POOR DOCUMENT

The Use Of

Harsh, drastic purgatives to relieve costiveness is a dangerous practice, and more liable to fasten the disease on the patient than to cure it. What is needed is a medicine that, in effectually opening the bowels, corrects the costive habit and establishes a natural daily action. Such an aperient is found in which, while thorough in action, strengthen as well as stimulate the bowels and excretory organs.

Ayer's Pills,

"For eight years I was afflicted with constipation, which at last became so bad that the doctors could do no more for me. Then I began to take Ayer's Pills, and soon the bowels became regular and natural in their movements. I am now in excellent health." —Wm. H. DeLaucett, Dorset, Ont.

"When I feel the need of a cathartic, I take Ayer's Pills, and find them to be more than any other pill I ever took." —Mrs. B. C. Grubb, Bellville, Va.

"For years I have been subject to constipation and nervous headaches, caused by derangement of the liver. After taking various remedies, I have become convinced that Ayer's Pills are the best. They have never failed to relieve my bilious attacks in a short time; and I am sure my system retains its tone longer after the use of these Pills, than has been the case with any other medicine I have tried." —H. S. Sledge, Weimar, Texas.

THE SOUTH BAY DISASTER.

The dreadful explosion at South Bay yesterday by which so many valuable lives were lost demands a very strict investigation on the part of the authorities. Those who witnessed the effects of the explosion will not readily believe that it was due to anything else but the worst kind of carelessness either in the use of boilers wholly insufficient or in neglect of the most ordinary precautions in their use. Considering the distance that some of the boilers were thrown the latter theory would seem to be most in accordance with the probabilities, but it will be the duty of the coroner and the jury to make this matter plain. The loss of human life is at all times sad, but it is rendered doubly so when it appears to be unnecessary and is caused by carelessness. Let us have the whole truth in connection with this dreadful affair and then it will be possible to determine where the responsibility for it must rest.

THE OPENING OF PARLIMENT.

The session of Parliament which opened yesterday is likely to be a very important one, several of the measures referred to in the Queen's speech being of great moment. That which is of the most general interest is the one relating to education, which is a subject that requires to be dealt with in a bolder fashion than has hitherto prevailed. It is evident that Great Britain cannot now stop short of a free school system such as prevails in Canada. The tithe question will again be dealt with by legislation but it is hardly likely to be satisfactorily settled by a Tory government. Ireland is to be conciliated by increasing the number of peasant proprietors by an extension of the present act for that purpose. The measure which is to be submitted for facilitating in Scotland and Ireland the transaction of the more important stages of private legislation affecting those countries, will be awaited with some curiosity. It will probably be an attempt to deal out home rule in slices to those countries. Several other measures are promised if the other legislation of the government is suffered to pass without obstruction, among them being bills for the enactment of a reform system of county government in Ireland, analogous to that put in operation for Great Britain; for the establishment of district councils; for the extension of facilities for purchasing small parcels of land in Great Britain; for amending the law in case of injury to persons in their employment; for consolidating and amending the laws relating to public health; for the appointment of public trustees; and for increasing the security of friendly societies and savings banks. It will thus be seen that Parliament has plenty of work cut out for it to occupy all its time for several months to come.

JONATHAN'S THANKSGIVING.

To-morrow the children of our Uncle Samuel, whose domain extends all the way from the Saint Croix to the Pacific and from Texas to the northern boundaries of Alaska, will unite in giving thanks for the blessings which Providence has showered upon them during the past year. They have great occasion for thankfulness. The republican party which thirty years ago was one of the grandest political organizations ever known on this continent, forgot, its traditions, forgot that it had saved the country from dismemberment, and crawled in the dust at the feet of an ignorant and alien element hoping by its aid to be strengthened and kept in power,—and it has been wiped out. McKinley who stood forth as the exponent of this disorganizing element, the chief aim of which was to involve the two great English speaking nations of the world, closely allied by blood, sympathy, traditions and all the noble aspirations of humanity, in conflict, is likewise wiped out, dead, and sleeps with the Cæsars. But to gratify the passions of this vicious element, we would have had no "fishery troubles," no "Behring Sea" disputes. They were matters by no means intricate or complicated, and but for the wretched votes which each of the two great parties hoped to gain, by action hostile to English interest, would have been long since settled. The passage of the McKinley bill opened the eyes of the electors in that country to the fact that Americans were no longer governing in America, and they resolved that such a state of affairs should cease to exist. Their resolution will be carried into effect on the fourth of March next; therefore they have abundant cause for thankfulness. To be sure the McKinley tariff, which has proved to be a boomerang and one of the most deadly sort, is in force and will remain in force a few months longer, but our friends across the border are thankful, as they have reason to be, that this and similar afflictions can not be of eternal duration. The brains of the country have asserted themselves, and in a country where school houses stand at all the cross roads, brains are not likely to give way to ignorance and bigotry for long. The children of Uncle Samuel will all have their thanksgiving dinners to-morrow but at many of those dinners, the turkey, hardly less admired and reverenced across the border than the great American eagle, will be absent. As the Brooklyn Eagle says, "It is dollars to doughnuts that next thanksgiving day most of the families of workingmen will go without turkey." The Eagle justifies its wager by the following table showing the cost of a turkey dinner in 1889 compared with its cost in 1890, as follows:—

	Last year.	This year.
Turkey, 15 pounds	$2.25	$3.00
Cranberries, 2 quarts	.16	.20
Potatoes ½ peck	.12	.20
Onions, 1 quart	.06	.06
Cabbage, 1 head	.05	.08
Butter, 1 pound	.25	.25
Eggs, nine, dozen	.20	.25
Lard, 1 pound	.07	.10
Sugar, 5½ pounds	.21	.23
Total	$3.36	$4.39

This is due to the McKinley bill, and its ill effects have been felt through the country in various ways; first on election day; second, on Wall street; and third, among the necessities of life. While it has raised the cost of all the imports, the butcher, the baker and grocer have made it an excuse for raising the prices on all articles of food. A repast which last year cost $2 will cost almost twice as much this Thanksgiving. In the first place the national fowl has increased 3 and in some places 5 cents a pound. Therefore a turkey of, say, fourteen pounds will be about 50 cents dearer than one of the same weight was last year. Chickens and other fowl will be costlier to a like amount. All meats are a cent or 2 cents in advance per pound over last year. There is a big increase in potatoes, a cent or two extra being charged per quart. Cabbage, onions, beans, peas, squash and turnips have gone up in price. Butter is dearer, so is cheese, eggs and lard. Fish also commands an added price.

Canned goods are very dear in consequence of the increased duty and so are dry goods of every description, but the women must appear in fall or winter garments by Thanksgiving—dinner or no dinner. They must pay increased rates for their knick knacks, and, the outer person must be satisfied before the inner man. And hence the barrenness of many a thanksgiving table across the border tomorrow. But notwithstanding all this, and the theatened uprising of the Indians in the North-west, the children of Uncle Samuel, as we have shown, have much to be thankful for, and we have no doubt but that, turkey or no turkey, thanksgiving day will be duly observed by all true men and women throughout the land.

The sales of the GAZETTE yesterday were the largest in the history of this paper. So great was the demand that the press had to be kept going until half-past seven o'clock, it having been run continuously for three hours and a half. The sales of the GAZETTE for the twenty-one working days of November that have elapsed, exceed the sales for the same period in 1889 by just 70 per cent. and yet the sales of the GAZETTE for November 1889 were the largest it had known up to that period. We need not say how incomparably superior the GAZETTE'S account of the accident at South Bay was to that of its evening contemporary. Today we present our readers with a view of the scene of the disaster taken by our artist a few minutes after the dreadful affair occurred.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The Sun this morning in quoting the GAZETTE'S account of the treatment of the Gothenburg City by the harbor master asks the pertinent question, "Is St. John an ocean port?" It is very clear that St. John will not be an ocean port for steamships, long if regular liners coming here are delayed thirty-six hours seeking for a berth at which to discharge their cargoes. This case calls for the immediate attention of the common council and for their prompt action as well.

Mr. Gladstone expresses the opinion that at the present moment the leadership of the Irish Home Rule party by Mr. Parnell would be disastrous in the highest degree to the cause of Ireland. This no doubt is an accurate statement of the situation, for while a king or a nobleman or a tory political leader may be a sensualist of the worst kind without exciting remark, it will not do for leaders whose strength rests merely on popular support to imitate their evil example. Mr. Parnell will have to retire.

The thousands who have flocked to Berlin hoping to be immediately restored to health by Prof. Koch's treatment for consumptives, are of course disappointed. As well might a man who has lost an arm expect to have it restored by medical skill as one whose lungs have been destroyed by disease expect their restoration. All that Prof. Koch can do and all that can possibly be accomplished by human agency is to arrest the progress of the disease. This it is generally conceded the professor has proved himself able to do, and such being the case a timely use of his remedy divests the disease of its greatest terrors.

It is not likely that Coroner James Robinson will be asked to serve on a jury for some time to come. Yesterday afternoon the entire proceedings in the case of Christie against the city of St. John, which was being tried at the circuit court before Judge Tuck, were brought to a stop by the absence of Coroner Robinson who was one of the jury. The office of coroner is one of such dignity and importance, he being next to the sheriff in rank, that it is surprising any coroner should consent to serve on a jury; indeed it is hardly proper that he should be asked to serve, for a coroner might claim exemption on account of the office he holds.

The university of Aberdeen has followed the example of Edinburgh and Glasgow in electing a conservative Lord Rector by a good majority over the Liberal candidates. This does not indicate any change in their politics for the previous Lord Rectors of the three universities named were Conservative. The University of Edinburgh and St. Andrews send one member to Parliament who is a Conservatives. Glasgow and Aberdeen also send one member to Parliament who is likewise a Conservative. Both of these university members were elected without opposition. Yet Scotland is represented in the House of Commons by 46 Liberals and 26 Conservatives. showing that the Scotch universities are not in sympathy with the country as regards political matters.

THE MONCTON CITY COUNCIL.

Belligerent Aldermen—Our Correspondent Advises that a Fee be Charged for Admission to their meetings.

Our city council is becoming notorious for the manner in which they deliberate at each of their sessions. There appears to be sides taken by three of the aldermen against the other three, and the mayor's partiality has been more than once suspected by the different motions that have been made at divers times to "not concur in his ruling." One great cause of the wrangling appears to be in connection with the building of an new engine house in ward 3, and the propriety of moving the steamer which is now kept in No. 2 engine house to the new room. Some months ago tenders were called for an engine house and hose room in ward 3. The building has been constructed and it was thought the steamer would be moved into it as it was built for that purpose. But difficulty arose. Two of the aldermen claimed that the floor will not hold the steamer, and that it was not in a condition to keep it in. The aldermen from ward 3 claimed the place should be put in condition to receive it, while one of the alderman of ward 1, who is chairman of the fire committee, contended that the floor was all right. For several meeting nights motions were made and petitions sent in to have the steamer removed, but the vote was always a tie and the mayor gave his casting vote in favor of the steamer remaining where it was. During these discussions charges were promiscuously made and strong epithets hurled at different aldermen, and at times it looked as though fistic quarrels would ensue. Last night's meeting settled the matter as far as the removal of the steamer was concerned. One of the alderman from ward 3 was absent and two members of the fire committee brought in a majority report recommending that the steamer remain where it was for different reasons. A petition was also sent to the Council praying that the steamer be not removed. The mayor was on the point of reading the petition when one of the aldermen jumped to his feet and protested against the petition being read at that time as it was not a report of the fire committee and would have to be dealt with separately. The mayor concurred in these views and laid the petition on his desk. While the discussion on the committee's report was being carried on, one of the aldermen got possession of the petition and commenced reading names of parties in ward 3 who did not want steamer removed. An alderman from ward 3 demanded that he be stopped but the mayor took a different view, saying he could not prevent him from reading out names, when if he (the mayor) had only looked at his desk he would have discovered that the petition had mysteriously disappeared, and that the alderman was then reading what he himself had ruled could not be read while the report of the committee was under consideration. The ward 3 alderman still protested against the reading and said the petition had been circulated by the two members of the fire committee.

Then the fun commenced. The chairman of the fire committee sprang to his feet in livid rage, and facing the ward 3 alderman, said, "That is a falsehood, and if you want it in any stronger language I will give it to you; I never saw the petition till to-night." At last a vote was taken, and it was at last decided to let the steamer remain where it is. In the meantime No. 3 hose company occupy a building in which half a dozen hose carts could be comfortably kept; the town pays in the vicinity of $1100 for a hose building when one of $500 would suffice; hose room No. 2 is crowded in a building already too small, with No. 2 steamer, and the aldermen are pondering over what matter they will have to dispute over at next night's meeting of the board. Probably the matter of enforcing the Scott Act will now have a run, The writer would advise the mayor to charge an admission fee to their sessions to pay for the useless expenditure of gas consumed during their bickerings.

Moncton, Nov. 25.

The flood in Carlsbad yesterday was caused by the bursting of a dam. A volume of water ten feet deep poured through the chief streets and market place. Several corpses were seen floating as the waters subsided.

Always the Same.

She wore a lock of my hair
In her brooch ere we were wed;
Of all her dainty treasures
The dearest 'twas, she said.
And now, since we are married
She is not changed at all;
She's snatched, and snatched, until my head
Is bare as a billiard ball.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.
