THE TORONTO WORLD.

FRIDAY MORNING. NOV. 21. 1884.

MRS. BUTT IN REBUTTAL.

Her Husband Away All Hours With the Salvation Army.

Editor World: Allow me to answer the letter which appeared in yesterday's World with regard to myself and W. C. Butt. As I stated to your reporter, and which I say now, since he joined the salvation army there has been no peace. He was away all hours: never returned home until nearly midnight. As regards my sending for him first it is false. After he had left me some time he came around near every day to see me and wanted me to take up house again and live with him. At the advice of friends, who told me to try him again, but against my own feelings, I consented, and then wrote him to get a house. Now as to him asking for the money, he came to the house and wanted $30 and said if I did not get it for him he would get a broker and sell all the furniture—would knock down the stove and take all away. He did bring home the money, but at the same time he was in debt all over, and it went to pay off what was owed, which left us very bare. As to contradicting the report for the sake of his family and his God, that he had better have left out, considering the language he used and the way he acted. I wish myself he never had come back; the fact is, he acted the way he did because I would not join the army with him. I had seen enough to keep me away. Again, he says my father and himself cursed one another from the time we were married until he left, that is false; my father said very little to him at any time; but letting alone all this, it is nothing to be compared to eloping with a strange woman—disgracing himself and his own family—and leaving me and my child, not caring what became of us. KATE BUTT.

Running Street Cars on Sunday.

Editor World: Will you kindly allow me to ask if Common Sense can honestly be sustained in defiant opposition to the revealed will of God in the old testament, and so strongly supported by the Lord Jesus in His teachings in the new testament. Wherein do we come short in the manifestation of opposition, if it is not in the rejection of His commands? Christ strictly commands that the Sabbath day shall be kept holy, and God as firmly directed that man should not allow his man servant, or his maid servant, or his horse, or his ass to perform any labor on the Sabbath. If men are honestly desirous of worshipping that God, how can they possibly do it in the light of such declarations as the Saviour used when He said, "If ye love Me ye will keep My commandments."

Now, as true christians entertain this view, it is quite evident it is pure nonsense to advocate the running of cars on Sunday in their behalf; and they must honestly believe that all statements made in favor of them as a convenience for people under any other circumstances will fall far short of supporting our zealous citizen, Common Sense, when he is obliged to go into the presence of that Judge who will most unquestionably sustain His own commands.

As a resident of Toronto for nearly fifty-nine years, I feel deeply interested in everything that tends to elevate the tone of christian morals in our country, and I do trust the mantles of human ease and comfort may be lain aside when contemplating any changes affecting the sanctity of the Sabbath or the laws of God.

Toronto, Nov. 20. JOHN MCINTOSH.

A Word for Midnight Musicians.

Editor World:

No sound shall e'er disturb my rest,
No noise at night wake or alarm me;
But I will do my very best
To show, was the Salvation army, seems to be the motto of a great many in Toronto. The peculiar propensity for making this people the target for every ill-worded joke is gaining ground. The Telegram contained an article to the effect that "a salvation army musician amused himself playing the most nerve-destroying airs down Queen street west, about 12 o'clock last night." I take this not as a single instance, but because I know the artist therein referred to, and in the fulness of that knowledge appreciate the awfulness of the insult.

The music may not have been classical, the player may not have been an expert, but when the writer of that paragraph arose, attired in the airy garments of night and thrust his head out into the cool atmosphere of a November evening, he lost all right of opinion as to what effect that music had upon the nerves; but when will people learn to "live and let live?" When will spite and ignorance cease to go hand in hand? REPUBLICAN.

A Pavement Job Squelched.

Editor World: The property owners of Wilton avenue have just burst a job for block pavement, which nobody wanted but the contractor expectant. The avenue is in excellent order, there was no petition for improvement and everybody was happy. Meanwhile blockpaving business was getting dull, contractors drove round looking for unimproved streets, and the Wilton avenue folks wake up one morning to find their street is to be paved at their expense as a local improvement. No by-laws, no advertising or nasty publicity to the scheme; everything to be done quietly and snugly. The engineer was induced to recommend it, and we were to be reduced to paying for it. It was a matter of no moment to our intelligent official that there is no sewer on Wilton crescent. This is rather an advantage; next year a sewer goes down and a pavement comes up and the fun goes on. By accident the scheme leaked out, and within twenty-four hours a petition was signed by every property owner on the street, except two, against the paving, which burst the scheme. ST THOMAS' WARD.

A Sufferer's Complaint.

Editor World: Would you please inform me, through the columns of your valuable paper, if there is any way to have an assignation house, that has existed for years at No 55 York street, suppressed. I have drawn the attention of the police detectives, also Mr. Fenton, the crown attorney, to the place, but they seem not able to do anything in the matter. The police are all aware of the kind of a house it is, but for some reason don't move in the matter. A SUFFERER.

[The World has also repeatedly drawn the attention of the police to this house, as the neighbors have so frequently complained about it.—ED. WORLD.

Ald. Millichamp Objects to Sunday Cars.

Editor World: Allow me through the medium of your valuable paper to say that I am not in favor of the running of the street cars on the Sabbath day. I was named at the last meeting of the city council as one of a committee to look into the whole subject; and least this might be misconstrued, I wish to make this statement. W. MILLICHAMP.

GOSPEL HALL FOR STUDENTS.

A Site Granted to the University College Y. M. C. A. by the Senate.

The senate of the University of Toronto met last night; the members present being Messrs. Mulock (chairman), Wilson, Ross, Falconbridge, Kingsford, Loudon, McMurchy, Richardson, Moss, Foster, Caven, Galbraith, Houston, Vincent, Oldwright, King, Wright.

Mr. Loudon's motion to abolish senior matriculation in June was carried. Hereafter candidates will be compelled to take it as the first year examination in May.

Mr. McMurchy and Mr. Houston moved the first reading of a statute to provide the holding of matriculation examinations outside Toronto. On motion of Mr. Kingsford a progress report of the committee on the consolidation of the statutes was adopted.

Dr. Wilson offered a resolution recommending that a site be granted to the University college Y. M. C. A. whereon to build a hall for the use of the association. Carried. The site will be fixed on the University grounds in Queen's park.

On motion of Mr. Loudon it was resolved to use the sum heretofore granted for scholarships at senior matriculation for the same purpose as junior matriculation, the additional scholarships to be given in classics, mathematics and general proficiency. Dr. Oldwright presented a report of the board of studies on matriculation in medicine, which was adopted.

Mr. Houston moved to abolish scholarships and medals in the faculties of law and medicine, with the exception of the Starr medals in medicine. The motion was not seconded. Mr. Kingsford gave notice of motion to provide for the publication of official reports of the senate's proceeding in the 'Varsity. Mr. Houston gave notice to insert ancient history as an optional subject in pass work the first year.

The senate adjourned until Nov. 28.

Ladies, don't buy your winter Mantles until you see the immense stock at less than manufacturers' prices at the Bon Marche. An immense stock to choose from.

Metropolitan Sacred Concert.

The Metropolitan church contained a large audience last night on the occasion of the sacred concert. The concert was a decided success. The choir was present about eighty strong, and sang the various choruses with precision of attack and firmness. Much expression was given to Gounod's beautiful Ave Verum, while the chorus, "We Never Will Bow Down," from Judas Maccabæus, was rendered with great boldness. Dr. Davies, organist of St. James' cathedral, was well received. His principal solos, Bach's fugue in D and the closing numbers, Wely's "Offertoire" in G minor and "Fanfare" by Lemmens, were brilliant efforts and go to confirm the impression already made that he is an artist of high order. He gave as encores an andante cantabile of his own composition, played for the first time in public, and Bach's Organ fugue in C major. Miss Walker of New York was the soprano soloist. She sang Gounod's sacred song, "The light from heaven," but her principal solo was "Hear ye Israel" from Elijah, and in this number she was most successful. Her voice is powerful, and of high range, and her tones are produced with great sweetness and purity, but her enunciation is defective. The fault is in giving the vowels a false pronounciation for the purpose of producing a roundness tone. Round tones are nice, but the words should not be sacrificed. F. W. Jameson of New York, although his voice can scarcely be called a tenor, sang "In Native Worth" from the Creation and a beautiful recitative and air by Barnby, "The Soft Southern Breezes." Mr. Jameson has a pleasing voice and his singing is careful and artistic. E. A. Stoddard also of New York was the basso. His solos were "It Is Enough" from Elijah, and "The Lord Worketh Wonders" from Judas Maccabæus. The former was infused with all the expression and feeling of which it is so susceptible, and in the latter more difficult and trying number, Mr. Stoddard's rich and melodious voice was used with good effect. His execution was careful and studied and the result was most pleasing. The audience was thoroughly alive to the excellence of the performance and the soloists were frequently applauded.

Mr. Torrington, who so ably conducted, has been striving for some time to educate his audiences to be punctual in attendance, and to remain until the end of the performance, and he announced at the close of the first part that as so much disrespect was paid to the singing of "God Save the Queen" at the close of concerts he proposed to have it sung then, which was done. It is hoped the hint will be taken.

To-day the Bon Marche will show 10 cases extra fine quality Baldwin Fingering Yarns in all the best shades. Retail at wholesale prices.

Throw up Your Hats.

—Now that Sir John Macdonald has had the grand cross of the order of the bath conferred upon him by her majesty the queen, all good loyal Canadian subjects should throw up their hats with gladness. If your hat is too shabby to toss into the air go to Dineen—the hatter—corner of King and Yonge streets, and get a new one. Dineen has just opened several cases of seasonable hats and caps, latest styles.—Advt.

Economy.

—The secret of economy lies in the buying of upholstering, such a parlor or drawing-room suites, in the purchaser going to an establishment where they make it a specialty of manufacturing first-class goods.
