SANATORIUM APPRECIATED

Governors Now Desirous of Obtaining Additional Accommodation

So greatly are the public appreciating the work of the Brant Sanitorium and the splendid results which are being produced in the recovery of so many of the patients that the Board of Governors are now having to consider means of providing accommodation for extra patients.

The enthusiasm of former patients, who have taken the cure and returned to their homes and employment, is a splendid testimonial to the efficiency of the Sanatorium; and the bright faces of the patients, and their thorough contentment, speak louder than words that their bodily comfort is being well looked after by the Superintendent, Miss Rowen, and her able staff of graduate nurses. All the nurses employed at the "San" are graduates of larger institutions and especially trained in this line of work, so that both patients and the board feel that the best possible is being done for the recovery of those entrusted to their care.

A noticable feature is the presence of more children than in the earlier years, and as these cases mostly do well, their games and amusements add greatly to the brightness of the institution.

Owing to the sanitarium at Kitchener being handed over to the military authorities, and our admitting their patients for the time, there is at present not accommodation sufficient for all those who wish admittance at this season of the year when the weather and the surroundings contribute most to a speedy recovery.

The Daughters of the Empire, some other societies, and many individual donors have contributed largely to the success of the place and the comfort of the patients. The management now feels the need of two tents, twelve by eighteen or larger, as with these and their present staff, they could for the summer accommodate about six extra patients.

Severe Fighting o all Parts of Galic ianFrontResults Victories for Pick ed Troops of Russ ian Army

By Courier Leased Wire.

London, July 4.—The Morni Post's Petrograd correspondent d cribes the scene of the main fighti in the Zlotiliana region in Galic and says the enemy strongly he triple line of trenches on the Kinc stream, twelve miles northeast Brzezany. The Russians with a for of artillery exceeding anything y used on the Russian side, smashe great fields of work after two day bombardment, and cleared the pat for stormers. These were necessari picked men.

Considerable precautions had bee taken to assemble regiments of in fantry upon whom more or less re liance could be placed, although u til put to the test even their own o ficers could not pretend to know wha would happen. The trial proved whatever may be the case on th rear, that there are at the front me worthy of Russia's great name. Th losses have been heavy, which is i accordance with Russian tradition Russian armies holding world's re cords for ability to suffer withou losing military qualities.

Southwest of Brzezany the fighting seems to have been even more severe and success still hangs in the balance This region is also hilly and wooded The Germans had special redoubts which required long hammering by the artillery before an attack was possible. These defences were held by the Germans and Turks—a combination which has always proved formidable.
