Toronto Defeats Varsity In a Practice Football Match—Ives and Roberts at Billiards In New York—Racing Results and Entries — Sporting News and Gossip.

Toronto—3 rouges, 1 touch in goal, 3 tries' Vickers, Hedley and Parkyn. Total 16.
Varsity—Total 0.

Toronto and Varsity played a practice Rugby football match on the Lawn yesterday afternoon. The city team won by 16 points to nil. Toronto forced the play almost during the entire hour, and had the ball generally in Varsity's quarter. The University's full back muffed frequently in the first half and Duncan replaced him during the second, the injured Laidlaw retiring, and the second half score was much smaller. Toronto had the slight advantage of wind and incline for the first half and soon forced two rouges. Parkyn punted over, Jamieson muffed, and Vickers fell on the ball for a try. Parkyn failed at goal. After a touch-in-goal another fly was muffed over Varsity's line and Hedley scored a try. Parkyn again failed to make the goal. In the second half Toronto pressed uncomfortably, but so stubborn was the student's resistance that the only scoring done was Parkyn's try after a short rush. He again failed to kick the goal. There was a large crowd of football enthusiasts gathered on the touch and goal lines to criticise the play. The teams were as follows:

Toronto (16): Back, McQuarrie; halves, Wood (captain), Parkyn, Boyd; quarter, Cartwright; wings, Muntz, Hutchins, Vickers, Hedley, Warbrick, Kingsmill, Bunting; scrimmage, Wright Stovel, Payne.

Varsity (0): Back, Jamieson (Duncan); halves, Smith, W. Gilmour, C. Kingstone; quarter, Bond; wings, Barr, Moss, N. Lash, Laidlaw, Campbell, Cloyes (captain), Boyd, McRae, H. Kingstone, M. Lash.

Referee, Armour; umpire, Pope.

How to Build a Local Bicycle Track.

The other day, when Cycling's editor was conversing with Mr. G. M. Higginbotham, he made a suggestion in regard to building a track in Toronto which that paper thinks worthy a good deal of attention. He recognized the fact that it was useless to try and get the wheel clubs to unite with one another for the purpose, and suggested that the lacrosse club, having fine grounds and a poor track—which they would like to improve, but do not feel like putting more money into—should hold, say, one or two meets early next season, taking all responsibility and furnishing the prizes, the wheel clubs merely consenting to enter their riders and in every way endeavor to "boom" the meets and make them successful. Taking into consideration the fact that there would be no'ground rent to pay and the assistance the trade would likely give the project, there ought to be no difficulty in netting $2500 out of two good meets, a sum amply sufficient to place a first-class track on Rosedale grounds.

Ives Had the Best Afternoon Average.

Sporting Miscellany.

"Shadow" Maber of Australia, and "Buffalo" Costello of New York have been matched for a 20-round boxing contest on Oct. 20 for a purse of $1500.

Small prices were realized at the auction sale of a number of the greyhounds of Col. North, "the nitrate king." Some of the dogs were sold for two guineas. The highest price paid was 35 guineas.

James F. Smith of Albany is out with a sweeping challenge to run Priddy, McClelland, Delaney, or any other man in America, a one mile foot race for the championship and $1000 a side, the race to take place any time during October.

The famous fox terrier champion, Blemton Trump, has been sold by his owner, Mr. A. A. Macdonald, to Mr. Waterman of Santa Barbara, California. Trump will remain at stud for one month in Mr. Macdonald's kennels before departing to his new home.

The Chillicothe races set for yesterday were postponed on account of a heavy track. The unfinished 2.15 pace brought over from yesterday, however, was completed, despite the mud. Blanche Louise got the verdict, with Jack Bowen second, Coastman third. Time 2.11.

It was stated at New York yesterday that the special three-cornered handicap sweepstakes for Tammany, Lamplighter and Rudolph that was to have been run at Linden Park has fallen through. Marcus Daly, it is said, has declined to race Tammany again.

William A. Brady, Champion Corbett's manager, in an interview said: "The money originally posted with David Blanchard of Boston from Corbett and Mitchell to guarantee their appearance in the ring, has been transferred and posted with Phil Dwyer yesterday. This money will not be drawn down, but will go as a side bet. Both principals agreed to this."

A pleasant feature of all the billiard matches between Ives and Roberts is the friendly spirit invariably shown by the combatants. The N. Y. Herald said yesterday: "It may be said here that the contesting players showed the extreme of courtesy and the most complete fair treatment of the balls and of each other from start to finish. The game itself was a novelty to most Americans, but applause followed the clever strokes very promptly and impartially."

BLOCK C, ESPLANADE-STREET.

A Citizen Advocates Liberal Treatment of the Cobban Co.

Considerable opposition having been manifested in some quarters to any encouragement being shown to manufacturers, and any inducement being held out to increase this most important factor in the city's progress, it becomes the duty of the citizens generally to be alive to the necessity of a more liberal policy being adopted, said one prominent citizen yesterday:

"Many years ago Toronto was not known to any extent as a manufacturing place, and its rapid development during the past 10 or 15 years has been as much due to the location of manufactories as to the increased trade brought to it consequent upon the centering in this city of so many railway and steamboat lines.

"Undoubtedly the building of a new Union Station, as a part of the railway agreement lately entered into, will tend to accelerate the progress now being made, but while recognizing the great advantages to be derived from this source, we must not under-estimate the strides in the city's progress caused by the location of the manufactories, the increase thereby made to our population and enhancement of the value of real estate.

"It is understood that the application of the Cobban Manufacturing Company for the lease of block C will be dealt with by the Property Committee at its meeting today, and I hope that the members of that committee and also the council, while protecting the city's interests, will see that the true policy to be adopted is one of liberty and encouragement rather than exaction and apparent indifference.

"The city has many sites suitable for manufactories, and the sooner they are filled up and vacant houses occupied the sooner will it have overcome the present depression, its aggregate wealth be increased and with a greater income to spend in improvements, the burden of taxation lessened.

"It is not only the retention of the factories now here that is needed, but the location of other industries, and this will be easier of attainment if it is generally understood throughout the province that Toronto (the Queen City of the West, as she has been so long styled), is governed by men of enlarged and progressive ideas."

THREE REGIMENTS FOR CANADA.

One Will Be Permanently Stationed at Vancouver, Two at Halifax.

HALIFAX, N.S., Oct. 3.—From present indications it looks as though two British regiments will soon be in Halifax. An important change will take place here in March next, when the Eighth King's Regiment will be removed from Halifax to Vancouver to take charge of the barracks there. Hereafter troops will not come from Bermuda to Halifax, but from England direct to the garrison. The Berkshire Regiment now at Bermuda will in spring return to England. Two regiments will arrive here in March, supposed to be the 23rd Welsh Fusiliers and Cameronians. Instead of one regiment being stationed at Halifax there will hereafter be two, and Halifax will be made first change station and a regiment will be permanently stationed at Vancouver.

STOLE RAILROAD TICKETS.

O'Donnell of Windsor Charged With Stealing From the Michigan Central.

WINDSOR, Ont., Oct. 3.—M. M. O'Donnell, who was employed in the Michigan Central ticket office here, suddenly disappeared last Saturday and the company discovered that $897 worth of railroad tickets were also missing. The tickets were all from Windsor to Portland, Oregon, and O'Donnell went to Chicago to dispose of of them. He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Officer Thompson of the Central Station, Chicago, just after disposing of one of the tickets. He was locked up at the Central Station to await the arrival of an officer from Windsor.

MARIA WAINWRIGHT IN COURT.

She Establishes Her Claim to a Divorce From Tragedian Louis James.

Marie Wainwright, the actress, appeared before Justice O'Brien in the Special Term of the Supreme Court at New York yesterday as plaintiff in a suit for absolute divorce from her husband, Louis James.

They were married in Boston and separated three years ago. Miss Wainwright said she desired to resume her maiden name legally as soon as the divorce was granted. She did not ask for alimony.

As soon as the necessary papers are prepared Miss Wainwright will get her divorce, as evidence was produced showing that James was living with another actress.

HAMILTON DOES NOT WANT MUCH.

The Modest Request Its Citizens Made to Mr. Ross.

A deputation composed of the members of the Hamilton Board of Kindergarten Teaching interviewed the Minister of Education at the Normal School yesterday.

They requested that the provincial training school for kindergarten teachers should be removed to Hamilton. This request will not be conceded, but Hamilton kindergarten instructors will be relieved from certain restrictions and may in future be trained in Hamilton.

An Opportunity to Buy Fine Paintings.

The auction sale of pictures by Messrs. M. Matthews, O. S. A., and W. E. Atkinson, O. S. A., which was to have taken place yesterday was postponed as the Niagara excursion took a great number of picture buyers out of the town. It will be resumed, however, to-day at 2.30 p.m.

This is perhaps the best season for men with ready cash to buy paintings, as they invariably go at very reasonable prices. The few pictures sold yesterday by way of opening the sale demonstrated this fact, as many of them went for half the author's catalog price. Messrs. Atkinson and Matthews are well-known artists. Those who desire to buy good pictures at reasonable rates should attend at Dickson & Townsend's rooms, 22 King-street west this afternoon.

WATFORD, Ont., Oct. 3.—Hugh Mackenzie, M.L.A. for East Lambton, died this morning after a lingering illness which confined him to his bed for the greater portion of the time since last session of Parliament, having never fully recovered from the attack of typhoid fever which he took while attending the House over 18 months ago.

SEARCHED FOR DYNAMITE.

The Sultan of Turkey's Fruitless Quest in Fuad Pasha's House.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A special despatch to The Pall Mall Gazette from Constantinople says that by the order of the Sultan the residence of Fuad Pasha was recently surrounded and searched on suspicion that Fuad Pasha was storing dynamite there for the use of Armenian conspirators. Nothing of a suspicious nature was found. Fuad Pasha has demanded that the Sultan either accept his resignation or punish the persons who falsely accused him. The Sultan has paid no attention to this demand, and Fuad Pasha will leave the country.

Spain Will Fete the Russians.

MADRID, Oct. 3.—The Government requested the Provincial Council of Cadiz to give a grand ball in honor of the officers of the Russian warships that will rendezvous at that port prior to their visit to Toulon, France. The council objected that funds were too low, whereupon the Governor of the Province, Senor Castellamare, undertook personally to meet all expenses. Some of the fleet, including the flagship, are already at Cadiz. The French colony there has already given a banquet to Admiral Aveland and his officers.

Cordial toasts were exchanged. The French Consul toasted the King of Spain, the Queen Regent and friendship between Russia, France and Spain.

THE CAMPBELL HERESY CASE.

His Appeal to the Presbytery Thrown Out Without Discussion.

MONTREAL, Oct. 3.—The Presbytery Committee in Prof. Campbell's appeal reported that it had been unable to find in his statement of defence any modification of his views, and, as he had declined to withdraw or modify the views, all his pleadings before the court were properly regarded as an attempt to justify the statements of the printed lecture founded in the libel rather than the manifestation of a desire to withdraw or modify them.

The motion was passed without discussion.

Trampled to Death by a Horse.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ont., Oct. 3.—A young man named William Crawford was instantly killed near here on Sunday. Crawford and another young man named Craig were employed by a farmer named McMartin, and while McMartin and his wife were at church, Crawford, it appears, took out one of the horses and ran him around the fields and fell off. The horse trampled on his head, crushing in his skull and causing a fracture of the lower part of the skull.

Prof. Proctor's Body Reinterred.

BROOKLYN, Oct. 3.—The remains of Prof. Richard A. Proctor, the eminent astronomer, which have hitherto lain in an obscure, neglected grave in a corner of Greenwood Cemetery, were transferred to-day with great ceremony to the tomb that was erected in honor of the deceased by George W. Childs, the Philadelphia journalist and philanthropist. The ceremony was participated in by many men and women well known in the world of science and letters.

JAGS OF UMTASSA.

Meeting a South-African King Who Got $100 a Year.

I have just profited by a holiday to pay a visit to the Chief Umtassa, or rather the King Umtassa, as the official dispatches call him. The country belongs to him, and the chartered company gives him a yearly present of $100, and this $100 present was just due. It is almost impossible to get a glimpse of Umtassa, partly because he is such a very important person—in his own eyes—but chiefly because his life has only three phases—going to drink, drinking and being very drunk indeed.

We were shown into a "reception hut," into which we crawled almost upon our hands and knees, and we seated ourselves on mats, prepared to wait an indefinite time—for the chic of a native chief, like that of a smart dentist, is to keep one waiting as long as possible. After about half an hour we began to clamor, and then we left the hut and began to wander about the kraal—a proceeding which the natives greatly objected to—and before we had gone far an induna came to say that Umtassa was coming and had sent a present of Kaffir beer. So we scrambled back and sat outside the stuffy hut and waited.

At last a sort of procession came winding down among the rocks, some of the natives wearing a snuff-box and a catskin, others draped in a blanket a la Julius Caesar, but none of them carrying any sort of weapon, with the exception or a big native who carried Umtassa's knobkerrie and his battle-axe. After this usher of the Black Rod came Umtassa draped in blue and white toga, with a blue and white cap on his head.

Much to our surprise he turned out to be a very imposing looking personage. In spite of his excessive dirt, he decidedly possessed what is called le grand air, which I take to be produced by a complete satisfaction of one's surroundings and not a little contempt for the rest of the world. Well, our friend Umtassa gave each of us a very grimy hand to shake and really one might have planted a dnealie field under each of his nails. He then sat down on his mat with all his people grouped around him, and his induna told our interpreter that he might speak. Thereupon a good deal of business was transacted.—From South Africa.

INDUSTRY AND HEALTH.

Schemes for Promoting Both in Backward Oriental Lands.

The Amser of Kabul has ordered a survey for a steam tramway five miles long to bring building stone to the City of Kabul.

The Chhattis-garh States in British India are to be opened up by a system of modern roads, for which the States will pay.

A grand water supply scheme for the City of Mysore involves the pumping of water from the Cauvery into high towers, from where it will run through pipes for a distance of seven or eight miles into the city.

The potentates of the East are beginning to appreciate the advantages of modern industrial works in their midst. The foundation stone was recently laid at Lucknow for iron works, which are being started by a company of wealthy Oudh taluqdars.

Questions of sanitary and other improvements are occupying the attention of the authorities of Kashmir, where cholera and similar ills pay periodical visits. The British Resident is royally supported by the native rulers in this beneficent work.

Projects are on foot for opening up the Kashmir Valley by railway. Two possible routes have been surveyed, one by way of the Jhylum Valley and the other by way of Abbottabad. The length of line by these routes would be from 180 to 200 miles.

Poisoned His Wife—Shot Himself.

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—Herr Pohl, court optician in Hanover, poisoned his wife with prussic acid on Sunday. When arrested on suspicion last night he shot himself dead with a revolver.

DIED OF GLANDERS.

Street Car Stableman Stricken With the Horse Disease.

Morris Hertz, a stableman, who lived at No. 404 East 72nd street, died at his home on Saturday of glanders. He contracted the disease while working in the stables of the 3d avenue Railroad Company at 65th street and 3d avenue.

Six weeks ago Hertz was obliged to give up work, as he was suffering from pains in his joints. Abscesses also had formed on his body. He thought his illness was caused by an attack of rheumatism and treated himself for that complaint. In three weeks' time he was so ill that he was obliged to remain in bed. On Thursday he said he felt as though he was going to die. His family called in Dr. Edward Koeszler, of No. 777 Lexington avenue. From what Hertz said the physician thought the man was suffering from rheumatism, and prescribed for him accordingly.

Next day word came to Dr. Koeszler that Hertz had become worse. Calling again, he examined the man with extreme care, and discovered that he was suffering from glanders. The doctor at once informed the Board of Health, calling attention to the fact that glanders was a highly-contagious disease, and advising the immediate removal of the man to a hospital, where he could be quarantined.

Before the authorities could act Hertz was dead. On Sunday his body was placed in a steel casket and taken to the Willard Parker Hospital. On Monday Hertz was buried in the Bayside Cemetery at Woodhaven, L. I.

From Hertz's wife and children it was learned last night that he had been employed as a stableman by the street-car company about two years. For three months before he was taken ill he had charge of the sick horses in the day time.

At the car stables last night Mr. Kearns, the night stable boss, said the veterinary surgeon, Dr. Hough, had not reported any case of glanders among the horses. Dr. Koeszler said that some horses must have been ill with glanders and that Hertz must have had a cut or a scratch on his hand, through which the poison entered his blood. Had he been called in time, he thought he could have saved the man's life. As soon as he discovered that Hertz had glanders and knew how long Hertz had been ill, he realized that the man's death was certain. Glanders, he said, was a very destructive disease of horses, characterized by a constant discharge from the nose and an enlargement and induration of the glands beneath the angle in the lower jaw. It may be transmitted to dogs, goats, sheep and human beings.

The cases of human beings who have died from this disease are rare.

None of Hertz's family has been taken ill, nor any of the people in the house. The house is a five-story brick tenement, in which 21 families live.—N.Y. World.

How to Know a Caxton.

Title pages were unknown till after 1491. There must be no roman or italic lettering, but all in gothic or Old English. There must be no commas but an oblique stroke in their place. Further, there must be no catch words at the bottom of the page. The use of these, long gone out of fashion, did not come into vogue till years after Claxton's death.

There are other tastes necessary, such as the measurement of the lines, for some of the type used was imitated pretty closely by Claxton's successors. It is clear, however, that during his career Claxton only used six kinds of type. The first, distinctly foreign in its character, was used by him at Bruges in the printing of "The Recuyell of the Histories of Troye," and in the first edition of "The Game and Playe of the Chesse." This style was never used in England. The second style, such as in "The Moral Proverbs" and "Tulle of Olde Age," printed in 1477 and 1481 respectively, was beautiful and artistic. It follows a design of manuscript which obtained the name of Gros Batarde, common in use in the fifteenth century. Several books were written in this manner under the order of Edward IV., and are now to be seen in the British Museum.

Looking at the dates when Caxton's books were issued and the type be used, it is evident he did not make new type till the old was worn out. A pretentious style came next, in 1488 very bold in its character. It is problematical where there is a book in this type; the only examples we have of it at present are in headlines.—Chambers' Journal.

Parliament of Religions.

The Parliament of Religions will be apt to have this effect if no other. It will teach some people who attend it who have thought they knew a good deal about religion and religions that they are woefully ignorant on the subject after all. Mary Abbott writes in The Chicago Evening Post: "The world's congresses will have done some good if they teach some people the difference between a Hindoo and a Buddhist. It seems to me that, while we are making an ado over the exponents of Oriental religions now visiting Chicago, we might at least have the common courtesy to inform ourselves a little about them. If H. Dharmapala, the Buddhist, had asked a Baptist minister, after listening to his preaching for an hour or so, if all Universalists did what he had been advocating from a Baptist standpoint, we should naturally have put him down as unenlightened and ridiculously so. Yet we read of a lady who, interested enough, at all events, to go to hear the Buddhist preach, asked him after listening to his 'sermon' if 'all Hindoos lead pure lives,' alluding to the remarks he had just made about his own religion. And there is a great deal more radical difference between a Hindoo and a Buddhist than there is between a Baptist and a Universalist, because religion in the East affects manner of living, food, customs, reading and clothes, besides mode of thought and form of worship.

Perfuming the Skin.

There was quite a rage some years ago in the east for perfuming the skin. Some physicians discovered that the hypodermic injection of certain perfumes, such as white rose, lilac or violet under the skin, caused the perfume to be exhaled from the whole body and even from the breath. All the ladies want to be perfumed. The operation had to be repeated about once a week in order to secure the desired results. But, unfortunately, two or three of the perfumed ones took bad cases of blood poisoning and one or two died. That put a quietus on the hypodermic injection of perfume and the whole matter dropped.
