On Stanley On! But not to Victory—The Explorer's Tough Experience in Lambeth.

Mrs. Stanley and Her Husband Roughly Handled by a Mob—Their Narrow Escape.

LONDON, June 29.—Henry M. Stanley and Mrs. Stanley tried, this evening, to address a meeting of Lambeth electors, at Hawkins Hall. The crowd was uproarious from beginning to end, and but little said by either of the speakers was heard. The police seemed to be powerless to quell the riotous demonstrations, and eventually the meeting broke up in a general fight, followed by persistent attempts to assault the candidate and his wife. As soon as Mr. Stanley appeared on the platform it was evident that trouble was brewing. There were groans and shuffling on the outskirts of the crowd, and somebody shouted "Three cheers for Gladstone." The first sentence spoken by Mr. Stanley was greeted with derisive laughter. The disorder increased until the end of the first five minutes. Mr. Stanley's address had become a mere dumb show. A few people on the front were yelling for him to go on, while the rest of the audience groaned and shouted insults. Mr. Stanley turned and motioned to the chairman, who requested the interference of the police. About fifty constables pushed their way through the hall, pushing men back to their seats and warning the shouters that further offences would be punished with ejection. Mr. Stanley proceeded, when order was restored, to speak of Mr. Gladstone and home rule. "Who has a stupid scheme?" cried out a woman. The reference to Mr. Stanley's denunciation of Mr. Gladstone was followed by cheers and shouts of "Sit down," "Let your wife talk for you," "Go back to Africa," and a steady chorus of howls. With the aid of the police, however, the disturbance was again subdued, and by sheer power of lung and perseverance Mr. Stanley made himself heard for a few moments. The panic in the crowd was appalling, and many were trampled upon by those fleeing from the scene. Scores of women fainted.

Mrs. Stanley took the platform. She was received little better than her husband had been. Her reference to his loyalty to Great Britain was received with laughter, and her attempts to discuss political issues were rendered futile by the uproarious demands that her husband spoke for himself, and shouted inquiries as to what constituency she wished to represent. A fight was started near the platform, and another in the rear of the hall. Mrs. Stanley became nervous and embarrassed, losing her line of thought, and in response to a gesture from Mr. Stanley turned to sit down. The incident turned all restraint, and the meeting vanished, the crowd becoming a hooting and fighting mob. Mr. Stanley hastily started with Mrs. Stanley for the door, and his supporters in the audience tried to hurry after them. They had to fight their way through blows and abuse, most of them coming out with their hats smashed and their clothes torn. The mob broke from the doors of the hall with a rush, and swept down on Mr. Stanley's carriage. He had barely got Mrs. Stanley inside, when they were upon him. Somebody grabbed him by the arm to pull him back, but he tore loose, jumped in the carriage and slammed the door, and the mob followed pulling at the carriage doors and trying to stop the horses. They wrenched one door, but before they could do more the driver got his horses into a gallop and was soon beyond their reach. Mrs. Stanley was badly frightened. She, was almost in hysterics when she left the hall, and she screamed several times during the mob's attack upon the carriage.

A Frightful Death.

LONDON, June 29.—A frightful accident occurred at the Crystal Palace, to-day. Capt. Dale, the well-known aeronaut, was to give a balloon expedition in the presence of thousands of Sunday school holiday seekers. The captain invited any one who desired to accompany him, and in addition to Captain Dale's 14-year-old son, several others ascended in the balloon. When it reached a height of 500 feet, the 10,000 spectators were horrified to see the balloon suddenly burst and the car rapidly descend. Capt. Dale fell from the car, dead and terribly mutilated, among the spectators. Young Dale was hanging to the car when it struck on a stone wall and almost every bone in his body was broken. All the other occupants sustained severe injuries, but may recover.

Shipwrecked Sailors Saved.

LONDON, June 29.—The steamer Trave, which left New York June 21 for Southampton and Bremen, has passed Scilly Islands. She signalled she was slightly damaged after leaving New York by a collision with a vessel that foundered after the collision. The Trave succeeded in saving the captain and crew, who are now on board the Trave. The vessel with which the Trave collided is supposed to be the bark Fred B. Taylor, of Yarmouth, N.S., which was seen floating upside down in the ocean a few days ago, showing signs of having been nearly cut in two by a collision, and concerning the fate of whose captain and crew great anxiety has been felt.

The Stolen Documents.

PARIS, June 29.—A second search in Grenier's apartments has brought to light many important documents, including a complete plan of a new French ironclad.

An Election Dodge.

LONDON, June 29.—The Parnellite Executive committee, of Great Britain, while regretting Gladstone's reticence, have issued a formal address to Irish electors to support the Gladstonian candidates, on the ground that Gladstone will then have no excuse to withhold the details of his Home Rule scheme. It is stated that the Executive committee of the Parnellites in Dublin will issue a similar address.

The German Emperor's Movements.

BERLIN, June 29.—Emperor William sailed to-day from Kiel on the yacht Hohenzollern, escorted by the warship Siegfried. He will proceed directly to Drontheim. The whaling voyage and numerous visits along the Norwegian coast are expected to occupy his time until late in July, when he will return, so as to be at Cowes and Windsor early in August.

Russia and Germany.

LONDON, June 29.—The Post's Berlin coorespondent says: "The Russian press is almost unanimous in repudiating Bismarck's views of the relations between Russia and Germany. It declares that Bismarck himself broke the links between the two countries, and that since he retired the relations of Germany and Russia have been more satisfactory.

An Embezzler Captured.

PARIS, June 29.—Le Guay, the director of the dynamite company here, who disappeared a few days ago, after embezzling 50,000 francs, was arrested, this afternoon.

The Troubled Republic.

PANAMA via GALVESTON, June 29.—Advices from Caracas are to the effect that hostilities have been resumed. General Crespo and Dr. Bojas Paul repudiate the provincial government on the ground that it is following the policy of the dictator. Crespo is marching on Caracas with 11,000 men, and General Monga is prepared to hold the city with 7,000 men against him. There is tremendous excitement throughout the country around the capital, as a battle is believed to be imminent. The Barren Cutta police have struck because they have not received their pay for several months. Many prisoners are dying of starvation. They have received but little food for a week, and during the last three days they have been practically unfed. The prisons are wretched buildings, and during the recent bad weather their occupants have suffered extremely. Numerous deaths from exposure are reported.

For a Miners' Hospital.

DRESDEN, June 29.—The Saxon miners' union has donated 700,000 marks for the erection of a hospital for miners.

A Friend of the Distressed.

BERLIN, June 29.—Father Lange, parish priest at Volkamannsdorf, who possessed a large private fortune, bequeathed upon his death 180,000 marks to Bishop Kopp, of Breslau, to be used for the relief of the distressed Silesian weavers.

Confidence in Gladstone.

LONDON, June 29.—At Cork, to-day, Mr. Wm. O'Brien said that the Nationalists had entire confidence in Mr. Gladstone, and that the Home Rule measure proposed by Mr. Gladstone would, in some respects, be better than the Home Rule bill which Mr. Parnell had approved in 1886.

Prosecution of an Editor.

BERLIN, June 28.—The Freisinnige Zeitung, edited by Eugene Richter, will be prosecuted for "lese majeste." Its offence was saying that the Emperor was liable for a fine for shooting deer out of season. Proceedings have been begun.

Rival Exhibitions.

PARIS, June 27.—The proposal to defer the Berlin exhibition until 1900 has given a new impetus to the plan for a Paris exhibition, in that year. The organizers of the preliminary plan are exerting themselves to secure the approval of the government and the manufacturers.

Shocking the Electors.

LONDON, June 27.—The Star says the Tories at Salisbury have issued a cartoon entitled, "The Grand Old Man's last Journey." It depicts Gladstone with his 83 years bearing a palm in his left hand and his Home Rule bill in his right, being dragged down to hell by the devil. The cartoon has so shocked the electors and those opposed to Mr. Gladstone, that most of the copies have been called in and high prices offered for the remainder that are still in circulation.

Balfour's Meeting.

LONDON, June 27.—The electoral campaign is opening amid the greatest excitement. Balfour spoke at Sheffield to-day, and 15,000 persons were present at the meeting. At the beginning of his speech, Mr. Balfour was continually interrupted with cheers and groans. Finally he expressed regret for the deplorable accident that had occurred to Mr. Gladstone. This caused the uproar to increase, and finally the noise became so great that Balfour could not be heard. The crowd made several attempts to rush upon the platform, and the police had the utmost difficulty in repulsing them. Several women were extricated from the crowd in a fainting condition. The meeting terminated in the wildest disorder.

Bismarck and the Kaiser.

MUNICH, June 28.—Prince Bismarck has confirmed the statement that he has requested an interview with the Emperor Franz Joseph, and the latter refused to grant the request.

DIVIDED ON THE TARIFF QUESTION

"Free Traders" and "Protectionists" in the Congress of Chambers of Commerce.

LONDON, June 29.—The Free Traders have a large majority of the British delegates to the Chambers of Commerce Congress, although many of the delegates from the manufacturing districts of Lancashire and Yorkshire favor a mild protection. With the Colonial representatives the proportion is the other way—the majority are in favor of protection.

The Pall Mall Gazette says as the first step toward commercial union the Colonies must offer free ports to the trade of England. "Until this is done," says the Gazette, "it is not likely that we will commit ourselves."

A protective measure that the colonist delegates are not inclined unanimously to support is the resolution of the Chamber of Commerce of Sheffield:

"That in the opinion of this Congress the general interests of the trade of the Empire render it eminently desirable that the provisions of the Merchandise Marks Act should be adopted and actively carried out in all British colonies and dependencies in the same manner as has produced such beneficial results in the mother country."

It is considered that the adoption of the Merchandise Marks system abroad would aid England at the expense of colonial manufacturers.

ONE WHALE EACH.

First Advices From the Fleet Now in the Arctic.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—To-day, the first authentic information was received from the fleet of whaling vessels now in the Arctic. The information given out is forwarded to this city by Captain Shockley, of the bark James Allen.

Generally speaking, the crews of all the whalers are reported in good health, and the outlook for the fur catch is regarded as favorable. To date, the barks James Allen, Bounding Billow, Wanderer, and the steamer Jesse H. Freeman had secured one right whale each.

DIPLOMATIC ENTERPRISE.

More About Captain Borup, of the United States Legation at Paris.

Alleged Trafficking in Official Plans and Confidential Signals—His Record.

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Secretary Elkins and in fact all the War department officials speak in the highest terms of Captain Borup and express confidence in his ability to prove his innocence. His recall, they say, was a natural sequence to the unfortunate affair, for even though he may satisfy the French authorities that he has been wrongfully accused, his usefulness as an attache will necessarily be impaired. His recall would therefore have followed, regardless of any demand for it by the French authorities. The fact that Captain Borup is allowed only $50 per month for office expenses, out of which he is authorized to purchase periodicals, maps, drawings, etc., must be accepted as pretty conclusive evidence that he has not gone into the business of purchasing stolen plans on a very large scale. That he should sell stolen plans to other countries would seem to be equally absurd, when it is known that he is a very rich man. Captain Borup is a son of a rich Indian trader at St. Paul, Mich. His wife is quite rich. The war department does not believe Captain Borup to be guilty and he will be given an opportunity on his arrival to exonerate himself. He will not, however, even if he clears himself, be sent back to France.

PARIS, June 28.—Jefferson Coolidge, American Minister, informed Minister of Foreign Affairs Ribot, yesterday, that Captain Borup admitted having paid for secret official documents, but declared that in so doing he had only followed the example of all military attachés. Mr. Ribot replied that Borup deserved censure for trying to corrupt an official in order to possess a State secret, an offense rendering him liable to prosecution if he were not in the diplomatic service. Mr. Coolidge expressed deep regret at the occurrence. The American legation at once cabled Washington city asking the authorities to recall Captain Borup.

To-day Mr. Coolidge informed the French Minister of Foreign Affairs of the recall of Borup, accused of being an intermediate in revealing to Germany and Italy the plans of French defences. Mr. Ribot thereupon wrote to M. Naquette, who proposed to raise the question in the Chambers, that all had been settled in such a manner as to leave no excuse for an interpolation. A note inspired by the Foreign Office appears in the newspapers approving the prompt action in the matter, both of Minister Coolidge and President Harrison.

VICTORIA MARKETS.

Stock Sale Very Poorly Attended—Another Drop in the Price of Flour.

The great stock sale to have come off at the market building yesterday did not materialize, owing to the fact that no cattle were sent in for sale, and only a few horses were put up. The attendance of buyers was very small. It is probable there will be some stock sent in next week, when another sale will be held. It will take some time to work up the trade.

In breadstuffs this week there has been a little drop, principally flour being affected, other prices remaining unchanged. Portland roller comes down from $6.25 to $6 retail, and to $5.50 @5.57 wholesale. Snowflake brand is out of the market for a couple of months while the mill is being rebuilt and improved. As there is no local stock of this brand, those accustomed to using it will have to find a substitute. Wheat by the ton is a little lower. The cause of the decline is improved crop reports.

New hay was put upon the market on Monday at the same price as last year's crop. The quality is excellent.

There is no change to note in produce, butter eggs, etc. Fruit is coming in very freely and sells at varying prices. Peaches, apricots, apples, cherries, plums and the like are being sent in from the south. Strawberries are coming in very freely from local gardens, and with fine weather the supply keeps up well.

Retail prices for the week are as follows:

A Notorious Career.

MONTREAL, June 29.—As the career of Thos. Neill, or Dr. Thos. Neill-Cream, the alleged London poisoner, is becoming fully known, the more atrocious does it appear. It transpires that even before he graduated at McGill college, he seduced the daughter of a Waterloo, Que., hotel keeper. He attempted to procure abortion on her, and was compelled to marry her. He soon deserted her, and she shortly after became demented, dying a few months later.

A Conservative Victory.

TORONTO, June 29.—John Byson, Conservative, has been elected to the Commons for Pontiac by a majority of about six hundred. At the general election, last year, Byson was defeated by Thomas Murray, Liberal. Murray lost his seat through illegal practices.

MONTREAL, June 29.—A diamond pin worth $3,000 was stolen from the Sherbrooke street residence of President Van Horne, of the C. P. R., a few days ago. Detectives found the pin in the house of a decorator named Lemoige, who had been employed in Van Horne's house.

Dumont in Montreal.

MONTREAL, June 29.—Gabriel Dumont, Riel's Lieutenant in the rebellion of 1885, is in Montreal again. He says the condition of his compatriots in the Northwest at present is very unsatisfactory. The Government has made repeated promises, he states, but never carried them out. He intends to have a conference with the Dominion Government on the subject.

Too Wet.

QUEBEC, June 29.—The rain poured down in torrents throughout the whole of Monday night, and the country is literally flooded. So much rain has fallen lately that great injury to crops is expected.

For the five months ending May 31, 1891, the net profits were $2,352,709.

MAN'S INHUMANITY.

Heartless Treatment of a Sick and Suffering English Immigrant at New York.

NEW YORK, June 27.—Two minutes before the steamer Belgenland sailed from her pier at Jersey City, yesterday morning, one of the steerage passengers was hurriedly put ashore. He was a tall, emaciated young man, and dying of consumption. He had surrendered his ticket the night before and had spent 12 hours on board. His name was F. William Yeates. Two brawny sailors carried him to an armchair on the pier, outside of Superintendent Shackles office. His trunk and small valise were placed beside him, and the steamer sailed away for Antwerp. Yeates had two hemmorhages on board the steamer, and the doctor who attended him told Captain Benetz that his passenger would not live the voyage out. The captain ordered Yeates off the ship and had his sailors carry out his commands. He did not return the passenger's ticket.

When Policeman Lucyster first saw Yeates he was sitting in the chair on the pier, coughing. This was at 6 o'clock in the morning. The policeman sent for a patrol wagon and wanted to take Yeates to the hospital. At 3:30 p.m. a friend appeared, a young Englishman who had met Yeates on the train between Chicago and New York. He carried the sick man to Ryd's hotel, and a clerk carried the coughing man upstairs. Yeates found great difficulty in speaking, but managed to give his story to a reporter. He is an Englishman, who has been working as book-keeper in Honolulu for several years. He was stricken with consumption last fall, and this spring decided to start for home so that he might die among his relatives in London.

Dr. McGill, of Jersey City, made an examination of the consumptive to-night. He found that one lung was entirely gone, and the other was affected. "He may live 48 hours," said the physician, "or may hang on a month. I think it was a most cruel and inhuman thing to put him off the boat. He is trying to get home to die in his mother's arms. Every day is precious to him. The man has no money and no friends. He has not even a ticket, as the captain of the steamer carried it off. I am confident that such an outrage, as this seems to be, can be carried no further. I have told the man to demand passage on the next ship, and to present his hotel bill to the steamship company."

Serious Storms.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 28.—This city and vicinity was visited to-day by a very heavy thunder storm. Rain fell in torrents, the total fall amounting to two inches. In the surrounding country the reports received would indicate that the storm was even more severe. Trees were uprooted, electric light and telegraph wires were blown down, and other serious damage done. In Ossian, Dewitt Vanscotter entered a burning barn and tried to remove some burning horses, but was kicked into an unconscious state by one of them. He was then dragged from the flames, but death resulted shortly afterwards. At Sodus, Isaac Day was struck and killed by lightning. The basket factory of Fish & Hulett was also struck, the lightning following the machinery, which acted as a conductor. Not one of the thirty employes was injured.

A Double Suicide.

BALTIMORE, June 29.—The horribly contorted bodies of a man and woman were found in a room at the Carrollton Hotel, this afternoon. They had taken poison. The couple registered a week ago as Mr. and Mrs. Fred. St. Cloud, of New York. Papers found show that St. Cloud had served in the English Grenadier Guards, and indicate that the woman had formerly resided at Danbury, Conn.

Up Goes Coal.

NEW YORK, June 30.—The Eastern sales agents met to-day and ordered that on Tuesday next the price of coal be advanced 25 cents. The Eastern agents also met to-day and ordered advances.

Relations are not Strained.

WASHINGTON, D.C., June 29.—Chairman W. J. Campbell, of the Republican National committee, had an interview with President Harrison, last night, and another one, this morning. He left, this afternoon, for home. The names of the Executive committee will be given out by Mr. Campbell at Chicago within the next few days. Before leaving the city, Mr. Campbell stated that at the request of himself and the President, Mr. Clarkson had accepted a place on the executive committee and would have an important and confidential part in the campaign. This verifies the statement made in these despatches yesterday that the relations between the President and Mr. Clarkson were not of that strained character the recent published statements would indicate.

Rival Railways.

PORTLAND, June 28.—In the United States circuit court to-day the injunction suit brought by the Oregon Short Line and Utah Northern Railway Company against the Northern Pacific railway was decided in favor of the defendant. The plaintiffs alleged that the defendant discriminated in receiving and forwarding freight originating at points east of the 97th meridian and destined to points north of Portland, which was claimed to be contrary to the custom and practice among railways. Defendant denied any discrimination.

For the Little Hot Republic.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The bark Onawana, with a cargo of sixteen hundred kegs of powder, left this port, to-day, for Valparaiso. It is supposed that the powder is for the Chilian Government.

Respited.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Geo. W. Bruggy, who was to have been executed at Santa Rosa, to-morrow, for the murder of Deidrick Louisen, was, to-day, respited by Governor Markam for 30 days.

The Jury Disagreed.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The jury in the case of Dr. John A. Irwin, one of the three physicians indicted for performing an illegal autopsy on the body of Mind-reader Washington Irving Bishop, two years ago, to-day disagreed, standing 9 to 3. They were discharged.

Seattle's Big Blaze.

SEATTLE, June 29.—The fire at Schwabacher Bros. & Co's wholesale store it still smouldering, and the loss, it is feared, will be fully up to the estimates formed by competent parties yesterday—$350,000 on stock, and $45,000 or $50,000 on buildings. There is a great mass of debris in the ruine which is still smouldering and must be thoroughly extinguished before the work of clearing away the ruins can begin in earnest. Men entered the building from Commercial street and threw out through the windows much of the goods which had not been destroyed, sliding packages from the upper stories on a board. The other sufferers of the conflagration are the occupiers and owners of the Terry-Denny block, to the extent of about $2,000. Levy Bros. cigar manufacturers; Mr. W. Keating & Co., paint and wall paper store; H. L. Gesler, and a few others in trifling amounts. The loss is covered by insurance in each case.
