R. Cochran received the following despatch from Kennett, Hopkins & Co:

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—The defeat of the repealers in the Senate last night was a blow to confidence and holders have been liquidating all day. Conditions were gloomy enough prior to the Senate's action, but that convinced holders that it was useless to longer attempt to contend against the inevitable. Exports moderately large and cables somewhat encouraging, but primary receipts were again heavy and the monthly report on the world's available stocks showed increasing supplies every where. The conditions which have caused the decline still exist, and in the face of these the price cuts little figure at the moment.

Corn and Oats—The good buying of corn continued to-day and sustained the market fairly well. Oats were easier, but not particularly weak. The shipping and consumptive demand keeps up Provisions—Packers took advantage of the opening strength to sell moderately, resulting in easier closing.

Schwartz, Dupee & McCormack wired Dixon: Receipts of wheat in the Northwest were again large, being over 1000 cars. Foreign cables showed no improvement. There was some liquidation of long wheat and liberal covering of shorts. Exports of flour and wheat were equivalent to over 500,000 bushels. We do not see anything more than we have heretofore to prevent a still lower range until there is a change in existing conditions.
