MR. DRURY IN THE WILDS.

THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE TALKS ABOUT HIS TRAVELS.

Through Muskoka, Parry Sound and the Rainy River Country—Work on the New Railroad—A Statement Being Prepared by the Hon. Gentleman of his Ideas of the Country.

Hon. Charles Drury, Minister of Agriculture, who has been journeying through Northwestern Ontario for 22 days, has returned to town, bringing with him a weather-beaten face and a hoarse voice. But he has also brought back something which is worth undergoing the hazards of voyaging by land and water, and that is, a big bagful of information about the northwestern part of the province. The minister left Toronto three weeks ago last Thursday, and after spending a day or two at his farm arrived in the city yesterday morning.

Mr. Drury says he undertook this personal visit to the west in order to be able to give people who desire to settle in the province fairly accurate knowledge of what the country is like and what they may expect. "It is all nonsense," he said to The World yesterday, "to talk about all the land in Muskoka and Parry Sound being fit for settlement. The fact is there are too many people in some of the districts there already." He added that further west there were large tracts of excellent farm land, especially in the Rainy River district.

Speaking of his trip he said: "I went from here to Penetanguishene and then to Parry Sound. My tour of inspection started at Parry Sound. I proceeded from Parry Sound to McKellar, where I addressed a farmers' meeting. There was a large gathering of the farmers in the neighborhood. I spoke to them on agricultural topics in general, but particularly on why some farmers failed and others again succeeded, pointing out the defects in the operations of some kinds of farming. From McKellar I went to Burk's Falls, across Ahmic Lake, and addressed another meeting of farmers at Burk's Falls. The following day was spent principally in taking a view of the surrounding country, principally in the township of Armour. The day following I went to Sundridge and addressed another meeting there. From there I went to North Bay and spent one day. As it was wet I did not go into the country. The following day I went to Sudbury, the headquarters of copper mining. I visited the mines in company with Dr. Peters, superintendent of the works. There is a good deal of activity about Sudbury and the prevailing opinion is that the mines are on a sound working basis. Copper is commanding most attention, though work is going on at the Vermillion gold mine and nickle is being sought for to some extent. The American syndicate and Montreal syndicate are both pushing work. I have some specimens from the Vermillion gold mine. From Sudbury I went to Port Arthur and there hired a team and in company with some Port Arthur people drove through the country and visited the principal silver mines there. I also inspected the country, taking special note of the White Fish Valley. This trip took us six days, three going and three coming. On our return we arrived at Murillo, 13 miles west of Port Arthur. Taking the main line of the C. P. R. I went from there to Rat Portage, 235 miles distant. At Rat Portage I chartered a steamer and with Sheriff Carpenter and a few other residents of the place sailed down through the Lake of the Woods and some 30 or 40 miles up Rainy River. The river banks are occupied by English, Scotch and a few French, but the lake shores are uninhabited. These people have no means of transport with the outer world except by a stray steamer in summer and by driving over the ice in winter. Work on the Port Arthur, Duluth & Western railway, however, is to be shortly commenced, and it is proposed to build it into this district and beyond. There is a lot of fine farm land both along the lake and in the Rainy River district.

Returning I visited Sault St. Marie, saw the water power canal on both sides of the straits. Our people have a great advantage over their neighbors. Only ¾ of a mile of canal requires to be constructed on this side to give the same advantages as a canal 2½ miles long on the other side. There is a great deal of activity at the Soo. I went from there to St. Joseph's Island, where I attended a Reform demonstration, and after the meeting crossed over to Bruce mines. I retraced my steps from there to North Bay and thence to Toronto."

Mr. Drury will spend a quiet week at Crown Hill to mend his voice, which, under the influence of colds contracted while away, has failed a little. He intimates that he will prepare for the press a statement of his ideas on the prospective future of the country through which he has been, from an agricultural point of view.

The Chair of Metaphysics.

It is likely that the Minister of Education will appoint a successor to the late Prof. Young before the fifteenth of this month. The candidates are said to be: Prof. Hamilton of Hamilton College, N.Y.; Mr. Baldwin, a Princeton man; Prof. Seth of Dalhousie College, N.S., and Mr. Hume, a graduate of Toronto University.

Said a university man last night: "I believe that Prof. Hamilton has the support of Principal Caven; if that is so and the Principal so expresses himself to Mr. Ross the latter will, in view of Dr. Caven's tender relations toward the Ontario Government, as head of the Equal Rights Association, be glad to gain his friendship by such a concession. On the other hand, it is said that Dr. Caven for this very reason will not make a recommendation."

Another report is that the Minister will for the present only appoint a lecturer and that Mr. Hume is the likely man.

Dr. Schurmann of Cornell University, it is understood, wanted the billet provided it carried the reversion of the presidency of the college, a proposition that the minister could not entertain.

Filling the Ranks of the Pioneers.

The regular monthly meeting of the York Pioneers was held yesterday afternoon at the Canadian Institute, the president, Dr. Scadding, in the chair. These gentlemen were elected members: Elias Rogers, John Doty, John Norris, S. E. Phillips, W. Phillips. Ex-Governor Aikins of Manitoba was introduced and welcomed to the society.

Complaint was made that the rail fence around the society's lodge at the Exhibition park had disappeared. The executive committee was instructed to replace the fence and to repair the lodge for the coming fair. Mr. Duck presented to the society a 22-pound cannon ball that had been dug up in Mr. Wright's garden at the head of Grenadier pond. It is supposed that it was fired from an American vessel during the war of 1812.

Where Bell's Organ Factory Might Go.

The World was talking to a little bird yesterday in regard to Bell's organ factory coming to Toronto from Guelph.

"Where in the city will it locate?" asked The World.

"It might be out west," said the Bird.

"Will it be at the Junction?"

"I should say it would be nearer the mouth of the Humber and on the city side," replied the Bird.

BON MARCHE CLERKS COMMITTED.

Dalrymple and Bladen go to Jail but Hamilton is Let out on Bail.

James Dalrymple and William Bladen, the Bon Marche clerks who were arrested on charges of robbing their employer, F. X. Cousineau, were yesterday committed for trial by Police Magistrate Denison. Edward Hamilton was allowed out on bail. H. S. Osler appeared for the defence and County Crown Attorney Badgerow, N. Gordon Bigelow and W. M. Hall for the prosecution.

F. X. Cousineau testified that the prisoners had been in his employ and recognized the Madras muslin, the curtains and other articles produced as his property. He was examined at length by Mr. Osler.

Private Detective Alf Shirley said that he was present when the goods were discovered in Bladen's house. He had seen a parcel of stuff at the Bon Marche addressed to Mr. Galloway, 200 Euclid-avenue, where Bladen lived. It was not checked. A lot of evidence was taken on this charge, and the three prisoners were then arraigned on the charge of stealing clothing. They all pleaded not guilty, Bladen declined to elect. Mr. Cousineau recognised the clothing produced as his property. There was no record in the books showing that the goods were paid for. On this charge Hamilton was committed for trial and Bladen and Dalrymple were discharged. The two latter were sent down on the first charge, but in Hamilton's case bail was accepted in two sureties of $250 each.

THE LONGSHOREMEN'S TROUBLES.

A Settlement Not Yet Made—"Judge" March's Investigation.

There is as yet no prospect of a settlement of the longshoremen difficulty. Messrs. Rogers and Crane are charged with originating the trouble, but it is claimed by some that neither of these gentlemen should be held responsible, the real originators being Local Assembly 6564 Longshoremen.

Mr. Daniel Sheehan, a foreman for Elias Rogers & Co., says that last spring he was placed at Rogers' dock at the foot of Princess-street. When the changes were made among the dealers Cooper's men came from the foot of Lorne-street to Church-street and Crane's men were permitted to go to Princess-street. As soon as Mr. Sheehan learned that Rogers was to move he informed the assembly, expecting to be transferred. He was, however, ruled out of order and told to remain at the foot of Princess-street. As no vessel had been unloaded there for two months Sheehan did not approve of remaining. The matter ended by Mr. Rogers' men going with him. A meeting of the court of the assembly was then called and the men were tried with this result:

Court of Local Assembly 6564.

In the action of Bro. J. H. Sanderson, M.W. of L.A. 6564, against Bros. Sheehan, J. Strachie, S. Martin, J. Sheedy, T. Gibson, T. Gallagher, J. Bloomer, W. Ennis, P. Dowling, W. McGinn and J. Crawford, for alleged violation of obligation in different ways, Brother Sanderson withdrew the charges against all the brothers mentioned, except Brother D. Sheehan.

In this evidence was taken.

The court finds that the by-law of the assembly which Brother Sheehan is charged with contravening determines the penalty for any infraction thereof, and the assembly having neglected its enforcement, the charge against Brother Sheehan is therefore dismissed without prejudice in the premises.

CHARLES MARCH, Judge.

This would have ended the trouble, but the cases against the men in Sheehan's gang were again taken up; they were each fined $5, and suspended until payment was made. Sheehan then refused to work without the others and they were all ratted in consequence.

FEES FOR THE HIGH SCHOOLS.

To be $7 to the End of the Present Year but Open for Consideration.

The High School Board met last night for the first time since the holidays. There were present J. Pepler (chairman), A. MacMurchy, Sutherland, Lobb, Malone, St. John, Beddome, Mutney, Houston and Patterson.

A letter was read from Mr. Denison, who has charge of the work on the Collegiate Institute, stating that part of the building would be ready for occupation by the 16th inst.; also a letter from Mr. G. N. Miller to the effect that the repairs to the Parkdale High School were not yet finished.

A deputation from the Parkdale Art School consisting of Major Carlaw, J. Ingle and R. W. Hicks were received. They asked the use of a room in the Parkdale High School. The request was referred to a committee.

The Sites Committee reported, in regard to the purchase of the site bounded by Euclid, Ulster and Harbord-streets and Euclid-avenue, and the North American Land Company refused to sell their land in that square. It was decided to purchase the lot immediately south of the Parkdale High School.

The question of fees was then brought up. A resolution was carried that the fees and terms of the Parkdale High School and the Jarvis-street Collegiate Institute be the same. Mr. St. John and Mr. Sutherland offered this resolution:

That the fees be $13 for the 1st form, $17 for the 2nd, $20 for the 3rd, and $24 for the 4th and 5th.

It was offered in amendment by Mr. Beddome and by Mr. Houston that the fee for both schools be fixed at $7 to the end of the present year, and that the rate be reconsidered for the coming year, non-residents to pay $9. This motion to be without prejudice to the full consideration of the question of both terms and fees for the future.

After a good deal of discussion Mr. St. John withdrew his motion and the amendment carried. The secretary was instructed to notify all holders of scholarships that they are permitted to attend any school in the city.

SWANSEA—NEAR-THE-HUMBER.

The New Postoffice And the New P. M. in the Western Suburb.

The latest postoffice hereabouts is Swansea, at the Humber on the Lake Shore-road. Mr. James Worthington, president of the Ontario Bolt works, is the titular postmaster with headquarters in the store owned by the company. The name given to the postoffice is in honor of the great iron town of that name in Wales, and goes to indicate that a thriving iron industry will yet spring up at the mouth of the Humber, a very respectable nucleus of which already exists in the Ontario Bolt works and the Ontario Rolling Mill Co. Other iron shops are soon expected. The new postoffice was opened yesterday. The P. M. thinks more of his new honor than he does of other things that are much more valuable. After the postoffice will come municipal organization and then annexation to Toronto. Windermere will cease to mark the stopping place there on the time-table hereafter and Swansea takes its place.

Fencing—Wrought Iron, cheap, handsom and durable. Frederic Nicholls, 63 to 6 Front-street west.

Unconscious for Three Years.

Three years ago Mr. Frank Quinn, one of Toronto's oldest residents, was seized with a paralytic stroke at his residence, 14 Irving-ave. Two weeks after the attack he lapsed into insensibility and remained in that condition until yesterday morning, when he died at the age of 77. During all the time between the attack and his death he had to be fed with a spoon. The case is one of the most peculiar in medical ethics.

Mrs. Leys, wife of the late David Leys, died at Davisville yesterday, in her 86th year. The deceased lady's husband was one of the crew of Her Majesty's ship Erebus, of Sir John Franklin expedition fame.

The Cops Will Decide That Tie.

On Saturday afternoon at Queen's Park Policemen Dodds and Childs will toss the caber to decide the tie they made at the annual athletic games. Policemen McRae Ross, Macdonald, Patterson and others will also take part. There will in addition be an outside contest between Dodds and a man named Fitz. Unless the latter is an amateur Dick Dodds says he will enter into no competition with him.

MONTAGUE AND CAPULET.

THE MEDIÆVAL FEUD RIVALLED IN HALDIMAND.

Cayuga Again the Scene of a Judicial Battle—The Proceedings to Unseat Mr. Colter Commenced Before Judge Falconbridge.

CAYUGA, Sept. 3.—Once again have the factions of Montague and Colter assembled in judicial battle array, and bid fair, by the stubborn hostility displayed on this and previous occasions, to form a date in the political history of Canada rivaling the mediæval feud which existed between the Montagues and Capulets. During the ebb and flow in the tide of battle, twice has the doughty doctor been elected and unseated; his opponent at the final innings played securing sufficient runs, by fair means or foul, to enable him to represent Haldimand at the last session of parliament. This anomalous state of affairs seems to indicate that this coy constituency is either partial to the one whose favors are most liberally distributed, or else in the distracting condition of the maiden who exclaimed: "How happy could I be with either, were t'other dear charmer away!" However that may be, the Conservative party in Haldimand is determined to sift the whole business to the bottom, and for that purpose the present proceedings are instituted. This modest little country town is all agog with excitement, the champions of Dr. Montague being out in strong force to watch the course of events.

Court opened at 10 a.m. sharp, with His Honour Judge Falconbridge on the bench; registrar for the judge, H. J. Wickham. The legal talent consists of Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., assisted by C. G. Snider, counsel for the appellant; while A. B. Aylesworth, and A. W. Goodman upheld the cause of C. W. Colter, respondent.

The first witness called was Wm. Parker, ex-secretary of the Reform association and at present registrar of the county of Haldimand, who was examined by Dalton McCarthy, Q.C., and questioned regarding the usual method of procedure at the association in selecting candidates and conducting elections, and particulars as to the different meetings held for the purpose of promoting the interest of the party. He testified that Mr. Colter had been connected with the organization since 1879 or 1880, and was always very active in connection with its workings. He spoke of the duties of the treasurer and of the disposition of the fund so lected. Witness was also secretary of the Walpole Reform association and asked regarding the destruction of the minutes of the meetings at which he officiated as secretary, he said the reason was because preceding officials had "disguised the proceedings of previous meetings," and he was determined to follow the same laudable course by destroying those under his control—some forty pages

Didn't Take The Globe.

Witness did not now take The Globe, counsel facetiously remarking that quite a number of Reformers were at present travelling the same road. He gave evidence regarding visits made by him to meetings at different subdivisions throughout the county previous to last election in the interest of the association—all a "labor of love," no compensation being received therefor, witness modestly disclaiming that he had earned the registrarship of the county by such action.

In relation to charge 53, which was to the effect that the male witnesses following had received the sum of $100 to absent themselve from the polling both on election day, Counsel McCarthy called for Sol Hurst, Mrs. Hurst and John Hurst, sr. Mrs. Solomon Hurst was the first witness. She lived in Selkirk, in the township of Walpole, her husband keeping hotel there. The counsel asked the lady in regard to the sum of $100 said to have mysteriously come into the possession of her husband during the last election, but she disclaimed any knowledge of the same. Her husband, father-in-law and son found it convenient to visit Buffalo on the day of the election. She knew of no stranger tapping on the window and saying, "Don't fail to get the parcel I left in your cutter;" but admitted that there was one left in the drive house. She displayed a state of blissful ignorance in connection with the boodle.

He Raised $10.

Charges No. 69 and 5 were then taken up. These charges were to the effect that John Rowe, Chas. Hansberger and others offered Charles Sevenpiper $10 or its equivalent as an inducement for refraining from voting against Mr. Colter. Charles Sevenpiper was then called and testified that before the election he was told to call upon John Rowe, a merchant at Dunville. He called as desired and was offered $10 to vote for Colter, and he agreed to accept it at that time. Afterwards Sevenpiper changed his mind and informed Rowe that he would not accept the offer, whereupon Rowe offered him $10 if he would keep away from the polling place. Sevenpiper said he also declined this offer.

Some further evidence was taken relative to Mr. R. Honsberger endeavoring to induce witness to vote for Colter and to write to a brother of his in the United States to remain away on election day. Mr. Aylesworth then subjected the witness to a very severe cross-examination, but his evidence was not shaken. A large number of witnesses will be called upon to testify re this charge.

The court adjourned at 6 o'clock this evening and will resume at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

He Stole His Old Mother's Savings.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Fourteen-year-old James Thatcher, of No. 234 East Fifty-ninth-street broke open his widowed mother's trunk Friday and stole $365, the amount of her savings for six years. Then he went off with two young companions, H. Whittock and Thomas Milligan, to "have a good time." After buying new suits of clothes and revolvers with some of the money, they went down the Bowtry to see some of its sights. Thatcher was found by the police in a low resort near Hester-street, deserted by his companions and with but five dollars in his pockets. He was held yesterday at the Yorkville Court.

Funeral of Father Rousselot.

MONTREAL, Sept. 3.—The funeral rites of the late Father Rousselot at the Church of Notre Dame this morning were attended by at least 8000 people. Rev. Father Deguire, the deceased's successor as parish priest in St. Jam s' Church, officiated at the requiem and Rev. Messrs. Pelletier and Guyot acted as deacons and subdeacons. Grand Vicaire Marechal presided over the 150 priests attending in the sanctuary.

Floods in Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, Sept. 3.—Heavy rains have fallen throughout the country. Floods in the States of Hidalgo and Vera Cruz are causing severe damage. Articles of food are becoming scarce and rising in price. At Tampicoo and in the surrounding country the floods are serious. Many families in the river are reported to be flooded out and huddled together on hillocks or high ground.

ADIEU TO THE SCIENTISTS.

Last night saw the final proceedings of the A. A. A. S. in Toronto. A general session of the council was held at 10 a. m., at which these officers were elected:

Warder, Washington; Mechanical Science and Engineering, James E. Denton, Hoboken; Geology and Geography, John C. Branner, Little Rock, Ark.; Biology, C. S. General Secretary—H. Carrington Bolton, New York.

Secretary of the Council—James Loudon, Toronto.

SECRETARIES OF THE SECTIONS—Mathematics and Astronomy, Wooster W. Beman, Ann Arbor; Physics W. De Conte Stephens, Brooklyn; Chemistry, W. A. Auditors, Henry Wheatland, Salem, Mass, Thomas Meehan, Philadelphia.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting at Indianapolis, beginning on the third Wednesday in August, 1889. After the transaction of general business the meeting of sections was resumed. These extended far into the afternoon. An exceedingly interesting paper on "Manual Training" was read by Prof. J. R. Dodge in which he fully demonstrated the superiority of manual training schools over those which did not admit this feature into their curriculum. Chairman Prof. Charles M. Hill of Washington, delivered a stirring address at the close of the proceedings of the economic science section, in which he took occasion to refer to the criticisms which had been launched forth on his opening address. The address was full of generous enthusiasm for the meeting and of visiting members, and successfully cleared away any misinterpretation of the speaker's former utterances. He wished to see a large turnout of Toronto members at Indianapolis in 1890 and at Washington the year following.

At Government House.

For about three hours, commencing at 3 p.m., the garden party in honor of the scientific visitors lasted on the beautiful sloping lawns of Government House. The reception was given by the City Council, and Mayor Clarke and Mrs. Clarke were at the head of affairs, being ably assisted by Chairman Dodds and the members of his reception committee. Mayor Clarke and Mrs. Clarke occupied a position at the foot of the steps leading to the level mead on the Front-street side and received the guests, of whom there were several hundreds. The Grenadiers Band and Anderson's Band by turns discoursed tuneful music, while refreshments were served in an ample marquee. The attendance of ladies were large. The spacious grounds were delightfully cool during the afternoon.

Hon. Oliver Mowat, fresh from England, was a conspicuous figure. For over an hour he stood near the marquee and received the congratulations of his friends on his safe return. Hon. John Macdonald, just home from Alaska also renewed old acquaintances. The Bishop of Toronto, Goldwin Smith and Col. Otter were distinguished looking personages as they tripped across the green to refreshments. Many of the officers of the garrison were present in their uniforms.

Among those present were Ald. Hewitt and wife, Ald. Boake, E. A. MacDonald, Peter MacDonald, E. Verral, George E. Verral, Morse, Swait, Shaw, St. Leger, Ald. Frankland and wife, Tait, Hon. Ross, Sheriff Mowat William Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Robertson of Eglinton, J. L. Hughes, Abner Grant, Rev. Manly Benson, Prof. Galbraith, Thomas Alison, Capt. J. E. Hughes, Kiddermaster, Esq., Capt. Manly, L. B. Smith, M. L.A., Mr. Read, Q.C., E. P. Pearson, Mr. & Mrs. J. L. Brimer, J. Lugsdin, Col. Dawson, Major Mason, Miss Beasy, Prof. Loudon, J. Bain, jr., Capt. McMaster, G. W. Badgerow, Frank Lee, Mr. & Mrs. S. Wheeler, A. Cunningham, Michael Basso, Dr. Horley Smith, Rev. E. H. Dewart, F. Thompson, Commissioner Proctor and wife, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Dodds and the Misses Dodds, Mr. Ritchie, wife and daughters, J. S. Finch, James Bell, Q.C., S. F. McKinnon, Rev. D J. Macdonell, John Cornell, A. H. Fahey, P. S. Close, Capt. Brooks, Mrs. Kavanagh, Rev. Dr. Wilder, Samuel May, etc.

A Farewell Session.

A session was held in Association Hall in the evening which took the nature of a farewell meeting. Prof. J. C. Mendenhall presided. With him on the platform were the members of the executive council. The proceedings opened with a brief statement of statistics compiled by Permanent Secretary F. W. Putnam. There were 424 members registered, of which 74 come from Canada; 201 members have been elected and 71 fellows; papers have been read and 48 others were prepared but not brought forward. Prof. Putnam announced to the evident satisfaction of the audience, the fact that they placed in the Toronto public library a full set of the publication of the association and that they will continue to make donations of future volumes. The secretary also stated that a fund amounting to $4700 was invested for the purposes of research to be the A. A. A. S. He had last evening received a cheque for $500 from a lady member towards this fund. Prof. F. W. Clarke of Washington then moved a lengthy vote of thanks to all the parties in Toronto and elsewhere who had done so much to make the meeting a success and an enjoyable affair besides. The resolution was carried unanimously.

Sir Daniel Wilson, Hon. G. W. Ross, Prof. Goldwin Smith and Prof. Charles Carpmael responded in behalf of the University of Toronto, the educational system, the Mayor and corporation and the Canadian Institute respectively.

A DIPLOMATIC RECLUSE.

China's New U.S. Minister Will Bring His Wife, but She Will Be Cloistered.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—The successor to the present Chinese Minister has been appointed, but the cablegram announcing the date of his departure for America has not yet been received at the Legation. The new Minister will be accompanied by his wife and family, which will be the first instance wherein a woman of high caste has been permitted to accompany her husband outside the Celestial Kingdom. The strict surveillance which is there exercised over wives will be followed in this case, for immediately upon the arrival of the new Minister with his family they will drive in a closed carriage to the Legation, where Madame will be at once installed in the suite of apartments assigned for her occupancy. With one exception, when the members of the new Legation will be formally presented to the mistress of the household a few days after her arrival, she will not at any time see visitors, or be seen by company. The Minister will take his wife to dine occasionally, when her health demands such exercise; but, instead of permitting her to take part in any social duties, the Legation will be conducted in all respects as a bachelor establishment.

Something Good.—Adams' Tutti Frutti.

Adjourned Church to Convene Court.

DECATUR, Tex., Sept. 3.—Eph. Huffman was tried in the District Court Saturday for horse theft. The court-room is used on Sunday as a place of worship. Sunday morning during the services the jury returned a verdict. The prisoner was brought in and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, after which the services were resumed.

MAD NEWSPAPERS.

Ambitious City Journals Object to Toronto Having a Summer Carnival.

HAMILTON, Sept. 3.—The three daily papers here are fairly wild over the proposal to have a summer carnival in Toronto in 1890. The Spectator froths at the mouth. Here is a specimen of its billingsgate: "At the best, Toronto is the pauper of the province—the city that milks the Ontario cow. Its population is largely made up of the felons, lunatics, paupers, prostitutes and politicians which other communities thrust out from them. Its business instinct is to beg—to get something for nothing. Its sense of competition is to employ underhanded means to destroy rivals. Toronto is like an insolent beggar grown fat who throws alones at his benefactor."

The Times takes its E. C. to task for such language but itself denominates the scheme as a theft of Hamilton's property.

The Herald says: "We would advise our Toronto friends to go it alow. If they institute such a carnival as they are talking about it will no doubt prove successful, but its success will be at the expense of their Industrial Exhibition. In holding two big attractions within six weeks of each other, Toronto seems anxious to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. Moreover, the Industrial Exhibition is now more of a carnival than a fare. A glance at the program for this year shows one that the attractions of the old-time fair are minor matters as compared with the other attractions, such as the storming of cities, the competition of bands, gymnasts, balloonists, lady fencers, bicycle races and fakes, many and varied, brought from Gotham and the West. Can the Toronto people hope to get up a carnival that will have better attractions than are advertised for their exhibition?"

Nannie Scruggs, the unfortunate woman who has been confined in the county jail for months past, was brought before Judge Sinclair this morning and finally committed as a lunatic. Honora Lawlor, aged 55, was also committed as a lunatic.

Some excitement was created this morning in the neighborhood of King and John-streets by a fox terrier affected with rabies. The animal was given plenty of sea room by people doing business in that locality. It was shot.

INDIGNANT VICTORIANS.

A Big Meeting Over the Behring Sea Seizures—Resolutions Adopted.

VICTORIA, B. C., Sept. 3.—An enthusiastic and largely attended public meeting was held here Saturday night to consider and take action on the recent seizure by the United States revenue cutter Rush of British-Canadian vessels in Behring Sea. Premier Robson occupied a seat on the speakers platform, and with him were Messrs. Baker and Prior, M.P.s, Mr. Ward, M.L.A., the President of the Board of Trade and many prominent business men in this and neighboring cities. Mayor Grant presided, and introduced Mr. Baker, M.P., who made a lengthy speech. Mr. Prior and other speakers of prominent also addressed the meeting.

The general opinion was that war should not be necessary to settle a question of this character, but that there were things a great deal worse than war. One of these was the sacrifice of national honor. The following resolution was passed by the meeting and ordered to be sent to Ottawa and England:

"Resolved, That we the citizens of Victoria protest against the usurpation of jurisdiction by the Government of the United States over the waters of Behring Sea, outside of the universally acknowledged three-mile limit, and express our indignation at the repeated outrages that the persons and property of our fellow-citizens, lawfully exercising their rights on the high seas in that part of the globe, are subjected to by orders of the Government of the United States."

They Both Carry Life Passes.

"I will bet you a farthing," said a member of the Board of Trade yesterday, "that Col. Gzowski and Frank Shanley, when they report to the council on the Esplanade question, will suggest nothing that will interfere with the present status of the Grand Trunk on the front. That being the case I do not see how they can favor a viaduct. I do not say for a moment that their report will be influenced by this fact—but it is a fact nevertheless—that both these gentlemen hold life passes on the Grand Trunk Railway, for themselves and families in the shape of medals suspended from their watch chains. I would like to have one of these chain ornaments myself."

Dyeing and Cleaning.

WHY THEY WERE SHUT OUT

PROTESTANT CONTRACTORS AND SEPARATE SCHOOL WORK.

The Board has one of its Lively Meetings—The Cabilliites and the Church Parties Have Some Warm Words—But the Report Went Through.

The proceedings of the Separate School Board last night were distinguished with the usual mal accord. From the very start the Church party was in the ascendant. The Cabilliites made a gallant fight but had to succumb to sheer weight of numbers. One trustee appeared to be the worse of liquor, judging by his incoherent utterances.

A letter was read from J. J. Foy, Q.C., solicitor of the board, in reference to the liability of the city for damage to St. Patrick's school by rioters on March 11. His opinion was that the city was not liable unless it could be established that the police had been notified of a probable attack and had neglected to take ordinary precaution. The city, however, was morally bound "not to refuse to pay losses arising from acts which the city police are expected to prevent. Probably an appeal to the council to reconsider the matter apart from legal liability might result in their acknowledging your moral when they deny your legal right. Moreover the payment of the claim would conduce to the peace of the city and probably prevent the repetition of such acts."

Dr. McMahon believed that there were enough men of liberality in the Toronto City Council to recognize the moral claim of the Board. On his motion the Board resolved that the bill for the damage done by the mob be sent to the city with a request for payment.

There was no opposition to the report of the school management committee. It recommended Miss Katie Dunn as teacher in St. Cecilia school at $275 a year; Miss Jennie Dowdall as teacher in the kindergarten class in St. Paul's school at $350; and that the third book class girls, St. Paul's school, be transferred to the new class rooms, and that a kindergarten class be formed in the room thus vacated.

The Tenders Committee on Sites and Buildings reported that in consequence of some of the contractors for the school on Macdonald-square having made a mistake in their tenders it was advisable to reconsider the same, and recommended that the following be accepted as revised:

Andrew Sage, Brick and Stone Work	$4751
M. Moran, painting, &c.	418
Toronto Roofing Co., Slating	480

Trustee E. J. Riley charged that because certain tenderers were Protestants they had been overlooked in awarding the contracts. Trustee Smith supported this contention. He knew for a fact that one tenderer, although $41 lower than the one recommended, had been overlooked, and he understood that that gentleman was a Protestant. The report was then adopted, on the principle it was decided on, that if the tenders were open to all no creed should be known.

Father O'Reilly: "This discussion is drifting into a wrong channel. The word 'Protestant' should never be used in this Board. The Protestants are our brethren, and I number some of my firmest friends among them."

Trustee Cahill denounced the members as "uncapable." Trustees M. O'Connor, R. Fraser and several others demanded an apology, but the member for St. George's would take nothing back. After half-an-hour of this business the report was adopted.

Trustee Smith moved a resolution that the tenders be re-advertised for. The suggestion met with favor, but as the work was held to be pressing the motion was defeated.

The tenders of Charles Rogers, Sons & Co. for "Toronto Favorite" desk at $2.65 each, the Bennett Furnishing Co. for "Improved Marvel" at $3.25 each, and the Canada Office and School Furnishing Co. for "Acme" desks at $3.90 each were accepted, after another squabble which as usual simply resulted in waste of time. All the reports were adopted.
