HORRORS OF THE NORGE DISASTER

Castaways Drifted in North Atlantic for Six Days.

Attempt of Rescued Women to Commit Suicide—Nearly Seven Hundred Still Missing.

Copenhagen, July 5. — Touching scenes were witnessed again today in the offices of the United Steamship Company. The wives of two of the emigrants lost on the Norge attempted to commit suicide by drowning, but they were saved at the last moment. According to an order issued by the company, small steamers have begun a search of the islands and waters in the neighborhood of Rockall for survivors. Crown Prince Frederick, who is regent in the absence of King Christian, has received condolence from several sovereigns.

Stornoway, Scotland, July 5. — The Danish authorities have chartered a steamer to search the Rockall, St. Kilda and Flannan Islands for survivors of the wrecked steamer Norge. Two children who were among the rescued passengers of the Norge died in the hospital here as a result of exposure.

Drifted Six Days.

Aberdeen, Scotland, July 5. — Another boatload, containing seventeen survivors of the ill-fated Danish steamer Norge, which foundered off Rockall Reef, 290 miles from the Scottish mainland, on June 28, were landed at Aberdeen tonight by the steam trawler Largo Bay. Six hundred and twenty-seven souls are still missing. The contingent now being cared for at Aberdeen consists of twelve passengers, the third mate of the Norge, the quartermaster, a steward, a lamp trimmer and one of the crew. They drifted at the mercy of the Atlantic for six days. When both water and food were gone, and when the occupants were almost too exhausted even to hope, the trawler hove in sight. This was on July 4, when the boat was about thirty miles off St. Kilda. Those rescued had eked out an existence on two biscuits per day. When they started from the ill-fated ship there was only one small cask of fresh water in the boat. Before the Largo Bay fell in with them this and the biscuits had been finished, and the pangs of thirst and hunger had set in. They weathered a gale and continued as best they might, striving to reach the coast of Scotland against the heavy seas. From strips of life-belts they constructed a crude sail. The men had scarcely strength enough to hold the oars. When the survivors were dragged on board the trawler the fishermen were obliged to forcibly prevent them from eating and drinking too much. Many of the survivors have severe wounds sustained in jumping from the decks of the sinking ship. The legs and arms of others were swollen from exposure and from the salt water. On their arrival at Aberdeen the survivors were taken to the Sailors' Home. The third mate states that three other boats started with that rescued by the Largo Bay. One of these contained 32 persons, including several women and children. Another boat had 15 men, with the second mate in charge. The third boat had ten men on board. The survivors parted company with the three boats on July 3. For these boats the British gunboat Leda, the Government fishing cutter Jackall, a steamer chartered by the Danish consul at Glasgow, and several other vessels are diligently searching.

The bodies of three children rescued from the Norge, only to die on shore, were buried today at Stornoway amidst pathetic scenes.

Unknown Friends.

There are many people who have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy with splendid results, but who are unknown because they have hesitated about giving a testimonial of their experience for publication. These people, however, are none the less friends to this remedy. They have done much toward making it a household word by their personal recommendations to friends and neighbors. It is a good medicine to have in the home and is widely known for its cures of diarrhea and all forms of bowel trouble. For sale by all druggists.

SYDNEY STRIKERS ARE IN CONTROL

No Bloodshed Took Place, But Mob Prevents Operating.

THE MEN WANT A COMMISSION

Sir William Mulock Urges Steel President to Arbitrate—An Inquiry Unusual.

Sydney, N. S., July 6.—There were no new developments in the strike situation yesterday. The strikers guarded every avenue leading to the works, and did it so effectually that scarcely a man apart from the officials found his way to the plant. The clerical staff, foremen and superintendents were all turned back the same as Monday. No violence was used, and the crowd as a whole was quiet and good-natured, but they turned back at least 200 men.

Italians, Hungarians and Newfoundlanders constitute the vast proportion of the men that crowd about the gates. They are armed with clubs and bludgeons, and are a gang with which no one would like to come in contact. They look as if they would not hesitate to use the weapons of warfare in their possession.

Military in Charge.

The military are now in charge of the plant, and the work of recruiting the Ninety-fourth Argyle Highlanders and the Sydney Field Battery began yesterday morning, and will go on until the full complement is secured. They will then seek to disperse the men, and prevent their making a demonstration of any kind.

Grand Secretary Moffatt is communicating with the Government regarding the appointment of a royal commission. This is the only hope of a speedy settlement of the strike.

The blooming mill, which was started Monday, was not running yesterday, owing to operators having failed to go to work. Not since the strike began have there been fewer men in the plant.

Mulock's Aid Asked.

Ottawa, July 5.—The Minister of Labor received last evening from John Moffatt, grand president of the P. W. A., a telegram asking if the Dominion Government would appoint a commission of inquiry into the dispute between the Dominion Iron and Steel Company and its employes.

Sir William Mulock replied that it was not usual to appoint a commission of inquiry into labor troubles. The better plan would be an unconditional arbitration of the whole dispute.

He promised, in conclusion, that the Government would continue to press the company to accept arbitration of the entire question. It is understood that the Government has already pressed this course on General Manager Plummer, of the iron and steel company, whose final answer, however, had not been signified.

Not Strong Enough.

There is no change in the situation at the steel works this morning. About 300 strikers, armed with clubs, are stationed at each gate, and so far have prevented the workmen from going to their labors. As yet there has been no effort made by the militia to dispose of the rioters. This is probably due to the fact that the authorities do not feel themselves strong enough, and are contenting themselves for the present with preventing destruction of the company's property.

It is understood that Col. Irving, D.O.C., Halifax, will leave for Sydney today with 200 regulars. These, with local militia, which, when up to full strength, number about 250, it is thought will be ample to cope with the trouble. Meanwhile, the officials are resorting to all sorts of strategems to get men into the plant. The steamship Arcadia has been chartered to ply between a wharf uptown and another at the plant. When the ship is about ready to take a fare, a number of decoy employes are sent to the Ferry street bridge, one of the principal entrances. They are immediately surrounded by all the strikers in town, while the ship is loaded with men and slips away.

Refuse to Come Out.

It is persistently rumored around town that the present reign of lawlessness is directly due to the fact that the P. W. A. men in the mines have refused to come out in a sympathetic strike, and the Sydney men, thereupon, decided to appeal to force. If this be true, the end of the Sydney strike is almost in sight; for the company, if provided with sufficient military protection, can and will get a sufficient number of men to run the plant.

The strikers, who number many foreigners among them, including Italians and Poles, have torn up the tracks leading to the works, paralyzing the freight traffic of the company.

One hundred men of the Sixty-sixth (Princess Louise) Fusiliers, and 100 of the Sixty-third (Halifax) Rifles, leave this evening for Sydney, to do duty at the plant of the steel company.

LATER.

Sydney, N. S., July 6.—Everything is quiet this morning. The militia under Lieut.-Col. Irving, D. O. C., from Halifax, arrived at 10:40 o'clock. Heavy rain has quenched the forest fires.

THE DEMON, DYSPEPSIA.—In olden times it was a popular belief that demons moved invisibly through the ambient air, seeking to enter into men and trouble them. At the present day the demon, dyspepsia, is at large in the same way, seeking habitation in those who by careless or unwise living invite him. And once he enters a man it is difficult to dislodge him. He that finds himself so possessed should know that a valiant friend to do battle for him with the unseen foe is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are ever ready for the trial.

At some of the public libraries in London the racing news is carefully blacked out of the newspapers before they are put upon the files for reading.

FIGHTING A FIRE NOT IN HIS LINE

Would-Be Fireman Jumps His Job After One Trial—Strain Too Much.

Every man will not make a fireman, and no man knows this better than Chief Clark, of the local fire brigade. But once in a while the chief gets "bit." A couple of weeks ago a husky young fellow called at the chief's office in the central station, and asked for a position on the brigade. Ald. Matthews, chairman of No. 3 committee, was in the office at the time, and he began to question the applicant.

"How old are you"

"Twenty-five, sir."

"How much do you weigh"

"About 170 pounds, sir."

"Ever been sick."

"Never in my life."

"And you'd like to be a fireman?"

"Yes, sir."

"Well, you had better step into another room and write out your application."

The man did so, and returned in a minute, with his application filled out. Ald. Matthews and the chief were still in the room, but the man didn't know the chief by sight.

"There it is," said the applicant, handing the paper to the alderman, "I wonder how that will catch the guinea?"

The chief smiled, and when the alderman introduced him to the applicant, the latter almost fainted. The chief shook hands with him, however, and told him he was a likely-looking chap.

"All you will have to do here is attend to your business, be faithful and industrious, and you will get along," said the chief. "I think you have all the nerve that is needed."

The man was put to work at once. He was husky and could hitch a horse with any man on the brigade. But then came the fire in the wholesale of Green, Swift & Co.

In company with others the chief ordered the man up a ladder, where Dan McDonald, one of the old war horses of the department was breaking through to get in on the third floor. McDonald would go up the Eiffel tower, if necessary, to fight a fire, and he didn't mind the work. But the new man did mind it. He got one whiff of the heavy smoke, as it burst through the window, and he slid down the ladder as though down a sliding pole. But the chief was on the ground, and ordered him back. And back he went.

That was last Friday. In the afternoon the new fireman did not show up, nor has he been seen since at the station. Reports have since reached the chief that he has been seen taking on a supply of fresh air in Victoria Park lately. He doesn't want to be a fireman now.

A LABOR DEPUTATION

Asks the Government to Prosecute Fake Immigration Agents.

Ottawa, July 6.—Representatives of organized labor in Canada waited upon the Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior yesterday and laid before them a series of complaints in regard to the alleged flooding of the country with alien workmen. The delegates were Messrs. Fisher, president of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council; P. M. Draper, secretary, and J. J. Donohue, solicitor of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. They asked that Louis Leopold, who conducts an employment agency in the Canadian building, in London, be ousted from its precincts, and that the criminal code be amended to render possible the punishment of immigrant employment fakirs in the country. The delegates also requested that the commission of Judge Winchester be extended to an investigation of all foreigners employed in the Dominion.

Mr. Sifton made no promise in regard to the London agency, but assured the deputation that he would look into the suggestion of an amendment to the criminal code, with a view to meeting the wishes of organized labor without going beyond the absolute necessities of the case as presented. The minister also promised that the request for a further investigation of alien labor by Judge Winchester should be taken into consideration.

THE S. A. CONVENTION

Immense Gathering Gives General Booth an Ovation.

London, July 6. — Members of the Salvation Army, by the thousands, gathered at the Crystal Palace yesterday. Processions, representing the various sections, under the banners of the different nationalities, and led by bands, marched to the palace, and by 10 o'clock the grounds and building were overrun. The interest of the day centered in a grand reception to General Booth in the main hall, which was packed. The platform presented a picturesque scene. Representatives of every country were massed in tiers, under the flags of all nations. General Booth, who was the central figure, was given a tremendous ovation. The attraction of the day included an exposition by the different sections of the work of the Salvationists, which concluded one of the greatest days in point of numbers ever seen at the Crystal Palace. The attendance was estimated at 100,000 persons.

WOMAN FIGHTS LION

Aided by Mastiff, Succeeds in Killing the Fierce Brute.

Owingsville, Ky., July 6. — News reached here today of a desperate encounter in the mountains of Lesley county between what is said to have been a huge mountain lion and Mrs. Martha Miller, a young widow. Mrs. Miller, accompanied by her dog, a big mastiff, was walking along a lonely mountain pike, when with a growl a big beast sprang upon her. Mrs. Miller was knocked to the ground by the sudden attack, but she scrambled to her feet and grasped a branch of a tree lying near. With this she began beating the attacking animal, at the same time calling her dog to her aid.

Then the animal sprang again, this time sinking his teeth in the woman's neck and shoulder, terribly lacerating her. Battling for her life, Mrs. Miller struck the animal again and again finally forcing it to loosen its grasp upon her. Then the dog attacked the beast, and after a hard battle succeeded in fastening its teeth in its throat, killing it. Mrs. Miller is badly injured, but will recover. The dog's flesh was torn to ribbons.

JUDGE PARKER ON FIRST BALLOT

That It Is Now Thought Will Be Action of St. Louis Democratic Convention.

St. Louis, July 5. — Unless all signs fail Judge Alton B. Parker will be nominated on the first ballot. This is especially true if some of the delegations are allowed to change their votes, so that they can get into the bandwagon after the first roll-call has proceeded far enough to satisfy them that Parker controls the majority.

Fruitless endeavor to stem the tide sums up the week of opposition today, for if anything has been accomplished it is being carefully concealed. The only realy organized opposition to Parker comes from the Hearst faction, which is losing ground while Parker is gaining. Tammany has sprung Mayor McClelland, but there is not much spring under his boom, if for nn other reason than that Tammany is weaponless, being tied up to Parker.

Bryan continues to hurl invectives against Parker and the Bryanites add strength to his words by saying that even if Parker is nominated that Bryan believers throughout the country will not support him. However, Mr. Bryan has gotten down to grasping at straws, and today announced that he was willing to accept either Judson Harmon, of Ohio, or Mayor McClellan, of New York. The move was made to keep Ohio from going to Parker, but it was late, as Harmon was Ohio's choice for several months and the delegation does not like the idea that Bryan said wait until the last 24 hours to register his O. K. mark and simply for an ulterior purpose.

KILLED AT DETROIT

Aged Ingersoll Gentleman Run Down by a Street Car.

Detroit, July 6.—A Jefferson avenue street car conductor's mistake in carrying Joshua Bobier, aged 74, of Ingersoll, Ont., beyond his street may have led to the old man's death Monday. Mr. Bobier asked to be let off the car at Avery avenue, but the conductor carried him beyond that point. At Fourteenth avenue he boarded an eastbound Jefferson avenue car, which stopped at Avery avenue. Mr. Bobier walked around the rear of the car in front of the westbound one, which struck him. He was picked up on the fender and carried nearly a block before the motorman could stop. At the time he was not thought to be seriously injured, but internal hurts developed and the old man died at noon at the residence of his cousins, the Misses Kneeland, 40 Pine street. Mr. Bobier is survived by a widow and six children, who live at Ingersoll, Ont. About May 24 last he left home to visit some of his relatives in Detroit and had been at the Misses Kneeland's home since last Wednesday morning. Monday he started out to visit a cousin who lives on Avery avenue and, not knowing the streets, was carried by. Dr. Walter J. Cree attended him. Mr. Bobier was expected to go home on Wednesday, and his brother was coming to the city to take him back. Coroner Toepel will hold an inquest.

INSPECTED SOO WORKS

Executive Orders the Rail Mill to Commence Operations at Once.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 6.—The directors and executive committee of the Lake Superior Corporation, are on a tour of inspection of the properties. They arrived Sunday noon, and on Monday looked over the works on both sides of the river. Yesterday afternoon they were taken out on the line of the Algoma Central Railway, and later left for Michipicoten, to look over mines owned by the company, in that district. The Helen mine has commenced operations and shipments of iron ore from there will soon be made.

After the inspection a meeting will be held at which a general manager will be chosen, and orders given for operation of different plants which it will be decided to run. President Warren has already given orders to place the rail mill in operating condition. Men are at this work now.

The Pope's Health.

Rome, July 6. — There is no truth in the report circulated in the United States by a news agency, that the Pope suffered from an attack of palpitation of the heart yesterday morning.

The heat in Rome this year is unusually suffocating, and enervating. The Pope feels the heat, especially as this is the first summer he has spent in Rome. Prof. Lapponi, when interviewed on the subject, assured the correspondent of the Associated Press that nothing unusual had occurred in regard to the health of the Pontiff.

JUST IN TIME

Pastor in Pajamas Marries Elopers in a Great Hurry.

New York, July 6. — The Rev. Wm. S. Newson, of Califon, N. J., performed a hasty marriage ceremony in the face of many obstacles and a pair of enraged parents early yesterday morning. It was after midnight when he was awakened by heavy thumping on his front door. Hastily arising, he hurried down, and had no more than opened the door when a young couple burst in and begged him to marry them at once, because, as the young woman explained, "Mamma and papa are coming in a buckboard, and they will be here in a minute."

Mr. Newson suggested that they give him time to exchange his pajamas for street clothes, but the young couple clung to his arms and begged him not to go until the knot had been tied.

"Listen," said the young woman; "don't you hear them coming?" And listening, Mr. Newson certainly did hear the pounding of horses' hoofs and the rattle of a buckboard.

So he did not hesitate, but in the hall, lit only by the moon, he recited the Methodist ritual, and the young woman had just said "Yes" when the buckboard stopped in front of the door and an irate, middle-aged couple bounded up the walk.

Mr. Newson was equal to the occasion, and stepping out on the stoop he extended his hand to the man, saying, "I am sorry you didn't get here in time. You are just too late for the ceremony, but at least you can give them your parental blessing."

"Blessing be blanked," said the fond father.

"Joshua," said the mother, "that is not a blessing." After thinking the matter over, the father kissed his daughter and forgave her for running away.

Explosion at Haliburton.

Haliburton, Ont., July 6. — Shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning, the large boiler in Peters & Gaines' sawmill, located about seven miles from this village, exploded, completely demolishing the mill and instantly killing William Duncan, a young man employed in the mill. The mill and machinery, valued at about $80,000, is a complete wreck. In addition to this there is loss of the season's cut of lumber, shingles, etc.
