RHEUMATISM KEPT HIM IN BED

Suffered Tortures Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

MCMILLAN'S CORNER, ONT., SEPT. 30th, 1910

"Your remedy, "Fruit-a-tives" is a perfect panacea for Rheumatism. For years, I suffered distressing pain from Sciatica or Sciatic Rheumatism, being laid up several times a year for days at a time. I went to different doctors who told me there was no use doing anything—it would pass away. They gave me mustard plasters and other remedies that did no good. Plasters took no effect on me—except to blister me and make raw spots. I took many advertised remedies without benefit, but fortunately, about two years ago, I got "Fruit-a-tives" and they cured me.

Since then, I take "Fruit-a-tives" occasionally and keep free of pain. I am satisfied "Fruit-a-tives" cured me of Rheumatism and they will cure anyone who takes them as directed. If this letter would be of value to you, publish it" JOHN B. McDONALD.

Indeed, this letter is of value to us and to the thousands of sufferers from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago and Neuralgia. It points the way to a certain cure. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50 trial size, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Wanted, a Boy.

Wanted, a boy for a licensed bar,
Give him at once as the bar demands;
Home where the mother and sisters are,
Cease to withold him with tender hands.
Church that would guide him in days of youth,
Yield him where curse and liquor begin;
School that would teach him in ways of truth,
Give him to teachers of shame and sin.
What is the home when the bar must be?
What is the boy when the bar must live?
Why should the mother defend when she
Hears the home-robber command—'Give?'
Give of the blood of her inmost heart;
Give of the life of her throbbing heart;
Give of her body and soul a part—
Give at the home robbers bold behest
What is the school and the church to men
Greedy for gain at their cruel cost?
What do the bar-keepers count it when
Purity, learning, and love are lost?
License them, fathers, for price they pay,
Sell them your sons for paltry gold;
Millions of revenue far outweigh
Morals or life when your sons are sold.
Nay, by the pain that the mother knew,
Giving the boy to enrich the State;
Nay, by the hope of her heart that grew
Holy and strong for his manhood great;
Nay, by the crown that the father wears—
King in a nation of kings, indeed;
Silence for ever the man who dares
Bid for the boy in his grasping greed.
Close the saloon with its ravening cry,
Silence the men for the bar who stand;
Lift the white banner of manhood high,
Ever for home with a Christian hand.
Banish the foe of the soul and brain,
Stand for the right as you bravely can;
Go not with robbers for greed or gain,
Cast a clean ballot for boy and man.

—'Profit and Loss in Man'

If I Only Had the Time.

Some boys will pick up a good education in the odds and ends of time, and make a fortune by small economies, while others disdain to practise. What young man is too busy to get an hour a day for self improvement?

You will never find time for anything. If you want time you must take it.

If a genius like Gladstone carried through life a little book in his pocket lest an unexpected moment should slip from his grasp, what could we of common abilities, except to improve the golden moments that oblivion? 'Nothing is worse for those who have business than the visits of those who have none,' was the motto of a Scottish editor.

Drive the minutes or they will drive you. Success in life is what Garfield called a question of 'margins.' Tell me how a young man uses the little ragged edges of time while waiting for meals or tardy appointments, after his day's work is done, or evenings—what opportunity—and I will tell you what that man's success will be. One can usually tell by his manner, the direction of the wrinkles in his forehead or the expression of his eyes, whether he has been in the habit of using his time to good advantage or not.

The most valuable of all possessions is time; life itself is measured by it. The man who loses no time doubles his life. Wasting time is wasting life.

Some squander time, some invest it, some kill it. That precious half-hour a day that many of us throw away, rightly used, would save us from the ignorance which mortifies us, the narrowness and pettiness which always attend exclusive application to our callings.

Four things come not back—the spoken word, the sped arrow, the past life, and the neglected opportunity.—'Success.'

Nothing Like it for Colds.

Mrs. Molland Ferguson, Sheffield, N. B., writes: 'Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine cured my children and myself of severe colds. We are never without it in the house. There is nothing like it for colds and throat trouble, and it is so soothing and pleasant to take, my children would drink a whole bottle if they were permitted.'

The late Mr. Ketchem, well known as a speaker at Farmers' Institutes, once said in an evening address: 'If I had a son I would want to start him out in life with three things—a sound, healthy body, a good education and an empty pocket book.' Most of us appreciate the value of the first two advantages, but a good many of us do not quite like the idea of the empty pocketbook. And yet we venture to say that a full pocket book has done more harm to young men than an empty one ever did. It does not hurt boy or girl to start at the bottom.

A Word of Gratitude.

'In justice to humanity I want to tell you that I was a great sufferer from itching piles, and have found Dr. Chase's Ointment the best treatment obtainable,' writes Mrs. Fred Hinz, Brodhagen Ont. 'It gives instant relief and I can recommend it to any sufferer from this dreadful disease.'

Sir Fredrick Treves, F. R. C. S., surgeon to King Edward VII., said: 'I was with the relief column that moved on Ladysmith. The first who dropped out of that column of 30,000 men were not the tall or the short, the thin or the fat men, but those who drank, and they came out as clearly as if they had been labelled.'

When hemming children's dresses on the machine use very fine cotton—say, one hundred. When hems or tucks must be ripped to lengthen a skirt the fine thread will be easy to rip. A quick jerk will pull it out.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has won its great reputation and extensive sale by its remarkable cures of coughs, colds and croup. It can be depended upon. Try it. Sold by all druggists.

Old, soft, woolen articles—blankets, dressing gowns, worn shawls—should be beautifully cleaned and mended, then put away for use in an emergency. They are much more comfortable than new ones when sickness comes.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

How Mrs. Reed of Peoria, Ill., Escaped The Surgeon's Knife.

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Fortwo years I suffered. The doctor said I had a tumor and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a well and healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation, and your Sanative Wash relieved me. I am glad to tell anyone what your medicines have done for me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. CHRISTINA REED, 105 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Mrs. Lynch Also Avoided Operation.

Jessup, Pa.—"After the birth of my fourth child, I had severe organic inflammation. I would have such terrible pains that it did not seem as though I could stand it. This kept up for three months, until two doctors decided that an operation was needed.

"Then one of my friends recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and after taking it for two months I was a well women."—Mrs. JOSEPH A. LYNCH, Jessup, Pa.

Women who suffer from female ills should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, one of the most successful remedies the world has ever known, before submitting to a surgical operation.

Parsons' Pills Help The Liver

Over a million days' labor was lost in Canada last year owing to strikes, according to the Labor Department's report. This is only about half the loss during 1911. The total number of employees who went on strike was 40,500. There were few important strikes affecting public utilities and thus coming under the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act. Nineteen were referred to arbitration under the Act and all but three were settled.

Fire Chief Graham, of Ottawa, has decided that the use of cigarettes lessens the endurance of the firemen in Ottawa, and the cigarette must go. He has no complaint as yet to make against pipe or cigar, but he has put his ban on the cigarette. We believe the day is coming when both the pipe and the cigar shall share the blame with the cigarette, although to a lesser degree. The trouble lies in the nicotine.

A good man and a wise man may at times be angry with the world and at times grieved at it, but no man is ever discontented with the world if he does his duty in it.

You can say goodbye to constipation with a clear conscience if you use Chamberlain's Tablets. Many have been permanently cured by their use. For sale by all druggists.

When Doris climbed on her father's knee, it was plain that a deep problem was troubling her.

'Papa, was it a wise person who said, 'the good die young?'

'Yes,' he replied. 'I suppose he must have been very wise.'

'Well,' the child replied, after thinking it over for a time, 'I'm not so much surprised about you, but I don't see how mamma managed to get growed up.'

Many sufferers from rheumatism have been surprised and delighted with the prompt relief afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Not one case of rheumatism in ten requires any internal treatment whatever. This liniment is for sale at all druggists.

Cross Fertilizer Co. Take Action Against Amherst Man.

In an interview with the 'Sydney Record,' Mr. C. R Walker, of the Cross Fertilizer Co., states that his company have issued a writ against Chas. J Logan, of Amherst, claiming damages for libel. Mr. Logan had made the statement that the Cross Fertilizer Company guaranteed their fertilizer to contain 13 8 per cent. soluble phosphoric acid to the ton, where it only contained 7.9 per cent. The company are going to give Mr Logan a chance to make his statement good in the courts

Asked as to their Fertilizer Mr. Walker said their 'A' quality, registered No 357 was guaranteed to contain 12 8 per cent soluble phosphoric acid. On the 29th of April the government inspector for Nova Scotia drew a sample from the United Fruit Companies at Berwick, N. S., which, on being tested by the government analyst, was found to contain 14 96 per cent available phosphoric acid, and on the 9th of May the government inspector for New Brunswick drew a sample from the Sussex Mercantile Company, at Sussex, which on being tested by the government analyst, was found to contain 14 08 per cent. available phosphoric acid.

'In simple figures,' said Mr. Walker, 'the above means that we guarantee our slag to contain 256 pounds of available phosphoric acid to the ton, whereas we actually give the buyer 299 pounds in the one case and 297 in the other.'

And you didn't know it was loaded?

Why, Judge, I swear I didn't.

But before pulling it at the deceased, why did you not look into the barrel to see whether or not it was loaded?

Why, Judge, that would have been a foolish thing to do! It might have exploded and killed me.

The Magistrate—If, sir, I think, don't you realize that one of your shoes squeaks in B flat and the other in G major?—Life.

Caller—So you have decided to get another physician?

Mrs. Neugold—Indeed I have. The idea of prescribing flaxseed tea and mustard plasters for people as rich as we are!

A man is seldom clever enough to realize how dumb or ant he is.
