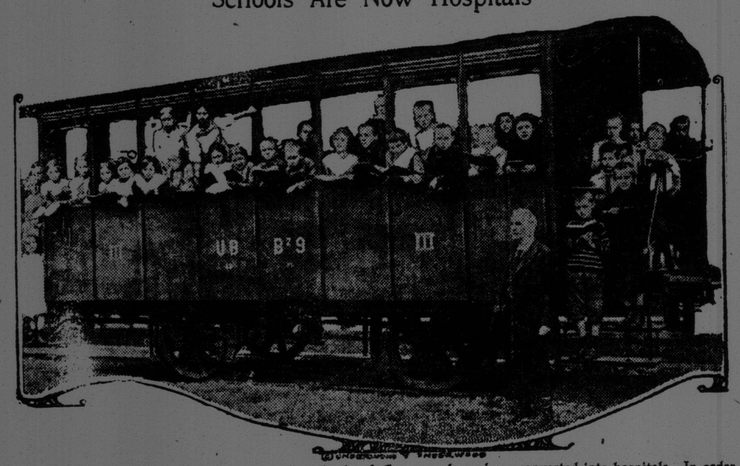
German Children Use Railway Coach For Schoolroom, For Their Schools Are Now Hospitals



Ta accommodate the wounded Germans, the schools of Germany have been converted into hospitals. In order to accommodate the school children who would otherwise be kept from their studies, railway coaches have been converted into class-rooms. The youngsters, no doubt, are a happier lot in this novel school than if they were shut in a stuffy class-room. The picture shows one of the converted school-rooms with its pupils and their school-master

LITTLE LIFE IN THE BOND MARKET IN NEW YORK TODAY

New York, Nov. 30—The bond market opened dull and listless on the New York stock exchange today, the first full day of trading of any sort since the exchange was closed on July 30. Unusual interest was manifested among the brokers who thought that the two hour session of Saturday did not afford a full test of conditions and feared that there might be a general tendency to liquidate by foreign holders.

Nothing whatever of this sort developed during the first quarter hour of trading. For a full minute after the opening the ticker remained silent; not a single bond was sold. Five minutes after the opening gong only nine bonds with a face value of $9,000 had been sold. The market appeared to be in a state of utter stagnation.

United States Steel 5s rose ⅛ to 99¾; Southern Pacific convertible 4s and Distillers Securities 5s were off ⅛, selling at 80¼ and 55½ respectively. Westinghouse Convertibles declined 3 points and Central Pacific 4s declined 3½ points.

All fears of a flood of a liquidation from abroad seemed to vanish with the first quarter of an hour. Indications were that the second day of restricted trading in bonds would be much like the first.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES

CREDIT TO ST. JOHN THROUGH FINE WORK OF LOCAL FIRM

Maritime Art Glass Works Send Handsome Product to Halifax — Business Rushing; Overtime Work

Something unusual for a Times man was struck this morning. During a call on Mr. Bauer, of the Maritime Art Glass Works, City road, he was shown the opalescent glass work that is to be fixed up in the new Orpheum Theatre in Halifax. The entire work is copper mounted and patriotic in design. It will be shipped to Halifax this afternoon. The main design is arch shape with its base seventeen feet wide and about six feet high in the centre. This is made in three sections with the centre design (seven feet wide), built round a harp and trumpets. The left wing contains a three feet portrait of King George, and the right wing that of Queen Mary.

In addition to this immense piece of work there are four windows nine feet high by three feet wide with the main design in each case being a harp and trumpets. These four pieces are to be used as windows in the main entrance of the Orpheum Theatre.

The whole coloring is extremely rich in effect, and great credit is due to the Maritime Art Glass Works in turning out such fine work. Credit is also due to St. John as the home of so capable a firm, and the placing of such an order here is another sign St. John is booming in spite of the present war conditions.

Mr. Bauer remarked that his firm are so busy that the men are working overtime and have been for some time past. This company have been given the contract for the fancy panels which are to be placed over the entire width of Hon. Josiah Wood's store front at Sackville. Some of these panels will be about one hundred and ninety inches long. They also have the contract for all the stained glass work to be used in two large churches in Halifax. The plant for turning out the work is very complete, as is also the department for bevelling glass and mirrors, which can be cut to any size and shape.

NEW APPOINTMENT IN LOCAL C. P. R. SERVICE

Anderson who has been appointed assistant superintendent in the Lake Superior division.

MORE LETTERS FROM ST. JOHN SOLDIERS RECEIVED

In a letter to Walter Logan, foreman with R. P. & W. F. Starr, a former employe, Beverley Long, who left here with the first Canadian contingent, wishes to be remembered to friends in the city. He says he has enjoyed himself thus far with the boys at Salisbury Plain, where he is engaged in the horseshoeing detachment attached to the 4th D. A. C.

A letter from her son George, who left here with the artillery volunteers, has been received by Mrs. Alice Todd, of Main street. He speaks of his continued pleasure in his work at Salisbury Plain. He has been promoted to the headquarters division in charge of the horses of the officers. This will lighten his duties, as a member of No. 3 Section, D. A. C. The young soldier writes that he is in good health, and, that the weather of late at Salisbury Plain has shown an improvement.

The Best Quality at a Reasonable Price

The Price of The Engagement Ring

The Engagement Ring contains a Diamond, consequently is more expensive than the simple band of gold, the Wedding Ring.

But the Engagement Ring that conforms to the canons of good taste is not nearly so expensive as most people think. The first consideration in its purchase should be quality—and $25.00 will buy a Diamond of the finest quality, equal in size to the stone one secures in almost any other set ring. The decidedly moderate prices asked for fine Diamonds at Sharpe's will interest you intensely. Our Diamond goods were priced before the war began, consequently are selling below the present market value for equal quality. It is hardly a possibility that you will ever again be able to buy Diamonds so advantageously. Our Diamond book will help you understand why.

Ask for copy.

Gifts selected now will be held for you until Christmas on payment of a small deposit.

A HEALTHOGRAM.

There's a close connection between health and dress.

Dress should be as light in weight as is consistent with warmth, as overweight produces both outer and under, the more harmful pressure upon the skin. The more porous the clothing the skin is educated to perform its functions with increasingly less need of protection.

Pressure, whether due to weight or tightness, interferes with skin respiration and thereby produces irritation.

The Miserable Wretch

The teacher was very earnest—far more so than his pupils—and the subject he chose was about the terrible outcome of laziness and idleness.

With due solemnity, as befitted the occasion, he drew a terrible picture of the habitual loafer, the man who dislikes work, and who cadges for all he gets. "Now, Charlie," said the teacher to a little boy who had been looking out of the window instead of attending closely to the lesson.

Charlie was instantly on the alert.

"Tell me," continued the master, "who is the miserable individual who gets clothes, food and lodging, and yet does nothing in return?"

Charlie's face brightened.

"Please, sir," said he "the baby!"

Unalaska, together with the land around it, is rapidly rising from the Behring Sea, according to late reports. Two years ago residents of Hog Island, near the town of Unalaska, could see only the spire of the Rusisan church in the village; now the entire building and much of the village can be seen plainly from the island. Also the channel between Hog Island and Amaknak Islands was formerly more than 9½ fathoms deep, but now it is not more than two fathoms deep at high tide.

A ton of water from the Atlantic Ocean, when evaporated yields 81 pounds of salt; a ton of Pacific water, 79 pounds; a ton of Arctic or Antarctic water 86 pounds; a ton of water from the Dead Sea, 187 pounds.

THE WESTPORT SERVICE

Speaking of the report that the service by the steamer Westport between St. John and Westport might be discontinued the secretary of the board of trade said this morning that the matter came before the board a month ago. At that time the steamship company was applying for an increase in subsidy and a sub-committee appointed to investigate reported in favor of their request. The full board, however, felt that it would be inadvisable to urge the matter upon the government at a time when the war was making so many additional and heavy demands upon the exchequer.

KNOCKED DOWN BY TEAM

Friends of Mrs. Bernard Gallagher, Paradise row will learn with regret that she sustained painful injuries in being knocked down by a team in that street on Saturday afternoon. With her little son she was crossing the street from her home and was keeping out of the way of a motor truck when she was knocked down by a wagon. Doctor McCarthy attended her. Mrs. Gallagher received a severe shaking up but the child was unhurt.
