LONDON AND ENVIRONS

—Manager S. R. Break, of the Street Railway Company, is in Toronto on business.

—The Italian colony of this city is going to picnic at Springbank on Civic Holiday.

—P. C. Alton has resumed duty after a long illness from inflammation of the bowels. Mr. Alton spent the last two weeks in Muskoka.

—The ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary in connection with Trinity Church, Ridgetown, have decided to invite Mrs. Boomer, of London, to lecture to them in the near future.

—The new stone crusher will have a chance to get in its work on Dufferin avenue. The road will be macadamized. There are many other streets that sadly need improvement.

—The London West Board of Health has decided to renew the law suit against the city of London on account of the pollution of the river by sewage. Kensington Creek will be examined by the board.

—Another meeting of the Western Ontario Travelers, to take steps towards holding their annual picnic, was held on Saturday night. After some discussion it was decided that no picnic should be held.

—Those from Windsor who will write on the excise promotion examination for first-class standing to be held at London, beginning on Aug 21 are Miss C. Bradley, E. T. Kilroy, D. J. Brennan, T. E. Marcon, Robt. Thomas, J. P. Jubenville.

—The London Bicycle Club has arranged a cheap excursion to Sarnia on Wednesday via the G. T. R. The fare has been placed at $1. This should enable a large delegation of Londoners to witness the meet of the Sarnia club.

—The employes of D. S. Perrin & Co., London Machine Tool Company and Watson's box factory held their annual picnics at Port Stanley on Saturday. The crowd numbered about 1,000. The steamer Lakeside was well patronized on its long trip on the lake.

—The London West School Board asked $2,700 from the council, exclusive of the Government grant and non-resident fees. The council deducted the latter item from the grant and the board, unless they get the sum asked at once, talk of hiring a separate collector to secure the balance from the taxpayers.

—The Patron of Industry lodges that are to co-operate in the Labor Day demonstration on the 3rd of September were well represented at Saturday night's committee meeting in Labor Hall. Most of the nearby organizations were represented, and there was an evident disposition shown on all sides to make the occasion a grand success.

—On Friday night the medals and diplomas were publicly presented to Misses Eva Hart and Ethel Kesten, the first graduating nurses at the Amasa Wood hospital, St. Thomas. Mayor Oill presided. The presentation address was made by Dr. Eccles, of London, while addresses were also made by Mr. Amasa Wood, Dr. Fulton, Mr. G. W. Babbitt and others.

—The services in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday partook of a special musical nature, on account of it being the last time Mr. Chas. Wheeler was to preside at the organ before taking leave of absence for one year to prosecute his musical studies in Leipsic, Germany. Mr. R. Brebner, tenor, a valuable member of the choir, also leaves to take a medical course of three years in Edinburgh University. At the close of the evening service the large congregation was deeply moved when the choir sang "God be with you till we meet again." Mr. W. Patterson, M.A., of Knox College, who is ably assisting the pastor, Rev. J. A. Murray, preached effective sermons at both services.

—The willful or natural stupidity of the man who dumped the load of tin chips in the center of the roadway leading over the Cove on Saturday afternoon last renders him fit either for the large institution to the east of the city or of the castle at foot of Dundas street. A party of ladies driving out to Woodland Cemetery had a narrow escape from a serious accident through the act of this man. Had they persisted in the attempt to pass the obstruction the whole party would have been thrown over the embankment into the Cove. As it was, they were forced to return to the city. A load of bright tin chips in the middle of a road is sufficient to frighten any horse, and it makes the act worse when it is considered the dangerous spot at which they were placed.

London Delegates.

The annual meeting of the Ontario High Court of the Independent Order of Foresters opens in Peterboro tomorrow. It is expected that over 600 delegates will attend. The following London brethren left today: Atwell Fleming, high treasurer; Rev. Evans Davis, high chaplain; Court Victoria, Frank Adams and Atwell Roddom; Court Mystic, Henry Gibbens; Court Dufferin, Henry Pratt, Bro. Smallman and J. F. Hicks; Court Hope, Charles Patmore; Court London, B. W. Greer; Court Enterprise, Wm. Gerry; Court Byron, J. G. Pritchett; Court Welcome, W. Louis; T. G. Davey, supreme treasurer.

Annie Pixley's Memory.

New York Dramatic Mirror: Harriet Webb has been staying at Port Stanley, Ont., which was the home of the late Annie Pixley. "The hotel where I have been living," writes Mrs. Webb, "is owned by Miss Pixley's family, and it was here that she passed her summers. The very atmosphere seems to be permeated with memories of her presence. Everyone has some lovely story to tell of her life, and each association, however trifling it might have been at the time, is now held in grateful remembrance. Truly it may be said that she has not only left 'footprints on the sands of time' as a beacon of encouragement to all who are forced to struggle with the adversities of fortune in the attainment of their ambitions; but the purity of her private life, her loving and lovely nature, her fortitude in grief and affliction, and her endurance of physical pain and suffering have left in the hearts of those who knew her an aching void, and the fragrance of a memory as the 'south wind, blowing from a bed of violets.' This is one of the prettiest spots I ever visited. It is patronized by the élite of Canada, and I am happy to say it has been discovered by a few venturesome pioneers from our own side who have been well repaid for their effort."

Broke His Neck.

An accident occurred in South London on Saturday afternoon which resulted in the instant death of a bright little boy at the age of 9 years. Johnnie W. Carfrae was the victim, and with three or four companions was playing in a large field opposite his father's residence on Tecumseh avenue. The children had been romping around for some time, when young Carfrae started to climb a tree. He got pretty near the top, and was sitting on a limb, when it snapped and broke. In his endeavor to save himself the lad caught hold of another branch. It, too, broke, and the little fellow fell to the ground, a distance of about eighteen feet. He alighted on his head, breaking his neck, and died instantly. Dr. Piper was passing at the time, but before he reached the scene of the accident the boy was dead. Dr. Ferguson was also on hand very quickly. Both physicians were of the opinion that death was instantaneous. Young Carfrae was the eldest of five children, and was an intelligent, bright little chap. He was the son of Mr. Edward Carfrae, a laborer, who came from Sussex, England, about three years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Carfrae, who are hard-working, industrious people, have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood in their sad and sudden affliction.

Tramps on the C. P. R.

For some time past the C. P. R. authorities have been incessantly bothered with tramps. The Coxey brethren got so bold in the East End that they would tear down the company's fences and start bonfires in empty freight cars. Thefts were frequently reported, and the company finally decided to take stringent methods to abate the nuisance. Detective Thomas Ross, of Toronto, came down and on Saturday night with Detective J. A. Graham, of this city, went to the siding near the asylum and watched for chances. They soon came. A big burly fellow was seen boarding an east bound train, and he was nipped. Two youths were caught in another car, and the trio was brought before Squire J. B. Smyth. They gave their names as Anton Dove, Bohemian; Daniel Martin and George Millar, Americans. Dove and Martin said that they belonged to Chicago, but were on a bumper tour to Toronto and return. Millar claimed to be from Kansas, and bound for Eldorado, Ont., where he says his parents live. A fine of $5 or 30 days was imposed in each case. Millar telegraphed home for $15, with which to pay his fine and carry him to his destination.

PROHIBITION CANDIDATES

To be Nominated in East and West Elgin for the Commons.

The semi-annual session of Elgin district council, Royal Templars of Temperance, was held at Aylmer on Friday afternoon, district councilor, A. Carmichael, of West Lorne, in the chair. St. Thomas, Union, Aylmer, West Lorne, Sparta, and Mount Salem councils were represented, the total number of delegates present being 40.

The district councilor reported that he instituted a new council at Iona Station.

District Deputy Rev. T. R. McNair reported that an effort was being made to establish a new council at New Sarum.

The secretary's report showed an increase of 11 members in the half-year ending June 30, the total membership in the county at that date being 540.

The proposal to picnic at Port Stanley with the I. O. G. T. was opposed.

Various committees reported, the following being among the recommendations adopted: More education of members to place prohibition before party; greater attention to reclamation of drunkards; more public meetings; organization of council choirs; live programmes in councils under the head of "good of the order," with special attention to temperance; greater efforts to substitute the weekly for the monthly Templar among members, and to distribute it among non-members; councils to endeavor to establish new ones and to rescuscitate dormant councils adjacent to them.

The calling by the plebiscite committee of conventions for East and West Elgin in September to consider the advisability of nominating independent prohibition candidates for the Commons was indorsed. It was decided to memorialize the Grand Council to request the Dominion council either to abolish the select degree qualification for select councilor or to allow any member to take the select degree without becoming a beneficiary or insured member; also to ask the Grand Council to reduce the capitation tax.

The annual session will be held in St. Thomas the last Thursday in January next.

Lord Aberdeen at Charlottetown.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Aug. 12.—The festivities in connection with the visit of Lord and Lady Aberdeen passed off most pleasantly Friday afternoon at the big agricultural conference. Addresses were presented and speeches made by their Excellencies, ex-Gov. Hoard, Wisconsin, Gov. Howland, Premier Peters and others. In the evening a large number attended the ball at Government House.
