THIEVES HEAVILY SENTENCED.

Johnnie Conn, of London, and the Humphrey Bros.—The Latter Go to Kingston.

Three thieves, Johnny Conn, and Charles and William Humphrey, came up before Judge Finkle, at Woodstock yesterday.

Johnny Conn, a 13-year-old boy of this city, who has quite a police record, pleaded guilty to stealing a rig from a farmer living near Ingersoll, with whom he had been working. He was sentenced to two years in Woodstock jail.

The Humphrey brothers are notorious thieves. There were nine charges preferred against Charles, one of which was for stealing a horse and rig from McAdam & Ferguson's livery, this city, some weeks ago. He pleaded guilty, and was sent to the Provincial Penitentiary at Kingston for three years. His brother William was found guilty under three charges, and got two years in the same institution.

BREAKFAST — Quaker oats blanc mange. Bread omelet. Fruit corn muffins. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Boiled calf's feet and parsley butter. Hominy croquettes. Tomato preserves. Cream puffs. Tea.

DINNER—Stewed mutton. Mashed potatoes. Bread and butter. Vanilla snow eggs. Coffee.

Clip these recipes out and paste them in your scrapbook.

Bread Omelet—Crumble a cupful of stale bread crumbs and soak them in half a teacup of milk. Then beat them quite smooth and half a teaspoonful of salt and three beaten eggs. Butter a shallow pudding dish well, pour in the mixture and bake in an oven about ten minutes; serve at once in the same dish, as it falls quickly.

Boiled Calf's Feet and Parsley Butter—Procure two white calf's feet; bone them as far as the first joint and put them into warm water to soak for two hours. Then put two slices of bacon ,two ounces of butter, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, salt and whole pepper to taste, one onion, a bunch of savory herbs, four cloves, one blade of mace, into a stew-pan; lay in the feet, and pour in just sufficient water to cover the whole. Stew gently for about three hours; take out the feet, dish them and cover with parsley and butter. The liquor they were boiled in should be strained and put by in a clean basin for use; it will be found very good as an addition to gravies, etc.

Vanilla Snow Eggs—Beat stiff the white of six eggs with a very small pinch of salt; have ready on the fire a pint of milk sweetened and flavored with vanilla; as soon as it boils drop the beaten eggs into it by tablespoonfuls, and as soon as they become set dip them out with a tin; slice and arrange them according to fancy on a broad dish; allow the milk to cool a little and then stir in the yolks of eggs gradually. When thick pour around the snowed eggs and serve cold.

WEDDING BELLS.

On Wednesday, March 3, at the residence of Mr. C. Walton, No. 16 Victor street, South London, Miss Emily Judd was married to William Alfred Bates. The ceremony was performed by Archdeacon Davis, of South London, and was witnessed by a large assembly of relations and friends. The bride was handsomely attired in a costume of cream cashmere, trimmed with cream satin ribbon, chiffon and lace, wearing a veil and wreath of orange blossoms. Miss M. Benstead, as bridesmaid, and Miss A. Bates, as maid of honor, were attired in cream cashmere, trimmed with heliotrope gauze and ribbon. Mr. L. Bates and Mr. C. Walton supported the groom. The wedding party entered the parlor to the strains of the "Wedding March," performed by Prof. Taggart, London. The many costly presents showed the high esteem in which the bride and groom are held.

THE W. C. A.

The meeting of the Women's Christian Association on Thursday was well attended. The treasurer's report showed receipts to be $968 67; expenditure, $555 30; balance, $413 37. Favorable reports from the various homes were given. In the Home for Incurables there are thirteen patients, and all are carefully attended to, and everything possible done to alleviate suffering and make them comfortable. The relief committee reported a good deal of sickness and distress among the poor. Much sorrow and regret was felt at the loss sustained by the association in the death of Dr. Mitchell, who has for so many years been the kind, considerate and faithful physician at the Aged People's Home. Late or early the doctor always willingly responded when called on, and by his unremitting kindness and unfailing good humor he had endeared himself to all. The following donations are gratefully acknowledged: To the Refuge and Infants' Home—Thos. Kent, $10; Mrs. Kirkpatrick, Thedford, $10; Mrs. Burden, canned fruit; Mrs. Winnett, catsup; Mrs. J. B. Campbell, peaches; Mrs. Reid, beef; Mrs. Carfrae, apples; Mrs. Davidson, plums; Mrs. Kent and Mrs. McIntosh, reading matter. Home for Incurables—Mrs. A. Stewart, bag of apples; a friend, flour; a friend, cake; Mrs. Davies, bag of apples; Mrs. West, cut flowers. Relief committee—Mrs. Brown and Miss Hearding, made-up garments. General fund—Mrs. B. A. Mitchell, $2; a friend, 50 cents.

Applicants for Positions on the Nursing Staff.

Interesting Communication From the W. A. M. of Montreal.

The regular meeting of the Hospital Trust was held at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, the members present being R. Lewis (chairman), C. F. Complin, T. H. Purdom and Superintendent J. D. Balfour.

The superintendent reported that 33 patients were admitted and 27 discharged since last meeting. There are now 68 patients under treatment.

Miss Tye reported that Miss Dyson was home for an indefinite period on account of sickness, and that Miss Graham, of Komoka, entered on probation March 4.

Applications to be placed on the nursing staff were received from Minnie F. Walker, Belmont; Elizabeth Bell, Strathroy, and Janet R. Grashaw, city.

The annual list of furnishings was submitted and approved of, with the exception of the furnishings for the private wards, purchase of which was deferred until an estimate of the cost is presented.

The superintendent was empowered to put a new heating boiler in the operating room, and to advertise for volunteers to fill the vacancies on the hospital staff.

Accounts to the amount of $916 70 were passed and ordered to be paid.

A communication was received from the Women's Auxiliary Mission, Montreal Diocesan Board, thanking the Hospital Trust for their care and treatment of Weston Frost. The communication contained a copy of a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Auxiliary held on Feb. 16, 17 and 18:

"It was moved by Mrs. Everetts, seconded by Mrs. G. Osborne Troop, that the members of the Montreal Diocesan Women's Auxiliary desire on this occasion of their annual meeting to express to Dr. Niven, the hospital authorities, the Convalescent Home, London, and to Mrs. Boomer, their sincere thanks, and the sense of obligation for the sympathy, kindness and free medical service extended to Weston Frost during his severe illness last autumn."

The resolution was carried unanimously, and the secretary was desired to send a copy to the authorities of the hospital in this city.

With the "Diamond" Success Is Fully Assured.

The world-renowned Diamond Dyes are put up for every color, with special dyes for cotton and all kinds of mixed goods, and are so simple and easy to use that even a child can dye a perfect color with them—colors that will not fade, crock or wash out—equal to the best colors made by professional dyers.

If women are induced to buy imitations of Diamond Dyes they must be prepared for failure and loss of goods.

Insist on getting the Diamond Dyes from your dealer; they cost no more than the poor imitation dyes sold for the sake of large profits.

$45 AN EGG.

An Expedition Engaged in Searching for the Egg of the Rare Pearly Nautilus.

The pearly nautilus is a rare creature of the octopus family, as much as $90 has been paid for a pair of its eggs.

So great is the interest of naturalists in the nautilus that Dr. Arthur Willey of the University College, London, has gone to the South Seas to study the animal and collect specimens. He has now been at work two and a half years.

The pearly nautilus is the only living representative of the great group of extinct animals whose shells are known as ammonites. They are trapped in baskets like lobster traps by the natives of some of the Melanesian islands, and used as food. The nautilus is allied to the cuttle fishes, but differs from them in most interesting ways. To fully understand its structure and the mode of building up its chambered cells, it is necessary to know its young stages, while it is growing and forming within the egg. It has been one of the few important embryonic histories not yet ascertained by the enterprise of latter-day naturalists.

Dr. Willey proceeded first to Ralum, in New Britain, where he spent a year trapping the nautilus in 70 fathoms of water and dredging in vain for its eggs. He then tried a station on the coast of New Guinea, where he was nearly drowned by the capsizing of his small craft. After passing through New Caledonia he arrived last summer in Lifu, one of the Loyalty Islands, where nautilus can be captured in three fathoms deep only. Here he constructed a large submarine cage, in which he kept specimens of nautilus, feeding them daily. On Dec. 5 last his patient endeavors were rewarded. Some of the nautili had spawned in the cage, and thenceforward he was able to obtain abundant samples of the eggs. Each egg is as large as a grape, and is deposited separately by the mother nautilus.

AWFUL HEART DISEASE.

Death Charmed Away Under the Spell of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—More Wonderful Than a Fairy Tale Is the Story of Mrs. Roadhouse, of Willscroft, Ont.

Where disease has affected the heart the remedy to be applied must be speedy in its effects, or all may be lost. "Cold sweat would stand out in great beads upon my face, because of the intense suffering from heart disease. I often felt that the death struggle was at hand. No medicine gave me help until I used Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. In thirty minutes the severe pain was removed, and after taking little more than one bottle the trouble had vanished. I know nothing of it today." Sold by C. McCallum and B. A. Mitchell.

ON PEGS.

They Hang Babies Up in Siberia to Keep Them Out of Mischief.

As described by a recent traveler, Russian babies, as seen in the homes of the Russian peasants in Siberia, are very unattractive specimens of humanity.

"I looked curiously at one little bundle," says the traveler, "which was laid upon a shelf. Another hung from a wall on a peg, while a third was slung over one of the supporting rafters, and was being swung to and fro by the mother, who had a cord loop over her foot."

"'Why,' cried I in surprise, 'that's a child!'

"'Of course it is,'" replied the woman; 'what else should it be?'

"Having learned so much in so short a time, I had an irresistible desire to inspect the contents of the swinging bundle. I looked, but turned away in disgust, for the child was as dirty as a pig. I asked why the baby was not washed. It may have been impertinent.

"'Washed!' shrieked the mother, apparently horrified. 'Washed! What—wash a baby? Why, you'd kill it!'"

The Musical Wonder.

Such is the name some have given to the Apollo Harp, advertised in another column of this paper; and an examination of the instrument will convince the public that the name is merited. The four highest grades of the instrument can be played in any key, all transpositions can be effected without break in tempo; and while the possibilities of this small instrument are very great, its impossibilities are equally marked. The symphonic attachment renders all discords impossible, even by a novice performing on it. The new system of stringing gives a full, sweet tone to the harp, and enables it to hold its tone like a piano. Altogether it is a unique instrument, and a splendid addition to our high grade musical equipment. b
