A double-header is scheduled for this afternoon, and an effort will be made to put a check, temporarily at least, to the flying leaders. The line-up for the first fame was unaltered from Friday with the exception of the batteries. Eddie Zimmerman, Newark's regular third baseman, is still out of the game. AMERICANS WIN THE DOUBLES NOW HAVE ONE GAME LEAD

Only Need to Win One Match on Monday to Lift the Davis Cup—Princess Mary Saw English Team Defeated—The Scores.

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 26.—By winning today the doubles match in the challenge round for the Dwight F. Davis lawn tennis trophy against the English holders, Maurice E. McLoughlin and Harold H. Hackett placed the United States team ahead in the series of five matches. They have won a singles match and a doubles match as against the Englishmen's one win in the singles, and the Americans need to win only one more match of the two to be played when the contest is resumed on Monday.

McLoughlin and Hackett were considered by experts a weak combination as compared with Barrett and Dixon at the beginning of today's match, but the young Californian by his brilliant play made up for the deficiencies of Hackett and the pair carried off the match by three sets to two, the score by sets being 5—7, 6—1, 2—6, 7—5 and 6—4.

H. Roper Barrett and C. P. Dixon formed the English pair, while Maurice E. McLoughlin and Harold H. Hackett represented the United States.

Barrett was suffering from a strained knee and had a slight limp which, however, was not serious enough to interfere greatly with his play.

McLoughlin apparently had fully recovered from the effects of yesterday's hard match, in which he was beaten by J. C. Parke.

The crowd was not so large as that of yesterday, but the stands were well filled and the standing room space was very popular with people enjoying the Saturday half holiday.

Princess Mary, daughter of King George, was an interested spectator from the royal box.

Barrett and Dixon carried off the first set by 7 games to 5 after a fight in which the greatest brilliancy on the part of McLoughlin failed to make up for the weakness of his partner, Hackett. Recognizing the weakness of the American combination the Englishmen played constantly to Hackett, who netted many returns after desperate rallies at the net.

The score by points in the first set was:

—First Set—

United States	4 2 2 4 4 2 4 2 4 4 2 2—36
England	1 4 4 2 1 4 1 4 6 1 4 4—36

The second set, which lasted only 12 minutes, was won by the American team by six games to one. McLoughlin played in his old-time form, smashed and drove with deadly accuracy. Hackett improved in this set, his accurate lobbing paving the way for many of his partner's smashes. After the set had reached three to one in favor of the Americans, McLoughlin took a love service and repeated the feat on Dixon's service. Then Hackett ended the set by taking a game on his service.

The score by points in the second set was:

—Second Set—

United States	4 4 5 2 4 4 4—27
England	1 2 3 4 0 0 3—13

In the third set the Englishmen steadily returned the ball to Hackett. These tactics gave them an easy win by six games to two, after they had got a start of two games by taking McLoughlin's service. McLoughlin never played better in his life than during this set. The set witnessed many exciting rallies, with all four players in the fore court.

The score by points in the third set was:

—Third Set—

England	5 4 4 1 1 0 2 6 8—40
United States	3 2 2 4 8 4 4 6—33

In the fourth set, while making a violent smash, McLoughlin broke his racket and lost a point, which brought Engr. and within one point of winning the match. Then, on his own service, with a new racket, he brought the game even. A terrific smash and his hurtling service gave the game to the Americans, placing them out of danger at five games all. Hackett then began to give a good account of himself at the net, and two double faults by Dixon gave the Americans the lead and they then won the set on Hackett's service.

Score by points:

—Fourth Set—

United States	0 4 5 2 5 4 1 1 4 4 4 5—41
England	4 1 7 4 3 0 4 0 4 2 3—36

In the fifth set the Americans won by 6 games to 4. The score by points was:

—Fifth Set—

United States	0 4 3 4 7 4 1 2 6 4—35
England	4 1 5 0 5 1 4 4 4 0—28

The fifth and final set was a battle royal between the two teams from the service of the first ball. The English pair made a stonewall at the net and often discomfited the challengers. England led only once in the set, when the games were two to one in their favor. Then the Americans made matters even by taking Barrett's service, and the set seemed theirs, as McLaughlin's service followed, but, after the Americans took this game, England retaliated by taking two straight games and making the score four-all. Then the Americans won a game on Barrett's service, which they had solved early in the match, and McLaughlin, with a love service, ended the set and won the match for the United States.
