Tick! tick! it said to the church yard bed,
The grave hath given warning;
Then up and rise, and look to the skies,
And prepare for a heavenly morning!

[FOR THE CHRONICLE.]

MY CIGAR.

[BY INCOGNITO.]

"At the balmy close of day,"
When the sun had faded far;
Wander'd I o'er hills away,
Fanning you—my lone cigar:
All my tho'ts were lost in thee—
As thy sweets were spent on me!

When dim shadows softly creeping
'Neath pure Luna's luxuriant light;
Smiled on nature calmly sleeping
Dreaming of that gorgeous night:
Silent I mused, as each bright star—
Gazed on me and my Cigar!

Ah! such pleasures soon are past!
Silvery ashes are its bier;
Earthly pleasures cannot last,
Be they dainty—be they dear:
Thus farewell—I sigh "ah! ah!"—
O'er thy loss my soft cigar!

Libre echo when frail man has spoke,
Libre the flush which quickens on;
Libre thy sweets—and like thy smoke,
Scenes sublimary soon are gone:
Wrapt in death's robe too soon they are,
Lost & is my fond Cigar!

Farewell tender—gentle brand!
You and I can never meet;
No more you'll linger in my hand,
No more I'll sip thy nectar sweet
Adieu—tho' I join the World's fal la!"
I'll muse on thee, my lost cigar!

VARIETY.

A SKETCH FROM OLMUTZ.—This little congress of two Courts, with so many greyheaded veterans, unavoidably carries back the mind to the still more moving period of 1813—14-15; and the Prince Paskiewitsch and Count Nesselrode, having been less seen in the west of Europe than our current French, English, and German soldiers and statesmen, having been objects of considerable interest, from the association of their names with political and military development of the Russian power during nearly two generations, and I give you an anecdote connecting the two epochs that may be relied on. Lord Westmoreland was relating to Prince Paskewitch that in January, 1814, at the advance on Paris, after the heights of Belleville had been stormed, Paris appeared, and, then being attached to the corps d'armee of General Miloradowitsch, this energetic officer called out, "Up with the artillery, let us at length have a sight at Paris." The artillery was brought up and when the last shot was fired Miloradowitsch said, "With a singular coincidence! This was the very artillery officer who opened the first fire at the beginning of the retreat from Moscow." When Prince Paskiewitsch had listened to this anecdote of the alpha and omega of the decline and fall of the empire of Napoleon I., he added, "Allow me to conclude the series of coincidences, and inform you that the name of this young artillery officer was Paskiewitsch, and that he now has the pleasure of renewing in Olmutz, in 1853, the Camaraderie of 1814 on the heights of Belleville." Unlike the tall and brawny Emperor, Count Nesselrode is brief in every proportion of length and breadth, but with refined and intellectual features; and although one of the very few statesman who preceded the Congress of Vienna, and, politically survived the tempests of 1848, he is still fresh and active, except having no longer the youthful strength of eyesight. He is still here, not having left with the Emperor last night. From all that I can hear, his counsels are of great value, not only to the peace of Europe, but to the interests of Russia herself; as he believes that a pacific development of the empire will carry it further than a more ambitious and warlike policy.—Correspondent of a Daily Paper.

DEFINITION OF A GENTLEMAN.—In the case of Rex v. Kelson, tried at the late Bristol assizes Mr. Justice Talfourd defined the character of a gentleman.—The evidence proved that the defendant, while in the theatre, had said to plaintiff, "Do not speak to me; I am a gentleman, and you are a tradesman." "Gentleman," said the learned judge, "is a term which does not apply to any station, but to the mind and the feelings in every station. The man of rank who deports himself with dignity and candour, and the tradesman who discharges the duties of life with honour and integrity, are alike entitled to it; nay, the humblest man, who fulfils the obligation cast upon him in virtue and with honour, is more entitled to the name of gentleman than the man who could indulge in offencive and ribald remarks, however high in station."

THINK OF IT, GENTS!—Nothing can prevent an increase of bachelorism, save an amendment in the code of educating women. When they learn common sense, instead of broken French; when they learn some useful employment, instead of beating the piano; when they learn to prefer honest industry to silly coxcombry; and when men find woman is a helpmate, instead of a burthen; then, and not till then, may we expect to find fewer bachelors.

BUTTERING.—Butter should always be churned in a cool apartment, the temperature of which should be between thirty and sixty degrees. At sixty degrees, butter is obtained in the greatest quantity, and of about fifty-two degrees, of the best quality. Those interested in dairy management, these facts are of the highest practical importance. A churner should always be suspended in the milk room, and all the operations regulated by it.

The Renowned Remedy!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

A MOST ASTONISHING CURE OF SCROFULOUS ULCERS.—A CASE CERTIFIED BY THE MAYOR OF BOSTON.

Copy of a Letter from J. Noble, Esq., Mayor of Boston, Lincolnshire.

To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—Mrs Sarah Dixon, of Liquorpond-st., Boston, has this day deposed before me that for a considerable period she was severely afflicted with Scrofulous Sores and Ulcers in her arms, feet, legs, and other parts of her body; and although the first of medical advice was obtained, at the cost of a large sum of money, she obtained no abatement of suffering, but gradually grew worse.

Being recommended by a friend to try your Ointment, she procured a small pot, and a box of the Pills, and before that was all used, symptoms of amendment appeared. By persevering with the medicines for a short time longer, according to the directions, and strictly adhering to your rules as to diet, &c., she was perfectly cured, and now enjoys the best of health.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours truly,

August 12th, 1852. (Signed) J. NOBLE.

AN EXTRAORDINARY AND RAPID CURE OF ERYSIPELAS IN THE LEG, AFTER MEDICAL AID HAD FAILED.

Copy of a Letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Yeates, of the Post Office, Aldwick Road, near Bognor, Sussex, dated Jan. 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Sir,—I suffered for a considerable period from a severe attack of Erysipelas, which at length settled in my leg, and resisted all medical treatment. My sufferings were very great, and I quite despaired of any permanent amendment, when I was advised to have recourse to your Ointment and Pills, did so without delay, and am happy to say, the result was eminently successful, for they effected a radical cure of my leg, and restored me to the enjoyment of health. I shall ever speak with the utmost confidence of your medicines, and have recommended them to others in this neighborhood, similarly afflicted, who derived equal benefit.

I am, Sir, your obliged and faithful servant,

(Signed) ELIZABETH YEATES.

A DREADFULLY DISEASED ANGLE CURED AFTER BEING GIVEN UP BY THE FACULTY AT MALTA AND PORTSMOUTH HOSPITALS

The following important communication has been forwarded to Professor Holloway for publication, by Mr. B. Dixon, Chemist, King-st., Norwich.

Copy of a Letter from Captain Smith of Great Yarmouth, dated January 19th, 1853.

To Mr. Dixon.

Dear Sir,—I send you the particulars of a cure effected by Professor Holloway's invaluable medicines: Mr. John Walton, late in Her Majesty's Service, in the British Fleet at Malta, had a very bad ulcerated ancle, and after having been in the Malta Hospital for six months, was sent to England as an invalid to Portsmouth Hospital, where he remained an inmate four months, there, as at Malta, refusing to have the limb amputated, he was turned out incurable. He then came to Yarmouth, and was under a medical gentleman for about three months, but his ancle became so much worse, that all hope was lost. At this period, by my advice, he tried Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which by unremitted application, healed all the ulcers, and restored him to perfect health and strength.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours very truly,

(Signed) JOHN SMITH.

SURPRISING CURE OF A BAD BREAST, NERVOUS DEBILITY, AND GENERAL ILL-HEALTH.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. T. F. Ker, Chemist, &c. Lower Moss-Lane, Manchester, dated February 12th, 1853.

To Professor Holloway.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in forwarding to you the particulars of a very extraordinary cure of a bad breast, effected solely by the use of your celebrated Ointment and Pills. Mrs. Martha Bell, of Pitt-street, in this town, had been for a considerable time labouring under nervous debility, loss of appetite, and general ill health, occasioned by ulcerated wounds in the breast. She had had much experience in the use of all the known remedies for the cure of ulcers, but without any beneficial result, in fact she had nearly lost all faith and hope of a cure being effected. In this distressing and painful condition of body and mind, she was persuaded to have recourse to your invaluable Ointment and Pills, which she immediately did, and in the course of a very short time the effect produced was most astonishing; her appetite was speedily improved, the sores and ulcers in the breast gradually healed, and the nervous excitement of her system was wholly removed.

I remain, Dear Sir, yours faithfully,

T. FORSTER KER.
