LONDON WENT WILD

When the Twenty-Six Khaki-Clad Warriors From Africa Returned Home.

London, Ont., Nov. 5.—London gave a wildly enthusiastic reception to the 26 war-stained members of B Company who returned recently to Canada on the Idaho from the veldt of South Africa, and who reached London at 7.20 to-night.

All day long merchants and citizens alike were busy decorating in honor of the returning heroes, and when the boys marched down the main streets the sight was magnificent. At the Grand Trunk station nearly 12,000 people cheered wildly as the train pulled in, and the khaki-clad boys were forcibly seized by their different groups of friends and carried about high on shoulders, while sky rockets and red lights blazed all around them, and cheer after cheer went up as the strains of "Home, Sweet Home," from the different bands filled the air. The scene was one never to be forgotten.

BELLEVILLE BOYS HOME.

The People Turned Out With the Military and Gave Them a Great Welcome.

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 5.—Six of the seven men of the Belleville contingent who have returned from Africa, reached home at 1.40 to-day. They had a grand reception from their comrades of the 15th Regiment, and No. 1 Co. of the 49th, who met them at the depot, and escorted them thru gaily decorated streets to the Drill Shed, where, in the presence of a vast crowd, addresses were delivered by the Mayor and prominent citizens.

A boy named Watson, who was at the station when the soldiers arrived from Africa, was run over and had his arm broken.

Royal Reception to Redway.

The return of Pte. E. H. Redway, formerly a sergeant in the Q.O.R., was celebrated in royal fashion.

When the C.P.R. car arrived at North Toronto, his friends did not wait for him to make his exit in the usual fashion, but plunged thru the window, and escorted him out on their shoulders. In this way he was taken thru the procession, and was not left by his friends till he was deposited safely in the presence of his father and mother, at Marlboro Hall, where he resides.

Thru the kindness of Miss Coleman, the hostess, the house was thrown open in the evening for the friends and relatives of Pte. Redway, who tendered him a magnificent reception. The house was gaily decorated and illuminated for the occasion. After a substantial dinner had been done full justice, a deputation from A company Q.O.R., to which he formerly belonged, arrived and took possession of the premises. A hot time followed.

Among those present in addition to his father, W. E. Redway, and members of the family, were Col. Sergt. Wingate, Q. O.R., Mrs. and Miss Wingate, Capt. Fahey of the 66th veterans, H. O. Byers, Miss Denison, the Klinger family and the house party.

Speeches were made by Pte. Redway, who spoke very much to the point, and was loudly cheered, and by his father, who responded appropriately. Then followed "God Save the Queen" and other national songs. J. H. Pierce, Mus. Bac., presided very acceptably at the piano.

Probably the most effective incident of the evening was the singing of Master Norman Fraser, the boy soprano, who, during a hush in the proceedings, sang in his splendid clear voice, "Home, Sweet Home." The fitness of the song to the occasion was felt by everyone, and was much appreciated and enjoyed. The singer is destined to make a name for himself among the youthful aspirants for honors in this particular class.

Celebration at Night.

The scene on the streets at night was as animated as one could wish. It seemed as if all the crowds had stopped down town for dinner, and joined in the mighty throng which paraded the streets. Varied forms of pranks were indulged in, but the most laughable, to everyone except the one who happened to be underneath, was the letting off of cannon firecrackers. The small boy was not the only one to enjoy this dangerous sport, many of the older ones taking a keen delight in the perpetration of such jokes. People who have tender nerves had no business down town last night, for the unceasing noise of exploding powder was awful. People didn't seem to mind it, tho, they walked on indifferent.

A group of soldiers had corralled a cannon somewhere, and about 11.30 placed it in front of the City Hall, fully twenty blank cartridges were exploded. They came with such force that buildings in the immediate vicinity shook almost like an earthquake after each shot.

Bonfires were abundant, and there was joy in all the localities where the soldiers lived.

It was nearly midnight when the crowds began perceptibly to disperse.

Clock for Mr. and Mrs. Geddes.

Ambulance Officer Langford R. Geddes returned to duty yesterday after his annual vacation. While away the officer was married, and yesterday his comrades at the Court-street station took advantage of the occasion to present him with a beautiful clock. The presentation was made by Sergeant Seymour, whose son, Pte. Chas. Seymour, returned from South Africa yesterday. The recipient thanked his comrades for their token of esteem in a brief speech.

Dr. Montague Will Win.

Port Colborne, Ont. Nov. 5.—The Hon. Dr. Montague had a very successful meeting this evening at Reeb's schoolhouse in Wainfleet township, and has no doubt of being elected. After the meeting there he held one here in the interest of Mr. McCleary, which was largely attended.

OTTAWA IS KEEPING IT UP

Another Demonstration Was Given Last Night in Honor of the Returned Soldiers.

SEVERAL THOUSANDS PRESENT

Speeches by Lord Minto and General O'Grady Haly—Each Man Gets a Gold Locket.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Another demonstration was given the returning soldiers at Lansdowne Park in the Aberdeen pavilion to-night. Several thousands were present, and the affair passed off very successfully. Sheriff Sweetland, who was chairman of the Citizens' Committee, presided. Lord Minto delivered an address. He spoke of the sacrifices which the men had to make in throwing up their employment and going to the front. He hoped that employers would think of this and be animated by the same patriotism which actuated the men.

Major-General O'Grady-Haly also delivered an address.

Gold Locket to Each Man.

The Citizens' Committee presented the following address, which was accompanied with a gold locket to each of the men:

"When, but a year ago, the call to arms was sounded, and Canadians were given the opportunity they had so eagerly awaited, of standing shoulder to shoulder with their comrades from the Mother Land, and from every quarter of the mighty realm which owns the gentle sway of our beloved Sovereign, you were amongst the first to volunteer in defence of the flag and the honor of our Queen and Empire. In the months which have elapsed since your departure you have doubtless often recalled the memorable day when your fellow-citizens bade you God-speed, proudly confident that you would worthily uphold the honor of the Land of the Maple and the traditions of those earlier Canadian soldiers who won undying renown at Chateauguay, at Lundy's Lane, at Queenston Heights and on many another historic field.

"How splendidly you have justified the trust reposed in you is known, not only to your countrymen, not only to your fellow-subjects throughout the Empire, but to the whole world. Placed side by side with the flower of the army, tested by the highest standards, called upon to face unexampled trials of discipline, courage and endurance in one of the hardest and most enhausting campaigns in history, you have proved yourselves equal to the best.

"Alike by the cheerful and uncomplaining manner in which you bore the drudgery of the earlier days of your experience, by the intelligence and gallantry so conspicuous in every arm of the service, and especially by the heroic charge which marked the close of those terrible days at Paardeburg on determined the result of the most decisive battle of the war, you have won for yourselves honor and praise, which found their highest and most glorious expression in the words of the great soldier under whom it was your privilege to serve—that he was proud to have you under his command.

"The value of your services, however, does not rest alone upon your achievements in the field; linked with them is the force of your example. What you and your comrades from the other colonies have done shines forth before the world in triumphant proof of the practical unity of the Empire.

"No longer alone in splendid ossolation, Britain stands to-day the centre of a powerful brotherhood, not in any attitude of defiance or truculence, but ready to face the world in defence of her own, and of the lives and rights of her citizens, no matter where they may be threatened.

"But that this result could be accomplished without great sacrifice and loss, not only on your part, but throughout the whole of that Imperial force of which you formed so worthy a portion, and that you should return to us with undiminished ranks was, alas, not to be expected. Following your progress with anxious solicitude, as the news was flashed to us from day to day across the intervening oceans, we have mourned with you each fallen comrade, and to you, their brothers-in-arms, as to their stricken relatives, our hearts have gone out in warm and respectful sympathy. Your losses—and they are our losses—have been grevious; but the sacrifice is not in vain. Each one of these who have fallen has by his death added another link to that chain of love and brotherhood which binds our Empire into one mighty whole.

"Soldiers, as on that day, a year ago, we bade you farewell, entrusting to you the honor of our country, our country's capital, and our country's flag, so to-day, we bid you welcome home.

"Signed on behalf of the citizens of Ottawa,

Capt. S. Maynard Rogers made an excellent reply.

EVE OF BATTLE IN WINNIPEG.

Government Money is Flowing Like Water and Sifton Voters Are Arriving From All Over.

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—(Special)—There is much suppressed excitement and bustle preparatory to the contest on Wednesday, which at present looks like a rout for Siftonism all along the line, the money is flowing like water on behalf of the Government candidates.

Brandon is an especially exciting point, voters arriving to-day for Sifton from every quarter of Canada. Organizer Hastings of the Conservatives says victory for his party seems assured.

The City Council and Board of Trade have decided to tender a reception to Lord Strathcona.

Notes of the Parade.

St. Michael's College students celebrated last evening by setting off $100 worth of fireworks.

In connection with the return of the contingent, the ex-members of the 48th Highlanders intend banqueting some of their former comrades-in-arms, and wish all ex-members to meet at the Aberdeen on Thursday, at 8 p.m.

Mr. Barney Cairns of No. 1 company, 12th Regiment, while on parade lost his Northwest medal. The finder will kindly return it to 10 West King-street.

Perhaps the funniest feature of the procession was the open cage containing Kruger, which the School of Science men carried with them. It was drawn on a large truck by four horses, each ridden by a student in policeman's uniform. Twelve policemen guarded the cage, which was placarded "Kruger's Finish," and otherwise decorated in an appropriate manner. The occupant of the car bore his humiliation and disgrace with considerable cheerfulness and levity, and the crowd certainly did their part in jeering and hooting him.

Lew Elliott, one of the contingent from Owen Sound, was carried by an Indian volunteer and civilian from that town over a mile down Yonge-street at midnight, followed by a large crowd.

The procession looked exceedingly beautiful to those on the top of the hill near Bloor street as it came down the hollow.

The hotels did a rushing business after the procession, selling quenchers to throats cracked by cheering.

It took the procession 45 minutes, not counting the carriages, to pass a given point.

Most of the Public School Board walked.

The committee evidently did a wise thing in extending the line of march, and complaints were few.

Last night's celebration was a fitting climax to a glorious day.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND WILL GO FOR THE CONSERVATIVES

Nothing But a Miracle Can Save the Liberals From Defeat in the Whole Five Seats—Davies' Friends Against Him.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 5.—(Special.)—A commercial traveler who has just returned from a trip thru Prince Edward Island says that nothing but a miracle can save the Liberals from defeat in the whole of the five seats. At a meeting of the Tupper Club, which was attended by between five and six hundred people, a prominent man, who had been a Liberal all his life, in the course of his speech declared that he could pick out at least 175 voters in attendance at the meeting, in addition to himself, who voted for Sir Louis Davies at the last election, but who now intended to vote for Stewart and the Liberal-Conservatives. These 175 men, he said, were disgusted with broken pledges, incompetence and corruption.

THE AURORA BANK ROBBERS TIRED OF JAIL IN CHICAGO

Rutledge, Rice and Jones Were Concerned in a Plan to Break Jail To-Day While the American Elections Were in Progress.

A Chicago despatch, received here early this morning, states that a jail delivery, which had been planned by persons on the Cook County Jail, was discovered yesterday by Jailer Whitman. Among the prisoners were Frank Lee Rice, Thomas Jones and Frank Rutledge, the alleged Aurora bank burglars, who are awaiting extradition. Two 38-calibre pistols and ammunition were found in one of the cells occupied by the supposed local bank robbers. The three men were known to have been in a plot to escape, probably to-day, as some of the guards would be away on election business. It is believed others were in the conspiracy.

The revolvers were smuggled into the cells concealed in luncheons, one in a pan of baked beans and the other in a package of grapes.

Aurora Bank Robbery.

Rutledge, Rice and Jones were arrested at Chicago on June 1 last, at the instance of the local police, who charge them with holding up and robbing Constable Ward of his revolver, and also with attempting to enter the Standard Bank in Parkdale here. The county police have also preferred a charge of robbing Ross' private bank and the postoffice at Aurora against the men. After the latter robberies, Detective Harrison traced the movements of the alleged thieves from Toronto to Chicago, where they were arrested.

Fought Extradition.

Extradition proceedings, taken before Commissioner Foote in the Windy City, were successful, but the men carried an appeal to the Supreme Court, by depositing a bond of $3000. The alleged bank robbers were in jail awaiting the sitting of the court next month when the jail delivery was planned.

All three men have served terms for burglary. Frank Rutledge, alias Warnell, alias Dwyer, was sentenced on June 15, 1898, to five years in Kingston Penitentiary for burglary committed in Brampton. After the sentence had been imposed, he nearly murdered one of the prison turnkeys, while trying to escape, and was given two years additional.

They Met as Convicts.

From Canada he went to Colorado, and on Nov. 11, 1895, was given six years in Canon City Penitentiary, for horse stealing. It was at this latter prison that Rutledge met the other two men, Jones and Rice, who were serving long terms for safe blowing. The three prisoners were discharged from custody about the same time last spring, and, it is said, at once set to work to make a tour of the banks in Canada.

ATTACK ON MR. HENDERSON

Slanderous and Libellous Circular Sent Among the Electors of Halton County.

EVERY MAN WILL BE PROSECUTED

Who Had Anything to Do With This Outrageous Trick of Liberal Heelers.

Acton, Ont., Nov. 6, 1 32 a.m.

Editor World, Toronto: A slanderous circular, professing to be copied from the Toronto Star of last evening, but which is not contained in the copies of the Star circulated here, has been printed and distributed in the county. The circular professes to print copies of letters from G. B. Smith of Toronto to S. F. McKinnon, and from John Reid, Dudley Finnamore, Josepr Finnamore, D. A. Van Fleet, Job Hersey, C. J. Coverdale, G. H. McArthur and J. Worthington, to S. F. McKinnon. The allegations in the letters are false and malicious, and the letters appear to be circulated for election purposes. I will not tolerate such methods on the eve of an election, and I will, after the election is over, cause the prosecution for criminal libel of every man connected with it. I wired this telegram to the Globe, the Mail and Empire, and The World, because it is the only available means of information to the electors of the county.

INGERSOLL MAN KILLED.

Hugh McConville Was Struck by a Grand Trunk Train While Going Home.

Ingersoll, Ont., Nov. 5.—A fatal accident occurred on the G.T.R. track near the second crossing west of the station late last night, the victim being Hugh McConville, commonly known as "Yorkie." The unfortunate fellow was going home between 12 and 1 o'clock, and it is thought he was struck by a freight train going east about 12.40 o'clock. The remains were found on the track by a brakesman on another freight, which came down from London about 2 o'clock, and was taking the siding for the 2.15 a.m. express. The deceased's watch stopped at 12.40, and this is taken as an indication that it was the train mentioned above that struck him. The deceased's body when picked up was frightfully mangled. Both his arms and legs were separated from the body and his head was badly bruised. Deceased was about 35 years of age, and leaves a wife and two small children.

Severe Measures Approved.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—The press despatches from China regarding the various anti-foreign appointments have been corroborated by official advices from the Minister to China. Dr. Mumm Von Schwartzenstein. The severe punishments adjudged against Pao Ting Fu officials responsible for the massacres, are unanimously approved in Germany.

THREE WARRANTS SWORN TO

For the Arrest of Three Men in the City of Toronto, Who Are Charged With Perjury

AND FRAUDULENT REGISTRATION

Conservative Association Discovers a Plan for Wholesale Plugging in the Coming Election.

The checking of the registration list in the city of Toronto has brought out the fact that a very large number of fraudulent registrations have taken place. A large number of persons whose names are known have registered at addresses at which they never resided, or at which they have not resided the thirty days required by law, or where, in fact, there is no residence at all, the alleged place of residence sometimes being a vacant lot. Three informations for perjury were laid last night and warrants issued thereon by Police Magistrate Denison are now in the hands of the police. A dozen more informations are in course of preparation, and warrants on these and in a number of other cases which are known will, it is said, be asked for to-day. The names of the parties against whom warrants have issued so far are Edwin Harold Rudge, William Williams and Walter F. Trivett.

These warrants have been issued at the instance of the Ontario Conservative Association, and Mr. E. E. A. Du Vernet has been retained to prosecute.

It is stated, further, that a conspiracy for wholesale plugging or illegal voting is on foot, and that full particulars thereof and of the persons who propose to perpetrate the same are known, and further developments on this line may be expected to-day.
