The Engineer.

It was a grave and quiet youth—
A youth none troubled with
Until he linked his fate with those
Who mankind would be.

For, as he was an honest man,
It gave him bitter pain
That, like a convict, he should be
Compelled to drag a chain.

He ne'er aspired to wealth or fame,
And I have heard him say
No monarch would he wish to be
Of all to did sway.

A cunning engineer was he,
Yet naught with him went right,
Nor could he fix it till luck forsook
In spite of his "foresight."

'Twas all in vain this engineer
Worked week with main and might;
His work was lifeless, because
His angles were all right.

All day he level he would run,
But all he gained by that
Was just to know that he himself,
And not the ground, was "flat."

To make a map he never tried
But what he could not do—
Now his draft was faulty and wilty acts,
And so he could not "Pick."

As he laid out the land we day,
Like any other elf,
The river came and very soon
He was "laid out" himself.

Twelve men upon his body sat,
And this verdict did agree:
"We find he died, just as he lived,
A martyr to the state."

And so at twenty years of age
He quit this mortal strife,
And ended here for ever more
His transitory life.

The moral of this mournful tale
To thinkheads all is clear—
Don't let your heads get engine turned
To be an engineer.

The observations of a married man have led to the conclusion that money multiplied mirrors is a good investment, as it affords a marvelous amount of comfort and gratification to a woman. He says his wife thinks just as much of consulting her glass when she ties on her apron as when she ties on her bonnet, and while he goes to the door at once when there is a rap, she exclaims, "Mercy! Joseph, who is that?" and dashes for the looking-glass.

One of the wooden mitres carved by Grinly Gibbons over a prebend's stall in the cathedral church of Canterbury, happening to become loose, Jessy White, the surveyor of that edifice, inquired of the dean whether he should make it fast, "for perhaps," said Jessy, "it may fall on your reverence's head." "Well, Jessy," answered the humorous dean, "supposed it does fall on my head, I don't know that a mitre falling on my head would hurt it!"

There is a clever lad "down East" who will get his living in this world. For playing truant maternal authority cut off his supper. Casting one fond look at the authoress of his existance, he pushed at the door to say, "Mother, I am going to die, and when I am no more I wish the doctor to cut me open and look at my stomach." The maternal mind was filled with awful forebodings, and the maternal heart asked what he meant. "I wish it to be known," he answered, "that I died from starvation." This was enough. The small boy was triumphant, and retired to his little bed gorged to repletion.

A Yankee gentleman said that Nantucket horses were celebrated for their general worthlessness, imbecility, and marvelous slowness. "As how?" said the Nantucketer. "Why, there's not a bit of go in him, and yet you warranted him as a good war-horse." "Yes, I did; said he to a good war-horse; hold sooner die than run!"

TO THE PUBLIC OF British North America.

IN consequence of frauds that have been practised upon you by two or three individuals (who for a time took the name of the "New York Chemical Company") making and selling a worthless thing which they called Dr. Ross's Pills and Ointment, I have for some time past been freely sold in many parts of the British Provinces as my genuine Pills and Ointment, I have for some time past considered it my duty to caution the public, through the medium of the press, against buying these spurious articles.

Judgments have been obtained against the Bankrupt firm; in one case by a Mr. Casnard, who, when about to levy, at the latter end of October last, found the name of the Chemical Company had been painted out and that of Samuel Vose substituted.

Many respectable firms in the British Provinces, who obtain my medicines direct from here, have very properly suggested that I should, for the benefit of themselves and the public, insert their names in the papers, that it may be known that my medicines can be had genuine from them.

The following is a list of the Firms alluded to; and I particularly recommend those who desire to get my medicines to apply to some of the Houses named:—

Messrs. Avery, Brown & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. Forsyth & Co., Halifax, N. S.
Messrs. T. H. Barker & Sons, St. John, N. B.
Mr. T. Dos Brisay, Charlotte Town, P. E. I.
Messrs. Langley & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Messrs. Moore & Co., Victoria, B. C.
Dr. John Pallen, Chatham, N. B.
Messrs. Munro & Co., Montreal.
Messrs. J. Winer & Co., Hamilton, Ont.
Mr. H. J. Rose, Toronto.
Mr. A. Chipman Smith, St. John, N. B.
Mr. John Bond, Goderich, Ont.
Messrs. Elliot & Co., Toronto.
Mr. J. Chaloner, St. John, N. B.
Messrs. Hastington Bros., St. John, N. B.
Mr. R. S. Priddy, Windsor, Ont.
Mrs. Orpen, Morden, N. S.
Mr. George C. Hunt, Jun., Fredericton, N. B.
Mr. W. H. Thompson, Harbor Grace, N. F.
Mr. J. M. Wiley, Fredericton, N. B.
Messrs. W. & D. Yale, Montreal.

My Pills and Ointment are neither manufactured nor sold in any part of the United States. Each Pot and Box bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, "Holloway's Pills and Ointment, London," engraved thereon.

The medicines are sold at the lowest wholesale prices, in quantities of not less less than £20 worth—viz., 8s. 6d., 22s., and 34s per dozen boxes of Pills or pots of Ointment, for which remittances must be sent in advance.

THOMAS HOLLOWAY.

N. B.—Chemists and other vendors of Holloway's genuine Pills and Ointment may have their names inserted in the local papers if they will please apply here—
