CANADIAN CHEESE IN ENGLAND.

The London correspondent of the Trade Bulletin writes: English cheese is beginning to show in quantity fresh from the farmers, and it moves off pretty freely. There is not too much on hand, although New Zealands are heavy. Trade is not particularly brisk just now, and there is not such a retail demand as could be desired. Canada is playing the right game. The arrivals are on a limited scale in London, and all arrivals clear quickly at 50s to 51s. This helps old cheese to move off, and sales have been made at 59s and 60s for September buyers. United States cheese sells at 46s to 51s for new, and travel pretty well.

LONDON.

—Ed. Robson was to-day fined $2 and costs by J. B. Smyth, J.P., for trespassing on the fishing preserve of Messrs. Cleghorn and Duffield at Denfield. Other prosecutions will follow.

—Miss Gertie Street left on Thursday last for Toronto, to join Mr. and Mrs. J. D. H. Browne, on a trip up the Georgian Bay as far as the Soo. After an absence of about ten days they will return by way of Detroit.

—The New York Recorder says President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific has been in New York for several days conferring with capitalists in regard to proposed extentions of the system. He left last night for Montreal. What is up now?

—A meeting of the corporation laborers was held on Saturday evening, when it was decided to hold the annual picnic on the last Monday in July. Sid. Loveless was appointed chairman of the committee, H. Wallace, vice-chairman; T. Garside, treasurer, and H. Merritt, secretary.

—Mrs. M. A. Liddicott, of East London, has gone to England, seeking recreation and health. She will visit her brothers in Cornwall, from whence she came to Canada some 40 years ago. Many friends in the city will be glad to welcome her back in renewed health, and will wish her a very pleasant visit to her childhood's home.

Among the cabin passengers on the steamship Parisian, which sailed from Montreal for Liverpool Saturday, were: Mr. W. D. Gillean (son of Mr. James Gillean, city) and wife; Mrs. and Miss Cleghorn, wife and daughter of the late Mr. Cleghorn of Edward Adams & Co. London; and Mr. R. F. Meredith and wife, Montreal.

—Mr. Thomas Spettigue, who has for the last three years been secretary of Excelsior Lodge, S. O. E., was Friday night presented with a complimentary address and a beautiful past president's jewel. The address was read and the presentation made by Messrs. T. J. Carter and Thomas Jenkins respectively. Mr. Spettigue has been an admirable officer.

—Richard J. Byrne, formerly sergeant-major of the Seventh Battalion, who is dying of paralysis at Dundas, Ont., is unable to speak, and his friends are unable to find any trace of the unfortunate man's relatives. It is understood that Mrs. Byrne is still a resident of this city. Byrne was a sergeant in the One Hundredth Regiment, British army, and served in the Northwest rebellion with the Seventh Battalion, of which he afterwards became adjutant.

—The demonstration committee of the school board met Saturday to further arrange for next Monday's demonstration. The London West School Board reported that the village children would not attend in a body. Pupils who refuse to join the procession will not be allowed to compete in any games. Teachers are asked to meet and organize their flocks at their respective schools, then join the procession at the starting place, and remain in the Queen's Park grand stand until dinner time, when relatives and friends will take their little ones in hand. Collegiate Institute pupils may picnic where they want to after the programme is carried out.

—A quiet but pleasing ceremony occurred at the residence of Mrs. Refell, 6 Cartwright street, on June 21, being the marriage of her sister, Miss Nellie Meacham, to Mr. William Parker. The bride, who was charmingly attired in pink, was supported by Miss Refell, while Mr. A. Refell acted as best man to the groom. After the ceremony the friends sat down to a sumptous repast, after which the happy couple left for their home on Oxford street, amid showers of rice and good-wishes. The presents were numerous and valuable, showing the esteem in which the young couple were held. Rev. R. Aylward tied the knot.

High School Entrance Exams.

The following is the time table for the High School entrance examinations here:

The Assessorship.

"Mechanic" writes: I see that Mayor Essery and Mr. Stephen Grant, assessment commissioner, have dismissed Assessor Wescott, of South London, and have appointed Alf. McCoubrey, an inexperienced man, in his place. I am astonished that Mr. Grant should have consented to this change, in view of the fact that he has again and again in the hearing of myself and others testified to the efficiency and reliability of Mr. Westcott. What can the excuse be for this change? Surely not because Mr. McCoubrey is a more trustworthy man than Mr. Westcott. I know that Mr. Westcott is a member of the Methodist Church in good standing, and a citizen who is respected by everyone who knows him. Moreover, he is an expert valuator, and his work in the past has been unexceptional. As for Mr. McCoubrey, it is notorious that he has had no experience whatsoever calculated to render him a fit person for the position.

The Police Court.

The charge against James Johnson of removing sods from the Pipe Line was enlarged by consent for two weeks at this morning's Police Court. The city engineer had a couple of citizens up for the alleged erection of wooden buildings within the fire limits. The defendants will no doubt remedy matters. Chas. Gannon, Fred Brown and Isaac Young, charged with being disorderly at the camp yesterday, were discharged. James Smith was fined $5 for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Frank Watson and Tassie Pope, who were arrested in London South late Saturday night on a charge of disorderly conduct, were remanded for a week. "To be married to-day," the Police Court blotter reads. Two drunks were discharged.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE.

How New Zealand Has Been Saved From Bankruptcy.

Facts and Figures for Old Fogy Political Economists to Study.

Only a very few years ago New Zealand was in a critical condition. The colony had no credit, it was poorly governed and had lost everything except the confidence the working people had in the fruitful soil and in themselves, that is in their physical ability and their intelligence. The leaders, political and otherwise, had run the country in the ground, and the poeple had become disgusted. The labor party won in the election and gained the majority in Parliament. A labor Ministry was formed. England and the other colonies predicted that New Zealand would soon be bankrupted.

English capitalists were horrified, the great landed proprietors sold their lands at a sacrifice, and many left the country, as they feared not only financial ruin, but anarchy. But all their fears were unfounded, as the excellent condition of the colony at present proves conclusively. The so-called labor Ministry is still in power, and from present indications will be in existence for a long time to come. It began its labors by reducing the expenditures one-third. The other Ministers had attempted this, but had failed miserably. But not satisfied with this reform, the new Ministry proceeded to increase the Government revenue. This was done by levying an income tax on all whose income exceeded £150 per annum, the amount to be decided annually by Parliament. The property tax was abolished and a land tax levied, the amount of which is determined by Parliament each year. Besides the tax on cultivated land, a tax is levied on uncultivated land that is collected on all land valued at more than £5,000; on land valued at more than this sum, ¼d. per pound is collected annually; up to £10,000 the tax is ⅜d., and so on up to £200,000, on which the tax is 1¼d. This tax is directed especially against the large and absentee proprietors of land, and its success has been so remarkable that that Government has not been required to borrow money for years from the money sharks of London, but has been bothered to know what to do with the surplus.

The result of this policy is that the land is divided in small parcels, for the monopolists who bought land on speculation can no longer hold it at the rate of tax collected and are compelled to sell. It gives them little or no income and the tax forces them to unload. Those who own the land cultivate it and production has increased immensely. In 1886 New Zealand exports amounted to £6,500,000, mostly wool, frozen meats, butter, cheese, grain, etc. Under the government of the labor party the country exported in 1890 to the amount of £9,500,000. But in 1891 and 1892 the results prove still more astonishing. As a result of a system of irrigation, New Zealand produced 72,000,000 pounds of fruit, while four years ago the total amount was only 20,000,000 pounds. In 1884 the aggregate of dried fruit exported was 3,000,000 pounds which increased to 30,000,000 in 1892. Manufactures and industries in general have increased in consequence of the increase in agriculture, so that there are now 2,570 factories in New Zealand that produce goods to the value of £9,500,000 annually, an increase of 300 per cent. in the last four years.

The growth of the country under the Administration of the labor party is admitted to be phenomenal and inexplicable on the part of all old fogy political economists. But the most peculiar part of the business is that the credit of the country, which was assailed by the plutocrats because most of the members of the Administration were actual workers, without business experience, now stands very high in England, and that capital is offered the Administration without limit; but the "kind" offers are invariably declined.

How to Cure a Corn.
It is one of the easiest things in the world to cure a corn. Do not use acids or other caustic preparations, and don't cut a hole in your boot. It is simply to apply Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, and in three days the corn can be removed without pain. Sure, safe, painless. Take only Putnam's Corn Extractor.
