GERMAN PRESS ADMITS GRAVITY OF ALLIED GAINS

With the Canadian Army in France, Sept. 26.—The frankness with which the German press admits the seriousness of the breach made in the Hindenburg line by the Canadian is surprising until one observes that it is in reality a new and desperate attempt to stiffen the morale of the nation. Belittling the successes of the allies has been tried so long that in these straits, different methods must be utilized to spur on a jaded nation. While a few military writers continue the old line of explanation and reassurance, the majority frankly admit the critical nature of the moment. The Frankfurter Zeitung speaks of the precarious position of Gen. von Buelow's army, owing to the deep wedge driven into the German front south of the Scarpe. The writer goes on to say that the Germans have to reckon with the fact that a blow from the south side of the Scarpe would shake the whole Artois salient and would throw their infantry right against the gates of Douai.

Speaking of the allied plans, he says the English have started other tactics. The actual attack is made by good storming divisions; other divisions then go through to continue the attack, the earlier divisions being in the meantime refilled from ample reserves possessed by the allies. It is not to be denied, he continues, that a short time ago "a waver of doubt passed over many of our troops on the western front" and he tries to show that this doubt is passing with the less rapid advance towards the French frontier.

A significant and probably inspired article by a well-known German military writer described the damage done to Douai by British guns, the inference by experience being that the German plan to destroy the place themselves. He speaks of the shelling and bombing of Douai as "in reality a domestic war between the envious mining industry in competition with the collieries of Northern France." A clumsy and ludicrous attempt to split the allies by the old method of placing the interests of the English against those of the French. The latter know only too well that what is not injured by the guns of the allies will be left in ruins by the retreating Germans.

London, Sept. 26.—The Allied successes in France, Macedonia and Palestine have led the Cologne Gazette to anxious consideration regarding future military developments.

"We must do Foch the justice to say he is apparently beginning to obtain on a big scale that strategical unity he has already obtained on French soil," says this leading German newspaper, and after reviewing the situation in the various theatres of war, it concedes that the prosecution from all sides of an offensive against the alliance of the central powers would be a master-stroke.

Having mentioned the unity of command and the superiority of the Allies in men and material as conditions favoring them, it continues: "We have already pointed out the enviable secrecy observed in the manufacture of armored tanks, and the training of their crews, which now number not thousands, but tens of thousands. To these must be added the increase in the number of guns, mine throwers, flame projectors, machine guns, gas and fog ammunition and airplanes of all kinds. No proof is necessary that German industry is unable to accomplish this in similar quantities. Especially as regards the armored tanks, there is no doubt that the numerical superiority is on the side of the enemy and that he is bound to utilize it to the utmost."

ARE YOUR EYES TO BLAME?
Don't try to stop pain until you have found the cause. Get at the root of the trouble first, and remember pain is only nature's message that something has gone wrong.
Take headache for instance; do you suppose for a minute that the tablet or powder you take to relieve it is in any sense a remedy? You merely drug the nerves so that they no longer give their warning.
90% of all headaches are from defective eyes, and it is our pleasure as well as our business to provide you with glasses that stop the suffering once and for all, by correcting the cause.
