Prohibition Rally at Palace Rink—Mother of Deserted Child Sent to Prison—A. L. Stares is Again in Custody—Rain Spoils Binbrook Fair Events—Hamilton Notes.

Hamilton, Sept. 22.—(Special.)—Preparatory to the 8th annual convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's, which opens to-morrow, services were held in Christ Church Cathedral this evening by Rev. Mr. DuVernet, Toronto Junction. There was also a meeting of the Reception Committee and members were appointed to meet all the trains to-morrow. It is expected that several hundred delegates will arrive to-morrow.

There was a prohibition rally at the Palace Rink this evening. An address was delivered by Rev. E. S. Rowe of Toronto. It is proposed to hold meetings on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Nancy and Her Baby.

Mrs. Sarah Edwards, a Toronto matron, and Miss Nancy Torrey, a damsel of the same city, will reside for the next month at Castle Ogilvie, and be fattened on jail diet. Police Magistrate Jelfs gave them each 30 days at the Police Court to-day for abandoning a baby belonging to Miss Nancy on Tuesday night last. Nancy said that Mrs. Edwards, who is her sister, induced her to come from Toronto to get rid of the child. After abandoning it one of them took enough interest in it to call around to see how it was faring, and this fact saved them from central prison for six months.

In Custody Again.

A. L. Stares, the furniture dealer, and his clerk, W. B. Cook, found themselves once more in custody to-day. The adjourned charges against them, conspiracy to defraud creditors, and theft, were called at the Police Court this morning, and as no witnesses were called for the defence, they were sent up for trial. S. F. Washington, for the Furniture Dealers Association, asked that bail be increased, but the magistrate declined to accept bail at all and application was made to the County Judge, who fixed the amount at $1200 and two $600 sureties for each. Bail was not forthcoming and the defendants were held.

Entry Money Refunded.

The big rain storm to-day knocked out the ring events at the Benbrook Fair at Hall's Corners. The entry money was refunded to the disappointed horse-owners.

Minor Matters.

Mike Driscoll, a frequent offender, is to be tried on Monday next on a charge of stealing a horse belonging to A. L. Reeves.

The month's figures of the civic departments show the Board of Works to be nearly at the end of its string; waterworks construction appropriation all gone, charitable account overdrawn, miscellaneous account and weigh scale accounts overdrawn.

Percy Peel, son of Bandmaster Peel, and a member of Wesley Orchestra, was presented with a purse before leaving for St. Catharines to play in his father's band.

Binbrook agriculturists had an abundant rain for their fall fair to-day.

Grimsby Council has started proceedings against the H., G. & B. to restrain it from leaving cars standing on the street in the village.

KINGSTON NOTES.

Death of Captain Cook in South Africa—"System of Boodling Prevails in the Klondike."

Kingston, Ont., Sept. 22.—Lord Aberdeen has advised friends here that Capt. Cooke had been shot while taking provisions from Indee to Uganda, possibly by a treacherous native. The details are not given. Capt. Cooke, aged 30, was born at Moncton, N.B. He graduated at the Royal Military College here, and joined the Canadian Permanent Force. He was attached to A Battery Royal Canadian Artillery, when in November last he was given a position in the British Civil Service staff in South Africa.

Boodling in the Klondike.

Rev. Davis Gardiner, B.Sc., is home from Dawson City, and he says a system of boodling prevails in the Klondike. There is no service of the Government there which is not corrupt. The underlings were bribable.

Patrick McGurk was assaulted while intoxicated on Barrack-street this afternoon by a man who grabbed him by the throat, threw him down and grabbed bills to the amount of $4 from his hand.

Lieut.-Col. Foster, Quarter-Master-General, arrived in the city to-day and inspected the forts, stores, Royal Military College and armory works. He will make a though inspection of all the local military stores before leaving the city.

PITTSBURG FORGER DISAPPEARS

After Supplying Himself With Funds at Another's Expense.

Windsor, Sept. 22.—A young man giving his name as R. O. Webb of Pittsburg, Pa., came to Windsor yesterday afternoon for a few hours, and when he left he had $50 of Holton & Co.'s bank in his possession. The latter called at the bank and presented a cheque on a Pittsburg bank for $50. H. W. Holton, the acting cashier, asked the man to secure some person in the city to endorse it. He returned in a short time with the name of Arch. McNee, editor of The Record, written on the back. The money was paid over and the stranger disappeared.

Soon after it was found that Mr. McNee's endorsement was a forgery. The police were notified, but could not locate Webb.

Mrs. Moth: Just go in that parlor there. Asiatic Carpet and Cloth Powder, that new insect and disease germ destroyer, is finishing us all. I understand Mrs. Jones is going to use it in all the rooms in the house.

Mr. Roach: Well, I guess I'll get out.

NORTH WATERLOO PROTEST

Justices MacMahon and Rose Heard Evidence at Berlin.

There Was Treating After Dr. Lackner's Meeting Was Over, but it Was Hard to Find Out Who Paid For the Drinks—Some Men Said They Received Money for Their Votes.

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 22.—Before Justices MacMahon and Rose, the North Waterloo protest trial opened at 1 p.m. The first charge, as read by Mr. Johnston, was corrupt practices by treating at Mr. Lackner's meeting in Bridgeport.

Edmund Shanty, the first witness examined by Mr. Johnston, had some drinks at Grasser's Hotel, Bridgeport, after the meeting was over, which was held in the hall of the hotel. To Mr. Aylesworth he would not swear who ordered the drinks, but thinks Steiss and Janzen ordered them; did not see Dr. Lackner order any drinks; am a Reformer.

J. H. Zinkann was also present at meeting in question, and after the adjournment all went to the hotel; saw two treats going on; Steiss called the drinks for the crowd; left Grasser's for Albert's Hotel, where we had one drink; Dr. Lackner was there; saw no money paid in for drinks that night; no one was trying to influence my vote; am a Reformer.

Roland Weaver was present at Dr. Lackner's meeting; repaired to the bar with the rest after the meeting was over; had a drink with my partner, which I paid for; heard the drinks called for the crowd, but don't know who ordered them; left for my father-in-law's, Albert's Hotel, where I tend bar; several drinks were served, but don't remember who ordered or paid for them; don't remember seeing Dr. Lackner.

Grasser Remembered the Meeting.

John Grasser, hotel-keeper, remembered the evening of the meeting in his hall; J. M. Scully treated the crowd. Before Scully left to attend another meeting at Bloomingdale, he told me to treat the boys well and he would pay me, which he did when he came back. Scully never had left orders of this kind before at my hotel.

This closed the evidence on charge No. 1, and Mr. Johnston arose and submitted parallel cases to prove corrupt practices.

Mr. Aylesworth contended that the drinking which took place after the meeting was not a treating of the meeting, but a treating of some of those who were at it, and on the part of Mr. Scully. It looked to him as if it were merely in a patronizing, friendly way that Mr. Johnston presented depositions showing agency on the part of Scully, Steiss and Janzen towards Dr. Lackner.

Mr. Aylesworth submitted that in order to save time and expense he would accept the ruling of the court in this case, which he thought was a fair average of what was to follow in succeeding charges, as determining whether there was sufficient grounds for voiding the election. Mr. Johnston was inclined to accept this suggestion, with the proviso that the Winterbourne meeting be taken up, which he considered still stronger. Their Lordships agreed.

The agreement between counsel and court should read "As pertaining to this class of charges and not as to others."

Winterbourne Meeting.

The first witness was John Mackie. Was present at the meeting of Dr. Lackner at Winterbourne; Lackner and Eden spoke; Mr. Scully was also present; after the meeting the crowd went to Brohman's Hotel; Eden paid for drinks; Dr. Lackner drank with the crowd.

Other evidence of a similar nature respecting the treating after this meeting was adduced, when the charges of bribery were taken up. One witness swore that he got $2 from John Eden, through the treasurer, William Ross, at the latter's office. Other witnesses swore to having received different sums of money during the election.

It is not likely the case will be ended for another day.

A Rosey Suggestion.

There are distinct styles in gentlemen's hats that are most becoming, at such events as the Hunt Club meeting and entral there utility extends past the event and they're quite proper for either business or best. J. & J. Lugsdin are showing a complete range of silk and felts in the new season's blocks—par excellence in quality and priced the lowest possible.

Fits One for Work.

A trial of a good article establishes its goodness. With a poor article the reverse is the case. The Canadian Pharmaceutical Journal has this to say of Abbey's Effervescent Salt: "We have tried Abbey's Effervescent Salt, and find it an excellent compound. It was most favorably commented upon by the medical profession at the recent meeting in Montreal of the British Medical Association. The company was not afraid of submitting it to the criticism of medical men. All were invited to sample and pass judgment on it. This was invariably favorable, some expressing the opinion that it was superior in points to any other on the market. A morning draught of this stimulating preparation will send a man to his daily occupation invigorated and ready for any task."

The daily use of Abbey's Effervescent Salt will keep you in good health. Price, 60 cents a large bottle. Trial size 25 cents. Any druggist will supply your wants.

RE CATTLE MARKET SITES

The Property Committee Will Inspect Them on Tuesday Next.

Report of the Committee's Session Yesterday—The Crematories and The Market Sites—Ald. Hanlan Wants Something Down—City Engineer's Report Given Out—Other Civic Matters.

The Property Committee met yesterday afternoon and at the instigation of Ald. Bowman and Hanlan, as a result of their visit to the crematories, the first matter discussed was the closing of the east end crematory. The committee felt offended that they had not been consulted in reference to this subject and thought that it was their place to recommend any such action to the Council.

Ald. McMurrich wanted to know why it had not been brought before the Property Committee, and Ald. Dunn thought that his committee had been shabbily treated.

Ald. Leslie, to Ald. Dunn: "Well you voted for its closing. You can't kick."

Ald. Dunn: "I did not."

Ald. Leslie: "Brother Bowman did then."

Ald. Bowman, (placing a ten dollar note upon the table): "I'll bet you ten to one I did not." There the matter dropped.

Ald. McMurrich's motion to recommend the Council to reconsider the matter carried unanimously.

Ald. McMurrich moved that as the Council had requested this committee to report upon the cattle market sites, they do so report.

Ald. Bowman, "What is the use? Every sub-committee of the Council has reported upon this question and nothing has been settled. All have reported in favor of the Leek property, situated near Dundas-street bridges, and that is the only suitable place. If this matter is not soon settled something will happen that will be detrimental to the city's interest."

Ald. Lamb: "I think they should be moved outside the city limits, near the Humber."

Ald. Bowman: "If they are not moved soon to a suitable location they will be moved far enough away from Toronto."

Ald. Leslie: "Yes, Guelph will get them."

Ald. Denison: "What does a brick man know about cattle markets?"

Ald. Bowman: "Ald. Denison, I take objection to the personal remarks you always resort to, and am surprised that they come from one who claims to be a Denison."

Ald. McMurrich: "I think it peculiar that this Leek property, which is assessed for $9000, should be held at sale for $50,000. I recommend that the whole question be reconsidered."

Ald. Leslie thought that the committee should inspect the various sites before asking a report.

Ald. Denison: "There's no need to change."

Ald. Lamb thought that a rough plan of each prospective site should be made and considered.

Ald. Denison: "The market will do as it is and time can be taken for an investigation."

Ald. Bowman: "If the Council is not careful in this matter the city will be sidetracked as usual, and the cattle markets will go to Guelph or some other place."

It was decided that the committee should meet and inspect the sites upon Tuesday morning next.

Ald. McMurrich asked that the commissioner report how ashes and how much real garbage was sent to the east end crematory. The Commissioner will report.

Ald. Hanlan: "I want to call this committee's attention to a few facts. I have asked for several things and they have been done all right, but I asked that the door of the Queen-street firehall be raised, so that the firemen would not knock their heads off going out. The request passed this committee, passed the Council, but nothing has been done. Now I want to know whether the Commissioners run this city or the Mayor and aldermen."

Mr. Coatsworth said that he had done many things for Ald. Hanlan, and had delayed this for want of money and on the advice of the chief.

The Commissioner was instructed to attend to the matter.

The meeting then adjourned.

Engineer Reports.

The Board of Works will meet to-day to consider the fortnightly report of the City Engineer, which was placed in their hands yesterday. In it he states that the cost of constructing a permanent track allowance pavement on Bloor, from Lansdowne-avenue to Dundas-street, would be about $8,653. The cost of protecting the level crossing over the northern division of the Grand Trunk would be annually $800, which he thinks should not be borne by the city. He reports that the filling of the old filtering basin on the Island could be finished at a cost of about $1000. Mr. C. S. Sheilds having promised not to ask any damages.

He recommends that $1000 be taken from the roadways appropriation and used in the repair of Queen's Park-avenue. He also recommends the following pavements:

Asphalt in James-street, from Queen to Albert, on the initiative.

Macadam in Isabella, from Yonge to Jarvis, on the initiative.

Macadam in Wellesley, from Parliament to Sumach, on the initiative.

Cedar block in Maple Grove-avenue, from Brock-avenue to O'Hara-avenue, on the initiative.

The paving of the Queen-street track allowance from Bathurst to Niagara-streets is recommended to be done with scoria at a cost of $7000; from Niagara to Gladstone with brick, $9800; the track allowance in King from Sherbourne to River, with brick at a cost of $7800.

He estimates the cost of a bicycle path on Adelaide and Defoe-streets, between Spadina and Shaw-streets at $1550, but thinks nothing should be done until next year, when an asphalt pavement upon King-street west may answer the purpose.

City Hall Notes.

The Summerhill reservoir has been drained and is being cleaned, owing to its unsanitary condition. Shoals of dead fish and other refuse have found their way into it.

Property owners on Huron-street, north of Bloor-street, are petitioning for a new pavement.

Ald. J. J. Graham voiced the complaints of many northenders against the dumping of the old rags from the Harris fire upon some vacant lots just south of Bloor-street, claiming that it was injurious to the public health. The nuisance will be stopped.

The special committee on local improvements met yesterday afternoon.

The City Engineer is negotiating with the electric light, telegraph and telephone companies for the removal of all the unsightly poles which are now in front of the new City Hall. He proposes to put up iron poles at the city's expense, and lease the use of these to the companies. But a difficulty has been met in arranging for the joint use, and the matter is not yet settled.

Contractor Lee has promised the Mayor, who visited the new city buildings yesterday, that he will have the main stair finished by Oct 10. The Mayor says he will hold him to it.

The Mayor Will Examine.

Since the investigation of the water front by Ald. Hanlan and Bowman, the Mayor has become interested in its insanitary condition and yesterday morning he promised to accompany Ald. Hanlan and the Council upon a tour of investigation in a steam launch. The sewer mouths and the shoals in the harbor will be inspected.

The Property Committee is in receipt of a letter from the Chief of Police, asking that the officials at the cattle market be directed to see that in future the cattle be not allowed to leave the market except when in charge of an adequate number of competent drovers who could have permits to enter the market for this purpose.

"It would then be possible," he says, "for the constable on duty there to see that the cattle did not leave the market without proper escort."

The Italians in the "Ward" are circulating a petition asking the Council to put a prohibitory license upon the street organs. They do not want to be classed with this set, and claim that organmen are strangers in the city.

The Mayor, Ald. Frame, Richardson and Hanlan inspected the roadways east of the Don yesterday. They are in a very bad condition.

Complaints have come from the residents of Elm-avenue, that the new pavement is not up to specifications, and in consequence the City Engineer, Ald. J. J. Graham, Saunders and Bowman will make a thorough examination of its make up, this morning.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

The Moth and The Flame.

Everybody who is anybody will be at the Grand Opera House next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday matinee, when the Kelcey-Shannon Company make their first appearance in this city in Clyde Fitch's great society comedy, "The Moth and the Flame." There are probably no two actors in this country who better represent the best qualities of genteel and refined comedy than Mr. Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effie Shannon. Their association for years with the very best stock companies of the country, in which legitimate comedy was the distinguishing features of the repertoire, has given them a prestige in this respect second to none. The new play which they will present on this important occasion is a society drama by Clyde Fitch, entitled "The Moth and the Flame." Its story deals with the life of the smart set of New York's "400." It shows its vanities, frivolities, its gaiety and humor, as well as the heart sorrows of its serious side. A pretty, wealthy society girl, who, in her fondness for gaiety, still assumes an interest in the severe duties of life, falls in love with a rich, handsome, young fellow, whose past is shady, not to say black, with a number of discreditable love affairs. The more others accuse him the more she loves him. She consents to be his wife, with the hope of exercising a reformatory influence over him. The sudden death of her father, who, unknown to her, takes his life because he fears the disclosure of misappropriation of funds entrusted to him, gives her affianced an opportunity of showing his generosity, unknown to her, of shielding the family from the effects of the loss of the fortune. He subsequently leads her to the altar, but the wedding ceremony is abruptly interrupted by a young woman who charges him with her ruin. This brief outline of the story is developed to a natural conclusion by methods whose ingenuity retains the interest of the audience to the very end. The play is in three acts, the first of which takes place in the home of a wealthy New Yorker during the progress of an amateur vaudeville performance, and a fancy children's dress costume party, such as has been so greatly in vogue in New York society during the past few years. The second act occurs at a wedding in the chapel of a fashionable New York church. The last act takes place in the morning room of the heroine's home the day after the wedding. In the company engaged by Manager Kingston are: Joseph E. Whiting, Bruce McRae, Edward See, David Torrence, Charles Steadman, C. L. Robinson, Marion Abbott, Grace Reals, Isabel Waldron, Winona Shannon, Leila Ellis, Ethel Kingston, Mary Hanson, Mamie Dunn, Mrs. Ferren, Emma Janvier, Edwin James, George Eichels, George Flannery.

A Big Card at "Popular Prices."

Probably one of the most important engagements ever played in this city at "popular prices" will be that of Marie Wainwright, who will be the attraction at the Toronto Opera House all of next week, appearing on this occasion in "Shall We Forgive Her?" an English play, that was presented first in London at the Adelphi Theatre, and later in all the large cities of England, Ireland and Scotland, where it is still being played with great success. Manager Jacob Litt secured the American rights, and put it on at the 14th-street Theatre, New York. It made an emphatic hit, and was warmly commended for its simple, straightforward story and the skill with which it was told. Its freedom from clap trap and the absence of sensational effects, which have done so much to lower the tone of good melodramas, won for it serious consideration and praise from the critics. Perhaps the most interesting part of this announcement to regular theatre-goers will be the engagement of Marie Wainwright to play the leading role. Miss Wainwright has hitherto devoted her talents to the interpretation of what are called the legitimate roles. For several years she has been a star in the high-class comedy and a favorite with the public from one end of the country to the other. Her ability is unquestioned and her versatility is established wherever her name is known. That she will lend strength to the cast of "Shall We Forgive Her?" as well as dignity to the performance, there is not the slightest doubt. There will be no increase in prices during Miss Wainwright's engagement, and "popular matinees" will be given as usual on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

Last Chances to See "Humanity."

Only three more opportunities remain to see "Humanity," the current attraction at the Toronto Opera House. A popular matinee will be given to-morrow at the usual low prices.

Chicago and Return.

On Sept. 29, 30 and October 1 all ticket agents in Canada will sell round-trip tickets to Chicago and other Western points at the lowest rates ever made to the west. Richardson, District Passenger Agent, northeast corner King and Yonge-streets, Toronto, and St. Thomas, Ont. ed

Presbyterian Missions.

The Foreign Mission Board of the Presbyterian Church met Wednesday. A letter was read from Rev. Dr. Buchanan, who is stationed among the Bheel of the Central India hills, in which the missionary states that he has been granted 16 acres of land by the government. Rev. F. H. Russell of Dhar wrote, emphasizing the great need of a hall and stating that this should be secured at once, as the legislature was about to forbid the selling of land to Christians. Another letter presented was that of Rev. Dr. Campbell, also in India. Dr. Campbell tells of his labors there. The board decided to extend its work amongst the natives in the western part of India, the selection of two new fields being under consideration. Dr. Warden reported that the finances were at present in a satisfactory condition, as they were a year ago.

If a man will try to substitute some won't he try to fool you on his other other water for Mt. Clemens Sprudel, goods?

Cost of Parliament Buildings.

In answer to a correspondent, it is of interest to know that the present Parliament Buildings of Ontario cost $1,250,000. The initial grant was for $500,000, in 1880. In 1885, $150,000 additional was given, and in 1887 $300,000 was voted. Finally a grant of $200,000 additional was made. The site of the old building is valued at $500,000.

A Pleasing Episode.

Few Canadians have crossed the Atlantic oftener than our respected citizen, ex-Ald. G. F. Frankland, and few are those who have the native capability to relieve the monotony of a sea voyage by such a fund of wit and humor as he possesses. Mr. Frankland, who has just begun to move among us after his last trip to England, was the recipient of a handsome present at the hands of a number of passengers of the steamship Gallia.
