Motions Before Justice Meredith in D'Ivry v. The World—No Action for Slander Against a Corporation.

In D'Ivry v. The World Newspaper Co. Mr. Justice Meredith has decided that the defendants are not entitled to an order requiring the plaintiff to furnish further security for the costs of her action over and above the $200 already paid into court. He reserved judgment upon the plaintiff's appeal from the order of Mr. Cartwright in Chambers refusing to order a further affidavit on production to be filed by defendants. The manager of the defendants objected to produce the file of the newspaper containing the statements alleged to constitute the libel on the ground that their production might subject defendants to a criminal prosecution. The plaintiff, on her part, contended that a company could not be guilty of a crime nor was it capable of malice, and so the file should be produced for inspection in this action.

In Marshall v. Central Ontario R. W. Co. the Divisional Court (Q. B. D.) held that the plaintiff was not entitled to bring an action for slander against a corporation. They reserved judgment upon the question whether the defendants had wrongfully dismissed the plaintiff from their employment.

In Harris v. Economical Mutual Fire Ins. Co. of Berlin the same court refused to set aside the non-suit entered by the trial judge. The defendants had successfully contended at the trial that the plaintiff effected a subsequent insurance with another company, without notice to the defendants or obtaining their assent, and thus relieved them from liability.

In Hutchinson v. Lafontaine the Court of Appeal dismissed with costs the appeal of two defendants from the judgment of the trial judge. A. N. Newman, deceased, by his will directed that at the death of his mother the proceeds of his estate should be "equally divided between my wife and my brother and sister." The court held that the testator meant by these words to give one-half of the proceeds of his estate to his wife and the other half to his brother and sister, and not to give one-third to each of the parties named.

Afternoon Police Court.

There was a free fight on Bloor-street west on Jan. 9 and, as a consequence, Charles Boyd, Abel Boyd and George Britton appeared in the Police Court yesterday afternoon, charged with assaulting Richard Whitteker. Magistrate Miller fined the defendants $3 and costs each or 30 days. Edward Swain, who pleaded hard times as an excuse for not paying express hire, was fined $2 without costs, or 10 days. Teresa Stinson, charged with non-payment of express hire, amounting to $7.50, was fined $7.50 and costs, or 30 days. E. C. Hill, who, out of pity, took in a sick dog and cured him, was charged with keeping a dog without a license, but was dismissed on agreeing to take out a license.

A Deaf Mute Plaintiff.

Chief Justice Meredith presided at the Assizes yesterday, when the trial of the civil cases was proceeded with.

The first action taken up was that of Henry Gilbert against the Toronto Street Railway Company, which was heard without a jury. The plaintiff, who is 64 years of age, was forcibly removed from a belt line car on Sept. 4 last. As he is a deaf mute, it became necessary for counsel to put their questions to him in writing and for him to answer in the same way, the clerk of the court afterwards reading out both. The case resulted in a verdict of $25 for the plaintiff.

Cause list for to-day: National Assurance Company v. Dennie, Guardian Insurance Company v. Dennie, Newman v. Allen, Perkins v. Toronto Street Railway, Thompson v. Pearson, Cochrane v. Graham.

An Ungrateful Tramp.

A hobo was driven to seek warmth and a quiet nap into the Grand Trunk shops at the foot of Brock-street on Saturday last. As this action on the part of the visitor was in total disregard of the notice, "No admittance," placed conspicuously near the entrance, the majority of the men were in favor of forcibly ejecting the wandering Willie. Two of the boys, W. E. Ellis and William Kidd, however, protested against this, and the man was allowed to finish his nap in his comfortable quarters in the cab of one of the engines, lying in the shop. When the tramp was leaving, it was noticed that he filled out the overcoat, which, when he came in, had hung loosely upon his none too bulky frame. Nothing more was said about the matter until the whistle blew and all hands were putting on their coats. Then it was found that he had helped himself to a coat belonging to Mr. Neles and an overcoat lately bought by Mr. Kidd.

The Builders' Exchange.

The annual meeting was held yesterday, in the offices, Victoria-street. The Finance Committee's report showed the finances to be in a satisfactory condition. The directors' report was also received with much interest by the members. The Legislation Committee's report was also received and adopted. The following were elected to hold office for the current year: President, Mr. John Aldridge; first vice-president, Thomas Cranon, jr.; second vice-president, John B. Vick; treasurer, David Williams; auditors, Messrs. George Clay and Fredk. Holmes; directors: James Crang, William Booth, James Wickett, George Henry, J. M. Gauder.

Canadian Peas.

Some time ago the Department of Agriculture asked for the name of provincial bean-growers, the object being to communicate information to dealers in the Old Country on the matter. A letter was recently received from Mr. Harrison Watson, curator of the Imperial Institute of London, Eng., in which he states that Canadian beans are not properly graded, and that more care should be taken in that regard. The letter also stated that there is a market in Great Britain for Canadian canned peas if they are properly put up.

Illegal Sport is Expensive.

There is no open season for the killing of moose until the twentieth century, but, notwithstanding this fact, some Orillia parties have been found with moose hides in their possession. The game warden made a seizure on Saturday last and as the department intend prosecuting vigorously, the chances are that it will cost the offenders somewhere between $25 and $50 for their illegal sport.

WELLAND TOPICS.

Some Farmers in the Peninsula Talking Free Trade—Trouble With the Fire Underwriters.

Welland, Jan. 18.—(Special.)—A number of prominent farmers, including several township councillors, have issued a proclamation of a public meeting to be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday. The object of the meeting is to demand of the Laurier Government, which they have always supported, negotiations with the United States Government for free trade relations.

At the last meeting of the Welland Driving Park Association the officers for 1897 were elected: President, W. M. German, M.L.A.; vice-president, W. J. Best; 2nd vice-president, J. R. Dowie; secretary-treasurer, F. G. Hutton.

The Town Council and the Fire Underwriters' Association are making trouble for one another. The Underwriters' Association ordered the town to put in several hundred dollars worth of new fire apparatus, and the town but partially complied with the demand, and the place is now threatened with a lower classification and higher insurance rates.

The Buffalo Furnace Co. have been prospecting in the vicinity of Welland with the idea of opening up a Canadian branch of their works.

Rev. Mr. Murray of St. Catharines conducted the anniversary services in the Presbyterian Church yesterday.

The Department of Railways and Canals has granted the town a lease of some Government property on the west side of the canal upon which to erect a fire hall.

A protest has been entered against A. Hendershott as Councillor in Ward 3 on the ground that he cannot qualify for aldermanic honors. Hendershott, it is said, went back on a number of his campaign promises, and hence the attempt to oust him.

SEASONS OF FAILURES.

The largest aggregates in trading failures in the United States, say Dun & Co., appear in general stores in the six winter months, October to March, inclusive. In groceries, the largest aggregates appear in nearly the same months, but in 1894 also in June. In hotels, the large aggregates appear most frequently in July, in liquors in January and December, in clothing in December and January, in dry goods in the five winter months, in shoes in January and December, in furniture in January and March, in hardware in January and December, in ironings in September and December, in jewelry in January and December, in books in January and July, in hats in January and May, and in miscellaneous trades in December and January.

There is reason to believe that these records will not only surpass all other in value, as they do already, indeed, but will come to suggest to bankers, merchants and manufacturers how they may lessen the risk and strain of particular seasons by so regulating times for which paper and credits shall run, in different branches of business, that dates of settlement may be more evenly distributed, and the sharp competition for accommodations at special seasons may be somewhat diminished.
