TRANSLATION OF ANACREON.

ODE II.

TO WOMAN.

Impartial Nature doth dispense
To all fit weapons of defence,
The furious Bull her care supplies
With horns to guard his ample size;
Hoofs hath she lent to the proud Steed;
And blessed the timid Hare with speed;
With ravenous mouth she hath endowed
The shaggy Monarch of the Wood;
To Fish—the briny flood to swim;
To Fowl—the plant air to skim;
To Man—Creation's noble Lord—
She warlike valour doth accord;
To Woman;—but, alas! combined
In gentle Woman none of these we find.
What then to her hath Nature given?
Beauty—the fairest gift of Heaven:
Beauty—her buckler and her shield;
Beauty, to which all things must yield;
For, robed in beauty's bright attire,
Fair woman conquers more than either sword or fire.

TIME.

Time speeds away—away—away:
Another hour—another day—
Another month—another year—
Drop from us like the leaflets sere;
Drop like the life-blood from our hearts;
The rose-bloom from the cheek departs,
The tresses from the temples fall,
The eyes grow dim and strange to all.

Time speeds away—away—away:
Like torrent in a stormy day,
He undermines the stately tower,
Uproots the tree, and snaps the flower:
And sweeps from our distracted breast
The friends that loved—the friends that bless'd:
And leaves us weeping on the shore,
To which they can return no more.

Time speeds away—away—away:
No eagle through the skies of day,
No wind along the hills can flee
So swiftly or so smooth as he.
Like fiery steed, from stage to stage
He bears us on—from youth to age:
Then plunges in the fearful sea
Of fathomless Eternity.

TO FATHERS.

Why is it, that almost as a matter of course, we speak of mothers almost exclusively, in regard to the work of infant instruction? Certain it is, that to the mother belongs the earliest and therefore the most important part of Christian nature; but it does not all belong to her, and her precious labours are powerfully reinforced by the aid of the pious father.—There are families in which the children scarcely expect to hear a religious word from their father. The Sabbath evening is passed in the mother's apartment, where she helps them in their little lessons, joins them in their hymns, and suggests their youthful prayers; and when the other parent enters all is hushed.

Great responsibility rests on the father as to the religious training of his household. The father has a superior measure of authority, and sometimes a higher cultivation, and far more knowledge of the world. Over his sons, particularly, he exercises an influence which is formative and almost absolute. Blessed are those children towards whom this trust is faithfully discharged. Happy is that father who, on returning in the evening, gathers his little ones around his knee, enters into their little cares, and instils into their minds the sweet lessons of piety. While I pen these lines it would be ungrateful in me, if my soul did not rise in thanks for having enjoyed the care of such a father. Never can I forget the hours spent, with others of the little flock around him, listening to the stories of Scripture, and the first lines of Christian doctrine: a remembrance in which, blessed be God, both my beloved and honored parents blend in one delightful picture. Let Christian fathers snatch some moments every day for the performance of a duty, which will thus be embalmed amidst the most fragrant memories of their offspring.—American Messenger.

LIVE FOR SOMETHING.

Thousands of men breathe, move and live—pass off the stage of life, and are heard no more. Why? They did not partake of good in the world, and none were blessed by them; none could point to them as the means of their redemption; not a line they wrote, not a word they spoke, could be recalled and so they perished: their light went out in darkness, and they were not remembered more than insects of yesterday. Will you thus live and die, O man immortal? Live for something. Do good, and leave behind you a monument of virtue, that the storms of time can never destroy. Write your name by kindness, love and mercy on the hearts of thousands you come in contact with year by year, and you will never be forgotten. No, your name, your deeds, will be as legible on the hearts you leave behind, as the stars on the brow of evening. Good deeds will shine as brightly on the earth, as the stars in heaven.—Dr. Chalmers.

BATHING.

An article, very ably written, in the last number of the Medical and Surgical Journal, strongly argues against the too frequent use of the bath, and the writer is of opinion that a bath once a week is more healthful in its tendency than the application of water once or twice a day. He says that flannels worn next the skin are infinitely more beneficial to the health than all the daily baths which have become so fashionable. His arguments are sustained thus:—"The oil which is secreted by the sebaceous glands of the skin, serves the purpose of lubricating its surface. Now, if this secretion is constantly removed as fast as exuded, its destined object is thereby defeated. The excretory ducts of the perspiratory glands, and the glands themselves, require this unctuous matter of the skin to keep them in health and action. If very frequent bathing of the whole body is practised, it must be obvious that this matter cannot be long present to perform its office. As to the assimilation of functions of the skin and lungs, it will be apparent, that when the skin acts imperfectly, or ceases to act at all, the lungs have an extra amount of duty to perform; and it is generally in just such cases that engorgement takes place, constituting inflammation or pneumonia."

DEACON HUNT.

He was naturally a high tempered man, and used to beat his oxen over their heads, as all his neighbours did. It was observed that when he became a Christian, his cattle were remarkably docile. A friend inquired into the secret. "Why," said the deacon, "formerly, when oxen were a little contrary, I flew into a passion, and beat them unmercifully;—this made the matter worse. Now, when they do not behave well, I go behind the load, sit down, and sing Old Hundred. I don't know how it is, but the psalm tune has a surprising effect upon my oxen."

REPROOF OF PROFANENESS.

A late distinguished president of one of our western colleges was one day walking near the college with his slow and noiseless step, when a youth who had not observed his approach, while engaged in cutting wood began to swear profusely on his vexation. The doctor stepped up, and said, "Give me the axe;" and then quietly chopped the stick of wood up himself. Returning the axe to the young man, he said in his peculiar manner, "You see now the wood may be cut without swearing." The reproof was effectual, and led, we have reason to believe, to an entire abandonment of that impious habit.

SEA SICKNESS.—M. Currie, recently, in a paper read before the Paris Academy, has pointed out the cause of sea-sickness. He has shown that it depends upon the movements of the intestinal canal, which floats, as it were, in the abdomen. It descends with every movement of the vessel, and then, ascending, pushes up the stomach and the diaphragm. His theory, well explained, was well received, and Magendie and Keraudren gave their assent to it. But his remedy was thought more ingenious than practicable. It was to breathe in with every downward movement of the vessel, and expire the air with its ascent. What seemed more easy, and is known to be more effectual, is a horizontal position in the middle of the ship, and a tight bandage over the abdomen.

It is well known that the latter plan is very effectual to relieve sea sickness, but it is not a good plan to pursue, after the first sea-sick bout is over. Active exercise, and frequent action on deck, soon drives away sea-sickness, and without this course is pursued, those liable to sea-sickness need not expect to get over it at all, they are liable to have it during all rough weather.—Scientific American.

If we may believe the report of the British Whig, a most extraordinary scene took place in the Common Council of Kingston, on the evening of Monday, the 15th ultimo, which ended in one of the members, (Mr. Bartlife,) attempting to throw a heavy ink-stand at the Mayor; he was, however, prevented by his brother Councillors. How the affair ended the Whig saith not.—Quebec paper.

A SENSIBLE WOMAN.—If there is truth in the following paragraph, and we do not doubt it in the least, such a wife is a fortune to any man: "A gentleman in Boston bought two tickets for Jenny Lind's concert for ten dollars, and gave them to his wife. She, like a sensible woman, disposed of them to a neighbour, and with the proceeds paid the bill of the butcher and milkman, and had two dollars left to buy shoes for her children."

A FOOL OR A PHYSICIAN.—The writer who has used this expression Dr. Cheyne, and he probably altered it from the alliterative form, "a man is a fool or a physician at 40," which I have frequently heard in various parts of England. Dr. Cheyne's words are—"I think every man is a fool or a physician at 30 years of age (that is to say), by that time he ought to know his own constitution, and unless he is determined to live an intemperate and irregular life, I think he may by diet and regimen prevent or cure any chronic disease; but as to acute disorders, no one who is not well acquainted with med cine should trust to his own skill."—Notes and Queries.

In a notice to his subscribers last week, the editor of the 'Banffshire Reporter,' which is 'written in one country and printed in another,' says that 'during the period it has been in existence (eleven weeks) we have travelled little short of 600 miles between our editorial garret and the press, besides acting as our own clerk, reporter, and not unfrequently as our own postman, or distributor.' A Yankee editor could scarcely beat this.

DELINQUENT SUBSCRIBERS.—An American editor thus logically nudges his delinquent subscribers.—"We don't want money desperately bad, but our creditors do: and no doubt they owe you. If you pay us, we'll pay them, and they'll pay you."

A DOUBTFUL COMPLIMENT.—A well-known pianist recently played some of his most astonishing pieces before the Grand Seignior. At the conclusion of the performance, the Sultan, who had been observing him with great apparent admiration said to him:—"I have heard Thalberg"(a low bow of the article, and modest smile); "I have also heard Liszt" (a still lower bow and devout attention); "but not one of all that have played before me perspired as much as you do."

EPICURISM.—"May I help you to some beef?" said the master of the house to the late Mr. Brougham. "I never eat beef nor horse, nor anything of that sort," answered the astonished and indignant epicure.

A GOOD ANSWER.—"What shall I do," said a liquor seller to a temperance lecturer, "if I quit selling rum?" "Go into the the poor-house," said the lecturer, "and be supported there, and let the poor you have made paupers come out."

SOFT LIPS.—A lady of fashion inscribed on a pane of glass at an inn at Staines, "Dear Lord D——— has the softest lips of any man in England." Foote coming into the room soon after, wrote underneath—

"Then as like as two chips
Are his head and his lips."

CARLTON'S
RING-BONE CURE,

For the cure of Ring-Bone, Blood-Spavin Bone-Spavin, Windgalls and Splint—a certain remedy.

☞ This Ring-Bone Cure and the Founder Ointment are prepared from the recipe of a very celebrated English Farrier, and will cure in nearly nine cases out of one hundred any of the above complaints. They have been used by Farmers, Livery men, Stage Proprietors, and others, with the most marked and decided success.

FOR FEMALE AND MALE
DR. LARZETTE'S JUNO CORDIAL.

Or Procreative Elixir, prescribed as an effectual restorative in cases of Debility, Impotency, and all irregularities of nature. It is all that it professes to be, viz: Nature's Great Restorative, and remedy for those in the married state without offspring. It is a certain cure for Seminal Emissions, General Debility, Gleet, Weakness of the Genital Organs, Nervous Affections, &c. &c. &c. As a vigorating medicine it is unequalled. Also a certain remedy for Incipient Consumption, Indigestion, loss of Muscular Energy, Physical Lassitude, Female Weakness, Debility, &c. It is warranted to please the user in any of the above complaints, and is of priceless value to those without offspring.

☞ Caution.—This celebrated medicine cannot be genuine unless the fac similes of Judson & Co. (N. B. the only American Agents) is on the wrapper of each bottle.

☞ Sold by J. G. SHARP, Market Square; and FELLOWS & Co., King Street, St. John; J. COOK, Carleton; and MORTON & Co., Halifax, N. S.

RHEUMATISM.

Comstock's Nerve and Bone Liniment, and Indian Vegetable Elixir, is warranted to cure any case of Rheumatism, Gout, Contracted Chords and Muscles, or Stiff Joints, strengthen Weak Limbs, and enables those who are crippled to walk again. Use this article and be cured, or go without it and suffer, as you please.

DEAFNESS.

Dr. Larzette's ACOUSTIC OIL, for the cure of Deafness. Also, all those disagreeable noises, like the buzzing of insects, falling of water, whizzing of steam, which are symptoms of approaching deafness. Many persons who have been deaf for ten, fifteen or twenty years, and were subject to use ear trumpets, have, after using one or two bottles, thrown aside these trumpets, being made perfectly well. It has cured cases of ten, fifteen, and even thirty years standing of deafness.

HAY'S LINIMENT FOR THE PILES.

The worst attack of the Piles are effectually and permanently cured in a short time by the use of the genuine Hay's Liniment. Hundreds of our first citizens throughout the country have used this Liniment with complete success. It is warranted to cure the most aggravated case.

CAUTION.—Never buy it unless you find the name of Comstock & Co. upon the wrapper, proprietors of the genuine article, or you are cheated with a counterfeit.

EXPECTORANT PINK SYRUP.

HAVE YOU A COUGH?—Do not neglect it.—Thousands have met a premature death for the want of attention to a common cold. Rev. Dr. Bartholomew's Expectorant Pink Syrup will most positively give relief, and save you from that most awful disease, Pulmonary Consumption, which annually sweeps into the grave thousands of the young, the old, the lovely and the gay.

DR. SPOIN'S
SICK HEAD-ACHE REMEDY.

Why will you suffer with that distressing complaint, when a remedy is at hand that will not fail to cure you? This remedy will effectually destroy any attack of Head-ache, either nervous or bilious. It has cured cases of twenty years standing.

FOR THE HAIR.

If you wish a rich, luxuriant head of Hair, free from dandruff and scurf, do not fail to procure the genuine Balm of Columbia. In cases of baldness, it will more than exceed your expectations. Many who have lost their hair for twenty years, have had it restored to its original perfection by the use of this balm. Age, state, or condition, appears to be no obstacle whatever; it also causes the fluid to flow with which the delicate hair tubes is filled, by which means thousands (whose hair was gray as the Asiatic eagle) have had their hair restored to its natural colour by this invaluable remedy. In all cases of fever it will be found the most pleasant wash that can be used. A few applications only are necessary to keep the hair from falling out. It strengthens the roots; it never fails to impart a rich glossy appearance, and as a perfume for the toilet it is unequalled. It holds three times as much as other miscalled hair restoratives, and is more effectual.

☞ CAUTION.—Never buy it unless you find the name of Comstock & Co., proprietors, on the wrapper of each bottle, or you are cheated with a counterfeit article.

IN QUART BOTTLES,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, &c.

THE PROPRIETORS have spent much time in bringing this preparation of SARSAPARILLA to its present state of perfection; and the experience of fourteen years has furnished them the most ample opportunity to study, in their various forms, the diseases for which it is recommended, and to adapt it exactly to their relief and cure. Patients who wish a REALLY GOOD Medicine are invited to give it a trial, and satisfy themselves of its superiority, and the invaluable property it possesses of arresting and curing disease. The bottle has been enlarged to hold ONE QUART, and in its present improved form may safely claim to be the best and cheapest medicine of the age. Its progress to the fame it has attained may be traced by a long line of facts and cures, that stand as landmarks and beacons for the invalid, pointing the way to the haven of health, and what it has already done for the thousands who have used it, it is capable of doing for the millions still suffering and struggling with disease. It purifies, cleanses, and strengthens the fountain springs of life, and infuses new vigor throughout the whole animal frame.

The diseases for which this article is recommended are those to which it is known from personal experience to be adapted; and those apparently removed beyond the sphere of its action have yielded to its influence. The catalogue of complaints might be greatly extended to which the sarsaparilla is adapted, but experience proves its value, and each succeeding day is adding new trophies to its fame.

REMARKABLE CURE OF BRONCHITIS.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 17, 1848.

Messrs. SANDS:—Having suffered many years with a discase of my throat, affecting the larynx, during which time I was treated by the most distinguished physicians in Europe and the United States, without receiving any permanent benefit, but all the time my general health and strength declining, and the disease making fearful progress: caustic applications were used, and whatever else was thought most efficient for producing a cure; but I am confident the deplorable situation I was in, the larynx being accompanied with phthisis and great difficulty in breathing, would soon have terminated my life, had I not obtained relief through the medium of your invaluable Sarsaparilla. I must say, gentlemen, when I commenced using the Sarsaparilla I did not place much confidence in its virtues; and this will not surprise you, when you are informed I had tried more than fifty different remedies during the past four years, without any success; but after taking your Sarsaparilla a few weeks, I was obliged at last to yield to evidence. This marvellous specific has not only relieved, but cured me; and I therefore think it my duty, gentlemen, for the benefit of suffering humanity, to give you this attestation of my cure. Yours very truly,

D. PARENT.

REMARKABLE CURE IN CANADA

The following truly remarkable cure is corroborated by the most respectable authority, and cannot but have the effect of satisfying the most incredulous of the curative properties of this medicine.

South Bolton, (Canada East,) April 19, 1846.

Messrs. SANDS—Gentlemen: Exposed as we are to the attacks of disease, and so frequently disappointed in proposed remedies, we cannot look upon the efforts of successful practitioners with interest and gratitude. This is true respecting your valuable preparation of Sarsaparilla. I have been severely afflicted for 25 years with a disease about which doctors disagreed, and their prescriptions were still more diverse. I tried various remedies, but found no relief until I commenced using your excellent medicine, at which time I was wholly confined to my bed.—After using it a few months, I now am able to walk about, ride out, and enjoy a comfortable degree of health, which I attribute entirely to the use of SANDS' SARSAPARILLA. Please accept my assurance of gratitude and regard. JOHN M. NORRIS.

Being personally acquainted with the above statements, I hereby certify that the above are true.

REV. T. H. MERRIMAN.

SARSAPARILLA.—Concerning the value of Sarsaparilla as one of the most efficient remedies for purifying the blood, and eradicating obstinate diseases of the skin, as well as of the liver, we presume there is no difference of opinion either among professional men, or the public generally.—The only difficulty has been, that poor material has been used in the manufacture of the various extracts, and inferior apparatus, by which a great part of the virtue of the root is lost; or the public have been imposed upon by base compounds called Sarsaparilla, and thereby have lost confidence in all. These objections, as appears by the Certificates of gentlemen of high reputation, the Messrs. Sands have removed in their extract. Their apparatus, from its power and adaptation to the purpose, is calculated to extract all the medicinal properties of the root, without that evaporation which causes so much loss of strength, and the mode of putting it up is fitted to keep it in good order.—The letters and certificates of those who have used it would leave no doubt as to its efficacy in our own minds, were we not convinced of it from cases among our own friends, where its use has been attended with the most satisfactory results in obstinate cases of disease of long standing.—[Boston American.

CANCEROUS ULCER PERMANENTLY CURED.
LIVER COMPLAINT.

The following is an extract from a letter received from Rev. William Galusha:—

BERKSHIRE, Vt., Oct. 22, 1846.

Messrs. SANDS: I have been afflicted with a severe pain in my side, occasioned by a diseased liver, for the last twenty years, suffering at times what language cannot convey; but since taking your Sarsaparilla I have been greatly relieved, so much so that I have been able to attend to my business, and preach occasionally, for the last eighteen months. I wholly discarded all other medicine, and thoroughly tried the Sarsaparilla, which I can recommend in truth and sincerity to all those who are in any way afflicted with any species of scrofulous complaints. There have been some remarkable cures effected by its use in this vicinity. Mrs. I. Shaw, by the use of six bottles, was restored to better health than she had before enjoyed for ten years; and Mr. W. Stevens, who had been severely afflicted with erysipelas, was entirely cured by the use of a few bottles. Yours truly,

WM. GALUSHA.

Prepared and sold, wholesale and retail, by A. B. & D. SANDS, Druggists and Chemists, 100 Fulton-st., corner of William, New York. Sold also by Druggists generally throughout the United States and Canadas. Price $1 per Bottle; six Bottles for $5.—Sold by T. WALKER & SON, St. John, N. B. July 30, 1850.

"OF INTEREST TO ALL."
THE GREAT PAIN KILLER.

NO Medicine has been discovered that is so happily adapted to use internally as drops to be taken and yet perform such wonders when applied externally as a wash, or bath, by friction.

A YORK SHILLING (12 cents) is all you have to risk to try it; and as that sum can be no object to the proprietor, it is hoped that such a price can be no obstacle to any family, and will never prevent its trial.

The PRICE, from twelve to fifty cents, per bottle according to the size, will enable all to use it. If you doubt, begin with a 12 cent bottle and that will remove your doubts, and make you buy, use, and recommend it to your friends more than a hundred certificates would. Who will fail to try it then, and save life and suffering for a York Shilling.

CERTIFICATES to fill a volume might be published, showing the wonderful effects of 'Mrs. Brown's Pain Killer,' but they are too common, and used for articles of no merit; and the one shilling bottle will do more than a thousand unknown names to convince the user.

This Sarsaparilla is warranted positively as good as any other, (that can be made at one dollar) at just half the price of those to which advertised, and as strong, viz: 50 cents per bottle, or six bottles for $2 50. Remember to ask for Comstock's Sarsaparilla, and take no other.

Kelsey's Vermifuge, for Worms in Children, is the most extraordinary remedy ever used.

CURE OF A DESPERATE CASE OF ERYSI[illegible]

Copy of a Letter from Mr. Joseph Gildon, [illegible] Farmer, East Ivsal, near Spilsby, Linc. 8th April, 1846.

TO PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—I have the gratification to sub[illegible] you a most wonderful cure wrought by the use of your Ointment an[illegible] severe attack of Erysipelas in my [illegible] extended along my ancle, and [illegible] swelling and inflammation to [illegible] insomuch that I was unable to [illegible] use of crutches. I consulted a [illegible]sician, besides other Medical m[illegible]. At last I tried your Oint[illegible] when, strange to say, in less than two w[illegible] swelling and inflammation subsided to su[illegible] gree that I was enabled to pursue my [illegible]cation, to the utter surprise and amaze[illegible] those who were acquainted with my case. [illegible] I was cured so quickly. I and my fam[illegible] well known here, as my father holds his farm [illegible] the Rev. J. Spence, Rector of our Parish.

Amputation of Two Legs Prevente[illegible]

Extract of a Letter dated Roscommon, [illegible] 26th, 1847, from the highly respectable [illegible] proprietor of the Roscommon Journal.

To Professor HOLLOWAY.

SIR—Mr. Ryan, the well known propr[illegible] the Hotel next door to me, had two very b[illegible] one with eight ulcers on it, the other with [illegible] they were in such a fearful state that the [illegible] from them was very great. Some time sin[illegible] made a journey to Dublin for the purpose [illegible]sulting some of the most eminent phy[illegible] but returned home to his family with [illegible] two alternatives—to have both Legs a[illegible] die!—On his way home he met a [illegible] the Coach who recommended the u[illegible] way's Pills and Ointment, which he [illegible] to, and was perfectly cured by their [illegible]

Cure of a Desperate Scorbutic [illegible] long standing.

Extract of a Letter, dated Wolverha[illegible] of February, 1847, confirmed by Mr. [illegible] Stationer.

To PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY.

SIR,—Having been wonderfully restored [illegible] state of great suffering, illness and debility, by use of your Pills and Ointment, I think it r[illegible] the sake of others to make my case known to [illegible] For the last two years I was afflicted with a vio[illegible] Scorbutic Eruption, which completely cove[illegible] chest, and other parts of my body, causing [illegible] violent pain, that I can in truth say, that for mo[illegible] I was not able to get sleep for more than a very sh[illegible] time together. I applied here to all the princip[illegible] Medical men, as also to those in Birmingham, without getting the least relief; at last I wa[illegible] commenced by Mr. Thomas Simpson, Stationer Market-place, to try your Pills and Ointment, which I did, and I am happy to say, that I may consider myself as thoroughly cured, I can now sleep all the night through, and the pain in my back and limbs have entirely left me.

Bad Digestion, with extreme Weakness and Debility—an extraordinary Cure.

Mr. T. GARDINER, of No. 9, Brown street, Grosvenor square, had been in a very bad state of health for a long time, suffering much from a disordered stomach, very impaired digestion, with constant pains in his Chest, was extremely nervous, and greatly debilitated as to be scarcely able to walk one hundred yards; during the long period of [illegible] declining he had the advice of four of the most eminent Physicians besides five Surgeons of the greatest celebrity in London; from whom he derived no benefit whatever. At last he had recourse to Holloway's Pills, which he declares effected a perfect cure in a very short time, and now he is now as strong and vigorous as ever he was in his life. This being so extraordinary a case may lead many persons almost to doubt this statement, it may therefore be necessary to say that Mr. Gardiner is a broker, and well known.

☞ In all Diseases of the Skin, Bad Legs, Old Wounds and Ulcers, Bad Breasts, Sore Nipples, Stony and Ulcerated Cancers, Tumours, Swellings Gout, Rheumatism, and Lumbago, likewise in cases of Piles; Holloway's Pills, in all the above cases, ought to be used with the Ointment as not alone, The Ointment is proved to be a certain remedy for the bite of Moschettoes, Sand-flies, Chiegoefoot, Yaws, Cocos-bay, and all Skin Diseases common to Europe, the East and West Indies, and other tropical climates.

Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Chapped Hands and Lips, also Bunions and Soft Corns, will be immediately cured by the use of the Ointment.
