CERTIFICATE OF THE REGISTRATION OF AN EXTRA-PROVINCIAL COMPANY.
"Companies Act, 1897."

I HEREBY CERTIFY that the "Red Cliff Land & Lumber Company, Limited," has this day been registered as an Extra-Provincial company under the "Companies Act, 1897," to carry out or effect all or any of the objects of the company to which the legislative authority of the Legislature of British Columbia extends, except the construction and working of railways and the business of insurance.

The head office of the company is situate at the City of Superior, County of Douglas, State of Wisconsin, U. S. A.

The amount of the capital of the company is four hundred thousand dollars, divided into four thousand shares of one hundred dollars each.

The head office of the company in this province is situate at Victoria, Vancouver Island, and E. Dallas Edinncken, Barrister-at-Law, whose address is Victoria, Vancouver Island, is the attorney for the company.

The company is limited.

Given under my hand and seal of office at Victoria, province of British Columbia, this 23rd day of September, one thousand nine hundred and seven.

[L.S.] S. Y. WOOTTON,
Registrar of Joint Stock Companies.

The objects for which the company has been established and registered are:—

(a.) To carry on and conduct a general timber, logging and lumbering business, and the business of manufacturing timber and forest products into any and all articles of merchandise, and the business of handling and dealing in timber, forest products and articles manufactured therefrom:

(b.) To improve, and to improve the navigation of, and to erect and equip any structures and fixtures in any water-way, body of water and its tributaries, in any manner as shall be necessary for or facilitate the handling and transporting thereon of logs, timber and timber products:

(c.) To acquire, construct and operate ships and vessels of any and all kinds:

(d.) To carry passengers and goods in any ships and vessels between such places as the company may determine, and to collect money for fares and freight for the carriage of passengers and goods:

(e.) To carry on all or any of the business of ship owners, exporters, importers, carriers by land and water, stevedores, warehousemen, wharfingers, forwarding agents, general traders, dealers, merchants, commission merchants and storekeepers:

(f.) To construct, equip, maintain and operate any mills, buildings, machinery, manufactories, railways, works, plants, fixtures and structures as shall be necessary for the purposes of the company, and to contribute to, subsidize or otherwise aid or take part in any such operations though undertaken, constructed or maintained by any other person or corporation:

(g.) To direct, take and carry away water from any stream, river, and lake, the right whereto may be lawfully obtained or acquired, and to acquire water and water power by records of unrecorded water or by the purchase of water records of water privileges for the purpose of rendering water and water power available for use, application and distribution or the transformation thereof into power of any other kind, and to operate and carry on the business of a power company:

(h.) To enter into any arrangement with any government or authority, supreme, foreign, local, municipal or otherwise, or with any corporation, foreign or domestic, company or individual that may be conducive to the interests of the company, and obtain and acquire therefrom and hold, possess and enjoy any right, licence, lease, privilege, franchise or concession that the company may deem desirable or necessary, and to carry out, exercise and comply with the same:

(i.) To carry on business as general contractors for the carrying out, construction, installation and completion of works, erections and contracts of all kinds:

(j.) To lay out land for building purposes and, to build, improve, let on building leases, advance money to persons building, or otherwise develop the same in such manner as may seem expedient to advance the company's interest:

(k.) To obtain by purchase, lease, hire, discovery, location, or otherwise, and hold, possess and enjoy mines, mineral claims, mineral leases, prospects, mining lands, mining rights of every description or any interest therein, or options or rights for or in relation thereto:

(l.) To prospect or search for, dig for, win, raise, get, quarry, crush, wash, smelt, reduce, amalgamate, dress, assay, analyze, refine, extract, prepare for market or otherwise treat or render to the most profitable merchantable value and market, quartz, ore, minerals, mineral or metallic substances and compounds of all kinds, coal, oils, stone, and precious stones whether belonging to the company or not, and generally to carry on any metallurgical operations:

(m.) To carry on the business of a mining, smelting, milling and refining company in all or any of its branches:

(n.) To purchase, hire, take on lease or licence, or take by gift or devise, or otherwise acquire any and all kinds of property whatsoever, real, personal and mixed, and any estate, interest, licence, easement, right, privilege or franchise, in, connected with or growing out of, any property whatsoever, including without limiting the foregoing words, timber, timber limits, timber berths, and licences to cut and remove timber from any land in the province of British Columbia, or elsewhere, and to invest, in traffic in, deal in, own hold, possess and enjoy any thereof and to grant, sell, convey or authorize to be conveyed, exchange, dispose of, lease, let, improve, cultivate, turn to account, manage, hypothecate, pledge, mortgage, borrow on the security of, charge or otherwise deal with all or any portion of the property owned by the company or subsequently acquired by it, and its franchises, tolls and revenue whatsoever, and to subscribe for, take and hold, in its corporate capacity, stock or shares in any other corporation, foreign or domestic, and to do any and every act and thing necessary or proper to conduct the business and accomplish the purposes of the company:

(o.) To purchase, lease, or otherwise acquire any business similar in character to the herein stated objects, and to acquire and undertake the whole or any part of the business, property, goodwill, assets, stock-in-trade, credits, effects and liabilities of any person or company carrying on any business which this company is authorized to carry on, or possessed of property suitable for the purposes of this company, and to pay for the same either in cash or in shares of stock in this company:

(p.) To apply for, purchase or otherwise acquire any patent or patent rights, containing any exclusive or non-exclusive or limited rights to use, which may seem calculated to directly or indirectly benefit this company, and to use, exercise, develop and turn to account the property or rights so acquired:

(q.) To procure the company to be registered, licensed, recognized and authorized to transact business, or to enable it to acquire the legal status of a corporation in any other state, territory or country, foreign or otherwise, and to establish local agencies and branch businesses in any places:

(r.) To carry on any other business which may seem capable of being conveniently carried on in connection with the foregoing, or otherwise calculated, directly or indirectly to enhance the value of, or render profitable any of the company's property or rights:

(s.) To invest, lend and deal with the moneys of the company in and upon any securities and property, and in such manner as from time to time may be determined:

(t.) To do any and every act or thing that is or shall be necessary or expedient to effect and accomplish the objects and purposes for which this company is organized. s29

SUDDEN DEATH OF MINING DIRECTOR

Clermont Livingstone, of the Tyee Copper Company, Dies of Pneumonia

(From Tuesday's Daily)

After an illness of less than a week, Clermont Livingstone, managing director of the Tyee Copper company, and one of the mostly highly respected of mining men in the province, died on Sunday evening at his home near the mouth of the Koksilah river. Death occurred very suddenly, the deceased having been ill this week for more than a week ago. He was then suffering from a severe cold which later developed into bronchial pneumonia, which proved fatal. All that medical skill could do was done. Dr. Jones, of this city, was summoned last by special train, but could do nothing.

The late Mr. Livingstone was born at Stamford Hill, London, in 1850, his father being a large shipowner. Although he never visited South Africa, he became interested in the Rand mines in his younger days.

Fifteen years ago he came to this city from London and but a short time after he acquired the Tyee mine, taking it over from the original discoverers. A small development company which had been formed eventually the Tyee Copper company. Well known in London, he secured the necessary capital in financial centers there to place the company upon a sound basis. Through his efforts the Tyee smelter was built and the company made a success generally. He was also managing director of the Vancouver Island Development company, that is at present developing claims on Mount Sicker and at Koksilah and which was also financed from London.

The late Mr. Livingstone was twice married and is survived by a wife, two daughters and three sons. Both daughters are married and spent part of the summer on the island. It was to bid them farewell that Mr. Livingstone accompanied them to Victoria the day week. One daughter is Mrs. Whitman, a resident of London, England, and the other Mrs. Lancaster, who lives in California. A third daughter, now deceased, was wife of E. C. Musgrave, former manager of the Tyee Copper company. Douglas, Gerald, the sons is now mining in Mexico, while the other two, Carroll and Phillip, are at home.

The late Mr. Livingstone, while he had but little time to devote to the matter, had considerable political ability, and in one or two instances surprised his friends by the finish and excellence of his style.

Speaking of Mr. Livingstone's death, one of the best informed of local mining men said:

"The death of Mr. Livingstone is a distinct loss to the mining community. His properties have been the most straight-forwardly managed and straightly conducted of any in the entire province and his name has been a synonym for straight-dealing. Even when it was against his own interest and that of his company he has not chocked the truth and the result was that capital at home and abroad had the fullest measure of confidence in him and his judgment."

MORE ROOM NEEDED FOR PROVINCE'S INSANE

Probable That Government Will Erect New Asylum on Coquitlam Farm

Additional accommodation for the insane of the province will have to be provided by the provincial government in the near future. While the average of insane is less compared with the total of population in any other province of the Dominion, British Columbia's awakening has been attended by an increase in population, and the total number of lunatics has increased.

The number of lunatics received at New Westminster this year will reach 200. Last year there were but 150. The average remains the same, being 1 in 500 for B. C., as compared with 1 in 300 in Ontario.

The provincial government has raised one of the wings of the present building and Dr. Young, provincial secretary, has authorized the elevation of the other wing for the accommodation of the increased number of inmates. No definite announcement has been made by the local government but it is thought probable that at the forthcoming session of the legislature, the estimates will provide for a new and extensive building upon the farm belonging to the asylum at Coquitlam. While in the east, Hon. Dr. Young inspected the insane asylums at Toronto, Kingston and Montreal, and obtained some hints which should prove valuable here.

SIX HUNDRED SIGN PETITION

The Oriental Exclusion League Holds Regular Weekly Meeting

(From Tuesday's Daily)

A committee was appointed at the regular weekly meeting of the Asiatic Exclusion league in Labor hall last evening to draft a series of resolutions expressive of the league's attitude on the question of oriental immigration. These will be submitted to the league at its meeting on Monday evening next for their approval and will then be forwarded to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, and Hon. Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia.

A number of speeches were delivered by members of the league, and petitions containing some six hundred signatures, which will later be forwarded to the governments of the province and the Dominion were handed in to the secretary. It was arranged that members of the society should be stationed at various corners on Government street on Saturday afternoon next to obtain the signatures of passersby to the same petition. The attendance was not quite as large as on the evening of the previous meeting but some seventy-five persons were in the hall.

The president of the league John Jardine, M.P.P. for Esquimalt, presided.

Those who had taken petition blanks to obtain signatures rendered informal reports of the progress they had made. Some of these proved interesting.

G. H. Locke informed the meeting that the clergy of the city were opposed to the attainment of the purpose which the league had in view. He instanced the attitude of Rev. G. K. B. Adams and Rev. T. W. Gladstone in support of this contention.

Mr. Adams had preached against it, and in the words of a hearer, Mr. Lock stated, had advocated that instead of excluding the Japanese each Christian should take a Japanese upon his back and carry him to Christ. To put a stop to any doubt as to the attitude of Mr. Adams on the matter the speaker had called upon the reverend gentleman yesterday morning and had asked him to sign the petition. Mr. Adams had stated that while he sympathized with the league he as the agent of the Methodist church and connected with the Japanese mission could not affix his signature to the petition. He had stated when invited to be present at the league meeting that engagements prevented his coming.

Similarly the speaker Mr. Locke, had called at the Y.M.C.A. to see Rev. A. J. Brace. He had hardly gone to the office when he encountered a number of people he knew. He asked them to sign the petition. They had refused, saying they had attended. Even Mr. Gladstone had joined them and though outnumbered he believed that he had not gone away with his tail between his legs. He had not seen Rev. Mr. Brace.

J. C. Watters was the next speaker. He wanted to know who was to blame for the non-enactment of the Naturalization act or rather the so-called bowser bill. There were those who stated that Hon. Mr. Bowser was not sincere in his desire to have that bill become law, and that the government had merely played for the vote of the labor men.

He did not know whether the government was sincere or not sincere in its desire to have the bill become law, but he could propose a very simple test. He would move that the members for Victoria city, Premier McBridt and the others, should resign in a body as a protest against the vetoing of the bill by Lieutenant Governor Dunsmuir. It was not alone the workingmen of British Columbia who desired to see the Japanese and other Orientals excluded. It was the workingmen of the Dominion. There was no need of educating the east. That congress of the trades and labor councils of Canada at Winnipeg. In conclusion Mr. Watters moved the formal resolution:

"That this league call on the Hon. Richard McBride and the members for the city of Victoria to resign their seats as a protest against the vetoing of the Bowser bill."

The motion was seconded by J. L. Fraser. Mr. Fraser was apparently of the idea that the motion had reference to the member for the Dominion house of commons as well as the local members of the legislature for he instanced the fact that of the seven members for British Columbia only one member, J. D. Kennedy, of New Westminster, had raised a dissenting voice to the treaty with Japan which had authorized the entry of the Japanese. The other six members, including Ralph Smith, "the workingmen's friend," had been silent and had tamely followed the lead of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

In endorsing the motion another gentleman whose name could not be learned, stated that he thought the local league had not been forcible enough in its expression of opinion. He thought that the effigy of the lieutenant governor should be burned in this city.

At this moment Chairman Jardine interrupted the speaker. He pointed out the necessity for proceeding by constitutional methods to attain the league's objects. Nothing could be gained by acting in the manner mentioned.

The previous speaker though of the same opinion still, consented to withdraw the suggestion.

Mr. Argyle was the next speaker. He took exception to the motion. He thought it could do little good. It would serve to bring ridicule upon the heads of the league. The league consisted of 118 members. It could not claim to represent the opinions of the 2,000 odd voters of Victoria. The motion did not ask the Ottawa members to resign and yet when the bill which was incidentally the cause of the entire trouble had been before the Dominion house but one member from British Columbia had opposed its passage or uttered a warning note. Ralph Smith, who had so boldly opposed the entry of the Chinese, and who had been instrumental in having the exclusion act become law, had been silent. It was inconsistent.

After a short rejoinder from Mr. Watters, who thought that the league was as much entitled to consideration as the Board of Trade and the Property Owners' association, Mr. Jardine gave a short exposition of his view of the situation regarding the Bowser bill. The Bowser bill had been vetoed by the lieutenant governor because he had noticed an error in the act, which inadvertently or inadvertently had crept in, and the representative of the crown in British Columbia, not willing to see a bill become a law which would make legal the entry of Chinese, had exercised the power in his office.

Mr. Jardine suggested, however, that the motion be dropped and the league left to the committee on resolutions to incorporate this with the other resolutions and suggestions of the league. The suggestion was adopted.

One gentleman in the course of the meeting stated that the league had lost the sympathy of the papers of the city and made the statement that the Colonist had editorially opposed the league and had endeavored to discredit it. Mr. Jardine referred to the presence of a Colonist reporter and somewhat different omen and assured his belief that any report of the proceedings of the league which that paper would print, would be a fair one.

The league adjourned to meet next Monday night, and prior to dispersing a number of new members were enrolled.

Another Sudden Death.

Kelowna, B.C., Oct. 21.—Following the finding of the body of old John Moore and the death of F. W. Evetts, yet another sudden death has to be chronicled in the decease of Augustine Levaque, well known in town as "Joe," who died on Sunday morning of heart failure at the camp at the Central Okanagan company's dam, about 12 miles from Kelowna and high up in the hills.

ONE-FIFTH OF PEOPLE ASIATIC

Startling Statement Made Regarding New Westminster Population

New Westminster, B.C., Oct. 21.—The starling figures are given out by the chief of police in regard to the number of Asiatic laborers who either work in this city or make this their headquarters. Chief McIntosh gives as the approximate number of Japanese at present in the city as 200; Chinese, 850; and Hindus in the vicinity of 100. The chief states that the number of Japanese will increase from this time on as the fishing season was about over, while during last summer the city had some 1,100 Chinamen inside its limits and over 400 Hindus, who gained a livelihood in some manner in the community.

It is estimated that including the Asiatics who are engaged in the lumber camps in the near vicinity and employed as fishermen and in the mills at Milliside, that during last summer there were in the vicinity of 2,000 yellow laborers making this city their headquarters. In other words as the population of New Westminster is said to be approximately 10,000 one-fifth of the entire population is yellow. This is said to be a much greater proportion of the city's inhabitants than that of the city of Vancouver and probably is the highest percentage of the yellow race contained in any city of importance in the province.
