MINES AND MINING STOCKS

J. F. Bledsoe, the Montana Mining Engineer, Reports on the Fairview Properties

AND SAYS STEMWINDER WILL PAY

A Dividend Regularly in Six Months if a Proper Mill and Plant is Put Up.

Vancouver, B.C., May 8.—(Special.)—Fairview Corporation stock is largely held in Toronto. The following will be interesting: The best available mining engineer, J. F. Bledsoe, Montana, was recently secured by the Fairview Corporation to report critically on their properties. In brief Mr. Bledsoe says that the Stemwinder can be made to pay a dividend in six months and monthly indefinitely thereafter, given sufficient cash and a mill and plant to heat concentrates. Forty stamps would be required. Water is abundant. Mr. Bledsoe says: "I do not treat the rich pay streak at all. I left that severely alone as uncertain. I tested all other ore for an average value, and have decided that with the vast body of ore available—the only body, by the way, proved in the camp to date—that the values were sufficiently strong with the ore as low grade to exceed $200 a day in 40-stamp mill." Mr. Bledsoe deplored the fact that enormous sums had been wasted through error in Fairview Camp. He will undertake to find ore in the Tin Horn by judicious development, but so far only broken veins had been disclosed. On the reception of Mr. Bledsoe's report the Fairview Corporation made overtures to him to bring his assertions to an issue, and he is now installed at Fairview as superintendent.

THE RANDOLPH MINE.

Development Work Has Started and It is the Intention to Have a Mill in Operation Within 12 Months.

Mine Centre, Ont., May 5.—It is less than one month since a single crew began work on the Randolph mine, close to the Golden Star, but splendid progress has been made, and last Saturday night there was a fine shaft sunk more than 27 feet, and it had been timbered thoroughly all the way. The vein is showing up splendidly under the development done so far and some of the best ore that has been seen in this region has been encountered there. Specimens showing free gold, visible to the eye, have been found, and both the color of the quartz and its mineralization are above the average. Neil Burger, who had a hand in the early development of the Golden Star, says that the property never produced any rock so near the surface that panned so freely and richly as that now being taken out of the Randolph shaft daily. One thing in the ore that pleases mining men is the presence of copper pyrites in good quantity.

The ore body of the Randolph now has a width of four feet, with every indication that it will widen. The walls are very smooth and perfect. The pay streak, so far, runs from 18 inches to two feet in width, and the vein matter pans gold in good quantities. There is an abundance of the same rich, rusty, oxydized matter that is characteristic of the Golden Star ore. The ore body seems to have been disturbed and shattered by shaking in the body of the earth, but with depth it is expected that not only will the vein widen, but the formation become more solid. This peculiarity has made it necessary to timber the shaft as the way sunk.

A blacksmith shop has been erected at the shaft, a windlass constructed, and from this on night and day shifts will push the work under the present contract for 50 feet of sinking to a rapid completion. Homer Bedford and Patrick O'Brien have this contract. The camp building was finished the middle of last week, and is now occupied by the miners; it is a neat, substantial one-storey frame house; one end is fitted up with bunks, and the other partitioned off, makes a comfortable kitchen and dining room. The Randolph location, known as mining location A. L., 115, was discovered by Ed. Randolph and Neil Burger, in September, 1894, at the same time they discovered the Golden Star location. It comprises 40 acres and adjoins the Golden Star on the east. After its discovery the property laid idle until this spring, when it was secured by the Randolph Gold Mining Company and development work quickly and energetically commenced. The mine is in the same formation as the Golden Star; eminent geologists designate the country rock as a fine-grained greenstone. The location has not been closely prospected, but several veins are known to exist. The main vein, on which the shaft is being sunk, has a strike a little north of northwest and south of southeast. So far it has a slight dip to the northward—about one foot in 20. The Randolph Company, organized under the laws of Ontario, is a strong one, and its officers are among the most substantial business men at the head of the lakes. The officers are as follows: President, W R Fanning; vice-president, W N Anderson; secretary, M C French; treasurer, Charles H Sutherland, all of West Superior, Wis. The Board of Directors is made up of the following: Messrs. Fanning, Anderson, Sunderland, Joseph Sellwood, Duluth; Neil Burger, Mine Centre, Ont. The business will be conducted on practical lines; it is the intention of the officers to have the milling plant in operation within 12 months.

Mining Shares.

Messrs. Currie & Kiteley in their daily review say: The principal feature of the market to-day was the advance in Cariboo Con., Minnehaha and Northern Belle. We think that this group offers the best chance for a turn over at present prices on the list. There was considerable enquiry for Winnipeg. We expect a brisk market during the next few weeks. Gold Hills should also be a good buy at present prices. The prospects of the company at present are excellent. Wire us your orders to buy or sell.

Information has just been received from Duluth by Mr. S. J. Sharp that the spindle for the crusher of the Golden Star mine which was broken last week, was shipped by express from Chicago last Saturday, and would reach Rat Portage to-day. From there it will be reshipped by boat to the mine, and in all probability the crusher will be running again by the end of the present week.

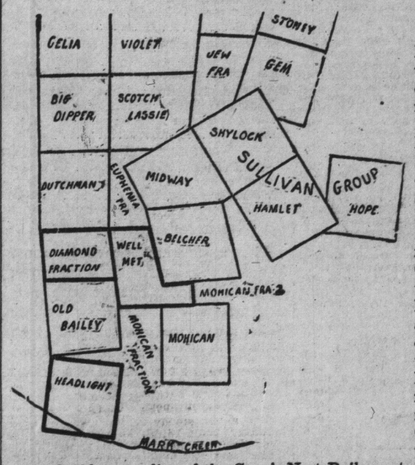
HEADLIGHT GROUP ON SULLIVAN HILL, Fort Steele District, B.C.
1,000,000 Shares. Assessable Up to 5 Cents a Share, Not Exceeding One Mill Per Month.—250,000 Shares in the Treasury for Development Purposes.



THE HEADLIGHT MINING & MILLING CO. own and will early this spring commence development work on the HEADLIGHT, WELL MET and DIAMOND FRACTION mineral claims, situated on Sullivan Hill, in the Fort Steele District, East Kootenay Mining Division of British Columbia. This section has long been known to prospectors and investors as one of the richest in British Columbia, but lack of transportation facilities has retarded its development. The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. will this spring build a spur line of the Crow's Nest Railway to a point midway between the Sullivan and North Star mines and not more than a mile from the Headlight Group.

Many fine claims have been located on Sullivan Hill and Huckleberry Mountain, between which Mark Creek runs. These developed claims in several cases are now in fact among the largest mines in British Columbia. The SULLIVAN GROUP, almost immediately adjoining, and with a capitalization of 2,500,000 shares, has one of the biggest silver-lead bodies blocked out that has ever been known, and will in all probability be one of the largest mines in the Province. The properties of the Sullivan Group Mining Co. are the Hamlet, Shylock and Hope (see cut). The shares are selling at from 18 cents to 22 cents. The NORTH STAR MINING & MILLING CO., owning the NORTH STAR, MIDNIGHT, STEMWINDER and twenty or thirty other claims on Huckleberry Mountain and Sullivan Hill, all within a mile and a half of the HEADLIGHT GROUP, is said to have fully $2,000,000 worth of ore blocked out. It is a silver-lead, carrying average values of about $90, and is controlled by gentlemen closely connected with the C.P.R.

ORE.

The formation of Sullivan Hill is Dolamite lime, lying flat on a Diorite formation and the ore generally is a silver-lead, carrying as high as 70 per cent. lead and 93 ounces of silver. In some places gold and copper values are considerable. In others, as depth is attained, gold and copper values come in; as, for instance, in the Stemwinder and the Sullivan Group.

MINING FACILITIES.

The facilities possessed by the Headlight Group are exceptional, the Headlight especially being well situated for being worked by a tunnel. There is an excellent mill site, and Mark Creek, supplying abundant water for all purposes, crosses the Headlight claim.

The first block of stock is now offered at 5 CENTS, and at this price should be a good investment.
