GREATEST MINE IN WORLD

Le Roi is Spoken of as Such—Great Future of War Eagle and Centre Star Mines.

BIG ADVANCE IN CROW'S NEST.

Sold Up to 170 Yesterday—Sales of and Quotations on Mining Stocks—Notes.

The feature in mining stocks yesterday was Crow's Nest Coal, which sold up to 170 for 150 shares, a rise of 10 points for the day. This issue is nearing a dividend basis.

The Le Roi Mine.

"I have no hesitation in telling you," remarked ex-Governor Mackintosh, in the course of an interview, "that the Le Roi is the greatest gold mine in the world. Mind, I do not say the greatest gold mine in America, but the greatest gold mine in the world." And the genial Governor strongly emphasized the last part of his statement. "There are," he continued, "2,000,000 tons of ore in sight in the Le Roi, and the ore will average $16 a ton. Allow $8 a ton for the cost of production, and you still have $16,000,000 in dividends in sight in the Le Roi. And, mind, all this is above 900 feet level. There is no telling what this great mine will do when depth is attained. The Le Roi can now ship 1000 tons a day, and can earn in dividends 50 per cent. on its capital of £1,000,000. The ore will average 2 per cent. copper, and 2 per cent. copper should pay for the cost of production, with copper at 16½ cents a pound. The gold is clear profit. The capacity of the Le Roi Reduction Works has been doubled so as to treat the entire Le Roi output, and also the output of Le Roi No. 2. But the reduction works must be increased still further to take the output of the Kootenay and the Great Western group. On the 700 feet level of the Le Roi is a shoot of ore 104 feet thick. This shoot of ore was discovered long after the London people bought it and it is the discovery of this immense ore shoot that made ex-Governor Mackintosh emphatically proclaim the property as the greatest gold mine in the world. The Le Roi company owns 3000 feet on the Le Roi lode, and the ore shoots already developed enable it to earn fully $500,000 a year in dividends. The smelter must of course be able to take the output in order to do this.

Le Roi No. 2.

"Le Roi No. 2 owns three distinct mines—No. 1, Josie and Annie. No. 1 is the west extension of the War Eagle, and the best miners in Rossland seem to think that values are better west of the Le Roi hill than on the east or on the hill itself. In fact, No. 1 they claim will surpass the War Eagle. The Josie has richer ore than the Le Roi itself, but the intrusion of a lamenese dyke seems to have swept a vast quantity of ore out of the mine and it is therefore only fractionally valuable. But west of the Josie, and apparently on the main lode of the camp, is the Annie, also owned by the Le Roi No. 2. In this property there is a four-foot vein that runs four ounces of gold to the ton, while there is also a smaller vein that carries 14 ounces of gold to the ton. In other words, the Annie has the richest gold yet discovered in Rossland, and there seems little doubt but that the Le Roi No. 2 will be a worthy rival of the Le Roi itself. There is nothing new to tell of the Columbia and Kootenay. This, as I have already written, consists of immense masses of low-grade ore which will yield good dividends with economical mining and smelting. The Nickel Plate and Great Western groups are developing slowly. The Nickel Plate is a good mine, but the others have not yet shown anything of real value. I do not recommend Le Roi No. 2 as an investment at its present price of $16, but if the mine continues to develop as it is now doing it should not be surprised to see its stock go to $20.

War Eagle and Centre Star.

"The management is striving to come to satisfactory arrangements with the Canadian Pacific Smelter at Trail, but I really do not believe that a satisfactory arrangement is possible. The Le Roi smelter at Northport is up to date and is making money, for less than $3 a ton. It costing $5 a ton at Trail to do the same work. The War Eagle and Centre Star should have a smelter plant of their own. They will soon be in a position to ship 1000 tons a day from both, and $2 a ton saved in smelter charges means immense profits for both mines at the end of the year. The War Eagle has had a lot of bad luck, especially in regard to the building of its new plant. That, however, will soon be all remedied and development work will be ahead of production. Taught by past experience the management will doubtless never allow another set-back like the last, but the most imperative demand of the War Eagle and Centre Star is the construction of a smelter that is thoroughly up to date. Such a smelter will enable both mines to pay big dividends for many years to come. There are wiseacres and croakers who will tell you that War Eagle has petered out, but I wish to solemnly assure War Eagle stockholders."
