"I ATTRIBUTE MY CURE SOLELY

And Entirely To Taking 'Fruit-a-tives'"

Hull, Que., Dec. 24th, 1909.

"For the past twelve years I had painful attacks of Dyspepsia. I could not digest my food and everything caused the most agonizing pain in my stomach. I also had a fearful attack of Constipation and at times I had no movement of the bowels for two weeks.

Three doctors attended me for two years and gave me all kinds of medicine but did me no good. My weight came to only 80 pounds and everyone thought I was going to die. Finally, I had the good fortune to try "Fruit-a-tives" and as soon as I began to take them I felt better. I persisted in the treatment and to my great joy, I steadily improved.

Now I feel very well, weigh 115 pounds, and this is more than I ever weighed even before my illness.

I attribute my cure solely and entirely to "Fruit-a-tives" and can never praise them too much for saving my life. To all who suffer from Dyspepsia and Constipation, I recommend "Fruit-a-tives" as a miraculous remedy."

WESTMORLAND CIRCUIT COURT

Four Prisoners Who Broke from Jail Didn't Appear for Trial

ONE FUGITIVE FREED

Grand Jury Failed to Indict Fred Legere, Charged With Stealing—Big Civil Docket—Barrister Complains of Political and Religious Complexion of Jury Panel.

Dorchester, N. B., Nov. 4—(Special)—The adjourned session of the October circuit court convened here this morning with Mr. Justice Barry on the bench. The barristers present were Geo. W. Fowler, M.P., of Sussex; A. B. Copp and R. Trites, of Sackville; A. N. Charters and Geo. L. Harris, of Moncton; James Friel, W. H. Chapman and C. L. Hanington, of Dorchester.

The sheriff's calendar contained six criminal cases. The King vs. Mary Clark, who is charged with attempting to extort money by threats of criminal prosecution from Placide Cormier in the city of Moncton.

The King vs. Walter White, charged with breaking, entering and stealing from the post office in Shediac.

The King vs. Martin O. Crossman, charged with obtaining goods under false pretences from Charles McKenzie, of Sackville.

The King vs. Fred Armstrong, charged with stealing from James Fitzgerald, of Moncton, in September last.

The King vs. Fred Legere, charged with breaking and entering the premises of John Morrison, in Moncton.

The King vs. Frank Legere, charged with stealing in Shediac.

Four of the prisoners whose cases are on the calendar, have escaped from the county pail here, Legere and White, in July, and Armstrong and Fred Legere only a short time ago. Court adjourned at noon to await the coming of Attorney General Grimmer, of St. Stephen, who was slated to conduct the prosecution, but as he did not appear, C. L. Hanington, will appear for him. The grand jury found "true bills" in all of the cases except that against Fred Legere.

Civil Docket.

The civil docket consists of eight cases, as follows:

Elizabeth Wentzell, administratrix of Chas. Wentzell, deceased, vs. the New Brunswick & P. E. I. Railroad Co. In this case the plaintiff claims damages from the railway for the death of her husband. Charging neglect, unsafe cars and engines on the road. Emmerson, Friel & Clark, for the plaintiff; Powell, Bennett & Trites, for the defendants.

Charles Hicks vs. Hattie Hicks. The plaintiff charges trespass and bodily assault; Powell, Bennett & Trites, for the plaintiff; Copp & McCord, for the defendant.

Cora L. McAuley, wife of C. Edgar McAuley, of Dorchester, vs. W. Hazen Chapman and Clifford E. Chapman, both of Dorchester, executors of the estate of the late William Cochrane. The plaintiff is suing for the board of the deceased during part of his life time at her residence. James Friel, for plaintiff, M. G. Teed, for defendants.

Hattie Hicks and Silas Hicks vs. Moncton Tramways Electricity & Gas Co., Limited. The plaintiffs are suing for the loss of a cab and damage to horses in a collision with a street car in Moncton. Emmerson, Friel & Clark, for plaintiffs; W. B. Chandler, K.C., for the defendants.

Georgie C. Parlee vs. Hugh M. Steeves, and Georgie C. Parlee vs. Whitefield Jonah. In these cases the plaintiff charges the defendants with slander against her character, and is suing for $2,000. Fowler & Freeze, for the plaintiff; Kink & Goodwin, for the defendants.

James S. Brown vs. Clarence A. Humphreys. The plaintiff is suing for board of the defendant's wife and child, and the defendant claims the plaintiff enticed his wife away from him. Fowler & Freeze, for the plaintiff; King & Goodwin, for the defendant.

Patrick J. Gray vs. Delbert O. Steeves. W. B. Chandler, K.C., for the plaintiff; Fowler & Freeze, for the defendant.

The court adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the case of the King vs. Mary Clarke will occupy the attention of the court.

At the morning session Mr. Friel, in moving to put the Moncton Tramways case on the non-jury docket, and to have the Wentzell and McAuley cases made remanets, vigorously commented on the petit jury list. He said that in a county like Westmorland, where numbers were not very uneven in respect to politics, race or religion, the present jury was anything but representative. In the list of twenty-one there are but four Liberals. There are but two members on the panel of one of the largest religious denominations; there is but one Acadian to represent the numerous French population.

His honor said that the matter, having been brought to his attention by a responsible solicitor in open court, would be by him referred to the attorney-general.

Before Judge Borden in the county court chambers here today, under the "Speedy trials act," John W. Cummings, of Moncton, who was charged with stealing a horse, wagon and harness from David Styles, also of Moncton, was brought before the court. The prisoner pleaded "guilty" and his honor sentenced him to five years in the Dorchester penitentiary.

Before Judge Russell in the probate court this afternoon the accounts of Hon. H. R. Emmerson, executor of the estate of the late Mrs. Katherine O. M. Pascoe, were passed. After payment of certain legacies there is a residuary estate which goes to Trinity church, Dorchester, the income to be used to keep the cemetery in repair; James Friel, proctor for executor; W. H. Chapman, K.C., appeared for Trinity church.

Dorchester's new industry, the Oxford Textile Co., Limited, is to begin operations in a day or two. Letters of incorporation have been received from the department at Ottawa, and the board of directors are: President, H. R. Emmerson, K. C., M. P.; C. S. Hickman, Dr. J. F. Teed, W. Frank Tait, who is also secretary-treasurer, A. B. Pipes, all of Dorchester, and H. Lockwood and J. W. Pritchard, of Amherst. The company has acquired the factory formerly occupied by the Crown Wood Working Company, and expect to employ a large number of hands.

That Salmon Loaf

We are taught that it is more blessed to give than to receive, but it was very gratifying to me to receive the following splendid recipe for salmon loaf or escalloped salmon in my mail this week. It came to me with a big package of requests for salmon loaf recipe; I immediately tried it and found it excellent. So I insert it, with thanks, to the sender, Miss M. Jeffry, Chicago (Ill.)

Flake the contents of a can of salmon and crush the bones. Butter a quart baking dish or porcelain pan and put in a layer of the fish, cover this with a layer of small oyster crackers, do not break or roll them. Season the cracker layer with pepper, salt and some bits of butter. Add remainder of salmon, and more crackers and seasoning. Over all pour enough sweet milk, or better still, cream, to cover the mixture. Bake thirty minutes.

My recipe for salmon loaf is to mix the yolks of three eggs with the contents of one can of salmon. Season with pepper, very little salt, melted butter and two tablespoons of lemon juice. Make this into a loaf by adding sifted cracker crumbs until the mixture is firm enough to hold its shape. A little milk may be added if a large loaf is wanted.

This may be baked in round tins such as rea used for Boston brown bread or in a square bread pan. Whichever you use, see that it is spread generously with butter as this gives a brown, rich, crusty outside.

The woman wh serves canned salmon just as it comes from the grocer's shelves does an injustice to one of our finest fish and to her family as well.

It takes less than three minutes to open, empty, and heat a can of salmon. Have a little butter in a frying pan and turn the salmon into it as soon as it begins to sputter. Season with a sprinkle of celery salt and a little pepper and serve at once.

If your family likes creamed dishes, have a tablespoon of corn starch or flour smooth with a cup of cream, and when the salmon is hot pour this over it and stir as thick as you like it. This is excellent on buttered toast.

Fish balls made with salmon are established favorites with all who like this fish.

One cup of fish to every two cups of mashed potatoes is the rule. If the salmon has been creamed, so much the better; it will make the balls richer. Pat into little cakes, cover with cracker dust and fry very brown in butter.

Potato pancake with salmon is very fine. Add the yolks of two eggs to two cups of seasoned, mashed potatoes. Whip the whites of the eggs very stiff and mix them into the potato batter gently. Fry as with sweet pancakes or omelettes and when brown on both sides place a spoonful of hot salmon in the middle of a pancake and roll it up. Serve each one on a small hot platter, individually.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Everything bags, and everything is loose.

The clothes wringer will last twice as long if the pressure screw at the top is loosened.

To give potatoes a flavor, add half a teaspoonful of sugar, as well as salt, when boiling.

Serge is ever practical and elegant.

To remove dirty marks from light-colored cloth, try using a piece of india rubber eraser.

Gas ovens can be cleaned with warm, soapy water, to which a little ammonia has been added.

Kerosene quickly applied is an excellent remedy for burns and will prevent a blister from arising.

To whiten finger nails and improve the hands, cut a fresh lemon in two and rub in well at night.
