The woman then told the reporter that that was the dead man, The deceased's name was McGlynn. He was aged fifty-three, a native of Tyrone Ireland. WE regret to learn from the Summerside Journal that the dwelling house of Mr. Patrick Whelan, at Freetown, was destroyed by fire on Thursday morning, the 3rd inst. The neighbors gathered as soon as possible after the fire was discovered, and by their efforts saved the other buildings. The loss on Mr. Whelan's house is estimated at from $600 to $700, with, it is said, some insurance on the building. The accident is supposed to have originated from the kitchen stove, in which there was some fire when the family retired.

A TERRIBLE DEATH.

On Tuesday morning of last week while John Stark, aged about 60 years, of the 7th concession of Chatham township, Ont., was driving a horse rake, the horses became frightened and ran away. Mr. Stark was thrown forward between the animals, tramped upon and dragged along the ground for a considerable distance, a part of the machinery striking him upon the head and upper part of his body at each revolution of the wheels. The horses were caught by some men who witnessed the accident, but Mr. Stark had already received fatal injuries, his body being frightfully bruised and cut. He was unconscious when taken up, and remained in that condition until an early hour next day, when he died. Mr. Stark was an old and very much respected member of the community, and leaves a wife and grown up family to mourn his sudden death.

Our Tea Parties.

THIS is the season for tea parties and picnics. As will be seen by our advertising columns, no less than three tea parties take place next week. On Tuesday next, the 22nd, the "Mountain Tea," for which most ample preparations are in progress, takes place at Hope River. The committee in charge are bound that this tea will eclipse any similar gathering in that part of the Province. This is a most interesting section of the Island, and the tea party will afford to the people of the surrounding country an opportunity of spending a most pleasant day. Visitors may be sure that all the delicacies of the season will be supplied in abundance, and that everything which can in any way minister to their comfort and enjoyment will be supplied.

On the same day takes place the grand Tea Party at Head St. Peter's Bay. The mere mention of a Tea at this place is sufficient to ensure an immense gathering. On no place in this Province has nature bestowed her choicest gifts with a more lavish hand. The excellence of the train arrangements, and the extremely low fares should induce people from all sections to attend. In addition to the usual well supplied tea tables, an excellent dinner table will be provided, where a first-class dinner can be had. The Committee have made arrangements for all kinds of amusements, and have made every provision for the comfort of visitors. All desirous of a rare day's enjoyment will go to St. Peter's next Tuesday.

On Thursday, the 24th, the parishioners of St. Joseph's, Kelly's Cross, will hold their Tea near the church. This is a picturesque part of the Island, and is well deserving of a visit. This gathering will afford those, who may not yet have visited that section, an opportunity of doing so, under most favorable circumstances. The provisions made for the comfort and amusement of visitors are first-class, and all those who can reasonably attend this Tea Party should go.

Thursday, the 31st, is the day set apart by the parishioners of Souris for their Tea Party. It goes without saying that this Tea will be a success. Souris has never yet had an unsuccessful Tea Party, and the arrangements in progress for this one indicate that all former gatherings will be surpassed this year. Full particulars as to train arrangements, etc., will appear in due time.

DIED.

At Elmira, on the 2nd inst., after an illness of three months, which was borne with true Christian piety, Raymond Campbell, at the age of 71 years and 6 months. Deceased was a man of more than ordinary intelligence, and was genial and unassuming in his disposition. He will long be remembered by a large circle of friends and relations for his patience, humility and charity, and of him it can truly be said "That many have lost a friend, and none have got rid of an enemy." He was attended in his illness by Rev. D J. Gillis, who administered to him the last rites of his church. His funeral, which took place on the 11th inst., was attended by a large concourse of people of both denominations, who were all desirous of paying the last tribute of respect to a worthy and generous friend. NOTRE DAME CONVENT, RUSTICO.

As each edition of your valuable journal for some time past, is replete with eulogiums of the different educational institutions on the Island, I presume it would not be out of place for me, although at the eleventh hour, to say a few words about Notre Dame Convent, Rustico.

This convent is one of the largest, most commodious and best situated educational institutions on the Island, where young ladies may receive a classical education of a very high order. Due attention is given to both English and French. In addition to the classics, the higher Mathematics are also well taught.

The closing exercises of the above named institution, took place on the 30th ult., in the Rustico Hall, which was artistically decorated for the occasion.

There was present Revs. G. De Finance P. P., F. X. Gallant, Hope River, Dr. J. Dolron, Tignish, the parents of the pupils, and a great majority of the parishioners, when the following programme was rendered in a manner which reflected great credit on both teachers and pupils. The music was pronounced excellent. The dialogues in my opinion were perfect. Each actress performed her part in a very creditable manner. The pronunciation and enunciation were very good, and the gestures quite natural, which shows that great attention is given to the Histrionic art.

But a very striking feature of the proceedings was the calisthenic exercises which demonstrate that the Revd. Sisters believing in the oft repeated adage "Mens sana in corpore sano" train with care the physical as well as the intellectual faculties of their pupils. The cheerful faces that greeted the visitors, betokened a sound body, and the manner in which each did her alloted part, fully illustrated the truth of the above wise saying.

1st prize for proficiency in Music, presented by Rev. F. X. Gallant.

1st prize for application to Studies, presented by Dr. J. Doiron.

1st prize for Domestic Economy, presented by Mrs. Jos. Gallant.

The revd. gentlemen present then addressed the pupils, and in eloquent terms expressed their satisfaction with the day's proceedings, while with words of praise and encouragement they urged the pupils to pursue with steady steps in the path of knowledge, and showed them the great advantage derived from an education such as they received in the convent.

After singing God Save the Queen, visitors and parents left the hall well pleased with the day's enjoyment, and fully convinced that there is no place like the convent for girls where they may receive a good education, physical, intellectual and lastly a religious one, without which, woman is like an odorless flower.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

A BURDENED NATION.

The war debt of the United States is continually increasing. The war debt, properly speaking, is the amount of the war obligations which are to be met by taxation. The chief element in the increase is the pensions' expenditure. Gen. Grant estimated the sum necessary to meet therequirements at $27,000,000 Gen. Garfield, who died soon after his accession to the presidency in 1881, estimated the amount at $38,000,000 In the year ending June, 1888, the pension expenditure had risen to $80,000,000. The next year $87,000,000 went for this service and last year the amount was $109,000,000. It is expected that $130,000,000 will be required in the current year, and new systems to be adopted which will place on the list all who served in the northern army and all who were dependent on those who were killed or disabled, will bring the annual charge up to $200,000,000 in a short time. The New York Herald points out that the whole cost of the immense army of Germany is far less than the amount paid last year for pensions in the United States.

We hear complaints of the enormous debt charge of the Dominion. As our debt is represented by territory purchased, and by railways and canals constructed, it rests on an entirely different basis from that of a war debt. But it may surprise our readers to know they are told that the whole annual burden of the Canadian debt including the old provincial debts assumed by the Dominion is less per head to Canadians than the annual burden of war pensions already is per head to the United States taxpayers. Besides the rapidly increasing expenditure our neighbors have the burden of their war debt, which is not likely to further decrease in view of the rapid growth of the pension charge. And now to crown all there is a project to pension all the colored people who were slaves under the old regime.—St. John Sun.
