SELLING DISEASED MEAT.

On Saturday next Wilbert Rivington, a farmer on the 2nd con. of Biddulph, will appear before Squire E. B. Smith, at Ailsa Craig, charged with selling meat unfit for human food. It is said that Rivington sold a steer which had been examined by a veterinary surgeon and pronounced diseased. The steer was butchered, and part of it sold, but the veterinary surgeon stopped further sales and had the meat destroyed.

JUMPED HIS JOB.

Detective Egelton yesterday arrested a 14-year-old boy who lives with his parents on Horton street on a charge of violating the apprentice act. Mr. Wm. Hendrie, the Hamilton horseman, is the complainant. The boy went a week ago to Mr. Hendrie to become a jockey, and entered into a contract to remain four years. The other boys in the stable, however, frightened him by saying the trainer would use the whip freely on him, and the boy decided to come home. He was taken back to Hamilton today.

A MINISTERS' CONCERT.

St. Thomas Times: Rev. Mr. Crews is arranging for a ministers' concert in the Central Methodist Church on Good Friday night. A number of the city ministers will take part, and several from a distance. Among those expected from a distance are Rev. Dr. Ross, of Guelph; W. E. Millson, of Gesto; T. E. Harrison, of London; W. Quance, of London township; H. D. Moyer, of Belmont, and C. T. Scott, of Aylmer. Mr. Crews is manager of the company, and from what he knows of his men he is confident he can offer those who attend the concert a splendid evening's entertainment.

MISSION TO LEPERS.

The recent meeting of the Mission to Lepers was one of exceeding interest to the members and their friends. Rev. Dr. Johnston, conducted devotional exercises, and gave an instructive Bible reading on the selfishness and covetousness of Gehazi, the servant of Elisha. A solo, "The Heavenly Home," was exquisitely sung by Mrs. Wheeler. Miss Watt, traveling secretary for the mission, spoke earnestly and fluently on the subject of leper work, the disease itself and the object of the mission. It is a disease of the past, present and also of the future, if not checked. There is no country in the world entirely free from it. To the slums of the large cities lepers come to hide. No effectual cure for the disease has been found. Doctors can relieve the suffering and take away the repulsiveness of the disease but cannot kill the germ. The disease is not infectious, and only slightly contagious. Children left with their parents usually contract the disease, but it has been proved by actual experiment that children, when taken from their parents in time, escape the disease. The leper has no home, no proper food, and no haven. The objects of the mission is to provide these for him, and also asylums for untainted children. The mission is in a flourishing condition, and there has never been a year that the mission has gone back. etaoin romf6or etaoin etaoin metaion

ROBERTS—ALEXANDER.

The marriage ceremony, by which, on Tuesday, Miss Jessie Alexander, the well-known and talented reader, became the bride of Mr. Charles Roberts, M.A., LL.B., of the Union Theological Seminary, New York, was performed by Rev. Armstrong Black, the bride's pastor, at her home on Brunswick avenue, Toronto. The bride wore a most becoming traveling costume of green broadcloth, the short Eton coat having a vest of ivory satin, with a fall of handsome lace and an inner vest of white panne, richly embroidered in Persian design. She was attended by her niece, Miss Jessie Melville, as bridesmaid, while six small nieces, the little Misses Alexander, acted as maids of honor, the latter being becomingly costumed in white organdie, with entre-deux of Mechlin lace. In the drawing-room and the tea-room the decorations were in pink, with a profusion of roses and pink tulips. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Will M. Alexander as groomsman.

COURAGEOUS MAN'S DEED

At Risk of His Life He Saves a Woman From Being Crushed Beneath a Trolley Car.

An exciting incident, which would have had a serious and probably fatal termination, but for the courage and presence of mind of Mr. John H. Goodge, was witnessed on Dundas street east, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. An elderly woman, evidently considerably under the influence of liquor, was walking north on the west side of Maitland street, her efforts at locomotion being considerably impeded by the heaviness of a basket which she carried on her arm. She was so incapable of taking care of herself that she fell several times within a few minutes. Reaching Dundas street, she started to cross, but paused irresolute on the southern car track, immediately in front of an east-bound car approaching at full speed. Several passers-by who witnessed the woman's danger, shouted at her, but she paid no attention. Their cries attracted the attention of Mr. Goodge, who was in his store at 474 Dundas street. Without pausing an instant he ran out to the track, in front of the approaching car, and, seizing the woman, dragged her to safety, just as the car shot past. Had it not been for Mr. Goodge's action in risking his life, the woman must have been struck and probably killed. The motorman of the car put on the brakes when he realized the woman's danger, but so great was the momentum of the car that it ran across Maitland street, and was only stopped in front of the entrance of Dundas Center Church.

MERRY BANQUETERS

Students of Forest City Business College Mark the Close of the Easter Term.

It was a merry company which sat down to the banquet given last night at the G. T. R. station restaurant by the students of the Forest City Business and Shorthand College. The dinner was tendered those students who were leaving the college at the expiration of the Easter term, and it was one of the most successful affairs of the kind in the history of the college. The principal, Mr. J. W. Westervelt, presided, and introduced the following toast list: "The King," "God Save the King," "Canada," "The Maple Leaf," responded to by Messers. A. Day and Henderson; "The F. C. B. C.," "They Are Jolly Good Fellows," Messrs. W. Westervelt, jun. and C. Marshall; "Our Business Ladies," Messrs. B. Dignan and M. Lakey; "Our Neighbors from Across the Line," "Yankee Doodle," Messrs. McDonald and Merchant; "Our Returned Heroes," "Soldiers of the King," Capt. C. G. Garnett; "Our Shorthand Ladies," Messrs. Ferguson and Buchanan; "ex-Students," R. A. Evans; "Graduating Students," Messrs. Donaghy and Sangster.

Excellent music was provided during the evening by the Dalton Male Quartet.

Among those present were the following: W. B. Home, Lucan; Ernest Buchanan, Mount Brydges; Duncan L. Campbell, Komoka; Ernest G. Fitzgerald, Rebecca; Murray Ferguson, London; Phineas Dickens, Saintsburg; P. E. Ratz, Crediton; Arthur Day, London; C. G. Garnett, Delaware; Bruce Dignan, Exeter; Ed. F. Henderson, London; J. W. Westervelt (principal), London; J. W. Westervelt, jun., London; J. M. Merchant, Alpena, Md.; Ernest A. S. Ferguson, London; R. E. Evans, London; B. A. Parker, Detroit; A. B. Cunningham, Woodstock; J. L. McRae, Essex; F. G. Donaghy, Gorrie; M. J. Lahy, Ingersoll; C. S. Marshall, Ailsa Craig; H. C. Brewer, Clinton; Walter Harris, Aylmer; F. A. Merchant, Aylmer; M. Bignell, Mount Brydges; J. W. Graham, Fernhill; Geo. J. McCartney, Thamesford; A. McLaughton, London; Eli C. Skuse, London; A. Lockhard, Brampton; Jas. Butler, London.

IN THE MATTER OF GROWING SUGAR BEETS

A Word of Advice and a Word of Caution to the Farmer.

The citizens of London are offering nearly $300, divided into prizes from $1 to $15, for the best sugar beets grown in the county of Middlesex this year. The Ontario Government offer seed free, and will send a man to give instructions how to grow the beets, provided about forty farmers within a radius of five miles of the city will agree to grow one-eighth to one-quarter of an acre. I hope all who are willing to grow sugar beets on the above terms will let me know as soon as possible, so that I can report to the government.

Those who grow sugar beets for prizes will be supplied with the best imported German seed at 20 cents a pound. All orders should be sent in soon.

I have been informed that some men are going around the country trying to get farmers to contract to grow one or more acres of sugar beets this year. Who the men are or what their object is, I do not know, but fear they are not working in the interest of the farmer, and I warn the latter to be cautious about signing contracts with strangers.

These people have nothing to do with the citizens' committee who offer prizes for growing sugar beets.

The prizes will be awarded by the government chemist at Guelph. The prize money will be paid by the secretary of the Western Fair board.

If experiments are satisfactory this year, no doubt a large sugar factory will be erected in the city of London next year.

Five acres of sugar beets will yield larger profit than 20 acres of any kind of grain.

When the Baby Cries at Night there is a cause for it. Perhaps it is gas on the stomach, maybe cramps or diarrhea. Don't lose sleep, anticipate such contingencies by always keeping handy a bottle of Polson's Nerviline. Just a few drops in water given inwardly, then rub the little one's stomach with a small quantity of Nerviline, and perfect rest is assured for the night for both mother and baby. You may not need Nerviline often, but when you do need it you need it badly. Get a 25c bottle today.

History Repeats Itself.

'Tis but a few years since Fit-Reform first made its initial bow.

Staying qualities in the interior of garments, collars molded by hand, electric pressing machines, etc., these points were all given to the public as a part of the platform upon which Fit-Reform had been founded.

Yet, today a re-hash of these attributes now appears—"borrowed plumes of course"—by other makers of clothing not Fit-Reform.

There are details in the manufacture of Fit-Reform, more up-to-date than these, which accounts for the increased demand for Fit-Reform garments from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Questions Answered.

PATENT RIGHT.—A gives B a note for a patent. Is it necessary for the fact to be stated on the face of the note, and can A hold the patent if he fails to pay the note? Ans.—The note must legally have the words "given for a patent right," across its face, otherwise it is void, except in the hands of a holder in due course without notice of the consideration for the note. A cannot hold the patent unless he pays the note.

Nervousness and Nerve

The more nervous a man is the less nerve he has. That sounds paradoxical—but it isn't; for nerve is stamina.

Hood's Sarsaparilla gives nerve. It tones the whole system, perfects digestion and assimilation, and is therefore the best medicine a nervous person can take.
