Dominion Day.

The World was in favor of making a specially elaborate celebration of this twenty-fifth anniversary of the union of these British North American provinces, but we bowed to the decision of the present economic municipal administration that the city could not afford a little patriotic outburst. Well that throws the burden on each individual and we have perfect confidence that the charge will be perfectly safe in the hands to which it is confided. Love of country after all needs no brazen trumpet to proclaim it. A sprig of maple leaves pinned above the heart in the right place is proclamation enough. Canadian nationality is perhaps not ripe, but it is ripening. The sun is shining and the airs are stirring that will bring it to perfection. A man who passes his 25th year in vigorous health is, in insurance slang, a good risk. The Dominion is entering her 26th year. She has passed through all the ailments that political grannies predicted as the sure heritage of infancy and youth. She has survived them all and now enters the calm grand period of perfect maturity, old age not even as much as dreamed of.

The national year that is completed to-day deserves well to be celebrated and remembered, for in it the country's smouldering public spirit was stirred into such activity that those who doubted the existence of the fire are very deservedly nursing burned fingers. To those whose treasonable utterances fanned the glorious flames of patriotism true Canadians can afford to return their thanks. The events of the past year have been both a revelation and a lesson.

Love of country is a sentiment that increases with years. Our country is among the youngest children of Anglo-Saxon freedom, but already it is quick with the vitality of patriotism which will strengthen and broaden with the flight of years.

Let Us Have Peace.

The News is generally fair in its comments on municipal matters and it is therefore somewhat surprising to find it heeding the cry that Ald. Shaw is responsible for the delay in appointing a city engineer. It is a matter of record that the Board of Works has made recommendation after recommendation only to have its will strangled by the Executive Committee under the Mayor's influence. Moreover, His Worship has declared publicly more than once that there need be no haste in appointing an engineer, that no interest is suffering by the delay. The cry that the Works Committee is endeavoring to discredit the Mayor is ridiculous in view of the facts. The boot in on the other leg. The Mayor's whole policy, to the exclusion of the city's good and proper governance, is directed towards discrediting the Works Committee. The unseemly strife ought to end. We have a right to expect our representatives to work harmoniously in the interests of the people, and drop their private spites and dislikes. A policy of knifing Chairman Shaw is a very poor program for a Chief Magistrate.

The World agrees with its contemporary that a strong engineer should be appointed forthwith and despite the rebuffs it has received believes that the committee should make another recommendation and thus lay the responsibility where it belongs.

Mr. Ball's Letter.

In another column will be found a letter from Mr. F. R. Ball, County Crown Attorney of Oxford, in which he denies a statement recently made in The World that he is an annexationist. The disavowal is satisfactory so far as it goes. It shows at least that he is ashamed to be known as an annexationist. He says he has never advocated annexation either publicly or privately. But mark the exception: "Although in private conversation with friends I have expressed my fears that the present Dominion Government was fast driving public opinion in that direction and was making annexationists of many of our best citizens." Is Mr. Ball one of those citizens whom the conduct of the Dominion Government is making an annexationist of? What is that conduct? Is it that they [will not give Liberals access to the flesh pots! Does that constitute a sufficient reason to make a man an annexationist. Mr. Mowat, who is quite as warm a party man as Mr. Ball, will tell him that it does not. There is no occasion to discuss the character of the Dominion Government. We will meet Mr. Ball on that ground when it is necessary. He will not deny, however, that it holds and exercises its present functions by the regular constitutionally expressed will of the people. Those who are being made annexationists, therefore, are a portion of the minority who appear to think that when they can't have their own way they are justified in harboring traitorous designs against their country. Is that Mr. Ball's political creed? is Rule or Ruin his motto?

We freely admit that Mr. Ball has never had the indecency to appear in public in advocacy of annexation and that makes a wide distinction between him and Mr. Myers and makes it unnecessary for Mr. Mowat to take any action. For our part we would not, if we could, suppress the utterances of a single annexationist in the Dominion. Full scope to them. The more they are allowed to declare themselves without fear of consequences, the more it will be seen what a scanty and paltry sprinkling of sorheads they are. Show us an annexationist and we will show you a sorehead. The vast majority of Reformers are Canadians to the core, but fourteen years in the cold shades of opposition has sadly chilled the patriotic ardor of a small disaffected fraction of the party. Yet this unhappy crew has taunted the whole mass of Liberalism with disloyalty and discredited the entire party in the public estimation.

The Bylaw Carried.

The directors of the Industrial Exhibition may well be pleased with the result of yesterday's voting. It is true not more than a fifth of the voting strength came to the polls, but it is not unfair to count those who stayed away as consenting to the bylaw. That but 226 voters out of 10,500 recorded themselves as opposed to the bylaw, may be taken as attesting to the popularity of the Fair. The tribute was well deserved, for if there is a body of which the citizens should be proud, that body is the Board of the Industrial Exhibition Association. Its works speak for it—years of clean, able disinterested public service, and the public confidence that was declared yesterday was what the Association has well earned.

The New York Herald is weak in classics. Still when a writer ventures to lug a Latin proverb by the neck and heels into a leading editorial article he should be a man who knows enough Latin to quote correctly. In Wednesday's paper he has, ex uno judice omnes. Many a schoolboy has been rendered unfit for the sitting posture for a week, who committed a less grave offence against the Latin grammar. And this is the leading paper of the United States! which had better be content with its somewhat adulterated version of the English tongue, and not wander into the dead languages.

NOT AN ANNEXATIONIST.

F. R. Ball, Q.C., Denies That He Holds Political Union Sentiments.

In a recent editorial paragraph in The World it was stated that Mr. F. R. Ball, the County Crown Attorney for Oxford, was of annexationist proclivities. The following letter, addressed to the editor, explains itself:

"In your issue of the 28th of this month, handed to me by a friend, there is published a statement 'that Messrs. Ball and Cameron, respectively Clerk of the Peace and jailer for one of the ridings of which Mr. Mowat sits in the Legislative Assembly of Ontario. Now, both of these functionaries are quite as open and around champions of annexation as the dismissed official in the County of Dufferin. What does Mr. Mowat propose to do about it? Has he the courage to be consistent, or has he the courage to make fish of one and flesh of another?'

"Now, Sir, I beg to say that I have never attended an annexation meeting nor advocated annexation, either publicly or privately, although in private conversation with friends I have expressed my fears that the present Dominion Government was fast driving public opinion in that direction and was making annexationists of many of our best people. So far as I am personally concerned I care little for the article. My family has lived in America under British rule for nearly 270 years and has sacrificed everything to maintain British rule upon this continent and I have not changed from the course my family has always followed. But I do most strongly object to your making a totally unjustifiable attack upon Mr. Mowat through a gross misrepresentation of my views. You will be good enough, therefore, to correct the above quoted misstatement, and oblige.

"FRANCIS R. BALL."

TWO OF A DIFFERENT KIND.

The Oath Mr. Myers Took and the U.S. Article.

In view of the controversy arising out of the dismissal of Elgin Myers, County Crown Attorney of Dufferin, by Sir Oliver Mowat, The World to-day publishes the Canadian oath of allegiance and the oath required to be taken by every naturalized citizen of the United States:

Oath of Allegiance to Queen.

I, A. B., do sincerely promise and swear, that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Victoria (or the reigning Sovereign for the time being), as lawful Sovereign of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, and of this Province, dependent on and belonging to the said Kingdom, and that I will defend Her to the utmost of my power against all traitorous conspiracies or attempts whatever which may be made against Her Person, Crown and Dignity, and that I will do my utmost endeavor to disclose and make known to Her Majesty, Her Heirs or Successors, all treasons or traitorous conspiracies and attempts which I may know to be against Her or any of them; and all this I do swear without any equivocation, mental evasion or secret reservation; so help me God.

U. S. Oath of Allegiance.

State of ——. Be it remembered that on the — day of ——, A.D. 18—, ——, personally appeared before me, ——, prothonotary of the Supreme Court of the State of —— and County of ——, a native of Canada, now residing in ——, aged —, who, being duly sworn according to law, declares and says that it is his bona fide intention to become a citizen of the United States and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to all foreign princes, potentates, states or sovereignties, and particularly to the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India.

In testimony whereof I have subscribed, etc., etc., etc.

The Way They'll Do It in Vancouver.

Mr. Thomas Poole of the Rising Sun Hotel has received a handsome circular from a friend in Vancouver, B.C., containing a program for to-day's celebration there that might well make Torontonians blush for their inactivity and want of loyalty on Canada's natal day. Athletic sports of all kinds—a lacrosse match, aquatics, bicycle race, pedestrianism, etc., form a series of interesting events that will crowd Vancouver with thousands from all parts of our westernmost province. The Sons of Canada worked hard to make Toronto a centre of attraction for Dominion Day this year, and although their patriotic wishes will not be carried out today, if they put the same enthusiasm into the idea of a celebration for July 1, 1893, Toronto will be what it should be at least once a year, a provincial centre of attraction for a summer holiday.

Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhœa, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking and green fruit is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

Traitors in Office and in the Militia.

Editor World: The various battalions of militia have just been in camp in different parts of Canada. We are soon to have the celebration of the anniversary of the 100th year of the formation of the Province of Ontario and also the 25th anniversary of the formation of the confederation of the North American British provinces, and it is a time to think of what our future is to be.

In 1792 the words of Governor Simcoe in his proclamation forming the Province of Ontario expressly say we should have an exact transcript of the British constitution. This we never had until, by the untiring exertions politically of the late Hon. Robert Baldwin (one of Canada's greatest patriots), it was effected in 1848-1. If the promise of Governor Simcoe had been carried out there would have been no rebellion or risings in Upper or Lower Canada in 1837. Such eminent men as Dr. Rolph, M. S. Bedwell, Dr. Dunscombe, W. L. Mackenzie and L. J. Papineau would never have been accused of political—semi-treason, as it is called. They were the noblest of men in their day, as was Robert Baldwin and Lafontaine, soon after. The old family compact caused the political trouble of 1837-8 by refusing to carry out the British system of government promised in 1792 by Simcoe. Patriotism and loyalty are synonimous and have been so in England since the days of King John of England. The liberties of England are founded on patriotism in the people and loyalty to a constitutional Protestant sovereign, governing by popular laws. We now have in our Dominion responsible Government. We desire to be a free self-governing people with a great Northern Confederacy of our own, in union with England. It is fitting upon the arrival of the two events I have spoken of, the 100th anniversary, and the 25th of this Dominion, that every man should thank God for his great privileges and blessings, and frown down every man who will unpatriotically or traitorously break up and strive to annul our present Dominion authorities. The militia I trust have had this deeply impressed upon their minds, and if sneaking political traitors at this time will continue to disturb us they should be marked with the strongest public condemnation. If such disturbers have the meanness to remain in our country's militia, openly or unknown, the sooner they are given the walking ticket the better. I consider the conduct of Sir Oliver Mowat in dismissing Mr. Elgin Myers of Orangeville as perfectly right, and if there are others in office or in the militia who brazenly, openly advocate the disruption of our country, they should be used in the same manner. Common decency, one would think, would dictate such a course to them. Men have a right to think as they please privately, but when we have a popular Government and responsibility to the people in its system, those thinking hostility to the rights of the country should at least think so out of office, and then no one would disturb them if they did not injure the country. We have the most tolerant of people. I discovered that the Knights of St. John a few days ago carried in their companies flags of the United States undisturbed. Such a thing would not have been tolerated in Buffalo, Chicago or New York as to our British flags. No procession, small or great, can carry in those cities, or any American city, the British flag undisturbed. While speaking of the past great patriots of our country, who were in 1837 wickedly driven from their native land, after a generation of constitutional efforts to get responsible government, one cannot help but remember the name of the eminent Dr. John Rolph and others. We cannot forget the efforts of L. J. Papineau and Robert Baldwin. Are monuments to be erected in memory of those who came after them, after they were persecuted and lost their property, to enjoy the fruits of their labors—some indeed shed their blood for British popular government—and not in their memory? These men never robbed the country nor were guilty of dishonesty in public offices. We now have an opportunity to start anew in our history, and, as Chancellor Allen most justly said on the 28th in closing the annual convocation of Trinity University, let all Canadians vow and determine to make this great Dominion a pure and noble government—one which will emulate the virtues of England and hate all kinds of wicked misgovernment.

Toronto, June 30. CHARLES DURAND.

Sick or Delicate Children.

Dyer's improved food for Infants is highly nutritious, easily digested, endorsed by leading Physicians and not expensive—25 cents. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal.

Parmelee's Vegetable Pills contain Mandrake and Dandelion; they cure Liver and Kidney Complaints with unerring certainty. They also contain Roots and Herbs which have specific virtues truly wonderful in their action on the stomach and bowels. Mr. E. A. Cairncross, Shakespeare, writes: "I consider Parmelee's Pills an excellent remedy for Biliousness and Derangement of the Liver, having used them myself for some time."

Inferior Milk Supply.

One hundred and fifty samples of milk have just been analyzed by the Medical Health Officer and a large proportion was found to be below the standard. Dealers supplying the inferior article have been warned that the sale of their milk will be prohibited should its quality not be improved.

Mr. John McCarthy, Toronto, writes: "I can unhesitatingly say that Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery is the best medicine in the world. It cured me of Heartburn that troubled me for over thirty years. During that time I tried a great many different medicines, but this wonderful medicine was the only one that took hold and rooted out the disease."

From China's Mission Fields.

Rev. J. Hudson Taylor, for many years a missionary in the interior of China, lectured last night at Knox Church to a large audience. He gave a historical sketch of the Inland Mission and drew attention to its growth in extent and influence during the last few years. He is on his way to England, where he will spend a few months recruiting his health.

NATIONALIST LOVE FEAST.

Our Local Radicals Discontinue Meetings for the Summer.

The last meeting of the Nationalist Association until the first Thursday in September next, was held last night. It was a veritable love feast—the members regretted parting even for two months, as practically they have put in force the principle among themselves the Brotherhood of Man. The closing paper of the season was by Mr. G. C. Pursey on "Parasites." The insects of the natural world which preyed upon their neighbors were taken as analogous to insects of the human kind which do likewise. He traced the growth of the one and drew the rational parallels between them and the others. The natural world furnished some inimitable illustrations of the evils which at present affect the community under the present industrial system. The biblical quotations such as "Go to the ant, thou sluggard," etc., etc., he did not take as compliments to many who should stand at the head of creation. The wisdom lessons given by the ant, the bee, etc., were well enforced, and their work was compared with that of mankind, much to the detriment of the reputation of the latter. A unique idea contributed by the lecturer was that contained in the query, if the doctrine of evolution be correct, will nature in time provide shield and buckler, turtle-like shells, for man when he so degenerates in his hatred of his fellow man as to require them for his protection? Without answering it categorically he said that nature would take from men those qualities of mind and body which they did not use. He drew an analogy between man and the parasite of the hermit crab, but did not feel called upon to specify the human parasites on the body politic, they were too well known to need indication. When the children of the so-called rich began life they were as vigorous as the children of the so-called poor, but by-and-by they learned to despise labor and sank to the level of the parasite, an existence without energy for themselves or of use to their fellow-men. He enforced the lesson that nature would come to their rescue if they would but study her—she is the true storehouse of perfect knowledge that will bring us into true liberty and full enjoyment of the life to which they were born. His opinion was that no relief would really come in the world without a recognition of the fact that true spiritual life must first flourish and abound. The paper was thoroughly enjoyed, and was most entertainingly discussed by members of the association.

AROUND OSGOODE HALL.

M. C. Cameron's Libel Suit—Writ of Habeas Corpus Granted the Southwick Case.

Chief Justice Galt made an order for the discharge from jail of John Carroll, sent down for one year for pocket picking.

An order was made in the alimony suit of Greaves v. Greaves for the payment of $8 per week interim alimony.

An order was made for the examination de bene esse of a witness who is ill, in the action of M. C. Cameron against Robert Gore and Jonathan Miller. The action is for $5000 damages for alleged libel. The defendant Gore was at one time gardener for the plaintiff, but was discharged from this situation. When the plaintiff was contesting Huron for the Commons a fly sheet appeared accusing him of having improper relations with a girl named Thomas. The plaintiff immediately began a suit against the defendants as authors of this publication.

Mr. Justice Robertson yesterday granted a writ of habeas corpus to the keeper of the Toronto Jail to produce the body of one Southwick before him in chambers. Southwick was arrested at Toronto on a warrant issued by a justice at Tilsonburg but not endorsed by a justice here. The application was refused by two other judges.

Yesterday was the last day before vacation, and was a busy one round the hall. During July Mr. Justice Robertson will be at the hall to hear motions of an urgent nature in all divisions on Friday of each week. During August Mr. Justice Rose will preside. Mr. Winchester will be absent during the two months on a tour of inspection of legal offices. Some of the learned judges will be in the city, but decline they will do no legal work.

The Militia.

Editor World: Doubtless the communication of "Rude Donatus" to Thursday's World contains many things regarding a reform of the Militia of Canada that are worthy of consideration, but I would humbly suggest to "Rude Donatus" that, as the Canadian exchequer has for 25 years past been the sole means of support for the Canadian Militia, he should inaugurate an agitation for placing the Canadian Militia regiments on the same basis as the English Militia, according to General Wolseley's plan of linking them with Imperial regiments for foreign service. In this way our officers will gain what they most need at the expense of the Empire, while the Imperial service will get capital recruits.

When Snake Poison Is Harmless.

Nature seems to have provided that no poison which acts externally shall have any effect internally, and vice versa. Thus the most deadly snake venom can be swallowed with impunity, the juice of the stomach presumably decomposing it and rendering it harmless. Many experiments have been made to prove this. On one occasion recorded by Humboldt one person swallowed the whole of the poison that could be obtained from four Italian vipers without suffering any bad consequences. In the same way the poison from the envenomed arrows of South American Indians can be swallowed with safety, provided only that there is no wound on the lips or inside of the mouth.

DOMINION DAY

To-day we celebrate Canada's National Holiday, and also close a most successful half year's business.

TO-MORROW

We commence the last half of the year with bright prospects of outdoing the past six months trade. The fact of our always buying for cash; knowing what and how to buy; selling our goods at the lowest possible living profit, combined with an anxious endeavor to please our customers and the public generally, has steadily increased our large business until we now feel that the next six months' trade must outclipse any previous record. Having also sole control of such celebrated manufacturers as

Guy Bros., Syracuse.
L. R. Underhill, New York.
E. Cox., Philadelphia.
Hazen B. Goodrich, Boston.
Etc., Etc., Etc.

We are always ahead in the latest style

Boots, Shoes and Slippers

And in buying direct, ordering in very large quantities and rapidly disposing of the goods, we can offer prices that are lower than any jobbing house in the Dominion. A quick glance through the stock reveals these points of special interest.

Shakespeare's Hamlet

Once advised some strolling players not to saw the air too much with their hands. It is this same fault—too much handsawing—that is responsible for most of the gingerbread ornamentation of furniture, which all would avoid.

Walk through our art galleries of furniture and you will find no "pot-boilers." Everything is rich, artistic, tasteful—neither barren and bold of decoration nor fussily bedizzened like an old maid at a wedding.

Let your purchases be born of good judgment; so shall satisfaction abide with you. Season your appetite with visions of art. A good sideboard half furnishes a dining room, and lots of other things here will improve your opinion of this store. Easy terms of payment.
