ANZAC PUTS UP STUBBORN FIGHT

Though Defeated in Straight Sets, He Threatened Steadily.

Johnston.

WEST SIDE TENNIS CLUB, Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 5. — America won the Davis cup today when William M. Johnston defeated Gerald L. Patterson, Australian challenger, in three straight sets.

With the score standing at 2 to 1 after three matches, the defending Americans needed only one more victory to keep the great trophy here for another year.

Johnston, serving took the first game 4—1, on Patterson's outs.

The Australian took the second game, 4—1, on Johnston's netting, and the American took the third game, 4—2, by driving several brilliant placements.

Johnston outdrove Patterson in the fourth game, winning 7—5, and then won the fifth game, 4—0, when Patterson opened up a terrific driving attack in which Johnston, on the defense, was the more accurate.

Patterson rallied in the sixth game and won 5—3, but the seventh game found his drives going awry, and he lost, 4—2.

All the points earned in the last game, which went to Johnston, 4—2, giving him the set, 6—2, were placements that came after remarkable gets that kept the crowd on its feet.

Patterson's errors lost him the first game of the second set, 4—1, but he fought stubbornly and brilliantly in his second game and won, 11—9.

Johnston, always steady in the rallies, drove his opponent behind the base lines and won the third, fourth and fifth gaem each by 4—1.

Patterson was at the height of his game today, but the little Californian seemed invincible.

Patterson's net errors gave Johnston the sixth game at 6—4.

Patterson broke through service and won the seventh game, 4—2, on Johnston's out errors. Johnston won the eighth game at 4—2 and the second set, 6—2.

Sizzling drives from Johnston's racquet went through Patterson's feet for placements time, and again the Californian took the first three games in the third set by scores of 4—0, 4—1 and 4—0.

Johnston took the fourth game at 5—3 and Patterson broke through service for his first game in this set, winning 4—1.

Johnston won the sixth game at 4—0 and the seventh game at 4—2, winning the set, 6—1.

The victory was all that was needed to retain the Davis Cup in the United States.

WATCHMAN AT JAIL QUITS JOB

James Forbes, Who Was Tied Up by McMullen At Sarnia, Resigns.

Alleged Bandit To Be Tried For Attempted Escape Within Prison.

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, Sept. 5. — Governor James S. Dodd of the Lambton County Jail, announces today that James Forbes, the watchman at the jail who with Turnkey Pat Burns was tied up by Edward McMullen in his attempt to gain liberty, has resigned from the jail staff after but three days' service. Mr. Forbes, who is an ex-police chief of Sarnia, gave no reason for his resignation, but it believed to hold the opinion that the jail is no place for a man of advanced years when desperate characters of the type of McMullen are incarcerated therein.

McMullen continues his subdued demeanor. He will be arraigned in police court Wednesday on charge of breaking jail, but instead of the hearing taking place at the city police court as is usual, it will be held in the jail building. The authorities are taking no chances on taking McMullen further from the jail than is necessary. William S. Haney, a local barrister, has been advised by McMullen's London counsel to look after the man's interests at the hearing.

Begin September 25.

The Wyoming bank trials are scheduled for Sept. 25 at the supreme court assizes with Judge Lennox of Toronto presiding. The June trials were heard by Judge A. E. Taylor of Sarnia. There is ground for belief that the September trial will produce the biggest sensation of the many that have been connected with the Wyoming cases since the arrest of the four alleged bandits last spring.

In county police court this afternoon, Harry Fralick, who hit upon the original idea of operating his still in a cornfield, was fined $400 and costs on charges laid under the inland revenue and Ontario temperance acts. Joseph Marshall, charged in connection with the same affair, pleaded not guilty and was remanded to Saturday.

DENIES CHARGES OF TORY LEADER

Premier Drury States He Will Reply To Attack On Thursday.

TORONTO, Sept. 5.—Premier E. C. Drury today denied the charge made against him yesterday at Brighton by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson to the effect that the premier, in his own office, had entered into an agreement with E. W. Backus, of Minneapolis, Minn., for the disposal of the noted Backus timber limits, containing 3,600 square miles of the best forest land in Ontario, without any opportunity being given for outside competition, and that in so doing the premier had overridden the refusal of the deputy minister of the department of lands and forests. Hon. Mr. Ferguson said he would resign his seat in the Legislature if he could not substantiate his charge.

Premier Drury declined to say more today than that Mr. Ferguson's charge was untrue.

The premier said he would reply to the charge at some length in a speech Thursday.

He does not look for an increase in price, as the miners are going back under the old scale, but he does not expect a drop below the price of $15.50, at which coal was being offered when it was available.
