NAILS HIMSELF TO A CROSS

Sheepman, Comet Crazy, Spikes Both Feet and One Hand.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., May 10.—While brooding over posible ill effects of the comet's visit, Paul Hemmerton, a sheepman and prospector, became insane and crucified himself, according to mining men who arrived here with him yesterday.

Hammerton was found where he had nailed his feet and one hand to a rude cross which he had erected. Altho he was suffering intense agony Hammerton pleaded with his rescuers to let him remain in his spiked imprisonment. Since the visit of Comet A Hammerton has been much alarmed, and when he learned that the earth was scheduled to pass thru the tail of Halley's comet he believed the end of the world was at hand.

Realty and Building

A reader of these columns suggests that the agitation be renewed for the extension of University-avenue from Queen-street to the Front-street entrance of the Union Station. This would cost a lot of money and the station may not be there for long anyway. The prices of King-street realty between York and Simcoe have already been kited up to from $1000 to $1500 a foot on the report that government house is to be the site of a new C. P. station, a hotel and the like. So that if the city were now to expropriate a 100 foot roadway on Front, on Wellington, on King, on Adelaide, on Richmond, on Queen, at present prices, it would eat up a million dollars or more. We can see no reason for these inflated prices in King-street west beyond York-street. Values that were at a dollar became two dollars when the railways started to buy along Front-street and then the speculators put them up to three—on mere prospects. As a matter of fact, the railways, after government house deal is closed, will have what they want, and it is quite unlikely that they want it for either station or hotel purposes, but rather the more ordinary requirements of cheap freight handling. When prices are doubled and trebled, some one has lost his hold or there's a reason. We fail to see the reason.

* * *

The jump in Yonge-street prices is beginning to sag at points. Nearly four years ago one enterprising man connected with a downtown store, picked Carlton-street, east of Yonge as a good centre for a lot of trade that is now on King near Yonge. The Carlton-street land could then have been had for $300 or less a foot. But the other firms would not think of moving. Now they are being beseeched to buy up on Yonge-street and move up—at enormous prices per foot, prices that they'd never entertain. So they prefer still to remain downtown. But eventually some day, business will go up that way, but for a while property owners must be content with two per cent. or less, and the noise and disturbance of the big structure, whatever it is to be—"the mysterious giant" covering a period of five years. In due time Yonge-street will we worth a good price, but it can't earn on to-day's prices.

* * *

Frank A. Wood, East Adelaide-street, yesterday closed a big deal in Spadina-avenue, by which the property Nos. 316 to 330, is sold to T. Macdonald for $100,000. The property includes 11 3-storey brick stores and 12 dwellings in rear, with 200 feet frontage and 200 feet depth. The purchase is for investment.

The papers relative to the sale of Nos. 25-27-29 Wood-street, owned by Mrs. Thomas Allison, have been signed, thus completing this transaction in the Yonge-College block. There are three solid brick houses on the property, which has a frontage of 60 feet by 112 feet in depth. The price paid was $19,000, quite a reasonable sum. As has been the rule in connection with recent real estate deals in this section, the property has been disposed of to "an unknown party."

A CURIOUS CASE

Resented Being Told He Had No Right as Juror to Make Comments.

BRAMPTON, May 10.—W. H. Adamson, a juror on a case here, entering into conversation with Station Agent Hall at Streetsville, was told that he had no right to make any comment on the case, and also that as he was a friend of the family and paying attention to the plaintiff's daughter, he had no right to be on the jury at all, whereupon he knocked the agent down.

The latter drew a revolver and ordered him out of the station.

Adamson left the train at the Streetsville Junction and made complaint to the agent there as to the treatment he had received from Hall. The latter entered an action for assault, and the case was heard to-day. Adamson was fined $5 and costs.

The case will be appealed.

The jury in the original case was dismissed and a new trial will be necessary.

A Heavy Fine.

Richard Templeton was fined $100 and costs in police court for illegal sale of liquor in the Van Zyle restaurant in Upper Dundas-street. Three hundred dollars with attendant costs were assessed against the proprietors of this restaurant last week for like offences.

Editor Forced to Eat His Words.

QUITMAN, Miss., May 10.—R. L. Page, jr., who edits a weekly paper, several days ago published an editorial on a dance of society folks. He called the dancing "public hugging" and intimated that no virtuous woman would indulge in such practices. Page, after an absence of several days, returned and was met by citizens and forced to eat a clipping of the editorial. Page escaped his assailants and left town.
