LATEST CABLE NEWS.

London, Sept. 5, 1883.—Mr. Parnell's speech at the Dublin meeting of the Irish National League was the great political event of the week. It has been subjected to the widest discussion by both the English and Irish press. They all admit that it was able and statesmanlike. It has produced an excellent effect in political circles and has paved the way to further important concessions. The Irish Tories are in a state of abject alarm; the Dublin correspondent of the Times, the notorious Patton, states that the Government are seriously considering the expediency of granting a measure of local government, and warns the British public that any concession will only whet the Irish appetite for absolute Home Rule. The bitter Orangeman appeals to the Fenians to help to defeat Mr. Parnell's machinations. He must think the Fenians are easily gulled.

The people of Ireland are well pleased with the result of last session. On all sides preparations are being made to take advantage of the new laws for the development of the material well-being of the population. The general feeling is in favor of utilizing Mr. O'Connor's Labourers' Bill. There are good prospects that substantial advantages will be conferred on this most deserving class of the Irish people.

The Argentine Republic sent this week a large subscription to the Parnell Fund, through that patriotic dignitary of the Church, Monsignor Dillon, with a flattering letter promising future help.

The Irish party gained a new triumph in the dismissal of John Byrne, Collector General of Dublin, an inveterate enemy of the people.

Six Irishmen suspected of having been connected with the dynamite attempts in Glasgow on the 20th of last January, when the largest gasometer in the city was blown up, and other property was destroyed, were arrested in Glasgow on Friday night, 31st ult. Their names are Peter Callaghan, Thomas Devany, Patrick McCabe, Patrick Dunn, Terence Dermott and Henry McCann. A man named Donnelly was arrested on Saturday, and two others named Casey and Kelly on Sunday. The six men first arrested were apprehended at the same hour in different parts of the city. The houses in which they lived were searched. It is reported that appliances for making explosives were found in their houses. Rumor has it that the nine men who have been arrested are known to the police as Fenians, and have been under surveillance for several months. A rumor which had been spread that Bernard Gallagher had become an informer, was speedily contradicted by Bernard himself, who is at present in this city, and has been since soon after his acquittal in London.

A mass meeting was held Sunday at Cappamore, Co. Limerick. Police were present in force and press reporters were in attendance. Michael Davitt delivered an address, in which he made the statement that by the tyrannical operations of landlordism in Ireland six thousand householders had been deprived of their homes within the quarter ending on the 1st of July. He contended that the question of the complete abolition of landlordism must be kept before the people. The Land Act, he stated, if not a failure at the present time was rapidly becoming so, and not one-sixth of the tenant farmers of the country had yet succeeded in having their rents fixed. He urged the people to be resolute and calm and not to lose their self-control.

James McDermott was brought before the Court again at Liverpool, on Tuesday, and was further remanded to jail at the request of counsel for the prosecution, who stated that a pocketbook found among the prisoner's effects contained very important entries, but their nature was not indicated. It is thought that the papers may lead to other arrests. McDermott complained to the Judge, as an American citizen, that he was subjected to very harsh treatment, and stated that he was not even aware of the nature of the charges against him.

Glasgow, September 3.—The nine Irishmen arrested here charged with being connected with attempts to destroy property by dynamite are known to the police as Fenians, and have been under surveillance several months.

Dublin, September 3.—Recent storms almost totally destroyed the grain and other crops in the south of Ireland. The authorities fear a renewal of the rent agitation owing to the distress consequent upon the loss of crops. A general strike against rent is thought to be imminent.

The board of guardians throughout Ireland demand an amendment of the Land Act.

Marwood, the executioner, died at Horncastle, England, at two o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, of congestion of the lungs and jaundice. He was sixty-three years old. Owing to an absurd rumor that the Invincibles contributed to his death an inquest has been ordered.

OBITUARY.

Michael Morrison died in Kingston on July 29, 1883, aged 57 years. He was born in the town of Dungarven, County of Waterford, Ireland. At sixteen years of age he came to St. John's, Newfoundland, and in October, 1853, to Kingston, where he was engaged as foreman in Berry & Walker's mill. He commenced business for himself in 1861. He was notable as an advertiser and was widely known in Ontario. He was a member of the Sodality of the Holy Family and was an overseer in Ontario Ward. He was the first member that died in Kingston. The funeral took place, on the morning of July 30, 1883, to St. Mary's cathedral, where a solemn requiem mass was chanted by Rev. Father Kelly, while the Libera was chanted by the choir. The cortege was long, and composed chiefly of the business men of the city. He was also a member of St. Vincent de Paul Society, and that society met and passed a resolution of condolence and had a requiem mass sung for the repose of his soul. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Jas. Swift, Isaac Noble, Michael Flanigan, Wm. Power, Wm. Kigney and Dr. Hickey. He leaves a wife and eight children. A good husband, a kind father and a genial friend, he is gone, we trust, to reap the reward of a well-spent life.

SILVER JUBILEE.

How few there are who give a passing thought to the exalted and responsible nature of the priesthood. The lives of those chosen ones are devoted to the service of God, in reconciling man with an offended Deity, being the medium through which His Gospel is preached, all over the world, even to its remotest parts, and, most exalted of all, by whose hands is daily offered up the Great Sacrifice of Expiation. How calm and undisturbed must be the inner life of those who have passed their allotted time in the service of their Maker, doing all for His glory, leading their flocks on to the fountain of Eternal Life. Much as we may admire the self-denial and zeal of young men who leave home, friends, and the possible honors of the world to enter into the priesthood, with what feelings of reverence and respect do we look up to those veteran soldiers of the Church, who have passed their lives in the service of the King of Kings.

The Rev. F. A. Rasserts, pastor of St. Francis Xavier's Church, Carlsruhe, County of Bruce, was appointed parish priest of this parish in 1865, being the year in which the parish was first formed. At that time the church was but a small one, and the increasing strength of the congregation demanded a more commodious place of worship. With commendable energy he undertook the work, and built a church which, as a work of architecture, has few if any equals outside of the cities. The grounds attached to his residence are tastefully laid out, and the whole is an object of admiration to all who visit it.

On Wednesday, August 29th, the rev. gentleman celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination. The day was all that could be desired, and in addition to the congregation, many visitors from adjoining parishes were present to assist at the celebration. At 10 o'clock, High Mass was begun, with the Rev. Father Rasserts as celebrant, assisted by Fathers Foerster as deacon, Gehl as sub-deacon, and Brohman as Master of Ceremonies. After the Gospel the Rev. Father Funkin, of Berlin, preached an eloquent sermon on the office and responsibility of the priesthood, which was listened to with rapt attention.

The rev. gentlemen who were present were: Dean Lausie, Walkerton; Fathers Funkin, Berlin; Elena, of Formosa; Foerster, of Little Germany; Gehl, of St. Clements; Brohman, of Diemerton; Wey, Formosa, and Waddel, of Chepstow.

After Mass, the congregation, headed by the children, proceeded to Father Rassert's residence, when an address from the children was first read, and a presentation of a handsome chair was made by Master Archie McArthur in their behalf, after which a congratulatory address from the congregation was read by A. P. McArthur, teacher, and a package containing a sum of money, the gift of his parishioners, was handed the rev. gentleman.

THE CHILDREN'S ADDRESS.

Rev. F. A. Rasserts, Pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church.

Rev. and Dear Father,—In company with our elders, we come to-day to offer you our congratulations on the completion of the twenty-fifth year of your service in the priesthood of the Catholic Church. As children we do not understand the full extent of your labors and anxieties during these long years which you devoted to the service of God and the good of your children who have been entrusted to your spiritual care; but we do know that they cannot have been small. Even your care for the welfare of us, your little children, is a source of much solicitude and many trials. Your kindness to us has won our respect and love, and your zeal in explaining the mysteries of our holy Religion, simplifying that which appears difficult to our understanding, and leading us on to know the inestimable value of a heartfelt and sincere devotion to God, His Blessed Son, and the Blessed Virgin Mary, will, we earnestly hope, bear fruit which will have its reward in the joys of an eternal and glorious hereafter.

On this anniversary of your ordination please accept of this gift, which we beg to present you, not on account of its value, which is but small, but as a token of our love and esteem for the person of our spiritual father, and we pray that God may grant you many years of health and strength to labor in His vineyard, and as you to-day celebrate your Silver Jubilee, may you live to celebrate your Golden Jubilee, and finally share in that Glorious Jubilee which lasts for endless ages.

YOUR LITTLE CHILDREN.

THE CONGREGATION'S ADDRESS.

Rev. F. A. Rasserts, Pastor of St. Francis Xavier Church.

Reverend Father,—We approach you to-day with feelings of sincere pleasure, to offer you our congratulations on this anniversary of your ordination, and we thank God that He has shown His good will to us, by giving us a father, who, by his teaching and christian example has directed his children in the way of Eternal Life.

During the eighteen years you have administered to the spiritual wants of the people of this parish, your duties have been such as to call forth all your zeal and energies, in the furtherance of the cause of our holy religion.

You came among us at a time when our country was comparatively new, and our people were struggling with the trials incident to the condition of the country. Our church, in time became too small, and you undertook to build a new one to meet the requirements of the congregation. This edifice stands to-day an ornament to this section of the country, and is one of which you may justly feel proud. Many circumstances, no doubt, occurred which rendered its accomplishment more difficult than it would otherwise have been, but you overcame them all, while at the same time your care and attention were divided with the Neustadt and Diemert Missions, which was the cause of additional strain on your mind.

At one time, through the action of death you were the only priest left to administer to the wants of the Catholics of this county and of all the pioneer priests who brought the solace of religion to the people of this western peninsular, we believe you are the only one left; and as each, with one or two exceptions, closed his labors in his Master's service you were present to perform the last sad rites over their mortal remains.

But that for which we have to be sincerely thankful, is your untiring zeal in the care of our little ones. You have, from the time they first entered the church, and thus becoming a portion of your flock, been ever solicitous for their spiritual welfare. Your anxious and careful preparation of them for the reception of the Sacraments cannot but have the effect of impressing on their youthful minds the beauties of the Mysteries of our Holy Religion, which are the strength of the living and the consolation of the dying.

As a mark of our appreciation of your many good qualities, and as a souvenir of the day which we celebrate, please accept this gift, which kindly look upon as the offering of your grateful children, and not as to its value which is but small. We hope that God in His bounty may grant you many more years of health and strength to labor in His Vineyard here among us, and that He may shower upon you His choicest blessings is the earnest prayers of your spiritual children.

CONGREGATION OF ST. FRANCIS XAVIER CHURCH.

The rev. gentleman replied in German, thanking all for their kindness in assisting at the celebration, and for the gifts with which he had been presented. More especially did he feel gratified to see that the children had taken such an interest in him, as was shewn on this occasion. He could not properly express his thankfulness for their generous actions, but he felt it nevertheless, and would not forget it.

It also afforded him much pleasure to have so many other priests, his old friends, with him on this day, and thought that they, too, partook of that pleasure, as shown by their presence. He had the satisfaction of seeing two among them, Fathers Gehl and Brohman, who had attended Catechism under him, and who had chosen the priestly office in preference to the honors and emoluments of the world.

After again thanking all present for their good wishes and presentations, the proceedings were brought to a close by the children being regaled with cakes and sweetmeats, served to them by the priests.

Father Rasserts was also the recipient of a number of private gifts of considerable value, which is evidence of the esteem in which he is held, both as a priest and a gentleman. C. M. A.

C. M. B. A. NOTES.

St. Catherines, Sept. 5th, 1883.

S. R. BROWN, Esq., Grand Recorder, Canada Grand Council C. M. B. A.

Dear Sir and Bro:—According to the authority and instructions received from you, I organized Canada Branch No. 24, located in the town of Thorold, Ontario, with twenty-two members, administering to them the obligations of the association. The following named gentlemen were elected as officers and duly installed by me:—

President—Rev. Timothy J. Sullivan.
1st Vice-Pres.—John Corbett.
2nd Vice-Pres.—Patrick McMahon.
Rec. Sec.—J. J. Duffy.
Asst. Rec. Sec.—Wm. Wilocker.
Fin. Sec.—Wm Gearon.
Tres.—John Conlon.
Marshal—J. J. Rogers.
Guard—John McNulty.

Trustees—Mathew Hart, Thomas Commorford, Wm. Cartmell, Denis Henaham, John McKeague.

I may say that I was ably assisted by Bros. Brennan, Vizard, Duffy, Begy, and Conlon of Branch No. 10, St. Catherines; Bro. Brennan reading the duties of each officer as they were installed by me, when they were conducted to their respective stations. This being done the Branch was opened, the business of the session gone over, and then closed in due form, in order to give the newly elected officers a clear idea of their duties in Branch meetings.

Addresses were delivered by myself, Bros. Brennan, Vizard, and others; Bro. Brennan in particular giving a very lucid description of the working of the association at large.

This Branch starts with good prospects of being one of the largest in Ontario. The Rev. Father Sullivan has the good of the C. M. B. A. thoroughly at heart, and will work diligently to increase its membership, and also to work up other Branches in this part of the country.

I am yours fraternally,
J. E. LAWRENCE.
Chancellor Branch No. 10.

O'Leary, The Outlaw.

The house is still pointed out in Peter Street, Cork, where Morris was shot down by the avenging brother of Arthur O'Leary. The story is a sad one, and I give it as illustrating the iniquity of the penal laws. Arthur O'Leary, commonly called "the outlaw," though possessed of considerable property, spent the early part of his life in foreign military service. On returning to his native land, his great popularity among the peasantry excited the jealousy of a neighboring landed proprietor named Morris. The feeling was intensified into deadly hate toward O'Leary from the fact of a horse belonging to the latter having beaten one of Morris's in a race. Availing himself of that article of the penal laws which disqualified a Catholic from keeping a horse above the value of £5, Mr. Morris publicly tendered O'Leary that sum for the winning horse, and did so in the most insulting manner. O'Leary replied that he would only surrender his horse with his life. Upon this Morris and his friends closed around "the Papist," and a struggle ensued, but O'Leary escaped, being indebted for his safety to the fleetness of his horse. His resistance was represented to the Government in such a light that he was proclaimed an outlaw. A large reward was offered for his apprehension, and troops were dispatched to arrest him. The peasantry were so attached to him that for four years his popularity secured him from the most active exertions of his pursuers. At length he was surprised by an ambush near Mill Street, and was shot through the heart. This tragic fate came upon him at the early age of twenty-six. The brother of deceased watched an opportunity for revenge, and two months after the event, on July 7, 1773, he rode up Peter's Church Lane, in Cork, in broad day-light, and deliberately fired three shots in succession at Morris, who was standing near the window of his lodgings in Peter Street. Morris was wounded in the side, and died of his wounds, and the avenger of his brother escaped to America.—Cork Correspondence Toronto Globe.

PORTSMOUTH, VA., July 9, 1883.
I received the papers all right and am delighted. My friends and subscribers say they are surprised at its size and beauty. Every person that has seen the paper acknowledges it to be the best paper printed, and say it is worth $2 per year. TIMOTHY MOSELEY.

RESOLUTION OF CONDOLENCE.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Roman Catholic Separate Schools in the town of Chatham, held on the evening of Tuesday, the 4th of September, 1883, the following resolution was passed:—

Moved by Mr. Finistere and seconded by Mr. Berhorst; that whereas it hath pleased God to remove from amongst us Mr. Nicholas Fady, a member of this Board,

Therefore, be it resolved, that we the members of this Board, in meeting assembled, knowing the sterling worth and character of Mr. Fady, and having witnessed the courtesy and ability with which he discharged his duties as a member of this Board, do hereby express our great sorrow at the loss of so able and efficient a member, fully realizing the difficulty with which he will be replaced, and

Be it further resolved, that the hearty sympathy of this Board is tendered to his sorrowing and afflicted widow and mother, and that a copy of these resolutions be engrossed and framed and delivered to Mrs. Fady, and also that a copy be forwarded for publication in the CATHOLIC RECORD.

DIED.

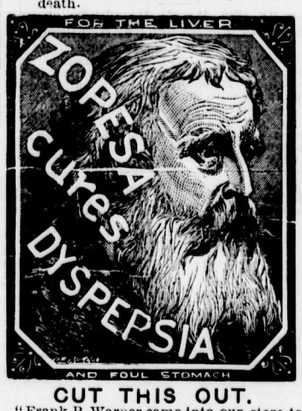
But let her use the great "TEABERRY,"
And there'll be danger of laughing herself to death.



CUT THIS OUT.

"Frank P. Warner came into our store to purchase a sample bottle of ZOPESA for a friend, and stated that he (Mr. Warner) was afflicted with Kidney and Liver troubles for five years, and had paid $200 or $300 doctor's bills, and has now been completely cured by the use of two large bottles and one sample bottle of ZOPESA. He was so bad at one time that he lost 37 pounds of flesh, but after using ZOPESA claims that he is a sound man, and now weighs 145 pounds. He was loud in its praise, and readily consented to allow us to use his name for reference."
