A RAGGED GAME OF BALL.

THE TORONTOS BEATEN BY THEIR OWN BAD PLAY.

Hamilton Defeated by Rochester—Racing at Baltimore—Hanlan, Beach and Gaudaur—The Champion Accepts the Ex-Champion's Challenge.

History tells us that the best of 'em are liable to have an off day. History is not human and consequently history never lies. The Toronto baseball nine, it had been fondly hoped, were among "the best of 'em," but whether they are or not, yesterday they certainly had a terribly bad off day. It is true the Buffalo battery did good work and the visitors possibly excelled in baserunning, but neither the one nor the other gave them the victory. It was simply the rank fielding of the home club. With one or two exceptions they batted well, but scarcely a ball was driven by their opponents to any part of the field that wasn't fumbled, if, indeed, it was taken at all. Veach alone distinguished himself, and he, as he always does, proved himself about the best all-round player in the crowd. He was not lucky at bat, but he filled his position at left field magnificently, taking half a dozen flies on the run, and putting the side out in the first innings, in a manner that caused the grand stand to echo again with applause. On the other hand, Jonathan Morrison most unaccountably missed what appeared a dead certainty. Spill, too, who covered himself with glory at short the previous day, had to be credited with two bad errors and rarely took a ball cleanly. But to Smith, the third baseman, is undoubtedly due the whole discomfiture. He had no less than three errors, and one in the first innings resulted in the Bison's getting four runs. Faatz, too, at first base, was not up to his usual form, and, what is worse, lost his temper and used language that should never be heard on a baseball field, that is if respectable people are expected to be included in the audience. As captain of the team he was undoubtedly justified in appealing against two or three apparently rank decisions of the umpire, one in particular at third, but that did not necessitate any profanity. Veach was also guilty of a manifestation of temper at bat, which, however much provoked by the illegal course of the pitcher in delaying the game, did not prove conducive to success. Of the others Emslie pitched only fairly well, but Darling did splendidly behind the bat. There is this much to be said for Emslie—that the support he received was enough to dishearten anybody. The Buffalos batted hard and well, Holzberger in the first innings making the hit of the day, a corker nearly to the northern fence on which he navigated the diamond from plate to plate. Their fielding was tolerably clean, the catcher Smith having to be credited with about fifty per cent. of the errors. Welch pitches a good ball and succeeded in striking out eight men, Mackin being dosed three times and Morrison, Faatz, Smith, Veach and Spill once each. Emslie struck out only four, namely, Smith twice and Welch and Firle once each. The score must tell the story of, on the whole, a pretty sorry game that was witnessed by eleven or twelve hundred people:

HAMILTON, May 19.—Nearly a thousand people were attracted to Dundurn this afternoon to see the Hamilton and Rochester teams play baseball. Owing to the closeness of the score the interest was intense. Corcoran umpired satisfactorily. The game lasted 2 hrs. 15 mins. Maul pitched for Rochester and struck out eight men. McArthur pitched for Hamilton and did the same with nine. Rochester had two earned runs.

Fair Balls.

Utica plays Sleeman's aggregation July 1.

Somebody should present the Toronto scorers with a copy of Spaulding's Guide in which they might learn that when a pitcher gives a batsman his base on called balls the pitcher is credited with an error.—Hamilton Times.

If Binghamton drops out of the International League, Elmira wants to come in.

The Rochester Herald remarks that 8 to 7 is not 8 to 0; but it counts just the same.

The address is wanted by a correspondent of the Secretary of the Primrose Baseball Club (Junior Amateur League).

Toronto to Hamilton: "Shake, how do you like yours? It appears we both were left by one. This day will give us our revenge. May it do the same for you."

Senior amateur games have been arranged as follows: Saturday, Metropolitans v. Atlantics and St. Michael's Coll. v. Athletics; Queen's birthday, Metropolitans v. Ottawa at Ottawa, Atlantics v. Unbridge and Athletics v. Cobourg. The St. Michael's Juniors play the Clippers on Monday.

The International League games to-day are: Buffalo v Toronto at Rosedale; Rochester v Hamilton; Utica v Syracuse and Oswego v Binghamton. The game at Rosedale will be called at 4 p.m. Davis and Humphries will probably be the Toronto battery and Pete and Fred Woods the Buffalo.

Umpire Clapp went to Toronto to-day to umpire the Toronto-Buffalo game. If he will take his coat off and wake up a little he will do better than he did yesterday in Hamilton. A man cannot give accurate judgment on balls or strikes when he stands 50 feet from the plate.—Hamilton Times. From all of which it is to be gathered that Hamilton thinks about as much of Mr. Clapp as an umpire as Toronto has learned to do. Barring one, Dave Sullivan, the International League umpires do not appear huge successes.

Hanlan, Beach, Gaudaur.

LONDON, May 19.—Beach, the Australian sculler, has accepted the challenge received from Hanlan for a race on the Thames.

Hanlan was overjoyed last night on being shown the above cablegram. His first question was as to the date, and then he said he supposed he would have to wait until he heard from Mr. W J Innes, his English backer, before he could know anything about that. He consequently could not say when he would sail for England, but it would probably be the first week in July, after he had fulfilled his engagements in Quebec. Hanlan had with him at the interview our old friend, Jake Gaudaur, who arrived from St Louis yesterday morning. Hamm was not along, having gone on to Boston to get a new single and a new double. Jake, who looked hale and hearty and greatly improved, said he and his partner Hamm had come along to train for Hanlan's great regatta June 4 and 5, in which they had entered for both the singles and doubles. After that they intend to go to Pullman, Ill., where on June 12 Gaudaur will row Teemer. Asked what he thought of his prospects to beat the McKeesport man, Jake said of course he couldn't say but he was never feeling better nor rowing faster than he was at the present time. He said, along with Enright, Lee and Hanlan he had a couple of spins on the bay yesterday morning and afternoon just to limber up after riding between thirty and forty hours in the cars. Jake remarked that it reminded him of old times to be once more among his countrymen and, if possible, he said, "I would like to stay here, but I couldn't make so much in Toronto as I can in St. Louis." Jake turns the scales at 182 lbs. with his clothes on, and has only two or three pounds to take off before the race. He and the other oarsmen will be visible every day over at the Island, via the Doty Line, until June 5.

Racing in the States.

BALTIMORE, May 19.—The second day of the Spring Meeting of the Maryland Jockey Club was much more successful than anticipated. The track was in bad condition. First race, ¾ of a mile, Strathspey won, Bessie second, Farewell third; time 1.20¼. Second race, one mile, Rock and Rye won, Pasha second Dry Monopole third; time 1.47¾. Third race, 1 mile, Young Lake won, Paymaster second, Magkie Mitchell third; time 51½ seconds. Fourth race, one mile, Little Minnie won, Mentmore second, Ridgefield third; time 1.50¼. Fifth race, 1¼ miles, Bersan won, Compensation second; time 2.18.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 19.—Track fast. First race, ¾ mile, Poteen won, Hinda second, Bracaban third; time 1.16¾. Second race, mile heats; in the first heat Adrian and Malvar finished so close together that the judges decided a dead heat, Lord Dunbar distanced; time 1.45. Second heat, Malvar won, Adrian second; time 1.48¼. Third heat, Adrian cramped and was withdrawn, and Malvar walked over. Third race, 1½ miles, Chancel won, Eloise second, Bluestone third; time 1.57. Fourth race, 1½ miles, Phillip S. won, Myrtle second, Harefoot third; time 2.11.

General Notes.

A game of Association football will be played between the Normal School team and a team from Jno Macdonald & Co's Thursday at 6.30 on the grounds of the former.

The Toronto Sailing Skiff Club intend holding their second annual "At Home" on Saturday, June 12th, and from the interest taken in this affair it promises to be one of the events of the season.

Mr Sachs, of the New York Athletic Club, has sailed for Europe. While in England he will attempt to arrange races between Myers and Cummings and Myers and Harry Hutchens, the famous English sprinter. He will also try to induce J M Cowle, the amateur champion of England, to come to America to meet Wendell Baker, of Harvard College.

THE MALE JENKINS.

The Trials of a Young Reporter of Society Circles.

From the Boston Record.

There is something pitiful in the efforts of the ordinary man at writing descriptions of toilets, and especially of bridal toilets. A certain young Bostonian wrote up a certain bride's gown the other day in a prominent newspaper, and he did it in a way that must have made the bride herself laugh too much to be angry. He began brilliantly thus: "The bridal trousseau was made of white satin with very low neck and sleeves."

"This reminds me" says an old newspaper writer, "of some work done by a young fellow just out of Yale who had gone on a western journal. He had taken the first work that offered, which happened to be 'society reporting.' He hated it, of course, and determined to get out of it as quickly as possible. So he wrote up the most extraordinary accounts of the parties and the clothes that he was assigned to observe. He didn't know a thing about dry goods and millinery and he made no effort at informing himself, but declared day after day for a fortnight that the bride or the belle of the wedding or party which he was detailed to 'do' was dressed in 'rep.' Sometime he called it 'rep brocade,' sometimes 'rep, francai,' or 'crepe rep,' and he adorned the gowns of his fancy in the most surprising fashion. Like most men, he had a strong hold, and the words 'bias' and 'gore,' These were his chief stock in trade, and the way he trimmed up women's clothes with biases and gores was convulsing. In an apparently serious account of the marriage of a millionaire's daughter he said, 'The exquisite white rep costume of the bride was trimmed with a tablier of bias shirrs, coped over the shoulder and a ruche of goring around the waist.'

"Of course the thunder rattled about his ears. He was called before the city editor, who asked him what under the sun he meant by writing stuff about toilets that made all the society women of the city either angry or disgusted with the paper.

"'I did my best, sir,' said the Yale youth.

"'I'd like to know what you expect me to do with you,' growled the city editor; 'my wife says any fool could write better stuff than that.'

"'I'm glad of that,' replied the young man, with a smile.

"The city editor scowled at him an instant, then broke into a laugh. 'I believe you've got mettle in you, youngster; I'll discharge you from doing society, and you can go over and try your hand at reporting the national convention to-morrow. You won't be able to impose any political biases and shirrs on me, and I think I'll hire a woman to do the millinery business.'"

QUEEN'S OWN NOTES.

Contemplated Resignation of the Colonel —The Jaunt to Orillia.

Major Allan was in command last night. The regiment marched to Brock street, where it drilled for half an hour.

The Battalion will parade in heavy marching order Friday night, when final orders for the Orillia trip will be given.

The new helmets cost the men $1.75 each. They will be worn on the Orillia jaunt.

It is generally understood that Lieut.-Col. Miller will shortly resign command of the battalion. The duties are by no means light and demand more time than he can spare. The Colonel has made a good commander and is popular with the men. Major Allan will, it is also stated, step down and out. This will leave Major R B Hamilton senior officer and he will come in for the command, with Capt. Delamere as senior major and Capt. Brown junior major. Capt. Macdonald to succeed Capt. Delamere as adjutant.

The muster Saturday afternoon is called for 2.45.
