CINCINNATI, Aug. 31—The excitement over the result of the prize fight is intense. Jones clearly failed after the terrific blows delivered in the first round. Just before the battle, Jones bantered McCool for a bet of $1000 that he would knock him down first. McCool had no money and no body took the bet. Jones was knocked down in every round. McCool was comparatively unharmed. Two of Jones' ribs were broken and frontal bone crushed in. He was conveyed to Hamilton, Ohio, in a carriage, where he now lies. McCool forced the fighting all along, while Jones acted on the defensive.

The Times' special says the President has verbally offered the portfolio of Secretary of State to Reverdy Johnson. It is believed that he will accept.

NEW YORK, Aug. 30—Bridget Durgan, the murderess of Mrs Carrell, was executed at New Brunswick, to-day. She made a full confession. She had no accomplices, but committed the deed hoping to take Mrs Carrell's place in the household.

Twenty-five thousand emigrants arrived to-day.

The servant girls held a mouster meeting on Saturday night, protesting against further demands of money for the Fenians. Resolutions questioning the honesty of previous expenditures and the propriety of attempting to liberate Ireland by subjugating Canada were adopted.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Sept. 1—A large conservative meeting held here to-day, was addressed by colored speakers. The resolutions demand the enfranchisement of all whites, and declare the right of negroes to hold office. There was a demonstration by radical blacks at night to mob the colored speakers.

DETROIT, Sept. 7—Professor Walson, of the Michigan University, reports as follows: "On Friday night while observing in the vicinity of the planet Neptune, I discovered still another planet, hitherto unknown. In brilliancy it is equal to a star of the eleventh magnitude. It is situated in the eighth ascension, 14 deg. 15 min., and in declension, 6 deg 10 min. north."

CLEVELAND, Sept. 6—As much of the proceedings of the Fenian Congress as has transpired, shows, in yesterday's session, the adoption of a resolution on Meagher's death, and the appointment of a committee to confer with the Fenian Sisterhood and other additional matters. The Military Committee reported concerning American citizens in British prisons, and a communication purporting to be from the acting Attorney General of the United States, stating that the Fenian arms heretofore seized by the Government are now released. In all of the weightier matters strict secresy was observed. After a stormy and spirited session the Convention adopted a resolution, recommending the founding of a secret order with the general characteristics of the Masonic or Odd Fellows' fraternity.

RICHMOND, Sept: 8—The total number of voters is 216,000. The ratio of voters is 11 whites to 9 blacks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—The Times' special says the result of the California election produced much good feeling with the President and his friends of the political firm of Blair, Black & Co. Johnson looks upon it as an endorsement of his position, making an ebb tide of the radical flood. The effect will be to cause him to persevere in his present course.

The friends of Fred. Douglas, whose name has been mentioned in connection with the place of Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau, assert that he would not accept the office at the hands of Johnson.

The London Globe says it is not unlikely that Lord Stanley and Disraeli will visit Ireland during the recess of Parliament.

The Times to-day editorially comments on the correspondence in the Alabama case, and remarks that Seward shows by his dispatches that he is unwilling to forego by definite settlement the peculiar ground of complaint against England, and like a lawyer, is less anxious for judgment than to prolong litigation.

The Times asserts the counter claims of England as a balance and complains that Seward declines to adopt the plan of a mixed commission proposed by himself. It concludes by saying Lord Stanley has all along acted in good faith with the determination of not giving capital to a certain class of American politicians, who are for ever seeking cause of complaint against England, but under the circumstances he will wait until the United States Government reduces its pretensions.

Mexico.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The Herald's City of Mexico letter, dated July 29th, says Juarez has completed the formation of a new cabinet, and the country is divided into military districts, to which Regules, Diaz and Escobedo, Corona and Alvarez, have been assigned.

European Affairs.

NAPOLEON AND THE SULTAN.

The Memorial Diplomatique, of Paris, July 18th, says: The Emperor Napoleon remained in conference with the Sultan on the day of his departure for London for three quarters of an hour. On the previous Sunday Napoleon III also had held a private conversation with his august guest at St. Cloud, which lasted several hours, Djemil Pacha acting as interpreter. We have reasons to believe that the Emperor took advantage of the Sultan's stay at Paris to again urge the friendly counsels which M. Bourree, on his nomination as Ambassador, had been charged to carry to Constantinople, and to which he made allusion in presenting his credentials. The Sultan, through both Fuad Pacha and Djemil Pacha, has expressed the most sincere gratitude for the friendship shown by the Emperor of the French as to the integrity and stability of the Ottoman Empire, and has promised to devote all his efforts to the amelioration of the position of his Christian subjects, as France has continually advised him, as the only efficacious means of avoiding a new crisis in the East.

THE FRENCH FLEET.

The naval appropriation clauses of the French budget were debated in the legislative body on the 18th of July, when M. Bethmont said there ought to be laid before members a programme as to the materiel. Admiral Rigault de Genouilly maintained that one hundred and sixty-seven vessels would be amply sufficient. With respect to what might be required in the Levant, the iron-plated squadron at Toulon would always suffice; and in China, Cochin China and Japan the relations of France were excellent. The honorable gentleman desired a programme, but to give one would be folly, for it would enlighten possible enemies as to the naval resources of France.

The Toulonnois of July 18th says: The roadstead at the Hyeres Island presents just now a magnificent spectacle. The entire ironclad Mediterranean squadron of France, under command of Admiral De Gueydon, lies ranged in order of battle within a few hundred yards of the shore. It comprises the Solferino, Normandie. Heroine, Invincible, Couronne, Provence, Cato, Devastation, floating battery, besides the Louis XIV, wooden three-decker. The English armored squadron lies at anchor on the right: the Royal Oak, thirty-five guns; the Arethusa, thirty-five; and the Caledonia, twenty-four, of large calibre.

Galignani's Messenger of July 19th, speaking of the expected arrival of the Dunderberg, in France, says: The largest dock at Cherbourg is under preparation for the reception ot this huge vessel, which is to undergo careening immediately on her arrival.

BEREZOWSKI.

The correspondent of the New York Tribune says: You will not be apt to find—but Russians may—in the trial of Berezowski signs of an unfriendly French feeling. I mean of political feeling shared by the French Government. His advocate was allowed full latitude for his defence, and doubtless the strongest argument to the jury was Arago's (son of Francis Arago) presentation to them of documentary proofs of Russian horrors committed on the Poles. Berezowski's own bearing was greatly in his favor. He denied nothing, was perfectly respectful to the Court, but with entire calmness—mildness, even—he maintained his right to kill the murderer of his country; regretting only that he should have risked the French Emperor's life. The Prosecuting Attorney and the presiding Judge, who in French Criminal Courts acts much the part of a prosecuting officer, showed unusual consideration for the youth of the prisoner, and the provocation under which he committed his mad act. The jury, after twenty minutes' deliberation, found him guilty, with extenuating circumstances, and the Court pronounced a verdict of hard labor for life. Berezowski listened to the decision with great calmness. As he was led out, many of the young advocates pressed the assassin's hands. Everybody agrees that the verdict could not be less severe. Nobody justifies the attempt at assassination; but the general pity for the boy and sympathy for his country palliate the crime—find it the almost pardonable act of a political enthusiast driven mad brooding over his country's wrongs. His father, who did his utmost—threatening him with his malediction—to prevent Berezowski, then a boy of sixteen, from taking part in the insurrection, is in prison; his brother is in Siberia. Here is an extract from one of the circulars of Mouravieff, dated July 25th, 1863: "Those (insurgents) who still wander in the forests are obstinate rebels, hardened in wickedness, and unworthy of pity. I, therefore, hereby order that these rebels, after their capture, and especially if they are proprietors or Catholic priests, be immediately brought before Court martials, condemned to death, and executed within twenty-four hours."

AUSTRIA.

The mail news from Galicia is deplorable. In Western Galicia three-quarters of the harvest and hay is stated to have been destroyed. As yet the accounts of devastation by floods are imperfect, as the communication with Lemberg is interrupted, but it is feared that many lives have been lost. The railroad from Cracow to Lemberg has suffered great damage. Eight large bridges have been totally or partially swept away.

General Tur has addressed a letter to the editor of the Hon, at Pesth, in which he says: "If we look around we see how all nations are consolidating in groups, and woe will be to us if we remain isolated, opposed to the hatred of our neighbors. The greatest danger that threatens us comes from the Muscovite. The only means we have to remove this danger is to settle our relations with Croatia on the basis of entire autonomy, on either side, and to fulfil all the reasonable demands of the nationalities living within Hungary. Let us throw aside a policy of jealousy and distrust. Do not let us see in every shadow a reason for fear. Let us, on the contrary, hold out a helping hand to the South and West slaves in their endeavors for development. The Hungarians ought to make it one of their chief tasks to assist the slaves in reobtaining their national life on the basis of liberty. The Muscovite can only promise them a great slave empire, but no liberty, and it is only through liberty that we can put an impassable barrier in the way of the Muscovite."

PRUSSIA.

The Prussian Government has commissioned General de Moltke, the chief organizer of the late campaign in Germany, to study the strategical plan of a new railway in Silesia. The General is accompanied by a considerable number of officers.

The Germans residing in China have sent to Count Bismarck, as a mark of their esteem, a silver gilt cup, weighing six pounds, of elegant workmanship.

TURKEY.

The Roumanian Moniteur of Bucharest, July 17th, contains an account of a popular disturbance at Galatz, during which several Jews were thrown into the Danube, and announces that the Roumanian Government have sent a Commission to Galatz, with instructions to fully investigate the matter.

A despatch from Bucharest of July 19th says: The conduct of the Turkish commander in throwing six Israelites into the Danube has aroused so strong a feeling here that the Roumanian Governmept has abandoned the idea of sending away any more Turkish vagabonds.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

A compound remedy, in which we have labored to produce the most effectual alterative that can be made. It is a concentrated extract of Para Sarsaparilla, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effective antidote for the diseases Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. It is believed that such a remedy is wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found of the following complaints:

SCROFULA AND SCROFULOUS COMPLAINTS, ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREAUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE, OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

This compound will be found a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the foul humors which fester in the blood at that season of the year. By the timely expulsion of them many rankling disorders are nipped in the bud. Multitudes can, by the aid of this remedy, spare themselves from the endurance of foul eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system will strive to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find it is obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it whenever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, for cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of life disordered, there can be no lasting health. Sooner or later something must go wrong, and the great machinery of life is disordered or overthrown.

Sarsaparilla has, and deserves much, the reputation of accomplishing these ends. But the world has been egregiously deceived by preparations of it, partly because the drug alone has not all the virtue that is claimed for it, but more because many preparations, pretending to be concentrated extracts of it, contain but little of the virtue of Sarsaparilla, or any thing else.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of these have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence, bitter and painful disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself is justly despised, and has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound Sarsaparilla, and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. And we think we have ground for believing it has virtues which are irresistible by the ordinary run of the diseases it is intended to cure. In order to secure their complete eradication from the system, the remedy should be judiciously taken according to directions on the bottle.
