MINISTERS SPEAK ON LIVE TOPICS

Anniversary Services—Sermons to Young Men—Treating and Smoking.

In two of the local Presbyterian churches anniversary services were conducted on Sunday. At Knox Church, South London, the morning service was conducted by Rev. Professor John McNaughton M.A., of Queen's University, and that of the evening by Rev. Dr. Ross, of St. Andrew's Church. At the King Street Presbyterian Church, Rev. W. J. Clark occupied the pulpit in the morning and Professor McNaughton in the evening. Large congregations were present and the services were of exceptional interest. At King Street the occasion marked the second anniversary of Rev. James Rollins' induction as pastor.

Prof. McNaughton's evening sermon was delivered before a congregation that completely filled the edifice. The keynote of his words was to love one's neighbor as himself. This would be a true religion, he said, and would cover everything else. Petty prohibitions did people no good. There were two many 'don'ts" handed out and not enough directing what should be done.

An interesting sermon upon the duties which a man and women who have entered the conjugal relation owe towards each other was delivered in the Askin Street Methodist Church last evening by Rev. W. G. Howson, who looked at the question from the practical standpoint. A large congregation was in attendance.

Rev. Mr. Livingstone, pastor of the Wellington Street Methodist Church, preached impressively to young men last evening. He appealed for purity of living. During the service, music was rendered by the Arion Club, and their singing was very acceptable. Following are the members of the club: Mr. W. Nixon, W. Mathews, W. Trace, H. Fetherston, F. Parsons, tenors; H. Boyce, A. Bendel, baritones; H. Taylor, W. Taylor, J. Suhr, C. Jones, bassos. The singing of the club was much admired. The pieces given were "In That Bright Land" (Smart); "Art Thou Weary" (Bullinger), and "Far Away" (Parks).

In the course of a sermon addressed especially to men in the Memorial Church last evening, the rector, Rev. Dyson Hague, touched with strong condemnation upon two evils, the treating custom and cigarette smoking. The preacher thought that legislation upon the latter was very much needed. He quoted from statistics to show how prevalent the cigarette habit is.

ROUGH EXPERIENCE WITH RUNAWAYS

A Back Somersault That Was Not on the Bills—Spurt on Dundas Street.

Talking about that happy spring feeling, did you ever notice how it affects the equine race? These are the days when human beings, in this latitude, begin to walk with sprightlier steps, take deeper breaths, raise their shoulders and chests higher and exchange greetings in smarter accents on the streets. But this is also the time when the horses start to lift their hoofs higher, extend their nostrils wider and become more frisky in general. Of course, this is partly explainable by the fact that about this time the owners begin to "feed up" their animals in order to get them in trim for spring work or spring sales.

Saturday afternoon a West Londoner had a rather unpleasant experience with his horse. He was driving the animal, which is of a high-spirited nature, in a racing sulky. The seat of the rig has no back, which proved rather unfortunate. The horse was about to cross Blackfriars bridge at the foot of Ridout street north, when a small, vicious dog ran down the steps, familiarly known as "Jacob's Ladder," and began to snap at the animal's heels. The horse gathered himself together and then "lit out" with both his hind feet as hard and as far as possible. The cur escaped, but the driver was knocked off the smooth seat and took a back somersault into the very dirty road. The horse started for home, without waiting for him, but ran against the ironwork of the bridge, receiving several gashes in the side. It was caught before any further damage could be done, and the owner was none the worse for his feat, except that his back and neck were liberally coated with mud.

Another Dangerous Spurt.

Messrs. Clarke and Will Smith, jun., undertakers of Dundas street, had an exciting time with one of their horses Saturday morning, and it was almost a miracle that neither was hurt. They were driving in their buggy from London East on Dundas street, and when near Maitland, one of the shafts became loose from the whiffletree and began to rattle on the wheel and to strike against the horse's side. The horse, which is a large and spirited animal, bolted and came down Dundas street as hard as it could go. There was a large palm plant in the rig, and it hindered the drivers' view. The two men see-sawed the bit, but it was not until Wellington street was reached that the animal began to slacken speed. Here P. C. McRoberts ran out and helped to stop the horse. If the race extended into the center of the city no doubt someone would have been hurt.

FAR EAST PEACE IS IN THE AIR

Royal Conference at Copenhagen May Bring About End of Strife.

London, March 26. — According to arrangements, which are still liable to revision, King Edward will leave London April 6. He will join Queen Alexandra at Cologne, and from thence their majesties will go to Copenhagen for the celebration of the birthday of King Christian, April 8.

The Associated Press correspondent at Copenhagen telegraphs tonight that so far as known, King Edward's vitis has no connection with Russo-Japanese peace pourparlers, but that King Christian strongly favors peace, and should the Dowager Empress of Russia also come to her father's birthday celebration, it will be regarded as a signal of peace conference at Copenhagen.

It is reported that M. D'Iswolski, the Russian minister to Denmark, left St. Petersburg on Saturday for Copenhagen.

A St. Petersburg dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company states that the majority of the council of ministers is agreed on the principle of the opportuneness of initiating steps in the direction of peace, and correspondents in the principal European capitals all report that peace is in the air.

According to the Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Kobe, who reports having interviewed the United States officers and foreign correspondents captured at Mukden, who have just arrived at Ujin, all were surprised that no armistice or peace proposals had been made. They confirm the previous statements that nobody had the least idea that retreat was imminent until General Kuropatkin's order was suddenly received late on March 9.

With Rojestvensky.

St. Petersburg, March 27—12:40 a.m.—A private letter written in January has been received from an officer of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron. The writer describes the activity of the ships in target practice and maneuvering. Life aboard ship, the writer says, was very uncomfortable, owing to the immense quantities of coal stored on the upper deck in all the free spaces, and owing to the heat which was inducing various tropical disease. Everyone was anxious to depart to meet the Japanese. At that time it was realized that reports that the Japanese had intended to attack the squadron in European waters had been unfounded.

CHANGED HIS HABITS

After Using the Samaria Tasteless Remedy He Has No More Desire for Liquor.

Hartney, Man., Feb. 19.

Sir,—Some weeks ago I received a bottle of your Remedy, and it seems to be doing its work as stated. My neighbor says her husband is very different in many ways since using your remedy. He is not so irritable, eats more and is getting more flesh, sleeps better and is greatly changed in other ways. Other people who knew nothing of the treatment have remarked the change in the man. He told his wife that he was not going to drink any more for a year, and that he had no desire for it. Of course, he does not know what is being done. Yours sincerely, MRS. F.
