THE SPORTING WORLD.

FALL REGATTA OF THE ARGONAUT ROWING CLUB.

Seven Races—Five Four-Oared Heats, One Single Scull Shell Race and a Canoe Race—Other Sporting Events.

The fall races of the Argonaut rowing club were held on Saturday. The water was in splendid condition, and a large and fashionable audience viewed the sport from the club's verandah. The course was from the Northern elevator to a buoy placed opposite the club house, a distance of about half a mile.

The first race was the fours, which was rowed in heats. The first heat was started at 3 o'clock, between the following crews:

The President, stroke,	A. G. Thompson, stroke,
A. W. Fraser,	G. de C. O'Grady,
A. Elliott	E. A. Meredith,
W. Wasson, bow.	Walter Fernie, bow.

The crews got off well together, but the President's gradually gained on the Thompson crew and won the heat by one and a half lengths. After a great deal of unnecessary delay the second heat got at the starting point about 4 o'clock, the crews being:

W. Ince, jr., stroke,	H. N. Wallace, stroke,
Oliver Murphy,	D. Armour,
F. C. Campbell,	H. T. Brock,
A. W. Murphy, bow.	A. G. Ross, bow.

The Ince crew won this heat, after a hard struggle, by half a boat length. The third heat was then started, between the following crews:

L. V. Percival, stroke,	W. R. Moffatt, stroke,
G. H. C. Dunstan,	G. W. Allan, jr.,
G. H. Jarvis,	L. H. Waittemore,
M. Mackenzie, bow.	H. B. Boulton, bow.

The Moffatt crew won this heat easily by two boat lengths. The fourth heat was pulled between the winners of the first and second heats, namely, the President's crew and the Ince crew. The Ince crew won this heat, leading from the starting point, and crossing the line one and a half lengths ahead.

The single scull race for the Dufferin medal was then rowed. The entries were L. V. Percival and H. N. Wallace. They got away well together, and it was doubtful which had the best of it, when an accident occurred to Wallace. A boat containing three persons deliberately got in his way and ran into him, smashing his shell so that it is beyond repair, and capsizing him into the water. From this point Percival, of course, had a clear walk over.

The final heat of the fours was then pulled between the winners of the third and fourth heats, the Ince crew winning by about half a length. It was the hardest and best race of the afternoon.

The canoe race was paddled for a prize presented by the president, the starters being M. Mackenzie and H. E. Wyatt. Mackenzie won by about half a length.

The single scull skiff race was postponed until next Saturday.

In the club room during the afternoon dancing was indulged in, and refreshments served. The prizes were distributed by Mrs. Ryerson and Miss O'Brien. The Ince crew received four handsome silver cups presented by C. E. Ryerson. Mr. Percival got the Dufferin medal as winner of the single scull shell race. The president addressed the assembly with a few suitable remarks, which brought the meeting to a close.

BASEBALL.

A game of baseball was played in the queen's park Saturday, between the employees of R. McCleary's factory and those of Moses & Co., the score being 39 in favor of the McCleary boys. Mr. Thomas Lawrence was umpire.

ROWING.

KELLY AND TRICKETT.

A letter from Harry Kelly says that his and Trickett's baggage were lost on the trip from Toronto to Creve Cour lake. They hold tickets for each piece and will hold the railway companies responsible. Kelly says the race is already much talked about, and adds that Trickett has made many friends among the Southerners by his unassuming and quiet manners, and is the favorite in betting circles.

YACHTING.

THE MADGE AGAIN VICTORIOUS.

The Scotch cutter Madge raced Thursday with sloop-yacht Mistral, and beat her handsomely, in a "thrash" out to the lightship against a heavy sea and with a reefing breeze from the eastward. The time of the two boats may be seen by the following table:

	Over All.	Water Line.	Beam.
Madge.....	41 ft. 10 in.	33 ft. 8 in.	7 ft. 9½ in.
Mistral.....	39 ft. 11½ in.	25 ft. 7 in.	15 ft.

The course was that of the New York club. The two yachts got away well together at 10.45, and presented a very pretty sight sailing down the bay without their topsails.

The Madge took the lead from the start, and went through every sea instead of doing it as her antagonist did. At 11.30 the Mistral tied down two reefs in her mainsail, and the Madge housed her topsail. Shortly after passing buoy No. 10 the Madge tried down a reef on her mainsail and the Mistral substituted a forestaysail for her jib. When the Madge rounded the lightship the Mistral was about a mile and half to leeward. While the Madge was passing the light-ship the jib of the Mistral went from the foot to the head. She was obliged to round to while she set her mainsail again. The Madge completed the course in 6 hrs. 14 min. and 5 seconds.

FALLEN UPON HAPPY TIMES.

Speaking at Port Huron last Thursday night, Mr. Charlton, M.P., said: Our gain in exports in the last two and a half years were nearly as great as in the preceding five years, and the present government had fallen upon happy times. It was to be hoped in the country's interest that they would have to meet the consequences of no such year as was 1877, when the Dominion had $2,183,000 short of raising its own expenditure. This disastrous year had no doubt a marked effect upon the result of the general election, which came the following year.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL ANNIVERSARIES.

Yesterday was the sixty-third anniversary of the Metropolitan Methodist church Sabbath-school. Special services were held in the church, Rev. S. P. Rose, pastor-in-charge, officiating, and in the afternoon an open meeting was held in the school room. Addresses were made by Hon. S. H. Blake, Rev. S. P. Rose, Rev. Dr. Castle, Rev. Dr. Potts, and Mr. J. B. Poustead, superintendent. The Jesse Ketchum prizes were awarded for good conduct, recitation and punctual attendance. Certificates of attendance and honor rolls were also distributed. The average attendance of the Sunday-school is 420. The amount of money collected for missionary purposes was $502. The amount collected for purposes of the school was $990.

Anniversary services were also held at Parliament street Primitive Methodist church yesterday. Rev. E. Middleton preached at 11 a.m., and Rev. T. Sims at 7 p.m. A meeting was held in the afternoon, when Rev. R. Cade and Mr. D. McLean addressed the children and friends. The children give an entertainment tonight.

Early Saturday morning, a woman named Ward became enraged because they would not give her liquor at Williams' hotel, Queen and William streets, and smashed sixteen panes of glass with her bare fists, which were fearfully lacerated. A policeman lodged the woman in No. 2 station.

COME UP, BOYS.

Mr. Rine at Albert Hall Yesterday—Experience of Reformed Men.

The meeting at Albert hall yesterday afternoon showed that "the old man," as his admirers affectionately call him, had not been forgotten by his Toronto friends. The hall was packed, and quite a number were unable to gain admission.

Mr. Henry Hazard occupied the chair, and called upon a number of reformed men to relate their experience. The first was Mr. Burlington, who signed the pledge at the beginning of the year 1877. He gave a vivid account of his life previous to that time. Mr. Sutliffe said: "If there's any bummers here to-day, sign the pledge—don't break it; stick to it—it'll do you good." He was glad to see the "old man" back again. He was nearly dead in the hospital about two months ago, and when he heard that Mr. Rine was coming back it seemed to bring him back to life again.

Mr. Knibs was the next one called. He was induced to sign the pledge on New years day 1879, at one of the Rine meetings in the little church at the corner of University and Elm streets. We may add that Mr. Knibs has attained an honored position among his fellow workmen, having been chosen delegate of the laborers' union to the Trades council. All these speakers made a favorable impression—their speech was rugged, their appearance that of plain men, but they spoke with all the force of conviction.

Mr. Rine was then called upon and made one of his characteristic speeches—with little in it that was original, and yet delivered with a fire and earnestness that evoked frequent rounds of applause. "Do you mind," he said, "how I used to call out to you? Well, I believe I did that more in Toronto than anywhere else—and now I say again, 'Come along, boys, and sign.'" Then he got the people to sing "Hold the Fort," according to his custom, and kept shouting out "That's right; come on, men, and sign—everybody sign."

A number of people responded to the invitation, but the fire has hardly taken hold yet. Doubtless in the coming week we may look for a repetition of the old scenes.

In the evening Mr. Rine addressed a meeting in the Temperance hall at Elm and University streets. The house was full, and many signed the pledge.

The following graduates of the Royal military college are appointed lieutenants in the militia, to date from 25th June, 1881: Company Sergeant-Major John Abram Lowell, Sergeant William George Barnstorff Lombe, Company Sergeant-Major Alexander Talmot Daniel, Corporal William John McCrimney, Sergeant Berton Wynne Yates, Sergeant James Walker Sears, Lance-Corporal Edward Ford, Sergeant George William Shaw, Sergeant Robert Cartwright, Corporal William Robert Greig, Sergeant Ernest William Hubbell, Sergeant Edward Hazen Drury.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

James Carroll, a cabman, was fined $2 for overcharging the president of the court of appeals 15 cents.

"Fined $10 and costs," said the court to Margaret Brown, who was up for assaulting Annie Thompson. Both are York street characters.

Tom Phair was ordered by the magistrate Saturday to find sureties to keep the peace towards Thos. H. Blakeley.

PERSONAL CHIT CHAT.

Ex-president and Mrs. Hayes probably will sail for England this month.

Arthur is the first Vermont man that ever occupied the presidential chair.

It is said Blaine and Grant had not spoken to one another since the Chicago convention until they met in Washington recently.

Gambetta, the French statesman, is followed from place to place by forty to sixty reporters. Yet they call France a free country.

The resignation of First Lieutenant F. D. Grant, Fourth cavalry, son of the ex-president, has been accepted by the president, to take effect to-morrow.

Mr. D. Miller of the Merchants' Bank, Owen Sound, will leave shortly to assume the management of the Winnipeg branch of the same bank.

There are sixty papers and periodicals in the United States openly edited and published by women. But this, of course, gives but a fractional idea of the extent of woman's connection with journalism, and the number of women who are regular contributors to newspapers is doubtless too large to be easily obtained.

Sir Charles Tupper and Lady Tupper arrived in the city from the west Saturday, and went to the Rossin house. They were accompanied by Col. and Mrs. Clerke, Halifax; Mr. A. Robertson, Montreal; Hon. Dr. Parker, Halifax; M. C. Schreiber and Mr. L. R. Jones, Ottawa; Mr. D. Pottinger, Montreal, and Mr. H. D. Gamble, Toronto. The party came through from Winnipeg on a special car. They go east to day.

When Judge Tourgee wrote the first draft of his "Bricks Without Straw," he was editing an evening journal in Denver. He worked on his paper all day, and every night for several months wrote a few pages of his novel. When he stopped at last to revise his MS., he found that it gave evidence that it had been written when he was tired. He immediately destroyed it, and when he could give a fresh mind to it he rapidly rewrote it.
