TURK AUTHORITIES TAKING STEPS TO PREVENT MASSACRE

Non-Combatants of Constantinople Being Disarmed by the Soldiers.

FEAR OUTBREAK WHEN FORTS FALL

Bulgarian Corps Marching to Take the Sultan's Forts at the Dardanelles.

London, Nov. 10.—The Turkish Government, realizing what would happen in Constantinople if Nazim Bey cannot hold the lines, has thrust out a strong hand for order.

Orders came today for the speedy disarmament of the populace. Trusted troops are going about among the people taking firearms, knives and daggers. These are being stored at the war office.

The Minister of the Interior has issued a frank proclamation in an attempt to calm the storm so many fear will break out in the city if the army is again thrown back. He says there is yet hope for the Turks at Tchataldja. He warns the populace to stick to their daily business, and promises quick punishment for offenders.

Cholera Breaks Out.

From the front where Nazim Pasha still is locked with the Bulgars in his struggle to hold the Tchataldja line of defence, cholera has broken out among the Ottoman fighters. It is also stated that two more forts have been captured.

Through North Albania the combined Montenegrin and Servian armies are marching in the general direction of Scutari. A part of this army is moving towards Durazzo from Alessio. The advance of this army is being closely watched in Austria, for Durazzo is on the Adriatic, and the Serbs are treading ground that the Austrians have warned the world against.

To Capture Dardanelles Forts.

The correspondent of the Daily Mail at Constantinople hears that the Bulgars are marching towards Gallipoli, where the waters of the Dardanelles meet the Sea of Marmora. If this is true, the Bulgarians evidently intend to attempt the capture of the forts along the straits. The Greek fleet will, in the event of the success of the Bulgars, be able to steam through the Dardanelles up to the very shadows of the mosques of the capital.

It is reported from Uskub that a second artillery division under General Stephanovitch arrived before Adrianople Tuesday to assist the Bulgarians. Visits to prisoners of war, of which there are 6,000 here, have been prohibited owing to the prevalence of typhoid among them.

The capture of Dibra, an important town in Albania, by the Servians after heavy fighting, constitutes all the military news of importance since Friday.

Some idea of the bloody nature of this war may be formed from the fact that it is now estimated that 150,000 men have been put out of action on both sides since the opening of hostilities. The Turkish Government clearly has little hope of holding the Tchataldja lines. The dispatch of 100 Ulemas to the front with the avowed intention to stir up religious fanaticism in the army, is interpreted as the counsel of despair.

There is no confirmation of the report that the Turkish Government has opened direct negotiations with the allies. Turkey's immediate object appears to be to gain time, hoping for something from the rivalries of the European powers. She is also making urgent diplomatic efforts to prevent the Bulgarian troops from entering Constantinople. In this connection there is an idea prevalent in Sofia that some important diplomatic action is on foot to this end.

According to advices from Adrianople the bombardment continues. The Turks are now using aeroplanes.

A Rousing Appetite Is a Keen Delight

And What is of Greater Interest, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Enable the Stomach to Digest Whatever Is Eaten.

We all like to see the way healthy children devour their meals. Would we could all do the same! Eating ought to be a delight. It is one of life's chief enjoyments. People who cannot relish a good meal are apt to fall into those ill-tempered moods from which they view the world as a sorry place to live in. So let us learn to employ the best means of harmonizing our existence and thus extract from our daily grind all the pleasure there is to be had. This we can do by keeping our stomachs in prime, active working order.

A majority of people have come to know the blessings which an occasional use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets confer upon the stomach. They are unquestionably the most popular remedy known, for the reason that dyspepsia is the national disease, and these wonderful little tablets have long since acquired a national reputation as a thoroughly reliable and efficient cure for all forms of dyspepsia and indigestion.

No matter how great the excess of food taken into the stomach, one or two of these tablets will digest every particle of it. A package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should always be in the house. Many a person has saved himself from a serious attack of acute indigestion by using them after heavy meals, such as are eaten Christmas, New Year's, Thanksgiving and other holidays and festal seasons.

After attending banquets, late suppers, heavy fancy dinners, after-theatre parties, etc., where one has dined sumptuously and luxuriantly, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets should invariably be used, as they digest the food perfectly and completely, and prevent all possibility of dyspepsia, which, without their use, is more than likely to ensue.

Americans are exceedingly fond of the good things of life, and there is apt to be great excess of eating, and the only way to overcome its bad effects on the stomach is to employ a powerful and efficient digestive such as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which always insure a good digestion.

EUROPEAN SITUATION IS NOT HOPELESS

Political Plight May Be Cleared Up Without Extension of the War.

Paris, Nov. 10.—"Dangerous, but not hopeless," is the way the political plight in which Europe finds herself is summed up in official circles in Paris. The diplomatic controversy between Austria and Servia over the question of Servia's access to the Adriatic has the centre of the stage, overshadowing all else.

Efforts at mediation have been postponed because of this, as the complication retards the attempts to bring the powers into accord. A hopeful feature in the situation lies in the knowledge that powerful influence is at work on both sides to induce the disputants to find a compromise for the vexatious question.

Should this fail Europe would find herself threatened by a deadlock between the Triple Alliance and the Triple Entente — Austria, Germany and Italy as opposed to Great Britain, France and Russia—full of possible complications.

Discussing the complexities of the situation, a prominent diplomat said:

"I think we should not be too pessimistic. It is almost certain that we shall pass through difficult and dangerous chapters before the gloom is dissipated, but I think that we can reasonably expect that Austria and Servia will eventually settle their differences in an amicable way."

MANN BREAKS OUT WITH FIERY WORDS

Declares He Is Ready to Act as a Rebel in Event of War.

London, Nov. 10.—Tom Mann, the Labor leader, who served time in jail for a speech he made some time ago advising soldiers not to obey orders when it came down to shooting strikers, made a sensational speech at a Syndicalist meeting in London tonight.

He moved a resolution denouncing international wars as calamitous to workingmen, and said the only war which would merit their attention was a class war. The resolution affirmed that if Great Britain entered into any war the workmen would resort to a general strike to prevent supplies from going forward to the army and navy. This resolution was carried by acclamation amid tremendous applause.

Mann, introducing the resolution, said he was prepared to act as a rebel in the event of war, and was prepared to incite others to rebellion and mutiny.

FAREWELL SERMONS BY REV. C. M. CAREW

A Large Congregation Heard Pastor at Maitland Street Baptist Church.

Yesterday Rev. C. M. Carew, pastor of the Maitland Street Baptist Church, preached farewell sermons to large congregations both morning and evening. Mr. Carew has been connected with the Maitland street church for over ten years, and during that time has witnessed the growth of the congregation from its origin to its present healthy and flourishing condition. He leaves this week to become associate pastor in the Jarvis Street Baptist Church, Toronto.

In bidding farewell to his flock, Mr. Carew charged them not to be disappointed in his successor, who, while striving to do his best, was liable to make mistakes, just as he himself had made numerous errors. Everyone had their faults, and were liable to make mistakes. It was the true trend of human nature to do so. He also warned them not to be too confident of the future. The congregation should forget their past successes and build greater plans for future work. By remembering former achievements an independent spirit frequently developed in the various organizations of the church which was very detrimental to its interests and growth.

The minister stated that if the foundations of the church were explored they would find his name mortared in the walls. Similarly he would like to have his name and thoughts of himself mortared in their hearts after his departure. He also petitioned them to remember him in their prayers.
