CHICAGO CATTLE STAMPEDED

Twenty-One Head Killed Owing to the Failure to Open a Gate.

COWBOY IN THE JAWS OF DEATH

He and His Horse Leap a Fence and Escape the Terrible Rush.

Chicago, Ill., July 4.—Panic stricken and bellowing, a big herd of cattle stampeded in the stock yards to-day. Twenty-one of the animals met death in the rush. The scene was so terrible that stockmen and cowboys turned their eyes away. One man nearly lost his life. The herd contained more than 600 head.

A closed gate caused the trouble. Shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning the herd was driven up the viaduct belonging to Armour & Co., with John Quinn riding a horse, and intending, when the gate to an Armour pen was reached, to fling it open and let the cattle pass in.

The gate is at the ground level, being reached by a chute 30 feet in length, with a sharp descent. Quinn did try to open the wicket, but the animals were upon him in a stampede before he could do so. He spurred his animal, and horse and rider took a fence leap to safety. As a result Quinn was slightly hurt, and his animal was so badly hurt that it had to be shot. "Bill" Larkin, another cow puncher, who was assisting Quinn, also sustained injuries. The cattle rushed down into the blocked passage, and those behind, being unable to stop, trampled those ahead under foot, the first head going down. The terrified bellowing was heard all over the yards. Some of the cattle were impaled on their own horns. With a rush cow punchers came from all sides of the yards on ponies. The rear of the herd of cattle was driven back, and those that had escaped by jumping fences were corralled.

The cause of the stampede was simply the failure to get the gate open in time.

CONDUCTOR GOES INSANE.

William Algie Never Got Over the Horror of an Accident.

St. Thomas, July 4.—William Algie, formerly conductor on the Wabash Railway, was brought to the city last night from Guelph by his brother, Mr. Matthew Algie, of Goderich, formerly of this city, and High Constable Meryweather of Wellington County. Mr. Algie was conductor of the train, of which John Charlton was engineer, which, on Good Friday last, came into collision at Jarvis with another freight train, in charge of Conductor McAlpine, when Engineer John Charlton, Engineer John A. McGill and Brakesman Harry McDonald were killed. The accident was caused by Conductor Algie's train overrunning the orders given. After the accident, Mr. Algie's mind became affected, and he was sent to Guelph Sanitarium, but has grown worse instead of better, and he was brought here so that steps could be taken to have him committed to jail, and transferred to an asylum. He was last night locked up in a cell at the police station. The charge of being dangerously insane was laid against him this morning, and he was committed to jail

PRINCE HENRY'S HARD ROAD.

Husband of Queen "Mina" Has to Live Down Dutch Prejudice.

The lurid stories that have been published about Prince Henry of Holland and his domestic troubles with his royal spouse are all exaggerations, according to a gentleman from Holland, who is at the Queen's Hotel. E. O. E. Schuram is his name, and he arrived in the city yesterday on a visit. He says that Prince Henry has had a hard road to travel since he became the husband of Holland's Queen. He was unknown to the people, and rather unpopular with them, altho he has done what he could to live down the prejudice existing against him.

DIGS HIS GRAVE; AWAITS DEATH

Manitowoc, Wis., July 4.—Rev. J. Reinhart, an old retired clergyman of this city, has made all preparations for his death and burial, which he prophesies will take place this month. He supervised the digging of his grave at Evergreen Cemetery and secured a monstrous flat sandstone on which is inscribed the following: Rev. J. Reinhart, born May 6, 1833; died ——, 1902. After this was finished he said that everything now being complete he would go home to die. He has been confined to his bed since, and his death is but a matter of a short time.

Trolley Car Used as Hearse.

New York, July 4.—Trolley cars may be used for hearses if the precedent established at the funeral yesterday of Mrs. Letta Heller, 75 years old, is followed. Her remains were conveyed from Far Rockaway in a trolley car to the Salem Fields Cemetery, Jamaica-avenue, Brooklyn. The car used was an ordinary passenger trolley car of the New York and North Shore Railroad.

Mrs. Heller died of cancer on Tuesday, at the summer cottage of Mrs. I. Albert Englebardt, in Far Rockaway. That place is so far from Brooklyn that the family arranged with the local railroad company for a special car in which to convey the corpse and mourners to the cemetery. At Jamaica the car was switched upon the Brooklyn Rapid Transit trolley tracks and a motorman of the latter company was assigned to take it to the cemetery. There the car was stopped at the gate and the remains were taken within for interment. The mourners returned to Far Rockaway in the car.

PRESSED HARD.

Coffee's Weight on Old Age.

When prominent men realize the injurious effects of coffee and the change in health that Postum can bring, they are glad to lend their testimony for the benefit of others.

Mr. C. C. Wright, superintendent of Public schools in North Carolina, says: "My mother, since her early childhood, was an inveterate coffee-drinker, and had been troubled with her heart for a number of years, and complained of that 'weak all over' feeling and sick stomach.

"Some years ago I was making an official visit to a distant part of the country, and took dinner with one of the merchants of the place. I noticed a somewhat peculiar flavor of the coffee, and asked him concerning it. He replied that it was Postum Food Coffee. I was so pleased with it that after the meal was over I bought a package to carry home with me and had wife prepare some for the next meal. The whole family were so well pleased with it that we discontinued coffee and used Postum entirely.

"I had really been, at times, very anxious concerning my mother's condition, but we noticed that after using Postum for a short time, she felt so much better than she did prior to its use, and had little trouble with her heart and no sick stomach, that the headaches were not so frequent, and her general condition much improved. This continued until she was as well and hearty as the rest of us.

"I know Postum has benefited myself and the other members of the family, but not in so marked a degree as in the case of my mother, as she was a victim of long standing."

Sporting Notes.

There will be an open shoot at McDowall & Co.'s grounds this afternoon, commencing at 2.30 o'clock.

The present week has seen three exceptional pitching feats. On Tuesday Waddell of the Philadelphia Americans struck out 13 Baltimores, whitewashed them and did not give a base on balls; on Wednesday Hughes of Brooklyn struck out eight Philadelphias, shut them out, gave no bases on balls and allowed two hits, one a scratch; on the same day Doheny of Pittsburgs held the Cincinnatis down to two hits.

Dooin, the Philadelphia catcher, is graceful and efficient behind the plate, but at the bat has a position that is all its own. It is a fierce looking posture, the catcher grasping the bat as tightly as a woman wringing a wet towel. The attitude is partly crouching, like a half-back ready to buck the line, but with one leg thrust forward as if for a spring. The bat waves menacingly and the head is held in an alert and aggressive position. The catcher looks as if he was about to knock a hole thru the opposing pitcher, but when he strikes out all that results is a good-natured smile.

OWEN SOUND NEWS.

Owen Sound, July 4.—J. K. Macdonald and family of Toronto were passengers on the City of Midland last night, en route to their summer residence on Lake Kagawong, Manitoulin.

Mr. Pulford, agent of the Massey-Harris Company, went up by the same steamer with several car loads of implements, for distribution at north shore points.

The lacrosse club will run an excursion to Hanover on Monday, when they play their second league game of the series with the Hanover team.

Contracts for sewers were awarded at last night's Council meeting to A. E. L. Malone for $5717.23 and N. B. Horton for $1522.10. The unsuccessful tenderers, John Cross and John Weldrick, allege to-day that the contracts were obtained by a breach of an understanding, whereby they were to be pooled among the several tenderers. This statement may lead to an investigation by the Council.

Sword & Gerolamy, grain dealers, shipped 45 car loads of peas to Liverpool, Eng., last week, sending them over the G.T.R. to Montreal.

There will be a large gathering of railway conductors here on the 19th, 20th and 21st inst. The Queen's Own band of Toronto will be engaged, and a sacred concert will be given at King's Royal Park on Sunday. The Stratford senior lacrosse team will play Owen Sound on Saturday, and other attractions will be provided.

FORTUNE IS LEFT TO ORPHANS.

Springfield, O., July 4.—John Gilmore, a farmer living near Galion, started for Mexico about 25 years ago to try his luck in the mining districts. He had just buried his wife, and he put his four small children in an orphans' home in Indianapolis. For 20 years he was supposed to be dead, and his children were placed in good homes. Four months ago Gilmore died at San Luis, Mexico, and he is reputed to have mine holdings worth $25,000,000. Before his death he arranged for his closest business associate, Charles Searle, to come north and look up his children. When they are brought together the estate will be settled. The eldest child, who is known by the name of John Hall, is stationed at Fort Riley, Kan.

THINGS MISS VINING SEES.

She Knows Wellbred Girls Who Have Weakness for Whisky.

Boston, July 4.—Miss Fioretta Vining has been interviewed upon her recent editorial, in which she expressed horror at the sight of young women drinking cocktails and other drinks in Hull, Mass. She said in part:

"It is a common thing to see in this city and in New York a young man and a young girl, each under 21 years of age, or parties of boys and girls, come into an hotel for a luncheon or a dinner and proceed to preface it with one or two cocktails, continuing thru the dinner to drink whiskey, de menthe, and conclude with champagne. I have no objection to their drinking a moderate amount of champagne, if they so desire, but it is appalling to see such young girls drinking whiskey. And they invariably lose control of themselves during such a dinner and commit follies that they regret all the rest of their lives.

"It is the fact that such proceedings are becoming matters of general custom that alarms me. I am a member of the Sorosis Club of New York, and I always stay at the Waldorf-Astoria when I am there, and I see sights which are astonishing. These girls of whom I speak are not working girls, but they are the daughters of respectable families, many of whom I know personally. They are well-to-do girls, well bred, well educated, and it is among girls of this class that the evil seems to be most strongly developed. I have traveled abroad considerably, and I don't hesitate to say that the conditions are worse in this country."

PROPHECY COMES TRUE.

DeWindt Picked Up on Siberian Coast By American Vessel.

San Francisco, Cal., July 4.—News brought by the steamer St. Paul from the Arctic says the English explorer, Harry DeWindt, and his party were picked up on the Siberian coast, probably at Indian Point, by the United States revenue cutter Thetis, under the command of Capt. Healey, about the middle of June.

DeWindt is attempting to go from Paris to New York via the Eastern route, and, if he reaches Nome, he will be sure to succeed.

Said He Would Be Picked Up.

London, July 4.—Considerable relief was experienced by Harry DeWindt's friends on the receipts of the news from San Francisco, that he and his party, which started Dec. 19, last, from Paris, in an attempt to travel overland from the French Capital to New York, had been picked up on the Siberian coast by the United States revenue cutter Thetis about the middle of June. On the day of his departure from London, DeWindt made this prediction:

"If the ice conditions in Behring Straits do not permit walking, a United States revenue cutter will pick us up, and news of the expedition may be expected in July, via America."

ADOPTED 13 WAIFS—INSANE.

A Wealthy Farmer's Philanthropic Efforts Land Him in an Asylum.

Binghamton, N. Y., July 4.—U. T. Wooster, a wealthy farmer, some time ago decided to distribute his wealth among those whom it would help, rather than among his heirs, who are all well-to-do. Accordingly, he adopted 13 homeless waifs, including several New York fresh-air children, whom he intended to educate and name as heirs to his large estate. When his heirs learned of his action, they applied for a commission in lunacy. Wooster was examined today and declared of unsound mind. He will be taken at once to Binghamton State Hospital, and a commission appointed to look after his estate.

LOW RECORD IN BRITISH IRON.

Returns From Factories in North England Show Decrease.

London, July 4.—Returns for the six months just ended show the production of all classes of manufactured iron in the North of England district to have been the smallest recorded in the history of the trade. The total was only 41,900 tons, compared with 46,206 tons for the same period of 1901, which was the previous worst half year. Compared with 1899 this year's output shows a diminution of 51 per cent.

WOMEN'S NATIONAL COUNCIL.

Toronto Delegates Take a Large Share in the Discussions.

St. John, N.B., July 4.—This afternoon's session of the National Council of Women was almost wholly devoted to the discussion of the report of the Dominion Teachers' Association, read by the secretary, Mrs. Harrington of Toronto, and a paper on "Music, Its National Influence," by Miss Torrington of the Toronto College of Music.

A Dominion certificate for teachers, instead of a provincial certificate, was the theme of the first mentioned, and called for considerable discussion. Local and visiting teachers will meet in session Monday morning to discuss the promotion of efforts to secure a Dominion license and appoint a committee to work in connection with the National Council for the purpose. Mrs. J. L. Hughes of Toronto gave an able address on education and practical religion.

To-night there was a public meeting, presided over by Mayor White, at which prison reform was discussed. Papers were read by Mrs. J. K. Barny, the well-known prison reform worker in connection with the W.C.T.U., and one prepared by Dr. Rosebrugh of Toronto, secretary of the Prisoners' Aid Association of Canada, was read by Mrs. Hughes. Both were comprehensive and listened to with interest by the large audience.

The meeting closed with a jarring note, owing to want of unanimity of opinion regarding jail conditions in this city.

RESENT KAISER'S POLICY.

Government Officials of Posen Decline to Take Part in Functions.

Berlin, July 4.—Eight Poles, holding official positions in the Province of Posen, Prussia, have decided to take the same attitude toward Emperor William during the approaching army manoeuvres as the nobility have previously been reported to have assumed. They are determined not to accept invitations to banquets, receptions or the gala opera, or to any function planned in honor of His Majesty.

The recalcitrant pupils of Wreschen School, with the exception of six, have now declared their willingness to accept religious instruction in the German language. They had all been punished by longer hours and extra tasks for eight months, since the Prussian ministry ordered the suspension of corporal punishment.

This and other administrative incidents constantly taking place in the Polish provinces are increasing the sullenness and bitterness of the inhabitants.

GEORGE MINTY'S BODY FOUND.

Winnipeg, Man., July 4.—The body of George Minty, who fell from a raft into the Pinewood River early this spring, and was drowned, was recovered this week only a short distance from where the accident happened. It was badly decomposed.

Died in Cobourg.

Cobourg, July 4.—Daniel Wallace, an old resident of this town, died suddenly this morning in his chair. He was a painter.

MONKEY AT NEWPORT DINNER.

Joseph Leiter's Jocko at Harry Lehr's Board in Full Dress.

Newport, July 4.—Probably the most novel dinner that was ever given in fashionable Newport took place last Saturday evening. The guest of honor was Jocko, a little African monkey owned by Joseph Leiter. Jocko is one of the crew of the steam yacht Taurus.

Last week Mr. Leiter came on from New York on the yacht. He had among his guests Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, who has an unrivalled reputation for getting up some novel entertainments.

When she cast her eye on Jocko an idea struck her. On the trip to Newport the monkey was taken to the saloon of the yacht and seated at the table. This was more for a rehearsal of what was coming later than anything else.

Arriving at Newport, Mrs. Fish began to carry her idea into effect. Jocko was taken ashore and driven to the tailor shop of Mr. O'Connor, who was informed that a fashionable suit of clothes was required for the little animal. Mr. O'Connor said that he had never done anything in that line and did not care to undertake the job. He was informed that he could name his own price if he would make the clothes, and was finally persuaded to do the work. It was a short order job at that, for the clothes must be made inside of three hours.

Jocko was then stood up on the cutting board and the work of taking his measure begun. The tailor says it was no easy task. Three hours later the clothes were called for and delivered, and the fit was so good that on Mr. Leiter's next visit to Newport the monkey's wardrobe is to be increased.

At 8 o'clock that evening Jocko was driven to Arleigh, the villa of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lehr, where he was the guest of honor at dinner. He had a seat at the table, and it is said that he behaved finely.

The suit he wore was a cardinal-colored cloth, trimmed with black braid and brass buttons. It was cut like a Russian blouse, with belt. A brown suit also was made, but it was reserved for another occasion.

ROSTAND IS HUMBLED.

Haughty French Dramatist Asks for Case to Be Reopened.

Chicago, July 4.—Rostand has at last heard of Gross. The real estate man's arrow, barbed with the word "plagiarist," has broken the sensitive cuticle of the poet, dramatist and member of the French Academy of "Immortals"; his pocketbook was also slightly touched, to all appearance. Anyhow, he writhes under the shortings of an amused world. He must have satisfaction if not revenge.

So Edmond Rostand, the poet, the dramatist, the "Immortal," now comes humbly beseeching a judge of Chicago, despised Chicago, to give him a chance to prove that he, Rostand, the poet of divine inspiration, and not that Gross person, the author of Grossdale, wrote "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Wants Case Reopened.

By his attorney, William Burry, Rostand went before Judge Kohlsaat yesterday afternoon, praying for a reopening of the case in which it was decided that "Cyrano de Bergerac" was plagiarized from "The Merchant Prince of Cornville," a child of Samuel Eberly Gross' brain. Judge Kohlsaat will think about it after listening to arguments for and against reopening next Thursday.

It is now Mr. Gross' time to laugh, and the time for his attorneys to furbish up their weapons of sarcasm, wit and satire. When Mr. Gross brought his suit to establish that "The Merchant Prince of Cornville" was the original of "Cyrano de Bergerac," and again when he won the suit, the transatlantic cables sagged under their cargoes of sneers and smiles and smirks and shrugs in words shipped from France. It was "another silly American joke." It was to laugh. It was "those funny people of Chee-ga-go, where the pigs come from." Anon it was an outrage.

Laugh is Turned.

But the laugh is now on the other side of the French countenance, especially Rostand's. When the suit was commenced Richard Mansfield, producer of "Cyrano" and payer of royalties to Rostand, was left to fight the battle alone against further production of "Cyrano" as a plagiarism. He got tired of carrying the load, and when the decree was pronounced in Mr. Gross' favor it was because the Mansfield attorneys consented, their principal having agreed to forego further presentation of "Cyrano." That resolution meant cessation of royalties to Rostand. Therefore he wan's vindication—also, perhaps, more royalties. His attorney as much as said so yesterday. Mr. Burry said that Judge Kohlsaat could not do otherwise than enter the order he did in Mr. Gross' favor in the original suit, since Mr. Mansfield declined to defend further, and consented to the decree, but since that meant cessation of royalties, Mr. Rostand felt moved to seek relief from the judicial decree that he was a plagiarist.

Samuel Eberly Gross was out of the city last evening, and it was impossible to ascertain whether he would cross legal swords with the Frenchman.

AERONAUT HIT A HOTEL.

Dropped on Chimney Top Rather Than Be Blown Out to Sea.

Long Branch, July 4.—Charles Litchfield, the aeronaut, made a sensational parachute leap this afternoon at the opening of the Business Men's Carnival and Street Fair. The ascension was made about a half-mile from the seashore, in a strong westerly wind, which carried his balloon rapidly toward the ocean.

Realizing the danger of dropping into the sea, the aeronaut cut from his balloon when at a height of about a quarter of a mile, landing on the top of the chimney of the Ocean Wave Hotel, directly on the Ocean drive.

In the descent he struck the chimney with such force as to tear away a portion of it, severely wrenching his right knee. The balloon was picked up a mile and a half off shore by Capt. Hennessey's fishing crew.

STRUCK BY BULLET AND KILLED

Alleged White Capper Killed and Nine Companions Injured.

Mammoth Springs, Ark., July 4.—As the result of an alleged attempt at whitecapping in Union, a small village in this county, yesterday morning, Pink Gibson, a well-known citizen, was blown to atoms with dynamite and nine other men were more or less seriously injured.

Harvey Sexton received warning that a band of Whitecappers were to visit his house with the avowed intention of killing him and blowing up the building with dynamite. Mr. Sexton barricaded his doors, and, with a rifle, kept a sharp lookout.

The alleged whitecappers appeared yesterday morning, and Sexton fired one shot. The bullet struck Gibson in the stomach, killing him instantly, and passed thru a pocket in which a stick of dynamite was carried. There was a terrific explosion, and the ground for yards around the unfortunate man was torn up. Nine of his companions were injured. Gibson was literally blown to atoms.

The whitecappers retreated. No arrests have been made.
