TO-DAY WE CLOSE AT FIVE O'CLOCK.

Easy Buying Chances for Wednesday

Just when things are inclined to be dullest this store plans for the greatest activity by giving liberal discounts off regular rates. We do this by using manufacturers who are anxious to convert surplus stocks into money. We never hesitate to take such chances when goods and prices are to our liking. Then again we look to our own stock, where many lines should now make way for new fall goods which soon will be, and even now are, knocking at our doors for admittance. Thus the wheels of trade are kept in motion. Rich bargains in all kinds of goods come to the surface with surprising regularity. Many of them you hear of through these columns; many others, without newspaper mention, go on sale and find quick buyers among the crowds that visit this store from day to day. Fortunate are those who keep posted on what's doing at this store. They are the ones who spend their money to the best advantage. Are you among the number?

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S BLIGHT.

They appear to be all at sixes and sevens in British Columbia. The miners and working classes are ruining the province by their extortionate and unreasonable demands, while the politicians are the authors of all kinds of freak legislation. Between labor troubles and political insanity the province is fast becoming a fit subject for an asylum where they treat deranged intellects. United States anarchists seem to be the primary cause of all the trouble. They are the curse of the province. They have carried on an incendiary agitation for several years, and the country is still damned by their irrational treatment of the labor problem. First of all, they paralyzed the gold-mining industry and brought general discredit upon the province both at home and abroad. The British Columbia mining business has all gone to pot and the foreign labor agitators are principally responsible for the disaster. Now there is a strike in the coal mines and the trouble is spreading, with the prospect of a general closing down of the smelters thru a lack of coke. British Columbia is a rich mineral province. It would make rapid headway if it could only shake itself free of the pests that prey upon it.

HANDLING THE WESTERN CROP

The coming fall ought to witness a great improvement over last year in the handling of the Western crop. The unexpected magnitude of the harvest of last season came as a surprise and took the railway companies unawares. During several months back the C. P. R. has been making great preparations for transporting the crop which is now nearly ready for the mower. The roadbed between Winnipeg and PortArthur has been improved and made more efficient by the construction of numerous sidings. A large number of new locomotives have been built, while freight cars by the hundred have been turned out from the company's shops. New elevators have been built and the facilities at various terminals improved. In addition to a large increase in the carrying capacity of the C. P. R. effected by reason of these improvements, we have an entirely new line from Winnipeg to Lake Superior. The Canadian Northern will be a factor in the transportation of the Western crop this fall, and it ought to take care of a considerable portion of it. The company has between 600 and 700 miles of road west of Winnipeg, in addition to its line from that city to Port Arthur. With these improvements the railways ought to be able to deliver twice as much grain this fall at Port Arthur as they were able to do last year.

THE DEADLY TROLLEY.

The Railroad Gazette of last week has a lengthy leading article pointing out the great danger the public are exposed to by reason of the inefficient equipment of the ubiquitous trolley. When the fatalities arising from trolley accidents are bunched together, they become quite appalling. The Gazette thus summarizes its observations during the last two years:

The last prominent runaway accident that we have had occasion to report is that which occurred at Allentown, Pa., in December last, where five persons were killed and ten injured. In at least two-thirds of the monthly articles on train accidents which we published during the year 1901, mention was made of serious losses of life by street car accidents. In January there were three runaways, tho only one of them resulted in fatal injuries. In May occurred the butting collision on the Albany and Hudson Road, killing five and injuring 60. The June record included one runaway, where there was a "catch point" or derailing switch, which is said to have failed because it was out of order. In July six persons were killed in electric car accidents, tho there is no mention of a prominent runaway that month. In August the total number of persons killed in electric car accidents was 14 and of injured 166. One of the August accidents was a collision due to a runaway freight car; this car was a standard steam railroad freight car, heavily loaded. In October the number reported killed was eight and injured 69; one of the accidents was a collision reported as due to the failure of a brake chain. In November four persons were killed and 43 injured, and in December, including the Allentown case, before mentioned, there were 10 killed and 49 injured. In January, 1902, there were five runaways, including two occurring on the same hill within a few minutes of each other. In these two smash-ups five persons were killed. In February there was one runaway, which was reported as due to the failure of both the air brake and the hand brakes. In the month of July, besides the Gloversville disaster, there was a collision at Lake George, N. Y., killing one and injuring 20. The Stratford (Conn.) disaster, killing 29, occurred in 1899; and Tacoma, killing 51, in 1900.

This fearful mortality on the United States electric railways is contrasted with the almost absolute safety of travel on the English steam railways. During the last year not a single passenger lost his life on the British railway system, embracing 20,000 miles of road. The remedy proposed for decreasing the mortality of the deadly trolley is better equipment, especially in the matter of brakes, and more care on the part of the employes. The Ontario government ought to insist on power brakes on all the electric lines of this province. There is hardly a single line but has to run thru a more or less hilly country. The suburban lines in the neighborhood of Toronto have many steep and dangerous hills to climb. The danger on Yonge-street, the Kingston-road and other highways is ever threatening the passengers who use those lines. Fortunately, there have been no serious accidents as yet, but the danger is quite imminent and a serious accident any day should not surprise us. The statistics furnished by The Railroad Gazette are sufficient to justify the government in insisting on power brakes on all electric railways, whether city or suburban.

EXIT OF THE STEAM LOCOMOTIVE.

The proposal of the New York Central Railway to convert their system from steam to electricity in New York marks one of the greatest developments in the electrical world that have taken place for years. It is proposed to abolish steam as a motor power and to substitute electricity therefor, not only in the city of New York itself, but within a radius of thirty miles. This is a step, and a long one, towards the electrification of the company's whole system. It is by introducing this stupendous change that the company proposes to make the recurrence of another tunnel accident impossible. The project will involve an outlay of over $14,000,000. Some idea of the colossal nature of the traction project may be gained from the statement of Vice-President Brown, who said that several power stations to generate 100,000 horse-power each would be built to furnish power that will be needed for the entire system. The third rail will be used to carry the power, thereby avoiding all danger from overhead wires. Steam will be abolished everywhere, electricity being employed for switching, for signalling and for every operation incident to the movement of the trains. The New York Central has apparently come to the conclusion that the locomotive, with its noise and dirt, must give place, in cities at least, to the cleaner, quieter and swifter electric motor. It is said the work at New York will be completed in two years. The success of the project there will mean its early introduction in all large cities and its final use for short and long distance traffic altogether.

IS A FROG FISH OR GAME?

This is a Question That Experts Are Trying to Answer.

Quebec, Aug. 4.—The Canadian Department of Marine and Fisheries is wrestling with the problem as to whether a frog is fish or game.

Owing to the enormous increase in the export of frogs' legs to the United States some fear is felt that unless restrictions are placed upon the killing of Canadian frogs there will soon be none left in the country. If a frog is a fish, the department at Ottawa has the power to institute a close season for it. If, however, it should be decided that the frog comes under the category of game, the question of a close season must be settled by the provincial authorities.

If the law officers of the different governments interested fail to come to an agreement on the subject the matter will probably be submitted to a committee of experts. Everybody agrees that something must be done to prevent the total destruction of a valuable article of both food and commerce. If it should be decided that the frog is neither fish nor game, it may be necessary, in order to secure a law for its protection, to obtain from the Imperial parliament the passage of an amendment to the Act of British North America.

SO NERVOUS I COULD NOT SLEEP.

When there is disease of the delicate female organism, it is only a question of time until the general health becomes undermined. Nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and "sinking spells" produce suffering almost indescribable. There can be no restoration of the general health until the local health of the womanly organism is re-established.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries offensive drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It encourages the appetite, tranquilizes the nerves and induces refreshing sleep.

"You would be surprised if you could have seen me when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's medicine and could see me now," writes Mrs. Isaac S. Harris, of Gayville, Yankton Co., So. Dakota. "I had no appetite, was completely run down. Have had stomach trouble for years and was so nervous I could not sleep. We have spent a lot of money doctoring, but there was not one thing that I took that did me any good, except for a short time; till I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery.' In three days after I commenced taking his medicines I could see a change for the better, and from that time I have steadily been getting better. Can walk or ride to any place I want to, and I feel like a new person. Since taking Dr. Pierce's medicines I can sleep all night and never get up tired in the morning; can eat anything and it don't hurt me."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.

A Cold Bath on a Hot Day.

A cold bath on a hot day is refreshing. Every pore of your body is more open in hot weather and requires more frequent cleansing than in cold weather. The pores in hot weather absorb more freely than in cold weather; it is therefore most undesirable, after taking a morning bath, to cover the body with underclothing that has been washed with adulterated common soap. For comfort, cleanliness, and freedom from skin disease, the clothing worn next the skin should be washed with a pure and well-made soap. If Sunlight Soap be used in the laundry your pores absorb purity.

LOBSTERS SCARCE IN CANADA.

Alarm Caused in Dominion By the Poor Catch This Spring.

Quebec, Aug. 4.—Considerable alarm is felt both in the Maritime Provinces of the Dominion and by the Department of Fisheries at Ottawa over the decadence of the lobster industry. Present indications point to a possible extinction of the supply of Canadian lobsters.

So poor was the catch this spring that the fishermen and proprietors of canneries obtained from the government a ten days' extension of the open season. The government has become so alarmed at this condition of affairs that it has begun an investigation of the subject.

While it was a common thing a few years ago to take lobsters 18 and 20 inches long, the fishermen now say that there is none to be had of this length, and that the ordinary size nowadays is from 9 or 10 to 12 inches.

Considering the price paid for fresh lobsters in New York and Boston it is somewhat surprising to learn that all along the coasts of the Maritime Provinces of the Dominion and of the Baie des Chaleurs the owners of lobster traps get only five cents each for the lobsters of their catch. Several American canning establishments are in operation on the Canadian coast, and among the propositions made for the protection of Canadian lobsters is one for the exclusion of these factories from the soil of the Dominion.

FOOD TREATMENT.

Old Stomachs Made Over.

Improper medicine knocks out as many stomachs as bad food, but proper food will nearly always restore the health that Nature intended.

"I suffered with chronic constipation for a long time and two years ago became an invalid, being unable to retain anything on my stomach," says Mrs. F. M. Buss of Millersburg, Ky.

"Physicians pronounced it catarrh of the stomach and bowels. In fact, the entire alimentary canal was involved, caused, they said, by continued use of purgatives. For several weeks I could not retain more than a teaspoonful of any kind of fluid at any time, and at this stage of my illness a friend suggested that I try Grape-Nuts.

"I commenced by taking only a teaspoonful at a time of the water poured, while boiling, over two teaspoonfuls of the Grape-Nuts. In five days, I was able to digest a teaspoonful of the Grape-Nuts themselves, and in less than a month could digest an ordinary meal. I can eat anything now, after having used Grape-Nuts for nearly two years, and am entirely cured of constipation. It is a wholesome, pure and inexpensive food."

VISITED THE OLD HAUNTS.

Prince Edward County Old Boys Entertained at Picton.

Picton, Aug. 4.—A very large crowd from all parts of the country assembled here to-day to meet with the Old Boys and Girls of Prince Edward County.

At the agricultural grounds addresses were made by several of the "Old Boy" visitors. Principal Dobson of the High School was chairman, and the following gave addresses:- Dr. A. Rose, Rev. G. W. Dewey, Toronto; David Hicks, B.A., Alvinston, Ohio; W. Boulter, Dr. Currie, M.P.; Sheriff Gillespie, of Picton. Mayor Clapp and Warden Williams were also on the platform.

The chairman was presented with an elegant cake basket and jardiniere and an address from "The Old Boys' and Girls." Mrs. Palmer read the address, and Mrs. Dennison made the presentation. Both these ladies, who now live at a distance, were pupils of Principal Dobson years ago.

The Citizens' Band furnished choice music, and a very interesting game of cricket was played between Napanee and Picton teams, the latter winning by 44 runs. The visitors left for home at 7 o'clock.
