ONTARIO'S RIGHTS WERE DISCUSSED

The House Talks About Federal Encroachments

IN THE MATTER OF CHARTERS

The Leeds Shrievalty Resignation—House to Rush Business and Take Up Gamey Report.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, June 16. — The encroachments made by the Dominion Parliament upon the powers and privileges of the Local Legislature in the matter of granting charters to other than inter-provincial companies, and the circumstances of Mr. George A. Dana's resignation and reappointment as sheriff of Leeds and Grenville, were the chief topics of discussion at today's session of the Legislature. In the first-mentioned discussion, the speakers on both sides of the House agreed that the rights of the Province must be preserved.

Another topic which was not discussed, but which has been made the subject of considerable comment among the members, was the absence from the House of Adam Beck, M. P. P. Even Mr. Beck's Conservative colleagues are said to view with disfavor his practice of persistently absenting himself from the House, thereby showing no consideration whatever either for his constituents' interest or his party's welfare.

A SUBSTITUTE MOTION.

Mr. Pattullo submitted to the House a substitute motion in place of that in which he had referred especially to the proposed Toronto and Hamilton Railway bill, now before the Dominion Parliament. The substitute motion read as follows:

"This House protests against the tendency of late years on the part of the Dominion Parliament in matters of legislation, whereby companies are being incorporated by special acts, though such companies have purely provincial objects, and come within the purview of sub-sections 11 and 16 of section 92 of the British North America act.

"That the expedient which it has become customary to adopt of inserting in bills the mere assertion, 'that the works of the company being incorporated are declared to be for the general advantage of Canada,' affords no reasonable protection against encroachment upon provincial judication, the bills being entertained and passed, apparently, in ordinary routine, and without reference to any serious consideration of the question of jurisdiction.

"That there is involved in this growing tendency towards encroachment on the provincial field of legislation an invasion of the rights of municipalities, which this House regards as of serious importance.

"That the provincial laws relating to electric railways have been designed to safeguard in many respects, the rights and interests of municipalities, through which these railways run, or are chartered to be constructed, and the protection to municipalities thus afforded will be prejudicially affected if not entirely removed by the assumption and exercise of the right to legislate regarding these local railways on the part of the Dominion Parliament.

"This House therefore respectfully urges the Dominion Parliament not to pass legislation of this nature pertaining to matters heretofore generally understood to be within provincial jurisdiction, and which in their nature are matters of purely local concern."

In speaking to his motion Mr. Pattullo said that the Dominion Parliament was invading the field of provincial legislation. Companies which could not obtain special legislation from the Province went to Ottawa and secured it there. While the Provincial Legislature tried to act on safe and legitimate lines, it is handicapped.

Mr. Pattullo instanced the Atlas Loan Company, of St. Thomas, as a company which had obtained from the Dominion Parliament the right to speculate in stocks after the privilege had been refused at Toronto. The disastrous effect of this had been strikingly shown. Mr. Pattullo then dealt with the course being pursued by the Dominion House with regard to insurance companies, and more particularly electric railways doing a purely local business.

Mr. Gibson, who followed, said that it was to the interests of Toronto that the city should have control of its streets in the matter of street railway privileges. The whole matter of the respective rights of the Dominion and Provincial Parliaments have been a subject of discussion between ministers of the local house and those at Ottawa, but so far no definite understanding had been reached. Mr. Gibson said that both in correspondence and in interviews with the Dominion ministers he had protested against the Federal Parliament interfering with local legislation on the mere pretense that the companies involved had "Dominion objects in view." The Ontario Government meant to get a proper understanding of the matter before it was dropped.

PROVINCIAL HOME RULE.

Mr. Foy argued that Ontario should have home rule in respect to local works. Every attempt made to deprive the province of any of its rights should be vigorously opposed. It would also be well to bring pressure to bear on the Governor-General to have all such bills as the one under discussion vetoed in the events of its passage by the Dominion House.

Mr. Whitney, Dr. Beattie Nesbitt, and Mr. Crawford all supported Mr. Pattullo's motion.

The Premier said that years ago the Dominion Government had commenced to encroach on the rights of the Province, and it might become the duty of the Province to have a judicial declaration of its rights as defined by the B. N. A. act.

After a further discussion, Mr. Pattullo's motion carried.

THE LEEDS SHRIEVALTY.

Mr. Whitney moved for an order of the House for a return of copies of all correspondence between the Attorney-General, or any other members of the Government, and George A. Dana, sheriff of the united counties of Leeds and Grenville, with reference to, or alluding to, his proposed resignation of the office of sheriff.

The circumstances surrounding the appointment of Mr. Dana were detailed by Mr. Whitney. It appeared that when Mr. Dana had been appointed sheriff, he, under an ancient act of the British Parliament, made a bargain with his predecessor in office that on the conditions of the latter resigning his position he (Dana) would pay him $1,200 a year when he was appointed to succeed him. This bargain was made in the form of a bond, but he found he had made a bad bargain. After living up to it for some time he resigned and was reappointed, and he hoped by taking that course to relieve himself of the agreement he entered into with his predecessor. But the matter was taken into the courts, and they decided that all this intrigue would not have the effect of voiding the bond. It was to get at all the facts of the case, Mr. Whitney added, that he moved for a return of all the correspondence in connection with the affair.

The Attorney-General, in replying to Mr. Whitney, said he was glad of the opportunity to explain the transaction. He thought that Mr. Whitney himself felt that his case was not a good one, as if it had been he would have used much stronger language in referring to it. Mr. Gibson drew the House's attention that the statutes of Ontario contained a provision, based upon a law of the reign of George III., that when a servant of the crown became incapable of performing his duties, he could enter into an arrangement whereby a portion of the fees of his office should be paid to him by his successor, the arrangement to be set forth in the successor's commission. Under this statute, Mr. Smart, at the age of 80 years, had resigned on condition that he receive $1,200 per annum from Mr. Dana. At that time the office netted a total of $2,500 or more in fees, but this income decreased, till in 1900 and 1901, the fees taken in by Mr. Dana were only $1,436 and $1,070, respectively. Mr. Gibson deemed that this state of affairs warranted a revision of the arrangement, entered into private correspondence with both parties. Mr. Smart's family, however, refused to consider any change, and Mr. Dana accordingly resigned. The latter gentleman had no promise of understanding that he would be reappointed. On the recommendation of the member for the riding he was reappointed some months later, and litigation followed. The case, said Mr. Gibson, was not one of hardship, as regarded Mr. Smart, who was not without means, and who had several members of his family in the public service, his son, James A. Smart, being Deputy Minister of the Interior. Mr. Gibson said he would bring down the correspondence in his possession.

The motion passed.

THE GAMEY DEBATE.

Before the orders of the day were reached Mr. Whitney asked the Premier if he had decided yet what remuneration Chancellor Boyd and Chief Justice Falconbridge would be paid for their services in investigating the Gamey charges. The Premier replied that that had not been settled.

"I also see," said Mr. Whitney, "that the Premier proposes that all Government orders shall have precedence for the remainder of the session. What will happen if the order paper should not be cleared before the Gamey debate commences?"

"We will work as hard as we can," replied Mr. Ross, "and if any business is left unfinished we will dispose of it after the Gamey debate."

Mr. Whitney complained that two Government members in opposing Mr. Krib's vaccination bill had been given a brief by some one in the Provincial Secretary's Department to make an uncalled for and coarse attack upon Mr. Kribs.

Mr. Stratton replied that he had asked Dr. James and Dr. Currie to oppose the measure. He himself had not instigated any such attack as was complained of, and he did not believe that any official in his department had done so. If it was true that this had been done the official should be severely censured. He promised to make a thorough investigation into the matter.

Mr. Whitney inquired again if any railway resolutions would be brought down this session.

The Premier said he was unable to reply at present.

On motion of the Premier, the House concurred in the resolution that, commencing tomorrow, three sessions a day shall be held, commencing at 11 p.m., 3 p.m., and 8 p.m.

The House adjourned at 5:50 p.m.

THE HUNGARIAN DIET

The Cabinet's Resignation Accepted by Frances Joseph.

Budapest, June 17. — Premier De Szell announced yesterday in the lower house of the Hungarian Diet that he had tendered his resignation to King Francis Joseph on Sunday last, and that his majesty had accepted it.

Reports that the cabinet intended resigning had been in circulation prior to the assembling of Parliament, so there was considerable curiosity in the House when it assembled. The entrance of the Premier was the signal for an outburst of cheers from his supporters, while the Opposition retorted with scoffing shouts of "What a happy funeral!"

The Premier, rising, said: "I have repeatedly set forth the principles and views which have guided my policy in regard to the opposition manifested by obstructionists to the army bill. On those occasions I said that my policy could only be followed so long as full harmony of views prevailed among all the factors concerned. As such harmony no longer exists I tendered my resignation to the King on Sunday and his majesty has been pleased to accept it. I beg the House to adjourn, pending the formation of a new cabinet."

A boy named Gonia, totally blind, was first in the 35-yard dash in :04 flat. The dittance for the running broad jump was 17 feet 8 inches, and the standing high jump was 4 feet 6 inches. The football was kicked 108 feet.

BALFOUR'S BLOCK BURNED

British Premier's Winnipeg Property Was Destroyed.

Winnipeg, Man., June 17. — The old Balfour block at the corner of McDermot avenue and Rorie street, was gutted by fire early yesterday, and thousands of dollars worth of stock belonging to various business houses was destroyed by flame or water.

The business concerns located in the block are Read & Clark, manufacturing jewelers; H. Jacobs, cigar manufacturer; Ford Stationery Company, printers; McAllister & Watt, small ware and notions; Toms & Davidson, and the Ross Tea agency. The block was a three story brick structure, and owned by Hon. Arthur J. Balfour, leader of the British House of Commons.

The two upper stories were entirely destroyed, and the business men located there lost everything. All stock that was left in the first floor was drenched with water and damaged to no little extent. From a rough estimate it is thought that the total loss will be about $80,000.

The fire originated in the elevator shaft, starting at the bottom and working through to the roof.

During the progress of the barn-raising at Mr. Wm. Shiels, 7th concession of Westminster, the other afternoon, James Beattie met with a painful accident. He was standing on a beam 30 feet from the ground, when a sudden slip of the timber pushed him over, and he fell to the roof of a pumphouse, and from there to the ground, striking heavily on his left side. Dr. Meldrum, of Belmont, found that no bones were broken, although the left wrist was badly sprained and the face considerably bruised. He also sustained severe internal injuries.

The picnic held in Mr. A. Sholdice's grove on June 5, under the auspices of St. Peter's Church, Brinsley; Grace Church, con. 2, McGillivray, and Trinity Church, Ailsa Craig, was a grand success. A very large crowd was in attendance, and various sports were indulged in, such as football, baseball, etc. During the afternoon the proceedings were enlivened by excellent music by the Ailsa Craig Brass Band. The proceeds amounted to the handsome sum of over $100.

A WOMAN'S ADVICE

To Those Who Suffer From Headache, Backaches and Ailments Peculiar to the Sex.

Every woman needs plenty of pure, rich, red blood and sound nerves to carry her safely through her times of pain and sickness. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are good in a special way for women. They actually make new health-giving blood. They give ease, strength and vigor. They stimulate all the organs, to perform their functions regularly and well. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills bring the sparkle to dull eyes and the rosy glow of health to cheeks once pale and pinched with silent suffering. They bring health and strength when all else fails. Here is a bit of strong proof from Mrs. John McKerr, Chickney, N. W. T., who says: "For some years I was greatly afflicted with the ailments that make the lives of so many of my sex miserable. I tried many medicines, but found nothing to relieve me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have made me feel like a new person; the almost continuous suffering I endured has passed away, and life no longer seems the burden it once did. GERMAN ELECTIONS

Polling Lively in Berlin, But No Disorders.

Berlin, June 17.—The polling in the Reichstag elections began at 10 o'clock this morning and proceeded quickly under the new, modified Australian ballot law. In Berlin the balloting was not accompanied by the least disorder, even in the so-called slum precincts. All the political parties resorted to the election tactics often practiced in Germany of sending voters from the strong districts, where they are not needed, to the doubtful ones. The law permits this.

'TIS A MARVELOUS THING.—When the cures effected by Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil are considered, the speedy and permanent relief it has brought to the suffering wherever it has been used, it must be regarded as a marvelous thing that so potent a medicine should result from the six simple ingredients which enter into its composition. Losses By Friction.

Berlin, June 17.—At the International Chemical Congress an interesting paper on the development of railways was read by Dr. Haarman, who estimated that 247,000 tons of steel were lost annually from the world's railways by friction, the German railways alone losing 10,000 tons in the course of a year. The lecturer added that the experience of Europe had now shown that iron sleepers were as cheap as wooden ones.
