Cambridge And Oxford Crews

Initial Boat Race 82 Years Ago—History of Struggles Between Universities.

New York, March 29—Over the four-mile course from Putney to Mortlake on the Thames River, England, the rival crews from Oxford and Cambridge universities will renew their annual struggle for rowing honors today. Eighty-two years ago the initial boat race between these two universities was a two-mile contest on the Thames at Henley and Oxford was the winter. All subsequent races, however, were decided over a four-mile course. The following six races were contested during a period of 17 years up to 1845, and in five of these Cambridge was the victor. In 1846 the crews rowed in outriggers for the first time. The 1857 race was the first in which either crew rowed in the present style of eights without keel and both used round oars, and sliding seats were introduced in 1873.

Owing to a cessation of all sporting events during the war no race was staged from 1913 until last year, when Campbidge won by four lengths in 21 minutes, 11 seconds, excellent time considering the unfavorable conditions of wind and rain which prevailed throughout the afternoon.

72 Races Rowed.

In all 72 races have been rowed by representative crews from these rival universitnes. Cambridge has won 39 of them, Oxford finished in front 32 times, and in 1877 a dead heat was the result. On March 30, 1912, both boats were swamped during a storm and the race was rowed over two days later, Oxford scoring a win.

This year international interest is added to the event because an Australian, J. A. Campbell of Melbourne, is a member of the Cambridge crew, while the United States will be represented in the Oxford boat by F. H. Lothrop, who rowed No. 2 on last year's Harvard 'Varsity eight. Lothrop will be in the same position tomorrow in the Oxford boat. This is not the first time, however, that American collegians took part in the university race on the Thames. The Milburn brothers, John G. and Deveraux of Buffalo, N. Y., and Harvard were members of the Oxford crew in 1902. John G. was No. 5 and Deveraux No. 2, in the Oxford boat that year and in 1903 Deveraux rowed No. 1 for Oxford. Since that time Deveraux Milburn has become more prominent as a polo player and he will leave for England next month to captain the American polo team in the international match at Hurlingham in June.

Harvard's Coach Talks.

Speaking of Lothrop's winning a place on the Oxford crew, Coach Haines of Harvard recently said: "It proves that our systems have much in common. In fact, they are very similar. The principal difference lies in a mechanical factor, the length of slide. We use a long slide; they use a short one. The result is that the English have to use the body for the drive, while we use the legs. It is comparatively simple for a man to make the change from long slide to short, but, it would be another story to change from short slide to long."

Another factor which increases interest in the race on the part of Americans is the possibility that one of the crews which row tomorrow may accept the invitation extended to both Oxford and Cambridge to take part in the Poughkeepsie regatta June 22.

The crews are exceptionally heavy this year and if they maintain the order in which they are named they will constitute a new record in this respect. In 1914, Cambridge averaged 177¼ lbs. per man, the heaviest up to date. Cambridge shows an average of 181 lbs., and Oxford 178¼ lbs., according to the latest available statistics which follow:—

Cambridge.

1. H. O. C. Boret (Eton and Third Trinity), (bow), 172 lbs.
2. A. G. W. Penney (Repton and Pembroke), 188½ lbs.
3. A. B. Kitchie (Osborne and Trinity Hall), 187 lbs.
4. A. D. B. Pearson (Winchester and First Trinity), 189 lbs.
5. H. B. Playford (St. Paul's and Jesus), 194½ lbs.
6. J. A. Campbell (Melbourne, Australia, and Jesus), 187 lbs.
7. The Hon. J. W. H. Fremantle (Eton and Third Trinity), 171 lbs.

P. H. G. H. S. Hartley (Eton and Lady Margaret), (stroke), 158 lbs.

L. E. Stephens (Felsted and Trinity Hall), (cox), 126 lbs.

Oxford.

1. P. Mallam (Lancing and Queen's), (bow), 161 lbs.
2. F. B. Lothrop (Harvard and Trinity), 184 lbs.
3. D. I. Coates (Bedford and Lincoln), 188 lbs.
4. D. T. Raikes (Radley and Merton), 182 lbs.
5. W. E. C. James (Eton and Magdalen), 184 lbs.
6. R. S. C. Lucas (Eton and Magdalen), 184½ lbs.
7. G. O. Nickalls (Eton and Magdalen), 171½ lbs.
8. Earl (Eton and Magdalen), (stroke), 171 lbs.

W. H. Porritt (Wyggeston and Magdalen), (cox), 122 lbs.

BOXING CLUB BURNS.

Philadelphia, March 29. — Only crumbling, blackened walls remain of the Olympia Athletic Club building, which was destroyed by fire early today. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The cause of the fire has not yet been determined. The club was built in 1908 exclusively for boxing.

John McLean's Chum Is Dead

John F. McCarthy Was Shot in Barroom Brawl When Former Ball Player Killed.

Boston, March 29.—John F. McCarthy, kept alive for several days by a transfusion of blood from his mother and brother that made it possible for him to be married while on a hospital cot, died early today.

McCarthy was shot in the bar room brawl last Thursday in which John D. (Larry) McLean, former major league baseball player, and a native of Fredericton, N. B., was killed.

John J. Connor, the bartender, who fired the shots is being held without bail. He claims McLean and McCarthy were intent on assaulting him when he fired.

FREDERICTON DOG SHOW.

Fredericton, N. B., March 29.—It has been definitely decided to have a dog show in connection with the Fredericton 1921 exhibition. The Fredericton Kennel Club will be formed and will have charge of the dog show, which is expected to attract between 150 and 200 animals from all parts of Eastern Canada. W. W. Laskey of this city, whose dogs have been big winners at many shows, will be the superintendent of the dog show.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Pinehurst, N. C., March 29—Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, of Pittsburgh, and Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr., of Chicago, today won their way to the final round of the North and South Golf championship.

Canadian Boxer Fights In New York

Eugene Brosseau Goes Up Against Angie Ratner or Soldier Bartfield April 21.

Montreal, March 29—Billy Merehouse, manager for Eugene Brosseau, one time middleweight champion of Canada, stated today that application had been made in New York for a card for the fighter and for himself as manager and that Brosseau will fight there on April 21.

The Canadian boxer will fight either Angie Ratner or Soldier Bartfield at the Walker Athletic Club, Morehouse announced.

KID LEWIS WON.

Montreal, March 29.—Kid Lewis, local lightweight, easily outpointed Joe Ritchie of Buffalo here tonight in their ten round bout.

Sammie Morris of California, was disqualified in the fifth round for hanging on and fouling Young Jack Sharkey of Buffalo. Both men are lightweights.

Solly Green, local bantamweight, scored a decisive victory over Georges Girardin outpointing him in each of the scheduled ten rounds.

FROM HERE AND THERE.

First Silk Stockings.

Five thousand years ago, says the ancient Chinese historian, Tshu-King, the first pair of silk stockings were made and presented to Empress Kwang Tsi.

Salt.

Cloth wrung from salt and water will wash matting.

A pinch of salt added to coffee improves the flavor.

Few grains of salt added will "whip" cream.

The Sad Reason.

Old lady (to mendicant)—But, my good man, your story has such a hollow ring.

"Yes, missis, that's the natural result of speaking with an empty stummick."—London Mail.

Women Build Church.

The village of Tovey, Ill., owes its new Methodist church wholly to the endeavors of a group of energetic women who gathered and cleaned 40,000 second-hand brick with which to build the edifice.—Cleveland "Plain Dealer."

A woman is glad to be 20, ashamed to be 40, sorry to be 60, and proud to be 80.

Baconed Veal.

Baconed Veal—Put through a food chopper 1½ pounds of raw veal (from the neck) and ¼ pound of raw bacon. Add to this mixture 1 cup stale bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 1 teaspoon salt and a little pepper. Form four balls out of this mixture and fry these balls in a hot frying pan in table oil. When brown all over, put them into a baking dish and pour around and over them this sauce:

Sauce—Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in a saucepan, add 2 tablespoons of flour, mixing well, then 1 pint of soup stock (or water mixed with a little gravy) and season with salt and pepper to taste. Boil for 5 minutes, then pour over the veal balls. Bake this dish for fifty minutes in a moderate oven.

Baked Indian Pudding.

4 cups milk,
1 cup cornmeal,
2 cups sugar,
3 eggs,
2 tablespoons butter,
1 cup seeded raisins,
½ teaspoon salt,
½ nutmeg (grated).

Scald milk and add meal. Add sugar, eggs well beaten, butter, raisins, salt and nutmeg. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake an hour an da half in a slow oven. Serve with cream.

Hereafter windows of Hutchinson Commons, Mandel Hall, Harper, and the law library of the University of Chicago are not to be washed, but left to produce an atmosphere similar that of European cathedrals and other structures of medieval architecture.

Savings deposits of school children throughout the United States aggregate $4,200,872 on February 1. This compares with a total of $2,274,628.49 for the school year of 1919-20. The thrift report is bassed on 2620 schools with an enrollment of 1,430,936 pupils.

Mrs. Orlando Crease, Jr., of North Wales, Pa., recently enrolled her 16-month-old daughter, Deborah, at Wellesly College. Her name was entered on the school register as "Deborah Crease, Class of 1942," which means that she will enter as a freshman in 1938.

Demonstration Of Scout Craft

Large Audience at Armoury Enjoyed Programme Given by Boy Scout Troops.

The demonstration of Scout craft given in the Armouries last evening by the united Boy Scout Troops of St. John and Rothesay, under the patronage of His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, was a revelation to the over a thousand spectators who witnessed the review.

A temporary stage had been built for the occasion at one end of the armory, and on it the scouts went through the different features which constituted the routine life of a scout. Every number found the scouts well prepared, although as much could hardly be said for the audience who were treated to one surprise after the other as the scouts deftly constructed bridges, rendered first aid to the injured, tied knots and sent signals by flags, and even by wireless, fought fires, drew maps, boxed the compass, and carried out the other items in the evening's programme.

Spectators Interested.

One of the most interested of the spectators was His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, who accompanied by Mrs. Pugsley, occupied a prominent position near the stage. The Governor was also accompanied by his military aides, Lieut.-Col. McMillan and Major Vassie. Others present were Brigadier-General Macdonnel, His Worship Mayor Schofield, Commissioner Thornton, Lieut.-Col. Snow, Major Mooney and Captain Woods.

During the intermission the King Scout badge was presented to David Legate, of the 1st St. John (Knox) troop, Earl Seeley and Murray Strong of the 2nd St. John (St. Paul's) troop.

The Wolf Cubs.

A feature which was particularly well received was the massing of nearly a hundred wolf cubs, lads of from eight to twelve years of age, who went through a snake dance in a very clever manner.

During the evening several selections were discoursed by the band of the St. John Fusiliers under the direction of Sergeant-Major Perkins.

The Programme.

The programme follows:
Opening by Lieutenant-Governor.
Scout Promise and Scout Law
King's Scout Jenner (11th Troop St. Luke's).
Scout Camp and Physical Drill 15th Troop (Centenary), and 5th Troop (St. Jude's).
Signalling ..2nd Troop (St. Paul's)
Bridge-building..1st Troop (Knox)
First Aid ..3rd Troop (St. Andrew's)

Intermission.

During the intermission the Lieutenant-Governor presented King's Scout Badges.
Six Packs of Wolf Cubs—Trinity, St. Paul's, Stone, Church of Good Shepherd, St. Luke's, Coburg Street Christian.
Breaking in a Scout
11th Troop (St. Luke's)
Boxing the Compass and Knot Tieing 7th Troop (Stone) and 13th Troop (Coburg Street Christian)
Stave Drill—8th Troop (Mission)
Sketching and Scout Games
18th Troop (Rothesay)
Fire Fighting—17th Troop (Trinity)
God Save the King.
(Ushers, messengers, etc., 14th Troop (Victoria Street Baptist), 4th Troop (1st Presbyterian), 16th Troop (Douglas avenue Baptist).

MISS QUINN.

Miss Quinn was our untiring village nurse—
She brought each child into the world and then
Guarded it safely through all ailments. Men
Who thought themselves, at home, the universe
Implored her cheery guidance to disperse
Domestic clouds. The local drunkard's wife
Kept up her pride in times of dread and strife
By hearing from Miss Quinn, "It might be worse."
Strong, clever, selfless, quick with kindly tact
To save a situation or a soul,
We took it as a simple, natural fact
That she should keep us satisfied and whole.
We never looked at burdens from her side,
Til one day she was just worn out—and died.

Association Tanks Are Busy Centres

Swimmers of Y. M. C. I., Y. M. C. A. and Independent Clubs Training for Championships.

The tanks at the Y. M. C. I. and Y. M. C. A. are busy centres these days and numbers of swimmers of both associations, as well as those of independent clubs, are working hard in preparation for the Amateur Maritime Swimming Championships which are to be held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. I. in the big pool on Cliff street, on the 16th of next month.

Instructor Stirling who has more than his hands full upstairs in the gym with athletes of both sexes and all ages has turned the "aquarium" over to W. J. McNulty. Several pupils have mastered the crawl, to such an extent that they may almost be said to have perfected it, and there is little doubt but they will make several records when the big swimming meet is held.

The Y. M. C. I. will have about 15 entries for the championships and the Y. M. C. A. 12. Keen rivalry may be looked forward to in all the events.

Smoke.

The other day I met a man,
Who said he wished the winter past,
That what with stoking and with clinkers,
And smoky gases in his blinkers,
He rather doubted if he'd last.

"Such troubles," answered I, "I ban,
I clean my firepot in a trice."
"But you'll admit," said he, "that fuel
Is nigh as precious as a jewel."
"I pay," said I, "a moderate price."

"But can you make it catch?" "I can.
One stick of kindling does," I laughed.
"But how?" he queried, "how in blazes
Do you avoid these smoky hazes?"
Said I, "I regulate my draught."

"I like the smoking," I began.
Said he, "For that I don't muchscare.
But say, here's something that abashes—
What do you do with all your ashes?"
Said I, "Just dump 'em anywhere."

"I'm off," he cried, "to hire a van,
And buy a furnace of that type."
'Hold on," said I, "and cease your raving,
Your vain and much mistaken craving;
Why, I was talking of my pipe!"

Will Give Dinner To Davis Cup Team

Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, Will Be Guest at New York, April 22.

New York, March 29—Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, will be a guest of honor at the dinner to be given here on April 22 for the victorious U. S. Davis Cup tennis team, according to an announcement made by Julian S. Myrick, President of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Inasmuch as the team which won the cup played in both England and Australia, and journeyed to the latter country via Canada it was considered peculiarly appropriate that the British ambassador should be present. Said Mr. Myrick:

"The fact that the British ambassador has done us the honor of accepting our invitation shows clearly the position which tennis has attained internationally, and promises to make this dinner the most important event of the kind that has ever been held."

The dinner will take place in the grand ballroom of the Biltmore Hotel. In addition to the Davis Cup team, members of former U. S. teams and men active in tennis throughout the United States are expected to be in attendance.

HINTS FOR HOME-MAKERS

Fried oysters on crisp lettuce make delicious sandwich filling.

Tart, well-flavored apples should be selected for pies and dumplings.

Fat should be allowed to heat gradually in the pan. Never put it into a pan already hot.

Let potatoes lie in cold water for a little while before paring if you wish them to be white.

THE LOST JOY.

I'm searching for the silver flute
The goblins stole from me,
The slender flute,
The tender flute,
That piped so pleasingly.

That all the surly folks and sad . . . .
Who paused to hear me play
My smiling flute,
My guiding flute,
Went singing on their way.

I'm searching for the silver flute . . .
The fairies gave to me,
The laughing flute,
The chaffing flute,
That set the captives free.

Sprinter Tied World's Record

Charles Paddock, Southern California, Ran Hundred Yards in 9 3-5 Seconds.

Stanford University, Cal., March 29 Charles Paddock, University of Southern California sprinter, tied the world's record of 9 3-5 seconds in the one hundred yard dash for the second time within a week in a track meet today, between his college and Stanford University. Paddock ran the 220 yard dash in 21 seconds flat, breaking the world's record for the event by one-fifth of a second.

MARITIME CLUBS MEET IN TRURO

A meeting of representatives of all the different clubs in the Maritime Provinces has been called for April 5th at Truro, N. S. This meeting is to go over the different rules affecting Amateur Sport so that any rule that is not quite clear may be explained, and that every club may have opportunity of knowing fully the rules that govern Amateur Sport. Every club may have representatives present, whether they are affiliated with the Association or not.

THE DIFFERENCE.

It was an ordinary dull London day,
And you had just the same slight charm of bearing
I'd often noticed in a casual way.
Yet it was different, for you were wearing
That silky hanging dress of royal blue
With two thick bands of heavy gold across it.
Somehow this made a mystery, as if you
Were lost and wandering in a haunted forest,
And yet the sun had stretched a long arm through
And laid two golden fingers on your dress.
It meant that you were really a princess
Whom I must rescue from the dingy forest.
