MATT HYNES HOLDS PETERBORO TO FIVE HITS AND WINS EASILY

Big Palmerston Twirler Was in Great Form and Visitors Could Not Locate Him—Nichols Plays Good Game for Petes at Second Base.

[BY JINX.]

A big party, entitled Matt Hynes, heaved in our interest at the local premises yesterday to the utmost satisfaction of a cigar-box full of fans and 'anettes. Mr. Rowan's occupants of the coal hole of the Canadian League were the chesty creatures who gazed on Mr. Hynes' assortment, and the total extent of their gazing was a paltry five hits, with a big cipher in the run column. When Mr. Hynes had concluded his labors his team-mates had collected a quartette of markers, and the score board read 4 to 0, in favor of the Palmerston heaver.

BARTHOLD WAS GOOD.

Pitted against Mr. Hynes and his magic art, was a strong-arm individual named Barthold, who mixed up his mystifyers with an occasional sling that the Indians fell upon with great relish. Scattered promiscuously through the pastime were ten of these leanings on the part of the home folks, and as this is generally conceded to be enough to win any game, it explains in a way why Mr. Bierbauer's celebrated artists came out on top.

Another gentleman, who figured in a large way in the frolic, was our eminent Mr. Oskee Neale, who brought in three of the markers by his deliberate habit of slamming the pill on the nose with men on bases. The pillows generally had a couple of occupants waiting to be rescued when Oskee came in to slam, and he was right on the job with the kind of hit to bring in the runs. His loving taps were responsible for three of the counters.

Some Good Features.

The pastime was crowded with a few interesting features, which warmed the fans up and made them forget that the Redskins had ever been unkind enough to lose a game. In the sixth inning Mr. Hynes achieved notoriety by spearing Mr. Rowan's heavy drive through the box. The ball was travelling like a bullet at the moment, but Matty reached out and it stuck in his glove. In the seventh inning Mr. Neale pulled off a couple of nice catches, while Mr. Cocash was also there with the brilliant stuff in the third inning. Mr. Fox also caused some talk, by the free and easy manner in which he collected all the loose material that hove in sight around third base. His pilfer of White's screaming bounder in the sixth was a daring piece of work, while his peg to first to catch the runner was very nice, indeed. Mr. Fox was there yesterday.

Taking it all around, it was a nice exhibition of the Yankee national art, and the home folks surprised themselves by failing to make a bungle. They played the whole nines innings through without one mishap, and this is a real fine proceeding.

They were also there with the willow in the timely stages, and while Mr. Hynes was slaughtering Mr. Rowan's weak spots, the other members of Mr. Bierbauer's brigade were gathering a few tallies.

The First Tally.

In the second inning the Redskins chased a run across the pan, when Powell got a life on Beard's poor throw and Franky Fox received a pass after Cocash had flied out. It was here that Mr. Neale entered the doings, and he qualified with a long drive over Mr. Swartz's head in left field, said smash going for two bases and permitting Mr. Powell to score. However, Mr. Neale forgot for a moment that his wallop would only entitle him to two sacks, and he drifted on in the direction of third in the wake of Mr. Fox, who had nearly gained the station. The result was that he was caught between the two sacks and easily retired in an effort to get back to second base.

In the fourth inning, count No. 2 was placed in the score column, Powell leading off with a two-bagger to left and going to third on a wild pitch. He was caught trying to reach the plate on Cocash's grounder to Beard, Cocash doing some nice sprinting around the pillows, and reaching third while the Peterboro infield was chasing Powell up and down the line. Fox struck out, but Neale hit a high one that Mr. Beard lost in the sun, and Cocash scored.

Two More in the Eighth.

The final pair of runs came in the eighth inning. After Bierbauer and Powell had gone out, Cocash singled to left, and Fox singled to right, sending Coke to third. Fox went down to second, and when Nichols let Trout's low throw get away from him, Cocash ambled home. Neale then followed with his second two-base affair and Fox scored. Speer flew out to Connors and ended it.

In only two innings were the tailenders dangerous. In the fifth inning, Trout singled and was forced at second on Beard's grounder to Hynes. Beard advanced on a wild pitch, and Byrne singled to left, Beard going to third. With only one out, it looked as though the Petes were due for some run-getting, but Nichols grounded to Gilhooley and Barthold grounded out to Powell.

In the ninth inning the Petes also got two men on, but Mr. Hynes tightened up and they were unable to get a runner across.

Big Matt Some Pitcher.

Hynes pitched a great game, and he had Mr. Rowan's furnace-room occupants on the carpet all the time. They were unable to decipher his assortment when the bingles were needed, and only once did they get a man around to third base.

Barthold also pitched a good game, but he was connected with when hits were needed. This gent played first base the last time he was here, and it looks as though he makes a better first-sacker than a pitcher.

Charley Nichols, who was formerly a member of the home folks, was holding down the second hesitating point for the Petes, and he played a nice game. He had ten chances with only one error, which is a good afternoon's work. There is no doubt that he made good with the team, and Nick will likely be given the regular job at second base. At the bat, however, he did not do anything. In the third inning he poled a beauty to centre, but it fell into the clutches of our esteemed Mr. Cocash. The other times he grounded out in the infield.

Petes Need a Shortstop.

The Petes are a trifle weak at short, and with this spot strengthened they should perform like a first division club. Beard, a pitcher, held down the position yesterday, and although he gathered all that came his way, he was a little off on the pegging to first base, and as a result had three errors chalked up against him on poor heaves.

J. Ira Davis, the comedian umps of the league, officiated at the doings and pulled off a bunch of his sprightly sayings. J. Ira is a good umpire, and injects a lot of peper into the game. Some of his sayings are really funny, also, so that taking him all round he is all right.

The delightful doings are detailed below:

HELEN BARBEE WON THE FEATURE EVENT

The Peep-O'-Day Mare Led Her Field From Start and Was Never Headed.

ANOTHER LARGE CROWD

Helen Barbee's Victory Is First Scored by J. Burtschell in Months — The Results.

Windsor, July 17.—The Pontchartrain Stakes, a selling stake at six furlongs, was carded as a feature at Windsor this afternoon, and it brought out a field of smart sprinters. John Burtschell furnished the winner in the Peep o'Day mare, Helen Barbee, who led her field from the barrier, and never relinquished the lead, beating Altamaha out a scant length. Track conditions favored the winner, the going being soft and cuppy. Her victory marked the first that J. Burtschell has scored in months.

The warm weather and bright sunshine brought out a large crowd, the attendance being equal to that of the opening day. Forty layers were in line, and as the books got several breaks during the afternoon it meant that they recouped some of the losses they sustained during the first couple of days of the meeting.

Bob Levy, manager of the track at Norfolk, Virginia, has written Fred Gerhardy that he will be at Hamilton during the meeting there. He reports the addition of three hundred new stalls at the Jamestown Jockey Club course.

Judge Price is interesting some of the eastern horsemen in the Endurance Stake, to be run at the Fall meeting at Churchill Downs, and several of them have promised to make entries.

Larry Carey got in from Saratoga this morning, where the Beverwyck stable are being rested. He brings back the news that Sir John Johnson is doing famously, and will be ready for the fall meetings in Maryland. In all there are about sixty horses resting up at Saratoga, the lot including the horses under the care of Billy Karrick, Frank Taylor, Paul Fox and Dave Woodford. R. T. Wilson also has half a dozen horses there.

Silver Knight is reported as having broken down in his race yesterday, and will be on the shelf for some time.

ROCHESTER LOST A GAME

Baltimore Trimmed Jersey City and Providence Lost Out to Newark Owing to Covington's Wildness.

Toronto, July 18.—The Royals had on their batting togs yesterday, and the way they stepped into the ball was enough to make a certain Mr. Gaspar forget that he ever was in the big league. The score was 10 to 3, and the issue was never in doubt at any stage, as the visitors were pounding and slashing Gaspar's shoots to all corners, and, just to show that they could not be stopped, they connected for three singles and as many runs in the ninth off Mueller.

SENATORS BEAT RED SOX TWICE GUELPH AND BERLIN BREAK EVEN

Knotty Lee's Colts Win a Game From Stewart's Saints—Two Big Crowds Witness Games at Berlin—Kolts Are Now in Third Place.

Ottawa, July 17. — Ottawa won both games of a double-header from the Brantford team at Lansdowne Park this afternoon. They took the first one by 3 to 2, after landing on Coose for five safeties and three runs in the third. Brantford got two tallies, but could not tie it up. Renfer pitched great ball throughout, except for the third. Coose was invincible. The next game Brantford scored one each in the first and ninth, and Donovan had the Ottawas scoreless until the fifth, when, after singles by Louden and Draper, who batted for Cook; Kubat tied up his own game with a single. Burke batted in another, and Donovan was then taken out, Coose returning to a hopeless task. In the seventh the Ottawas landed on him for seven hits and as many runs, winning by 10 to 2, Kubat pitched fine ball, and the fielding of Schwind was a feature. Louden batted in two runs in the seventh. The scores:

KOLTS BEAT SAINTS.

Hamilton, July 17. — Air-tight pitching by Teed and heavy hitting by his team-mates won the game for Hamilton today from St. Thomas by a score of 4 to 2. Teed only allowed one hit in the entire game, with the exception of the seventh, when a couple of charities and three hits enabled the visitors to score two runs. Murphy, Keenan and Corns hit out three-baggers, and "Red" Fisher collected three hits. The visitors played errorless ball, while the locals had three boots to their credit. Jacobson was pounded for 12 healthy bingles. The score:

LEAFS AND BEES DIVIDE.

Berlin, July 17.—Berlin and Guelph divided a double-header today, the morning game being annexed by the former by a 13-to-3 score, and the visitors got the afternoon fixture by a 9-to-3 score. The champions scored nine runs in the first inning of the first game by heavy hitting, and chased Pitchers Mason and Beardman to the bench. Schuman then took the mound.

In the second game the visitors chased Pitcher Bollinger out of the box after he had issued three passes and allowed four hits in the first two chapters, which were good for seven runs.

Gillian, who relieved Bollinger, was wild. Campbell, for the visitors, kept the ten hits scattered.

The locals got men to base in nearly every period, but failed to hit safely in the pinches. The attendance in the morning was 1,500, and in the afternoon nearly 3,000 saw the game. The scores:
