Poetry.

THE OLD MAN'S SONG OF THE OLD YEAR'S DYING.

To sleep, to sleep—'tis the old year's dying,
Let me sleep till he be dead;
Comfort and hope and time are flying,
Gladness and youth are fled.
Year after year has been ushered in;
So many are lost there are few to win,
But enough for sorrow and toil and sin—
Let me sleep while the old year dies.

I like not the passing away from earth
Of the thing we have watched so long;
I cannot welcome the new year's birth
With the old year's dying song.
Wake me at noon when the dust is flung
On the ancient head that so late was young,
If rest may be where the soul is wrung,
Let me sleep while the old year dies.

Rivers of tears have flowed to him,
Strong tides of the soul's despair;
Many a passionate prayer and hymn
Been buried on his midnight air.
Why have we wished that his days were o'er
When life that goes with him returns no more?
I shall miss his weary step on the floor;—
Let me sleep while the old year dies.

Wild pulses are playing in many a heart
With hopes of the dawn to come;
For they know not yet of the nights that part
What the morrow shall never bring home.
Their new-year friend as the old they greet;
But mine are the memories and, if sweet,
That pass the new guest in life's crowded street;—
Let me sleep while the old year dies.

My heart is bowed, and my eyes are dim,
And take not the light they gave,
Then call me not up to make merry with him
Who treads on an old man's grave.
In the morning light of the life-long year
The outer mists themselves look clear;
But I to the shadow am all too near—
Let me sleep while the old year dies.

Perhaps with gleams of the future's light
On his forehead the new year wears,
We may not care how the long dread night
Falls down on the old grey hairs.
But the veil of the grave-clouds gathers near,
And the long death-silence lies close to mine ear;
So I have no joy in the coming year—
Let me sleep while the old year dies.

SOUTHEY'S INFANT YEARS.—I had many indulgences, but more privations, and those of an injurious kind; want of playmates, want of exercise, never being allowed to do anything in which by possibility I might dirt myself; late hours for a child, which I reckon among the privations (having always the healthiest propensity for going to times); late hours of rising, which were less painful, perhaps, but in other respects worse. My aunt chose that I should sleep with her, and this subjected me to a double evil. She used to have her bed warmed, and during the months while this practice was in season I was put into Molly's bed first, for fear of any accident from the warming pan, and removed when my aunt went to bed, so that I was regularly wakened out of a sound sleep. This, however, was not half so bad as being obliged to lie till nine, and not unfrequently till ten in the morning, and not daring to make the slightest movement which could disturb her during the hours that I lay awake, and longing to be set free. These were, indeed, early and severe lessons of patience. My poor little wits were upon the alert at those tedious hours of compulsory idleness, fancying figures and combinations of forms in the curtains, wondering at the motes in the slant sunbeam, and watching the light from the crevices of the window shutters, till it served me at last, by its progressive motion, to measure the lapse of time.—Life of Southey.

TO THE LADIES.

THE GENUINE BALM OF COLUMBIA, FOR RESTORING THE HAIR.

"Long hair is a glory to woman," says Paul,
And all feel the truth of the pious quotation;
Preserve it then, ladies—your glory may fall,
Unless you protect it with this preparation.

If you wish a rich, luxuriant head of hair, free from dandruff and scurf, do not fail to procure the genuine Balm of Columbia. In cases baldness it it will more than exceed your expectations. Many who have lost their hair for twenty years, have had it restored to its original perfection by the use of this balm. Age, state, or condition, appears to be no obstacle whatever; it also causes the fluid to flow with which the delicate hair tubes is filled, by which means thousands (whose hair was gray as the Asiatic eagle) have had their hair restored to its natural color by this invaluable remedy. In all cases of fever it will be found the most pleasant wash that can be used. A few applications only are necessary to keep the hair from falling out. It strengthens the roots, it never fails to impart a rich glossy appearance, and as a perfume for the toilet it is unequalled. It holds three times as much as other miscalled hair restoratives, and is more effectual.

Horse and Cattle Medicines.

Don't permit your Horses or cattle to die, when the means of cure are within the reach of all!

The undersigned has spent several years in the study of Veterinary practice in "London and Edinboro'," he has also availed himself of the researches of Leibig, and other celebrated men, who have contributed so much towards a judicious treatment of animals; the principles of our practice consists of the rejection of general bleeding and the total rejection of all medicines that experience has shown is be of a dangerous tendancy. These remedies are in harmony with the vital principle, and when given according to the directions which accompany each article they are capable of exciting and increasing the natural functions, without diminishing or destroying their power, hence are safe in the hands of every one.

LECTURES ON THE EVIDENCES OF CHRISTIANITY.

We, the undersigned, members of different denominations of Christians in this City, aware that Infidelity, under various deceitful forms, is spreading and doing its deadly work among the Nations of Europe, and that it exists to an extent in the neighboring Republic and in this Province, sufficient to awaken in the minds of all Christian men the most anxious concern for the rising generation, cannot but rejoice that the subject has begun to arouse the attention of many of the Ministers of the Gospel, and that Sermons in relation to it have already been preached by the Rev. Dr. I. W. D. Gray, and the Rev. Messrs Stewart and Wiggins, which, we have no doubt, have been attended with beneficial effect. Impressed with the vast importance of keeping the subject alive before the public, we would beg leave to lay before the other Ministers in the City, the following suggestions:

1. That a series of Lectures, one by each Minister, be delivered in some large comfortable building, on the vital points of Christianity.

2. That the Young Men of the community be specially invited to attend.

3. That by means of Collections made at the delivery of the Lectures, or by special subscription, a fund be obtained for the purpose of defraying the expense of printing the Lectures, or extracts from them, which we recommend should be done in the cheap Tract form for general circulation.

These suggestions, we believe, if acted upon, will be highly beneficial at the present time, and greatly tend to the advancement of the best interests of Man, and the glory of God. St. John, 1st February, 1850.

The foregoing document, signed by Members and Office-bearers of the different Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, and Congregational Churches in the City, was presented to the Ministers of the aforesaid Churches, at a Meeting held on Friday the 1st instant, in St. Stephen's Hall, whereupon it was unanimously resolved that such a Course of Lectures should be delivered in this City, on the following subjects:—

1. The necessity of a Divine Revelation, and its suitableness to the wants of Man.
2. The genuineness and authenticity of Revelation.
3. The Miracles of Revelation.
4. The Evidence of Christianity derived from Prophecy.
5. Ditto from the growth of Christianity.
6. Ditto from its effects on the heart and life.
7. The Bible a system of Ethics.
8. Christology or Christ in the Old Testament.
9. The connexion between Revelation and Science.
10. Providence an Interpreter of Revelation.
11. The character of Christ and his Apostles.
12. The causes which tend to promote the growth of modern Infidelity.

The following Ministers have agreed to deliver one Lecture each, and, it is expected, others will also take a part in the important and essential movement:—The Rev. R. Knight, Rev. R. Cooney, Rev. S. Busby, Rev. J. Thomson, Rev. R. Irvine, Rev. J. Irvine, Rev. S. Robinson, Rev. J. R. Lawson, Rev. E. D. Very, Rev. J. D. Casewell, Rev. C. McKay, Rev. H. Daniel.

A Committee of thirteen Laymen have been appointed to take charge of the arrangements as to the time, place, and order of delivering the Lectures. The proceedings of said Committee will be regularly published, and announcement given by Cards and through the public Newspapers, prior to the delivery of each Lecture.

☞ The first Lecture, on the "Necessity of a Divine Revelation, and its suitableness to the wants of Man," will be delivered by the Rev. John THOMSON, on Thursday the 14th instant, at 7 o'clock, P. M, in the Centenary Chapel.

N. B.—It is requested that all the public journals of the City will copy the above.

LADIES' BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.

MRS. WARD CHIPMAN, PATRONESS.

MRS. WHITE, MRS. SEARS, MISS DEBLOIS, } Committee.

MISS L. KISSEAR, Secretary and Treasurer.

The objects of this Society have been so frequently explained, and, it is presumed, are so well known to the public, that the Committee feel it unnecessary to enter into any lengthy detail of their proceedings during the past year.—The accompanying Account of the Treasurer suffices to shew the manner in which the funds, entrusted to the Committee, have been expended. During a year of continued depression, a larger sum has been required, and laid out, than in the previous twelve months; while at the same time the Subscriptions and Donations to the Society have slightly decreased. The Committee have endeavoured, by every exertion in their power, to extend the usefulness of the Society, but their efforts can be of little avail, if the means of carrying out those efforts are not afforded.

It has frequently been stated by the Committee, that this Society is confined to no one denomination of Christians in the application of its funds. To the appearance of real want and suffering, the only additional requisition made is, that the applicant for relief be either well known to the Committee or recommended by a Subscriber. Notwithstanding this, for two years past, collections in aid of the Society have only been made in the Episcopal Church. The Committee take this opportunity of soliciting the Ministers of other denominations, who approve of the plan of this Society, to preach Sermons and make Collections in its behalf during the present year.

To those who have continued to patronize it, the Committee are glad to be able to give the assurance, that even with the small income the Society has received for several years past, they have been the means of making many a cold and cheerless hearth to glow with grateful warmth, of restoring and invigorating many a sickly and enfeebled frame, and of relieving the immediate wants of many a destitute fellow-creature.
