More tourists and summer boarders than ever before. There is no hotel, every private house that would accomodate boarders got them and many more were sent away. A hotel is greatly needed here. This is the historic spot, the site of the old "Acadian Village home of the happy," and has greater attractions for Americans than any other place in Nova Scotia. Enquiries for accomodation are continually made of Mr Borden. A summer hotel would be filled during the whole season. There is a round ten per cent in it for anyone who has the necessary rush and capital. Chase & Co., Fullertons, and F. G. Curry, and their agents are buying potatoes. Competition is keen. They are loading at the station in barrels for Havana, price 50cts. for large and 30cts for small. Potatoes will be one dollar a bushel before they grew again. The farmers here are holding their apples for shipment. The first shipment from Nova Scotia was made in the S. S. Damara last week 13th—300 barrels gravensteins. One carload at Port Williams and the rest from west of Kentville. The next will be a large shipment by the Mondelay on the 28th. Speculators are trying to buy, but people are holding back and figures are very high.

A Successful Student.

Miss Fannie Thomas, daughter of William Thomas, Esq., Upper Canard, is meeting with marked success both as scholar and teacher. She recently resigned her position as preceptress of the Baptist Seminary, St Martins, on account of ill health She remained in the seminary three years, and was universally loved and respected. Last January she returned to Boston to complete a course of study, and there made many friends. As a student she was faithful, painstaking and ambitious, sometimes overtasking her strength; but her strong will carried her through the year. She was the only woman upon whom the degree of Master of Arts was conferred. Her rank was always high and she was first to gain honors. Several colleges offered her positions, but she has accepted a professorship in Iowa State College with a salary of $1500. We congratulate the West on securing the services of so good a teacher, but we cannot but regret that our Province has lost so good a woman and instructor so well fitted for our institutions.—Western Chronicle.
