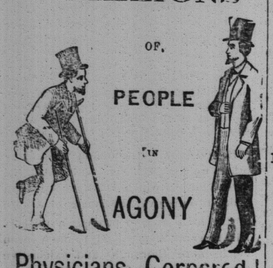
MILLIONS



Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of a physician's experience, anything in human suffering which calls forth his sympathy, and pity, to such an extent, as to witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease,

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that Rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied, and rejoice more, than the conscientious physician, who has found out that a cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing, and high respectability, and well known to the Canadian public, cannot fail to satisfy all that the

is a wonderful medical discovery.

MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSATION.

MONTREAL, 21st March, 1874.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON,

Dear Sirs, I, with pleasure, concede to the agent's wish that I give my endorsation to the immediate relief I experienced from a few doses of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, but now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, am entire free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to do so.

I am, sirs, yours respectfully,
JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N. P.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept, 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anybody suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not do the same for them that it did for me.

Yours,
JAMES L. ELDER,
Indiantown.

BARNES' HOTEL,
ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1873.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH,

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the last two years with Rheumatic Pains, divine knows, all the time I have had the advice of some of the most prominent medical men in the Province, and experienced no relief, until I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three bottles, and I feel greatly improved, and now am confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly,
JAMES O'BRIEN.

There is no medicine which so promptly relieves the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation, and restores the healthy action as the

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists throughout Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

Our Public Works.

To the Editor of the Tribune.

SIR: Mr. Brydges' railroad tariff policy in the Maritime Provinces gives rise to the question—What are our railroads, canals, and other public works for? The answer naturally is, for the general use and benefit of the people of the Dominion.

A government and the people of a country are a great joint concern—a partnership in fact—and it is hard to see how it is possible to expend too great an amount of money, if the success of the company demands it. If necessary public works give employment to the people, opens up the mineral wealth of a country, build up cities, and manufactories, &c., and produce untold wealth in a short time, then they ought to be built whether the Government can make it a paying speculation or not. This is more particularly the fact in our infant Dominion.

It needs no argument to prove that a perfect system of canals and intercolonial railroads are absolutely necessary now in our Dominion. Without railroads and canals where would the Maritime Provinces get the enormous quantities of flour they consume? This flour comes from a distance of 1000 to 1500 miles, and it is perhaps safe to say that the carrying, as a general rule, does not cost the consumers above from 50 to 70 cents a barrel. Without railroads and canals it could not be carried short of perhaps $2.50 a barrel. The smallest family will use from three to four barrels a year, so saves from these public works in this one article alone some five dollars a year. Besides this the raisers and manufacturers of the article receive equal benefits, as both producers and consumers reap advantages from cheap carrying. It is no less the case with all other articles raised, manufactured and consumed in the Dominion, and it reaches the pockets of every farmer, manufacturer, mechanic, &c., in the Dominion.

Although, methinks, there is no sane man but would see the necessity of these public works, I am led to make the above remarks from the fact of hearing a member of the present Ottawa Government say he would not be afraid to risk his political reputation on an entire opposition to railroads in the Maritime Provinces on grounds of economy.

Although our public works are not paying speculations, our Dominion, under low carrying tariffs, is making rapid progress. Farmers are improving their lands—manufactures are springing up—the resources of our country are being rapidly developed, and our national partnership is fast growing in wealth and importance. Let us cramp our infant enterprise by high carrying tariffs, and it is equal to robbing our people of enormous capital that should go to make our Dominion rich and independent.

But it will be said, if farmers, manufacturers, &c., are making so much out of the railroads and canals, they should be able to pay higher carrying tariffs. But it must be borne in mind that our farmers have been living at starving rates for the want of markets—our merchants have remained shopkeepers for the want of carrying facilities and circulating medium—our mechanics engaged in whipping the cat, and manufactures no where for the want of capital.

Our railroads and other public works are our capital to bring these industries into paying condition, and the operatives to rank and cope with their neighbors of other countries. If we cannot have some advantages from our railroads and canals for a few years, without expending the profits of our industries in keeping clear of debt for the accommodation of future millions of our successors, then our public works are but a convenience, (and scarcely that) and not a source of wealth.

The great public works that our large country requires now will be equal to the wants of the Dominion when the population and business are ten times what they are now, and it cannot be good policy to stint our national progress, for the mere dollars and cents view of interest on our debts for public works, &c. Our population and business are not yet equal to the great public works our large country requires for profitable competition with other nations, and I cannot but think it would be better, both for the present and future of the Dominion to turn our energies to the development of our resources,—the increase of wealth and population, &c., even if it be at the expense of letting our debts largely accumulate. With wise legislation, I submit, our ability to pay will far outrun the accumulation of interest.

If we were involving the Dominion in debt by wars and dissipation, then indeed we might mourn over our debts, but even if we were, England and the United States do not appear to have suffered much from the hundreds of millions they have squandered in wars and the desolation of their countries. Can our Dominion then suffer from a few millions of debt contracted to put the ship of State in sailing trim, and to give it business to do, and so to make the paying for the rigging hereafter a mere bagatelle?

As perfect an intercolonial railroad system is as necessary now as it will be when our business and population increase tenfold. Can we then be doing justice to ourselves and the future if we do else than let our railroad debt increase for a time? Even if we do not pay running expenses our railroads are being built and are working for the future, and the future will enjoy greater benefits from our industry, than if we, (in our infant state) devoted the fruits of our labor to a parsimonious effort to keep out of debt.

If we had cash in hand to build the Chignecto Canal—(a work that is to reach to all time)—would it be wiser to invest it in the Canal or to pay interest on borrowed capital, and devote our own money to the building up of a trade that would go to make the work self-sustaining? I submit it would not pay to expend our money in the work, nor would it pay to cramp our business in order to make the Canal a paying speculation in dollars and cents on the capital, after it was built. The older, richer and more popular Ontario says, it will not do to make their Canals pay expenses. Then why is it necessary to make the Maritime Provinces' railroad pay? It is no argument to say that because Ontario can afford to pay higher railroad tariff, that the Maritime Provinces must be rated beyond their means to make the tariffs uniform. Our country is new and business small compared with Ontario, and a uniform tariff must bear heavier on our business men, therefore is unjust toward a part of the people of the Dominion. Individuals are taxed for the support of Government according to their means. Why should not Provinces be dealt with in the same way? Sections of railway through unpopulous districts, and these comparatively new, cannot be so well sustained according to population, even for the reason that manufacturers are in their infancy and not paying so well as in older places, and the same may be said of the young mercantile establishments, striving for an existence, as well as for farming and all other industries.

The above remarks take it for granted that Mr. Brydges' railroad tariff will give better profits, and it should do this if it did not carry off a very large portion of carrying. So far it has done this, and the best informed say it will prove so in future. They say that cheap carrying by rail is like cheap postage and telegraphing, and will largely increase business.

But in any case we cannot do every thing at once. We must creep before we walk. When our hundreds become thousands, and our thousands tens of thousands, when our villages become cities, and our small shops manufactories, when our business has gained impetus from a proper use of our industries, and has increased equal to the capacity of our very large Intercolonial railroad and canal systems, then indeed we may expect them to pay.

The smallest capitalist who builds a ship must put it in sailing order reckless of judicious outlay, if he expects it to pay, and I humbly submit the same may be said of our half fledged Dominion. If we expect to compete profitably with other nations, there must be no niggardly withholding of capital, or cramping of the enterprise of our people by the Government. The penny wise and pound foolish policy does not do for the age! I am, Sir, &c.,

TEMPORA MUTANTUR.

A NEW THING AND A GOOD THING

THE invention of the paper collar was of positive benefit to the world, furnishing as it did, a neat, clean, and most economical art cle of apparel. But it never did answer all the purposes for which it was designed, owing to the frail nature of the material. The problem has been to make a cloth collar as cheap as paper that would last longer and could be made always fresh and bright. The new "44" collar, now upon the market, fills these requirements perfectly. It is made entirely of cloth, three thicknesses being used; it so closely resembles the finest linen that it might be sold anywhere for linen; and, no matter how much it may be soiled, it can be cleaned and made as bright as ever by the application of a damp sponge or cloth.
