HIGHLANDERS CREATE A FURORE IN OPENING CANADIAN BUILDING

Senate Reading Room 1Jan02 SENATE PO

Grand Spectacle Presented by ...rch Thru Pan-American Grounds—Hon. Dr. Borden, ...rator of the Day, Spoke for Canada.

Buffalo, July 1.—To-day was Dominion Day in Canada and in Buffalo. It was the occasion of Canada's first public display at the Pan-American Exposition, the occasion of the biggest demonstration she has perhaps ever made in this city. It was still more than that. It was a time of generous greeting between the land to the north and the land to the south of the great waters. British and American soldiers marched in the same line and both carried arms of destruction. All in all, it was a great and unusual day. It was productive of many of the little incidents which tend to weld the peoples of different countries together, to solidify their interests and to implant, in their hearts, love for each other.

Pleased With Canada.

The support the Exposition has received from Canada has been a source of much enjoyment to the Exposition officials. She has sent many distinguished men here to see the Fair, has erected a handsome building, and has spent a great deal of money arranging for a suitable display of the Dominion resources and products.

The exercises, which were arranged to take place in the Temple of Music at 10.30 o'clock, were planned both to dedicate the Canadian building and commemorate Canadian day. The Highland Regiment went to the Iroquois Hotel shortly before 10 o'clock to escort Hon. Dr. F. W. Borden, Minister of Militia of Canada, and his staff to the grounds.

The Kilties Create a Furore.

A large crowd gathered about the hotel and along Main-street. Led by the company of United States Marines which is quartered at the Exposition grounds, and by their own regiment band and company of pipers, the Highlanders started away from the hotel about 10.40 o'clock ahead of Dr. Borden and a number of other distinguished Canadians, as well as prominent Buffalonians. It has been a long time since an armed body of Canadian soldiers marched in the streets of Buffalo, and it is safe to say that a more picturesque body will never again be seen.

Cheers for the Visitors.

Crowds lined the curbs all the way up Main-street and for a long distance out Delaware-avenue, and everyone was enthusiastic. Cheers greeted the Britishers continually. It was 12 o'clock when Dr. Borden, Minister of Militia, accompanied by the members of his staff, marched along the forecourt in front of the picturesque Highlanders, who stood with arms to shoulder, and the pretty United States Marines, who presented arms. A large crowd had congregated on the triumphal bridge, along the approach and on the Esplanade, and people cheered enthusiastically when the distinguished Canadians and the prominent Buffalonians came along.

Grand Spectacle.

It was a grand spectacle—the passage of the line thru the beautiful Lincoln Parkway gate and the march down the magnin-

TORONTO TURNED OUT IN ALL ITS MIGHT TO PROPERLY OBSERVE DOMINION DAY

Patriotic Demonstration in Queen's Park—Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Hon. G. E. Foster, Lieut.-Col. Mason and Mayor Howland Delivered Stirring Addresses—Record Crowds Enjoy the Special Attractions Provided in Honor of the Day.

Miss Canada's thirty-fourth birthday was fervently and happily honored in Toronto. Citizens of all classes entered jubilantly into the spirit of the occasion, and, altho the hot wave remained with us, the weather was nevertheless pleasant for the holiday makers, and the first Dominion Day of the 20th century and of the reign of King Edward VII passed off with more enthusiasm and all-round appearances of happiness than has characterized any previous celebration in Toronto of Canada's natal day.

It was too warm to do honor to "Our Lady of the Snows" indoors, and the citizens started out very early in the morning to make a whole day of it. The steady stream of people hurrying to catch the early boats was almost as large as the procession of toilers, who proceed to their labors in the factories on working days. Everyone wore their good clothes, and anticipation of a day's real enjoyment was written upon their smiling features.

The city demonstration started before the sun began to use its hottest rays. At 8 o'clock the brazen clanging of innumerable bells, led by the notorious Big Ben in the City Hall tower, told people to wish Miss Canada many happy returns of the day, and was a signal to those who were to participate in the street parade and birthday ceremonies in Queen's Park to get ready.

One hour later there was much activity around the Armouries, and the marshals commenced the task of getting the paraders in position to march off as soon after 10 o'clock as possible.

From nearly every flag staff in the city the Union Jack or the Canadian flag flaunted merrily in the breeze, and stores and residences along the route chosen for the procession were generously decorated with banners, flags and bunting. Men, women and children wore the Maple Leaf, and thousands of people wore badges, which had been provided by the Citizens' Committee.

The mercury in its enthusiasm began to rise rapidly at about 10 o'clock and changed the minds of many who had intended to walk in the parade, but on second consideration preferred to take the shortest route on the shady side of the street to Queen's Park. Therefore the procession was much shorter than had been expected, but it was a good step toward the desired idea of a fixed plan of celebrating Dominion Day.

In Queen's Park the speeches were brimful of patriotism and were enthusiastically received by a crowd of thousands of citizens. This part of the day's program was concluded in time for dinner, and the committee, who labored so faithfully to make it a success, were satisfied

The baseball matches, morning and afternoon, drew large audiences. The lacrosse games at Rosedale and the Island were also well patronized. There were amateur games galore thruout the city. A record crowd visited the Island, and the cool waters of the lake were sought by hundreds of bathers. Munro Park entertained one of the largest crowds in its history, while High Park and the lake shore road were more than ever popular breathing spots. The regatta arranged by the Citizens' Committee proved a splendid attraction, and so did the band concerts in the parks in the evening.

Many old boys and girls left for their native heath to spend the day, but apparently just as many came into the city, for regardless of the fact that so many people were at the adjacent summer resorts and at the various sports, the down town streets seemed to be unusually alive with people all day.

It was truly a splendid holiday.

The Citizens' Procession.

There was some difficulty on Queen's-avenue in forming the parading bodies into line, owing principally to the fact that so many decided at the last minute not to march in the broiling sun. Some organizations that were expected were conspicuously absent. The Public school drill companies were missing, and so were the uniformed corps of societies and minor bodies. The gaps were soon

Old Boys' Associations Swelled Population of Outside Places and Gave Celebrations An Enthusiastic Turn—Woodstock, the Newest City, Launched On Its Career.

All over the province, in every habitation, presuming to be even a hamlet, the celebration of Dominion Day was co-incident with the return of Old Boys to the old firesides. This fact made the celebrations everywhere take a more than usually enthusiastic turn. A program of sports, a procession winding up with speech-making and the gathering of persons who had not met for 20 or more years were the features in all outside cities, towns and villages. Many eyes turned to Woodstock, which combined a gathering of the clan of Old Boys and the celebration of the national holiday, with the inauguration of the Industrial City, the newest in Canada. It was a happy thought.

WOODSTOCK A CITY.

Woodstock, July 1.—(Special.)—Woodstock is now a city duly inaugurated. This morning at 11 Mayor Mearns, in the presence of 15,000 people, in Victoria Park, announced the fact that by order of the Ontario Government Woodstock was ushered into the exclusive circle of cities under the name of the Industrial City.

Happily Chosen.

The occasion of the inauguration was happily chosen, for the gathering of the clans of Old Boys made the city brimful of people, who lent an air to the formalities that would otherwise have been sadly lacking. The biggest gathering of Old Boys ever seen in Canada witnessed the inauguration ceremonies.

The program began at 9.30, when a fine parade, showing the industrial capacity of the city, marched thru the streets. Karn's Organ Company, Stewart's Stove Works, Richardson's Soap Works, the Biscuit Factory and Bain's Wagon Works all had creditable showings. The procession wound up at Victoria Park.

Five Minute Speeches.

After Mayor Mearns had announced the city's birth, it was followed in five-minute speeches by Hon. James Sutherland, Andrew Pattullo, M.L.A.; Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., Toronto, and Dr. Fraser, president of the Royal Veterinary College of Great Britain, an old Woodstock boy.

The Hit of the Day.

The last-named made the speech of the day. He referred to the sturdy manhood and loveable womanhood of Woodstock as the best in the world, as he had seen it. He was proud of his Woodstock origin. He had lived 30 years in England, and had come to the conclusion that Canada was the finest country in the world, and that the young and the middle-aged men of Canada were the most intelligent and progressive.

Others Conspicuous.

Besides the speakers, there were on the platform ex-Mayor Scarff, the city council-

LIFE CLAIMED BY TROLLEY CAR WILLIAM J. LEE WAS THE VICTIM

Old British Army Pensioner Horribly Mangled By An Avenue-road Car In Front of the Queen's Hotel Shortly Before Noon Yesterday—Walked to His Doom.

Dominion Day in Toronto was marred by one trolley fatality, in which William John Lee, an old British army pensioner, was instantly killed.

The fatality occurred at 11.15 yesterday morning, opposite the Queen's Hotel, on West Front-street. Lee had been down at the waterfront until 11 o'clock and at that hour he started up Lorne-street with the intention of viewing the Dominion Day procession. On reaching the corner of Front-street it is stated by eye witnesses of the fatality that he stopped at the edge of the sidewalk, and then, without looking where he was going, walked right in front of Avenue-road car No. 768, which was proceeding east along past the Queen's Hotel at a moderate rate of speed.

John Renison of 67 Yonge-street, the motorman in charge of the car, saw the man as he stopped at the curbstone, and thinking that he was going to wait until the trolley had passed did not take the precaution to avert an accident that he otherwise would have done.

Lee was struck by the fender and knocked against the front of the car. The force was sufficient to throw him back on the stone curbing again, and before the car was brought to a standstill at a point less than 20 feet from where he was struck the man was crushed to death.

When the trolley was stopped several persons rushed to the side of the car to assist the railway men to extricate the terribly mangled body from the machinery underneath the motor, but they were unsuccessful, the remains being pinned to the ground by the front truck. Two hoisting jacks were secured from a nearby machine shop, and when the car was raised the body was taken from underneath and carried to the sidewalk.

Policeman Lillburn summoned the patrol wagon and in it the remains were taken to the morgue, where Coroner Bertram Spencer will conduct an inquest to-night, commencing at 8 o'clock.

William Brodie of 116 Broadview-avenue was the conductor engaged with Motorman Renison on the car which ran Lee down.

The remains were identified by means of pension papers found in the pockets of the clothing.

William John Lee was 60 years of age and came to Toronto about 25 years ago from England with his wife, one son and a daughter, Mrs. Thomas Clarke of Agnes-street. Since the beginning of the present year Lee had no particular place of abode, but spent the greater part of his time at the Salvation Army shelter.

STABBING AT GUELPH.

Guelph, July 1.—A stabbing affray took place on Essex-street to-night. Some negroes, who had been imbibing a little too freely during the day up town, were raising a row, when a Mr. Hogg interfered with them. One of them, named Woods, stabbed Hogg on the left shoulder, narrowly missing an artery. Woods left the city, but was afterwards arrested by Constable Greenway and brought back to the lockup.

MAINE ADDED TO NAVY.

London, July 1.—The Earl of Selborne, First Lord of the Admiralty, announced in the House of Lords to-day that he had great gratification in informing the House that the hospital ship Maine had been presented as a free gift to the British navy.

ON BLONDIN'S TRAIL.

Nashua, N.H., July 1.—The Nashua police are trying to trace a man answering the description of J. Wilfrid Blondin, the Chelmsford, Mass., murder suspect, who asked for food and lodging at a house in Hudson, just across the border in Massachusetts. An officer also saw the man and attempted to detain him, but the suspect got across the New Hampshire border.

Provincial Building and Loan Association.

With its usual promptness this association distributed cash for dividends, as declared by the Board of Directors, on its several classes of stock, at the rate of 5, 6 and 7 per cent., on Saturday, June 29, and the shareholders were made glad by their receipt on the morning of Dominion Day.

Visitors to Toronto will not see the city without they visit the Temple Building, the finest Cafe in America. Everything in season.

Halifax, July 1.—R. L. Borden was tendered a reception at Princess Lodge, a suburban resort, to-day. Six hundred people attended. F. D. Monk, M.P., and Mr. Borden were the speakers.

HAPPINESS.

I would not care to sit upon
A throne if none could share
The glory of my state with me
Or shout in thankfulness to see
Me wisely ruling there.

I would not care for millions if
I ne'er might hear the praise
Of others who accounted me
Their greatest friend and happily
Trod newer, fairer ways.

I would not care to gaze upon
Earth's grandest scene, to see
Another fair day dawn if there
Could be no others who might share
It and be glad with me.

SEVEN DROWNED.

New York, July 1.—Seven persons have been drowned here or near here within the last few hours. "Jimmy" McDonald went swimming and dived from a spring board at the foot of West 47th-street. He did not reappear. It is supposed his body caught under a raft. He was 11 years old.

George Williams, 17 years old, was drowned while swimming in the Harlem River.

John Goodwin, 20 years of age, an expert swimmer, who was employed to teach swimming at the Passaic River Swimming School, was seized with cramps while in the water, and was drowned. He was giving a lesson when taken with the cramps.

Andrew Cline, 19 years of age, was drowned while bathing in Bryon Lake, one of the New York reservoirs.

Hamilton J. Johnson, a hall boy, 17 years old, was drowned while swimming in the North River.

John Phillips, an assistant superintendent for a life insurance company, was drowned in the East River.

John Finnerty was drowned while swimming in the Hudson, off Flat Rock, at Peekskill.

THREE KILLED AT ONCE.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 1.—Wabash "flyer" No. 3 struck a carriage containing a man, his wife and two children, at a crossing near Huntingdon last night. The father, mother and one of the children were instantly killed, and the other child so badly injured that his life is despaired of. The name of the family could not be learned.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Winnipeg, July 1.—At Edgely, near Qu'Appelle, Assa., Alf. Hargest, a young man 23 years of age, was killed by lightning while plowing. Three horses also were killed.

John Bailey, an employe in the railway camp southeast of this city, dropped dead in the City Hotel.

KILLED BY AN EXPRESS TRAIN.

Sydney, C.B., July 1.—John Burns, a miner in the employ of the Dominion Coal Company, met a horrible death on Saturday night, at Dominion No. 1. He was walking along the Sydney and Louisburg track, on his way home, when he was struck by the night express from Sydney and killed. His body was frightfully cut up.

Annual Mobilization.

Halifax, July 1.—Halifax was under a state of siege to-day, from sunrise until midnight, the occasion being the annual mobilization of the forces. The forts were manned by over 1500 artillerists, assisted by one battalion of infantry as the defence.

The attacking force consisted of two militia battalions on land and two torpedo boats at sea. When the boats tried to effect an entrance, the forts opened fire on them and drove them to sea again. The attacking land forces were successful in outflanking the defence, as they captured a large number of prisoners and several field pieces.

The operations were carried on under the direction of Col. Simcoe, commander of the forces.

CHAMBERLAIN'S FIRM CONVICTION.

"If Our Colonies Desire Closer Connection and Will Assist Us With Their Counsel and Advice, In Addition to Their Arms," Great Britain Will Readily Welcome It.

London, July 1.—Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal presided to-night at the Dominion Day dinner, given at the Hotel Cecil, London, and attended by 300, the company including Mr. Chamberlain, Lord Aberdeen and other former Canadian Governor-Generals, Sir Louis Davies, David Mills and Sydney Fisher, and the other Canadian Ministers now in London, Gen. Ian Hamilton, Rear-Admiral Douglas, Gilbert Parker and other well-known men.

Tribute to French Canadians.

Mr. Parker paid a high tribute to the French-Canadians in the South African war.

Admiral Douglas and Gen. Hamilton responded for the navy and army, the latter characterizing the fighting of the Canadians as the "triumph of individual intelligence."

The work of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal was highly eulogized. Mr. Choate, in the course of a letter expressing his regret at being unable to be present, uttered sentiments of hearty good-will, adding: "We are neighbors and we must always be good friends."

Mr. Chamberlain's Speech.

Mr. Chamberlain, speaking of Canada's material progress, said: "Thirty years ago your thoughts might have turned to the question of absorption by the powerful but friendly neighbor to the south."

This was received with cries of "No, no," from Mr. Dobell and the other Canadian Ministers.

Mr. Chamberlain: 'Yes, you may say 'No' 'No,' but you would not have said it thirty years ago.

Gladly Welcome It.

Of one thing I am convinced. If our colonies desire closer connection and will assist us with their counsel and advice, in addition to their arms, there is nothing this country would more readily welcome.

Colonies' Opinion First.

Referring to Great Britain's isolation, the Colonial Secretary said: "I do not think the opinion of civilized Europe today is likely to be the verdict of posterity. Of much more value is the opinion of our colonies than the uninstructed opinion of Europe, which is based upon lies foisted upon Europe by our enemies abroad and traitors among us at home. We may be isolated among the nations of the world, but so long as our children rally around us we are not alone."

Sir Louis on the Yukon.

Sir Louis Davies spoke of the work the Dominion government had done in maintaining order in the Klondike.

LIES AT HIS HOME AT DESMOND.

Prominent Conservative Politician and Member of the Orange Order—Short Sketch of His Career.

Napanee, July 1.—J. W. Bell, M.P., for Addington, had a stroke this morning and is not expected to live. He is at his home at Desmond.

Mr. Bell is one of the most conspicuous members on the Conservative side of the House. He is not a garrulous man, but every session makes a point of getting in at least one speech, which never fails to meet with tumultuous applause.

He was born in Camden, County of Lennox and Addington, on March 18, 1838, and is therefore 63 years of age. After receiving his education in the schools of his county, he taught school for several years on a first-class certificate. He entered municipal politics, became Reeve of Camden in 1874, and warden of the county in 1879.

He is a prominent member of the Orange order and was grand master of the Orange Grand Lodge of East Ontario, 1896 and 1897. He was a delegate to the Triennial Council of the Orange society at Glasgow in June, 1897, and was elected first vice-president of that council.

He entered the Dominion Parliament in 1882 and sat continuously for Addington till 1891. He was again elected in 1896 and 1900.

BOERS GRATEFUL TO BRITISH.

930 Prisoners at Hamilton, Bermuda, Were Moved Into Their Camps Yesterday.

Hamilton, Bermuda, July 1.—The 930 Boer prisoners, who arrived here June 28 on the British transport Armenian, were to-day moved into the camps prepared for them on Darrell's and Tucker's islands.

These Boers are part of the force of Gen. Cronje and were captured at Paardeberg. They include several boys of 8 and 10 years, who carried ammunition to their fathers when the latter were in the Boer trenches; among the prisoners were also two Boers so old they crawled on all fours down the transport's gangway. These two old men aver they never saw salt water before reaching Cape Town.

The prisoners are pleased with Bermuda, and this afternoon they are enjoying the sea bathing. They say they are sorry they were led into the war, and that they long for its termination. They expressed themselves as grateful for the treatment accorded them by Great Britain. Some of the more wealthy prisoners have inquired as to the chances of spending money in Bermuda.

The gunboats Medina and Medway are guarding Darrell's and Tucker's islands.

With an Oak Stick He Succeeded in Forcing Open the Thick Door.

Hamilton, July 1.—(Special.)—Thomas Powers, the proprietor of the Mansion Hotel, came near losing his life this morning, accidentally locking himself in a big refrigerator in the cellar of his hotel.

The refrigerator was a new one, holding nearly a ton of ice, and he went inside to see if the door fitted tightly. Thoughtlessly, he pulled the door close after him and a spring lock fastened it. He kicked on the door for a long time, but no one heard him.

Finally he got an oak strip in front of the ice box and pounded the door. He felt himself becoming weaker, but he renewed his efforts and finally forced open the door, which is 14 inches thick. He fell in a faint and did not recover for several hours. He was in the refrigerator about 40 minutes.

ELEVEN BOYS KILLED IN A FLASH BY A SINGLE BOLT OF LIGHTNING

Victims Were Fishing in Lake Michigan When the Electricity Struck the Pier Where They Were Seated and Threw Them Into the Water.

Chicago, July 1.—Eleven boys were killed and another probably fatally injured this afternoon by a single bolt of lightning. The victims were fishing in Lake Michigan at the foot of the Montrose boulevard on the north side. The fatal bolt struck the pier where they were seated, and all were thrown into the lake. Only one boy has been so far recovered.

A policeman, attracted to the pier by the crashing timbers, found it impossible to rescue any of the victims. The heavy timbers of the pier had been shattered and the whole structure toppled into the water. He hurried to a patrol box and and called for assistance Nearly half an hour elapsed before aid arrived. The work of recovering the bodies was extremely difficult, but finally all were carried ashore. Owing to the terrific thunderstorm prevalent, the work of identification was extremely slow.

Oppressed by the extreme heat the boys had gone in bathing. When the rain began to fall and it became evident a severe electrical storm was coming, they rushed to a shelter they had built on the pier. Willie Anderson, 12 years of age, was the only survivor of the shock, which followed a moment later. To the policeman he gave a bare idea of the horrible ending to an hour's sport, and then fainted. He was carried to a nearby house, where medical assistance was rendered.

The fatal stroke was the most powerful seen here in years. The pier was demolished in a trice, giving the boys not the slightest chance of escape.

In age the victims ranged from 12 to 25 years.

FREIGHT TRAINS MEET HEAD-ON CAUSING OVER $30,000 DAMAGE

Nine Cars Rolled Down the Embankment at Bowmanville and Burnt Up—Both Engines Demolished—Bridge Smashed—Fireman Breaks a Leg—Traffic Delayed for Hours.

Bowmanville, July 1.—Dominion Day was marked in this town by a serious railway accident at the G.T.R. station. About 3.30 this afternoon two freight trains collided head-on on the bridge just west of the station, wrecking the engines and tenders and destroying 9 or 10 cars laden with flour, wool, hay, meat, machinery, etc.

The train from the west in charge of Conductor Michael Murray and Engineer Charles Blaylock had been given thru orders and was traveling about 35 miles an hour. The train from the east in charge of Conductor Joseph Mitchell, Toronto, and Engineer R. Milne, Belleville, stood on the main track, preparing to shunt out of the way of the thru freight, but did not get out of the way soon enough. The other train crashed into it with tremendous force.

The cars on the east train were only slightly damaged, but 8 or 9 cars on the thru freight were thrown off the track and several of them down the embankment to the creek below. The contents quickly took fire, and a mass of burning ruins now lies piled up on the north side of the bridge. The town fire brigade was quickly on hand and made every effort to put out the fire, working faithfully till after dark.

The bridge, which is an iron one, is considerably damaged, but the wrecking train gangs were quickly on hand clearing up the debris and relaying the rails, etc., so that by 9 o'clock the trains from each direction were enabled to pass in safety.

No lives were lost, but the fireman on the thru freight, Andrew McSorley of Bowmanville, leaped from the engine to the creek below and escaped with a broken leg. Prompt medical attendance was given him and he was removed to his home here.

The loss will be enormous, as the engines are badly damaged, and the cars and contents are a total loss, reaching to the neighborhood of $30,000.

A Feature of the Procession.

It was a rare sight to see the thousands of people who lined both sides of the principal streets of our city yesterday and those who gathered in the Queen's Park wearing straw hats. They knew what it was to be comfortable. It was impossible to examine them all closely, but the name Dineen was by a large majority stamped on the inside of them all, and it was quite proper, because Dineen's have been in business before Confederation. They are an old, responsible house, and have secured public confidence by selling good hats at low prices.
