TORONTO, ONT., Oct. 1st, 1913.

"I have lived in this city for more than 12 years and am well known. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken "Fruit-a-tives" for 18 months now and am pleased to tell you that I am well. All the enlargement has not left my hands, and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in eighteen months."

KILMARTIN.

The pulpit of Burns' church, Mosa, will be occupied the next two Sundays by Rev. Dr. Ford, of Glencoe.

The "Wet" Canteen and the Rum Ration.

At the W. C. T. U. convention held at Newbury, June 23rd, the committee on resolutions brought in the following, which was unanimously passed:—

No more shocking illustration of unrelieved and hideous selfishness has been given during this war than that manifested by those men and women in the British Isles, interested in the manufacture of liquor. While tens of thousands of homes are giving their best loved to possible death and to almost certain disablement, and are cheerfully enduring the financial hardships entailed by the war, the brewers and distillers and the multitude of men and women who hold stock in liquor manufacturing and distributing plants have unhesitatingly sacrificed the interests of the nation, both in its munition factories and its homes, and have even insisted on pouring into the camps and into the trenches the deadly poison of alcohol. They have not cared that efficiency has been lessened and that physical resistance to disease and death has been appallingly lowered. So long as they—in the words of an English journal—"can sit in their arm chairs and clip their fat coupons, insensible to appeal and argument, they have shown absolute indifference to the ruin wrought by the trade that provides these fat coupons."

Therefore resolved, that the County Woman's Christian Temperance Union for Middlesex, in convention assembled, does express its abhorrence of the drink trade, whether in England or Canada; does call upon our Provincial Legislature and Dominion Parliament to abolish this iniquitous traffic, which every civilized land now recognizes as "an enemy within the gates;" and does request our Dominion Government to fulfil its plain duty to the mothers and wives of this country by demanding of the British War Office the immediate withdrawal of the sale of all alcoholic beverages in the canteen and the abolition of the indefensible rum ration.

Lieut. T. L. Swift, son of E. D. Swift, of Watford, and Lieut. J. G. McLurg, son of Dr. Jas. McLurg, of Sault Ste. Marie, formerly supposed to have been killed in France, are now reported prisoners in Germany. Lieut. E. N. Chesham, of Strathroy, of the 1st Batt., who was seriously wounded in France, has been invalided home. He arrived last week.

Insanity in Ontario.

In speaking in the Methodist church last Sunday night on the "Collapse of the burden bearers," Mr. Howson made reference to a personal interview which he had with Dr. Clarke, of the Toronto Lunatic Asylum; and with the government inspector of lunatic asylums in this province. He found, as a result of that interview, that while one in every 300 of the population in England becomes insane, and about the same proportion in the state of New-York; only one in every 431 of the population in Ontario are thus unfortunate, or about 23 in every 10,000. According to Dr. Clarke the causes of insanity show that in every 100 cases 24 come through heredity, 12 may be attributed to business worry, 11 to loss of friends, 10 to sickness, and 43 to various causes, doubtless more or less incident to the burdens of life.

Pioneer Preserving.

(By Peter McArthur.)

Who knows anything about pioneer methods of preserving fruit? Our grandmothers put away their winter supply of fruits long before the modern kinds of sugar were invented, and in the present state of the world it might be a good idea to revive some of their old recipes. This morning I was listening in a sleepy way to a conversation in which a number of women were discussing their troubles in putting up the usual supply of fruits. Owing to the high cost of sugar many of them had decided to curtail their preserving operations and an air of gloom prevailed, until one of the little party chanced to remark:

"I remember getting fresh raspberry pies in the winter time, and the pioneer housewife who made them told me that she had preserved her berries merely by pouring boiling water over them in a crock until it overflowed. Then she let it stand in a cool cellar and her berries kept fresh all through the winter."

This remark had me wide awake in an instant, for everything pertaining to the pioneers is of the most absorbing interest to me. It also aroused the ladies, but for a different reason. They wanted to know how to preserve raspberries in the cheapest way possible. We all began to question the woman who made the remark, but she could not cast any further light on the question. She was only a little girl when she got the raspberry pies, and she had neglected to ask for full particulars of this unusual and economical way of preserving fruit. As a student of pioneer methods I was only able to add confusion to the discussion, for I seemed to remember hearing about preserving fruit in this way by floating a layer of melted beeswax on top of the water in the crock. But I was not sure, and no one else had heard of this method, so we made no progress.

It is quite possible that the introduction of cheap sugar did away with many serviceable old-time methods of doing up fruit. If so it would be a distinct public service for anyone who has any of the old time recipes to make them public this year when economies are being urged on all of us on account of the war. Anything that will reduce expense in the preparation or preservation of food products should be given the widest possible publicity. This year we have large quantities of almost all kinds of fruit, and there should be a determined effort to save all of it. If the high cost of the approved methods makes them prohibitive let us go back to the cheaper methods of our forefathers.

If you have any of those recipes telling how to preserve any kind of fruit from raspberries to peaches, in a way that will be inexpensive and yet palatably kind, send it to me and I shall ask my friends of the press to give them the widest possible publicity. In this way we may enable everyone to have a plentiful supply of fruit in this year of stress, and at the same time make it possible to use all the fruit in the country without waste. Recipes for all kinds of fruits will be welcome. Address all communications to Peter McArthur, Appin P. O., Ont.

THEY DRIVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

A Timely Sermon.

"The great evil of the present age is not poverty but luxury and prosperity. Even in the midst of this terrible war that is upon us, when the economic conditions of the country are at a very low ebb, men are spending more upon their pleasure and luxuries than they are upon the supreme task before the nation. They still spend their hundreds, yea, their thousands of dollars on automobiles, horse-races, professional baseball, summer homes and summer trips and when they are asked to contribute something to help the poor brave fellows lying in hundreds of hospitals in France and England who are wounded and broken and crippled in the struggle for the very existence of our national rights or for the orphans and widows, who are left by those brave heroes who have given their lives in defence of liberty and justice, they say, put me down for five dollars please. Oh, shame on the selfish generation! Shame on this luxury-ridden land! No one has heeded the warning voice of man against the modern craze for wealth and pleasure. Are we going to listen to the thunderous tones of God's voice as He utters His warning in the terrible storm of war that sweeps over the continent of Europe today—mingling the blood of our sons of Canada with that of the sons of other nations, which fought for life—against the materialistic ideal that has mastered Germany—and made her a menace to civilization? God send us more John the Baptists who will continue to speak out against the materialism and selfishness of our own day until we turn from our sin and self-indulgence to the simple life of purity and reverence, and sacrifice and service."—Rev. J. M. Macgillivray, Petrolea.

"BY MEDICINE LIFE MAY BE PROLONGED."—So wrote Shakespeare nearly three hundred years ago. It is so today. Medicine will prolong life, but be sure of the qualities of the medicine. Life is prolonged by keeping the body free from disease. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil used internally will cure coughs and colds, eradicate asthma, overcome croup and give strength to the respirative organs. Give it a trial.
