attorney. In what words he would refuse to adjourn unless I could get the consent of Mr. Menzies or Mr. Murray. My requests for adjournments were reasonable in these cases and founded on good grounds.

Mr. Benson gave evidence here of acts of partiality and unfairness on the part of Mr. McCulley. In view of some suggestions thrown out by Mr. Murray, I want to ask you what has been Mr. Benson's attitude in regard the temperance cause?

Mr. Murray objects to the question.

Allowed.

Witness:—He is a strong temperance man; belongs to at least one temperance society; has never delegated any Scott Act cases.

Re-cross examined by Mr. Murray.

At the time you took the Malive return did not Mr. McCulley say to you that he didn't know that the insertion of the words about the fine being paid would make any difference.

Yes.

Did you approach him in a gentlemanly way on that occasion?

I consider I did. I may have been a little warm about it.

After you explained the matter he agreed to change it, did he not?

Yes, certainly.

What was your view of the matter?

I would rather you would not have asked the question. My view was that if he had inserted the words 'fine and costs paid'—if he put that on the return himself it must have been done for some purpose. If he had done so at the suggestion of the counsel for the prosecution his (Mr. McCulley's) statement might be correct that he did not know the effect of it.

Do you think I am in the habit of being guilty of such petty tricks?

I don't think you are. The statement on the record was not correct. I do say it, knowing it was untrue, he put it on the record he did wrong. I think Mr. McCulley honorable. If he did that wilfully he is not an honest man.

In the cases of which you speak, wherein you applied to Mr. McCulley for adjournment and he referred you to Mr. Menzies or myself, were not applications made in open court, and if not where, and was it in the presence of Mr. Menzies or myself?

In some cases I made the applications to Mr. McCulley in his office and not in the presence of Mr. Menzies or you; in other cases I made application in open court in the presence of Mr. Menzies and you. In some cases he made adjournments on my applications without my obtaining consent of Mr. Menzies and you. I think a magistrate might fairly say that he would grant an adjournment if witnesses could be prevented from attending—in other words if satisfactory reason were shown for such adjournment. The magistrate might impose terms of paying of costs of witness fees.

On what grounds did you generally ask for adjournment?

Absence of witnesses; and in one case my client was not in good health and I had great difficulty in obtaining adjournment, and frequently I made application on account of being called away on public business.

Are you not away a good portion of your time from Chatham?

Yes. I think there was difficulty in my getting adjournment in a case against Tingley.

Dr. Pugsley—Have you ever observed that Mr. Murray had difficulty in getting adjournments?

Not very much.

Dr. Pugsley asks that the record in the Tingley case be examined as he was informed that the magistrate insisted on going on with the case, Mr. Tweedie being absent, and other counsel had to be retained. Mr. Tingley appeared in the morning and asked adjournment and it was refused, and he had to retain other counsel, as I was informed.

Did you not, after defendant's case had been closed, apply for adjournment on the 5th day of June, which application was opposed by me, and Mr. McCulley did adjourn till 14th June?

No, my application was to have the case opened up. He refused to open up the case until he got the opinion of the Clerk of the Peace. He did adjourn to get that opinion.

Did Mr. McCulley not adjourn that case two or three times to accommodate you?

Yes.

Have you ever offered any affidavits in order to get adjournments?

I think not. I have offered to do so if he required them.

Do you think your requests were reasonable in certain cases, in which working men were in attendance as witnesses?

I think my applications were reasonable even in such cases.

Do you think it reasonable that the magistrate should grant an adjournment on your application in cases in which a number of witnesses were summoned from a distance and to whom such adjournment would be highly inconvenient?

Dr. Pugsley objects that a state of facts is expressed which is not shown to exist.

I do not remember ever having made an application in any such case. I would only expect an adjournment on payment of witness fees.

Do you think the convenience of witnesses should not be considered by the magistrate when he is asked for an adjournment?

A magistrate must be governed in deciding on an application as to whether the application is reasonable or not, and if he considers it in the interests of justice, the convenience of witnesses should give way.

Mr. Murray claims his question has not been answered.

Witness:—The convenience of witnesses should be considered if it did not conflict with the interests of justice.

Do you consider Mr. McCulley did not decide these applications in the interests of justice?

I will not say that Mr. McCulley in deciding applications did not consider the interests of justice for adjournments.

In the Berry arson case, how many adjournments did you apply for in that case?

I did get a great many adjournments as the principal witness was keeping out of the way.

Were these adjournments protested against by the counsel for the defence?

I don't recollect.

Re examined by Dr. Pugsley.

Keeping in mind what you have said as to the principles which should govern a magistrate in reference to granting adjournments when the interests of parties seemed to require that adjournments should be made, do you still say that in a number of cases under the Canada Temperance Act, Mr. McCulley unreasonably refused to grant adjournments at your request?

Objected to by Mr. Murray. Allowed.

In some cases I think he has unreasonably refused.

ASA WHITEHEAD SWORN:

I reside in Chatham. I am a machinist and engineer. I was subpoened in a Scott Act case against Mrs. Howard, who resided in Chatham. It was between three and four years ago. I was served with a subpoena by Policeman Kelly. I did not attend.

What happened after.

Kelly the Policeman arrested me the next night, and after the arrest gave me twenty five cents. He took me to Mr. McCulley's office and afterwards to Mr. Murray's office.

What did Mr. McCulley say to you?

Policeman Kelley took me to Mr. McCulley's office and Mr. McCulley was not in, and then he took me to Mr. Murray's office, and Mr. McCulley was there with Mr. Murray. Kelly said to Mr McCulley, 'Here's your man;' what will I do with him? Mr. McCulley said, 'I think you had better lock him up.' I objected to that, saying that I thought I could get bail in the town of Chatham. He asked me who would go my bail. I asked Mr. Murray and he said he could not, I said, 'I can go my own bail.' He told me all right; if I would promise to appear the next day at 10 o'clock at the police office he would let me go. I appeared next day at 10 o'clock. I gave my evidence the next day against Mrs. Howard, and after I got through giving evidence he read a lot of law to me. It seemed to be all one-sided. Then he fined me $2.40 for contempt of court, for not appearing as a witness. I don't swear to the costs. It was over $2. I didn't have the money on me just then, and he let it stand over for two or three days. I then paid it to Mr. McCulley. I told Mr. McCulley before he fined me that I had received no fees when I was served with a subpoena. He asked me if I had anything to say why I didn't attend. I said I did not think the paper was legally served. He said it wasn't lawful to pay a witness. I told him I got no fees. I have resided in Chatham about 28 years. I am a married man, and have got a family. I have known the police magistrate since I was a boy. I owned a house in the town at the time I was served. I never gave evidence in any other case against Mrs. Howard.

Cross-examined by Mr. Murray.

Do you know the law didn't require witness fees to be paid at that time?

I didn't know anything about it.

Did you know at that time that no provision was made in the law for payment of witness fees in such cases?

No. Why did they pay others?

Before you were arrested, after you were served with a subpoena, didn't you go to Mr. McCulley's shop?

No, I met him on the street.

What took place between you and Mr. McCulley?

I told him I would not appear, that I got no fees. I think he said he would make me. I told him my evidence would not help him in the case against Mrs. Howard.

Re-examined by Dr. Pugsley.

I gave my reason when I met him on the street—that I wouldn't appear because I had not received the fees. I thought I was entitled to my fees. I had attended in other cases and got fees.

WATCHES, CLOCKS, ETC.:—Attention is directed to the advertisement of Mr. C. Warmunde, who is about to establish himself as a watchmaker in Chatham in the store at Pallen's corner, next door to Mr. H. H. Pallen's drug store. Mr. Warmunde has the reputation of being a superior workman, and together with Mr. C. Warmunde, senr., who has had an exceptionally good experience in the trade, will, no doubt, build up a good business here.

OBITUARY:—The funeral of Mr. Geo. W. Cutter, which took place on Tuesday afternoon was very largely attended. The Oddfellows, to which Order, as well as to the Masons, deceased belonged, were present in regalia, headed by the Chatham cornet band. The interment was in St. Paul's churchyard, Rev. Dean Forsyth officiating. Mr. Cutter was highly esteemed in the community. He was a widower and had no relatives here, but was kindly cared for in his illness by the family of Mr. Flanagan of the Adams House, as well as by other friends.

RELIEF COLLECTIONS.—The ADVANCE has, this week, received a memo, of articles collected for the Chatham fire sufferers, as follows:

Wm. Delaney, Chatham, 5 bbls. Potatoes, 8 bbls. turnips.

James and Mrs. Harper, Railway line, 1½ bbls potatoes, ½ bbl. cabbage.

John Galloway, Napan, 4 bbls. potatoes.

Collected by John McKay and David McLean, Napan, 19 bbls potatoes and turnips.

Collected by John H. McNaughton, Lower Black River, 19 bbls. potatoes and turnips.

Collected by Wm. V. Ullock, Upper Black River, 19 bbls. potatoes and turnips.

AN ATTRACTION to buyers of family groceries, provisions, dry goods and general household supplies is offered by Mr. Roger Flanagan at his well known store on St. John Street, Chatham, in the form of silver knives and forks, silver spoons, silver cruet stands and boxes of tea. He issues tickets which are presented by customers every time they make purchases, and no matter how small the amount, it is punched off, and when the purchases aggregate either $15 or $30, as the case may be, one of the articles specified viz.—a cruet stand, or a dozen of silver knives or forks for a $30 ticket; or a 5 lb. box of tea, or 1 doz. silver spoons for a $15 ticket is given free.

IS HE AN IMPOSTER?—A young man about 25 years of age has been soliciting subscriptions for the Chatham fire sufferers, Friday he called at several Germain street residences and got considerable money. To-day he was seen in the vicinity of City Road. The local relief committee have not sent out any collector, nor have they authorized anyone to act for them in this capacity. It may be that the young man, whose name is unknown, will hand in the result of his collections, but those willing to subscribe would do better to send their money to the Mayor's office, or to one of the stores where subscription lists have been placed.—[St. John Globe.

It is quite probable that the person referred to is an impostor. Anyone disposed to contribute to the relief fund should do so through some properly accredited person or organization. No person, so far as we know, is authorized to make collections as described in the foregoing paragraph.

HOW HE MISSED HIM:—Apropos of railway racing, a French paper tells the following story of meridianal exaggeration: An Englishman and Marseillais were disputing which was the faster train, the express to Edinburg, or the "rapide" to Marseilles. The Southern finally clinched the matter with the following anecdote: "Look here," he said "the 'rapide' is the fastest train in the world, and here's the proof of it: The other day I was getting on board at Paris, when the stationmaster said something that annoyed me. My blood was up, I aimed a blow at him, when the train suddenly started, and it was the stationmaster at Avignon who had his ears boxed.—London Globe.

Aharan-Rogers

A large number of guests assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hopkins, Randolph and Hayes streets, Tuesday evening to witness the marriage of their sister, Miss Carrie Arena Rogers, to Mr. Samuel Adams Aharan. The rooms were handsomely decorated with evergreens, ivy and roses, and lighted with numerous Chinese lanterns, and the ceremony was performed under a beautiful silk canopy hung on the bay window. The bride was dressed in white silk and looked even more beautiful than usual. She was attended by Miss Lizzie Clancy and Miss Georgie Clancy, who were dressed in cream silk and carried large bunches of bridal roses. Mr. Aharan is a popular salesman for J. A. Baillargeon & Co.' where he has been for a number of years Rev. W. A. Major performed the ceremony and after a bountious repast the happy couple left for Victoria on the steamer Rosalie amid the congratulations and good wishes of their friends. Mr. and Mrs. Aharan will be at home Tuesdays after October 10th.—Seattle Post Intelligencer. Sept. 29.

Mr. Aharan is a Chatham boy, and was formerly in the employ of Mr. W. S. Loggie of Chatham. He went some years ago and has had excellent success in business.

Sudden Death of Mr. John Galloway.

The community was shocked on Tuesday by news of the sudden death at his home in Napan of Mr. John Galloway, one of the most prominent farmers of the county. It appears that he was doing some work in connection with a cellar under his barn, in which he intended to store turnips and other roots for feeding his stock during the coming winter. His son Milton, who was assisting him, had gone to the Sweezey Mill for a load of sawdust with which to back the walls and, on returning, observed his father lying at the bottom of the cellar. He notified his mother, who on hastening to the spot found her husband dead. Dr. John S Benson was summoned, but his services were of course, unavailing.

Mr. Galloway has been, for a year or two complaining of something wrong about his head and, at times, suffered from dizziness. It is conjectured that in passing along some of the timber over the cellar, or working on the level of the main floor he was suddenly overcome by dizziness and fell to the bottom, eith er breaking his neck, or sustaining other fatal injury. There was an abrasion on the forehead of deceased, as if from a fall.

The death of Mr. Galloway will be a source of sincere regret to all who knew him. He was one of our most valued citizens, possessed of those sturdy qualities of mind, and of an intelligence and self-reliance which commanded general respect. He was always to be reckoned with in the religious social and political affairs of the community, and his influence upon them was always a salutary one. No man of his class in the county will be more missed, and all who knew him will cherish and respect his memory.

Marriage and Presentation.

The social event of the season at Nelson was the marriage of Mr. John Betts of Derby and Miss Emma, second daughter of Mr. Enoch Flett, of the former place, the ceremony being performed at the residence of the bride's father by Rev. W. Aitken. Mr. Betts is one of the best known citizens of the County and the bride one of the most deservedly esteemed young ladies of Nelson. They have the best wishes of a very large circle of friends. One of the incidents connected with the happy event is set forth in the following address and reply:—

Miss Emma Flett,

DEAR MADAM:—We the members of St. James' Church Nelson, learn with deep regret, that you are shortly to sever your connection with this congregation. During the time you have been organist, and presided over the musical part of the services, you have shown an unfailing interest and faithfulness in the discharge of your sometimes difficult duties.

We ask you to accept the accompanying souvenir, as a slight token of our appreciation of your services.

In the new life, upon which you are about to enter; we hope that the coming years may bring to you and yours a full measure of prosperity and happiness.

Signed, { Maggie J. Flett, Marion Clark, May Flett,

To the Members of St. James' Church, Nelson.

MY DEAR FRIENDS, Most heartily do I thank you for your beautiful "souvenir." It is very gratifying to me to receive such a handsome acknowledgment of my poor services in St. James' church. Our choir meetings have always been to me of the most pleasant nature. I have enjoyed them exceedingly. You may, therefore, rest assured that I shall ever continue to value your kind gift. I speak not simply of its outward value and beauty—these are great, but I speak of its intrinsic worth—that is greater. In this sense I cherish it most sincerely. It shall never cease, I know, to recall the kind faces and warm hearts of my early friends.

For your kind hopes and wishes, and for all your goodness, many thanks! And with my very best remembrances to you all,

Believe me your sincere friend,
EMMA (FLETT) BETTS.

Paper Pulp for Leaks.

Paper pulp is one of the most useful articles in the reach of mankind.

Mixed with glue and plaster of Paris or Portland cement, it is the best thing to stop cracks and breaks in wood.

Pulp paper and plaster alone should be kept within the reach of every housekeeper.

The pulp must be kept in a close-stoppered bottle, in order that the moisture may not evaporate.

When required for use, make it of the consistency of thin gruel with hot water, add plaster of Paris to make it slightly pasty, and use it at once.

For leakage around pipes, to stop the overflow of water in stationary washstands, where the bowl and the upper slab join, it is invaluable.

Used with care, it will stop leaks in iron pipes, provided the water can be shut off long enough to allow it to set. Around the empty pipe wrap a single thickness or two of cheese cloth just wide enough to cover the break, then apply the compound, pressing it in place and making an oval of it somewhat after the fashion of lead pipe joining, only larger.

The strength of this paste, when once it is thoroughly hardened, is almost beyond belief. The bit of cheese cloth prevents any clogging of the pipe by the paste working through the cracks.

An iron pipe that supplies the household with water had a piece broken out by freezing. The piece was put in place bound by a strap of muslin, then thoroughly packed with paper pulp and Portland cement, and was to all appearances as good as new.

Paper pulp and fine sawdust boiled together for hours, and mixed with glue dissolved in linseed oil, make a perfect filling for cracks in floors It may be put on and left until partly dry, then covered with paraffine and smoothed with a hot iron.—Rural Mechanic.

Valuable Autumn Weather often seals the Fate of Rheumatic Sufferers

VICTIMS OF RHEUMATISM FIND A CURE IN PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Nothing Like it for Banishing the Awful Disease.

Old and Chronic Sufferers are Made Hale and Strong.

Mr. William McWilliams, of Bradford, Ont., writes as follows about his case:—

"Unsolicited I forward this testimonial as to the value of Paine's Celery Compound. I am well up in years and was sorely afflicted with rheumatism. I purchased and used six bottles of your medicine, and am now perfectly well. I have no rheumatism left."

The above is just an ordinary sample of the proof that cured people furnish every week.

Let us utter a few words of warning to all who feel the pangs of a disease that makes life a misery and burden.

The most dangerous season of the year is now with us; there is no necessity to enlarge upon this fact. Chilling winds, damp weather and heavy impure atmosphere, aggravate every condition of rheumatism, and bring many a sufferer to the grave.

Take courage all victims of rheumatism. If you have failed with doctors and the ordinary medicines of the day, remember, you have not yet given Paine's Celery Compound a trial. This marvellous medicine has made new men and women of thousands who were pronounced incurable by physicians. It can and will do the same good work for you, if you fairly and honestly use it for a time. Mr. McWilliams' case was one that baffled all other medicines but Paine's Celery Compound, which proved victorious at every point, giving him a new and better life. Go thou and follow his example.

The October Number of the Delineator

IS CALLED THE AUTUMN NUMBER

and contains a choice and varied selection of timely articles. It gives an authoritative exposition of Autumn Styles, illustrating a variety of novel, artistic and beautiful garments. Especially complete and valuable is its discussion on Mourning, Mrs. Roger A. Pryor's paper on Etiquette of Grief's outward showing being supplemented by an instructive article giving patterns and designs for Mourning Attire. Every mother with the responsibilities of a household should study what is said about Fitting out a Family, the season's costume needs of herself and her little ones being fully treated. The progress of co-education in Great Britain is further explained by Amy Rayson. Bookbinding as an occupation for women is entertainingly described by Evelyn Hunter Nordhoff. Lucia M. Robbins describes a new and amusing form of Entertainment. The re-opening of the schools is remembered in an account of things suitable for the Children's Luncheon Basket, while A. B. Longstreet contributes a practical exposition of How to Carve. The return of cooler weather makes timely the admirably illustrated article on Draperies. The papers on the Kindergarten by Sam Miller Kirby, on Floral Work for October by A. M. Stewart and the designs for Burnt Work by Harriet Keith Forbes fully sustain the interest felt in these topics. Around the Tea Table has its usual admirable variety, and the newest books are sympathetically reviewed. Further contributions are given in Knitting, Netting Tatting, etc.

Cheers for the Protestants.

Comedian George W. Munroe has the reputation of being a good raconteur and entertainer. His supply of good stories is said to be almost inexhaustible. The very latest is as follows:

On my last Sunday at Sayville, Long Island, I took advantage of an opportunity to attend the dedication of the new Catholic church we have down there which is to be presided over by an old friend of mine, Father McDermott, by name, who has worked very long and hard to raise the necessary funds for its erection. This coupled with the fact that among the contributors were three Protestant ministers of different denominations (Presbyterian, Episcopal and Methodist,) who had signified their intention to be present at the ceremonies served to bring together an extraordinarily large crowd of people.

Just before the services began these three ministers walked in and found there was not a seat to be had. Father McDermott discovered them standing at the back and calling his sexton, a little Killarney man, who rejoices in the name of McGinty, he whispered to him, "Get three chairs for the Protestants." "Do ye mane it?" asked McGinty, a look of astonishment spreading over his freckled face. "Of course I do," said Father McDermott, "and be quick about it. "All right," answered McGinty, "I'll do it if ye say so, but the Lord save my soul!" and jumping up on the alter he shouted at the top of his voice: "Ladies and gintlemen, Father McDermott wants ye to give three cheers to the Protestants. Hip, hip, hooroo!!!

It Tells The Truth

That is what an old student, now book-keeper for one of Moncton's leading firms, writes respecting our new Catalogue. Others sent greetings in similar terms.

The fee paid us is but a small part of our remuneration. That is paid once only. The expressions of gratitude that come to us continually from all quarters make us feel better than any money payment ever did. Catalogues mailed to any address:

THE BOUQUET.

Sweeping reductions in Millinery and Fancy Goods at the Bouquet.

Having to make room for midsummer and fall importations I have decided to dispose of the balance of my spring and summer stock at greatly reduced prices—in fact, wholesale prices—thus giving my patrons the advantage of a cheap sale. The stock consists of the latest styles of Millinery, hats, flowers, feathers, ladies' wrappers, sunshades, gloves hosiery, underwear and fancy goods. Babies' robes and headwear a specialty.

All the above are stylish and fashionable, being the latest importations from London. Paris and New York. Mail orders promptly and carefully attend to.

NOTICE OF SALE.

To Alexander Russell Junior of the parish of Newcastle in the County of Northumberland in the Province of New Brunswick, farmer, and Eliza his wife, and all others whom it doth or may concern.

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of a power of sale, contained in a certain indenture of mortgage bearing date the twelfth day of June in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty nine and made between the said Alexander Russell Junior of the first part, and Andrew Brown and Alexander Brown both of Chatham in the said County of Northumberland, merchants, of the second part, recorded the second day of January A. D. 1890, in volume 67, of the county records of the said county, pages 254, 255, and 256, and numbered 137 in said volume, there will for the purpose of satisfying moneys secured by and due on said mortgage, default having been made in payment thereof, be sold at public auction, in front of the post office in the said Town of Chatham in the county aforesaid, on Friday the twenty second day of November next, at twelve o'clock noon, all those lands and premises in the said indenture of mortgage described as follows, viz: "All that piece, parcel or half lot of land situate lying and being in the said parish of Newcastle, being part of lot number sixty eight in the second concession of lots, and abutted and bounded as follows, commencing on the northerly side of the road leading from Russells mill, (so called), at Bartibogue, to Moorfields at the lower or easterly side line of the said lot number sixty eight, thence westerly along the north side of the said road to the easterly side line of the upper or westerly half of the said lot number sixty eight, presently owned and occupied by James Russell, thence Northerly along the said easterly side line of the said James Russells' land to the rear line of the said lot as originally granted, thence easterly along the said rear line to the said easterly side line of the said lot number sixty eight, and thence southerly along the said easterly side line to the north side of the said Moorfields road, being the place of beginning, which said piece of land is the lower or easterly half of that part of the said lot number sixty eight conveyed to the said James Russell and Alexander Russell Junior by William Russell, by deed dated the sixth day of April A. D. 1875, and which said easterly half was by them mutually set off to the said Alexander Russell, Junior, and is the piece of land on which he resides, saving and excepting that part of the barn on the said easterly half which is owned and occupied by the said James Russell: Also all the estate, right, title, interest, claim, use, possession, property, claim and demand whatsoever, at law or in equity, of him the said Alexander Russell Junior, of, in, to, out of or upon all that piece or parcel of land adjoining the easterly side of the above described piece of land, and, bounded westerly thereby, easterly by lands lately owned and occupied by the late James Nugent, southerly or in front by the Russell mill property so called, and running back or in rear to the full extent of the original grant, being part of lot number eight in the said second concession of lots, and presently occupied by the said Alexander Russell Junior:" together with all and singular the buildings and improvements thereon, and the rights, members, privileges, hereditaments and appurtenances to the said premises and any part there
