The spirit of Christmas was abroad in the city yesterday to an extent perhaps, never before witnessed. Those who are blessed with a good proportion of this world's goods busied themselves looking after the less fortunate. The inmates of the various institutions were not forgotten in the general gladness. The orphan asylums, the school for the deaf, the reformatory, the alms house, the General Public Hospital and the jail were each the scene of festivity and all forgot their cares for one day at least.

REPORTS AND DISASTERS.

London, Dec. 19.—Bark Milton, from Cienfuegos Sept. 18 for Mobile, has been posted at Lloyds as missing.

Baltimore, Dec. 19—Steamer Kastalia, for Glasgow, before reported aground two miles above Sparrows Point, was floated at 10.15 a. m. by tugs Brittania and Colombia.

Quarantine, Dec. 19—Steamers Seminole, from Turks Island, brought ten seamen of Norwegian bark Sverre, before reported wrecked at Turks Island.

Tug Astral, from Port Arthur for New York, which passed Cape Lookout 20th, reports by wireless that schr D L Barnum, from Charleston for New York, was abandoned at sea 17th; crew picked up by the Astral and will be brought to New York. The tug reports strong NE gales.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Dec 20—Steamer Roosevelt, from Arctic via Sydney (C B), for New York, stopped here today for water and a pilot; will remain here until the gale moderates.

Schr. Jessie Lena, from New York for St. Andrews (N B), which arrived here with loss of foresail, being unable to repair or procure another here, will proceed without foresail.

Highland Light, Mass., Dec. 24—The two-masted fishing schooner Fortuna, which was wrecked outside Portland harbor a few weeks ago and has since been drifting about a dangerous derelict, was cast up on the sands a mile north of the High Head life saving station early Monday. A fresh northeast wind was rolling in a heavy sea when the vessel struck and she will probably go to pieces.

The Fortuna was owned in Jonesport (Me), and struck Alden's rock outside Portland harbor while bound from Jonesport to Gloucester with fish. Capt. Tower and his crew reached the harbor after a hard row in a dory. The vessel was of 25 tons and was built at Deer Isle (Me) in 1890. She is the second vessel of that name to find her grave in practically the same place, the old Fortuna after which she was named being wrecked near High Head about fifteen years ago.

The schooner William Marshall, which went ashore here ten days ago, is breaking up under the battering of the heavy surf that has been running during the night and her cargo of lumber is scattered along the beach.

PRESENTATIONS

Season of Good Will Marked by Gifts.

The happy custom of giving and receiving remembrances at the joyous Christmas season was marked here Monday and yesterday by many presentations.

James Robinson, superintendent of the wire department in the James Pender Company's nail works, received a very fine gold headed cane Saturday afternoon from the men of his department. The presentation was made by John Burtt on behalf of the men. Mr. Robinson was not expecting anything of the kind and his surprise and pleasure were marked. He warmly thanked the men for their remembrance.

Sunday afternoon the members of the Bible class of Charlotte street Baptist church presented to their teacher, D. C. Clark, a handsome pair of gold cuff links as a token of the estimation in which they hold him.

The boarders at Mrs. J. F. Bowes', King street, marked the day by presenting to the proprietress a substantial purse of gold. A tempting Christmas dinner, told of in a neat menu card, awaited the patrons of the house and was done full justice. The presentation of the purse was made by Edward McLaughlin, and Mrs. Bowes replied, expressing her thanks for the remembrance and the satisfaction and good wishes expressed.

On Christmas eve the members of the choir of St. James' church, Broad street, waited on their rector, Rev. J. Edward Hand, and presented to him a handsome communion set valued at $40. The utensils are of silver, gold lined. The nurses and patients in the Home for Incurables and Old Ladies' Home contributed largely to the presentation. Rev. Mr. Hand attends these institutions regularly.

The members of St. Andrew's church improved the glad season by presenting to their pastor, Rev. David Lang, a fur lined coat, cap and gloves. They also presented to Mrs. McRobbie, one of the alto singers in the choir, a handsome silver candelabra.

The bell boys of the Dufferin Hotel presented to Victor Scott, the chief clerk, a fine pair of shoes and a neck scarf. They also made Miss Ryan, the type writer, the recipient of a handsome manicure set.

The boarders in Carvill Hall, on Christmas eve, presented to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bond, the popular proprietor, and his wife a handsome china cabinet. Mr. Bond in turn did not forget his staff.

The proprietors of the New Victoria and Grand Union Hotels remembered their help substantially.

Alexander Corbet, manager of the Union Clothing Co., Charlotte street, was a very much surprised man when on Christmas eve his employes invited him into a private room where, after some speeches and toasts, A. B. Lyons, advertising manager, in behalf of the staff presented to him a sterling silver set of military brushes and comb in a handsome leather case. Mr. Corbet acknowledged the gift in very suitable terms. The Union Clothing Co. presented to each employe valuable tokens of their good will.

The employes of the Maritime Lithographing Company, Wentworth street, on Christmas eve, presented to the secretary-treasurer of the company, Miss M. J. Clarke, a handsome fountain pen, gold mounted and engraved.

Arthur McHugh, messenger in the customs house, received a purse of money from the officials.

Turkeys were given the employes of the St. John Fuel Company by the firm.

Gerald R. McCafferty, clerk in the I. C. R. roundhouse, received on Saturday from the employes in that department of the government railway service a very substantial remembrance in the form of a purse of $20.

The St. Vincent de Paul Society acknowledges receipt of $20 from the Children of Mary Society of the Cathedral parish; also $25 from Major J. Macgregor Grant

The employes of the Royal hotel Monday presented to their employers, Raymond & Doherty, a very handsome marble clock, handsomely finished in brass work. It will adorn the ladies' parlor. All the employes of the hotel received cash presents from the proprietors.

Thomas Reynolds, head clerk in the Royal hotel, received a gold headed umbrella from the bell boys today. H. Gorman made the presentation.

Each employe of the St. John Street Railway received a turkey from the company. Two hundred turkeys were necessary.

The sixty or more employes of McLean, Holt & Co. were remembered by the proprietor, Jas. L. McAvity. The married men received turkeys, and every one was remembered in a suitable manner.

The staff of Bowman & Coie received cash presents.

Campbell Bros. gave each employe a turkey.

Those who work in the York and Cornwall cotton mills received turkeys.

Baird & Peters remembered their employes with turkeys and cash presents.

The employes of the City Fuel Company received turkeys.

Wm. McQuade, proprietor of the Grand Union hotel, gave his staff cash presents.

The Globe employes were all given turkeys.

E. A. Goodwin remembered his employes by giving them cash presents. Mr. Goodwin received a gold-headed umbrella from the staff.

Charles Damery, of the Park hotel, gave suitable gifts to all of his employes.

Neil A. Seely, merchant tailor, Germain street, received a smoker's set Monday evening from his employes. He in return presented a gift to each of his staff.

Some 200 turkeys were distributed among The Telegraph and the Times employes by the Telegraph and the Times companies.

The Canadian Drug Co. employes each received a turkey from the company.

The members of St. Jude's church, Carleton, presented to their rector, Rev. Geo. F. Scovil, as a Christmas gift, a very handsome antique prie-dieu. It is of the Elizabethan age style and is very valuable.

Members of Centenary Methodist church showed their appreciation of their pastor Rev. Dr. Sprague, by presenting to him a purse containing $100 in gold. The presentation was made through J. L. Thorne, recording steward.

Albert Notes.

PETITION AGAINST I. C. R. OFFICIAL

Rothesay Residents Make Complaint About Policeman Needham.

A lively war of words was heard in the I. C. R. depot last evening, I. C. R. Policeman George Needham, Dr. McVey, of Rothesay, and other prominent surburban residents being the participants. As a result a petition signed by about twenty passengers, asking for the removal of Policeman Needham, and stating that at different times the signers had been insulted by the official, was handed to Terminal Superintendent Ross.

Dr. McVey said that the trouble arose over a cigar. A Rothesay resident was standing in the depot with an unlighted cigar in his hand, he said, and Policeman Needham went to him and told him smoking was not allowed. The man replied that he was not smoking and, Dr. McVey says, Needham sharply replied, using improper language. The doctor says he remonstrated with the official, and the latter replied, using bad language.

Dr. McVey said that if no action were taken in the matter he would bring it before the party convention.

CALAIS MAN FOUND DEAD ON MOHANNES ICE

John F. Fitzsimmons, Supposed to Have Died from Exposure After Missing His Companions.

St. Stephen, Dec. 25—A man named John F. Fitzsimmons belonging to Calais, was found dead on the ice at Mohannes, on Monday. Deceased and two companions left a house on Sunday night with the intention of crossing the river to Woodland, on the American side of the river. The companions, who are said to have been drinking, missed Fitzsimmons, but concluding he would turn up they proceeded on their way. It is presumed that the deceased fell and possibly becoming unconscious died from exposure.

After viewing the body and ascertaining as much as possible, the coroner concluded it was unnecessary to hold an inquest. The body was removed this morning to the home of the deceased in Calais.

PRESENTATION BY HOSPITAL COMMISSION

Chain and Locket to Thos. Irwin in Remembrance of Help Given.

A pleasant event which marked the holiday yesterday was the presentation at the General Public Hospital of a gold chain and locket by the hospital commissioners to Thomas Irwin, as a mark of gratitude for and appreciation of excellent work done by him gratuitously for the commission. Last summer and fall there had been trouble in heating the building, and inspection of the apparatus was made by several who said that the boilers would have to be replaced before there could be satisfaction.

Mr. Irwin, who was in charge of the St. John Railway Company's plant in the power house, was asked to make an inspection and the result was that, at a small expense, it was found that the hospital heating apparatus could be retained. Some work that he advised was done, and a member of the commission said yesterday that the building was now heated excellently, and that what Mr. Irwin had done had saved the commission a great deal of money which the installation of a new plant would have involved, and also a large saving in fuel Yesterday Mr. Irwin was called to the hospital without any
