Hamid's Little Game.

Avoiding Negotiations While His Troops March on Athens.

Greece Has Confided Her Interests to the Powers.

And Sees No Reason for Dealing With Turkey Direct.

Gen. Garibaldi Says the Greek Troops Behaved Shamefully.

London, May 25.—The Athens correspondent of the Times says: "The intentions of the sultan are greatly distrusted here, and it is believed that he is avoiding negotiations for peace through the powers, because he wants Edhem Pasha to march to Athens."

News comes from Salonica of the dispatch of large Turkish reinforcements to Thessaly. At Larissa, Trikkala and Karditza the Turks seized corn valued at 1,000,000 drachmas.

The decree of the Turkish Government calling for the expulsion of all Greeks from the Ottoman Empire has been suspended in view of the peace negotiations.

The correspondent of the Times at Constantinople says: "The sultan, when telegraphing to Emperor William his thanks for the latter's advice, begged him to continue it, and expressed the hope that the advice which was founded upon the strong friendship uniting the emperor and himself, would show Turkey the way to obtain the full recognition of her rights as a victorious power."

ARE THE GREEKS COWARDS?

The New York Sun's London correspondent says that Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi, writing to a friend in Rome, last week, said: "The Greeks have had no men killed except when they were running away from the Turks in panic. They have not once waited for the Turks to get up to them. The Greeks were as numerous at Domokos as the Turks, and had immense superiority in positions. Never before in my life have I assisted at such a shameful spectacle as this bolt from Pharsala and Domokos."

Deputy Felice, who left Greece in disgust, and is now in Rome, declared that all his illusions were gone. "The conduct of the Greek soldiers is incredible. They are not soldiers at all. They are women. The Greeks are fit for nothing but the Turkish yoke."

NO NEED TO DEAL WITH TURKEY

Athens, May 25.—The Greek Government, as a reply to the notification sent by Edhem Pasha that he is empowered to negotiate the terms of peace with Greece direct, has informed the ministers of the powers here that, as Greece has already confided her interests to the powers, there is no reason why she should negotiate directly with Turkey.

The London Standard's Athens correspondent says: "The Government and people are now only anxious for the disarming of the irregulars."

COL. MANOS DESPARATE.

London, May 25.—According to a dispatch from Corfu, it is reported there that Col. Manos attempted suicide while in jail. He had been sent handcuffed, with his entire staff, to Athens for trial by court-martial.

EXCESSES OF THE GARIBALDIANS.

The correspondent of the Daily Telegraph in Epirus gives a terrible picture of the excesses of the Italians while traveling from Arta to Zaverda. He says: "They stole brandy and drank it like water. Armed only with revolvers and bayonets, by the time they reached Zaverda they were quarreling fiercely among themselves. The villagers, thoroughly alarmed, gathered in readiness to fight the Italians, and the situation became serious. A Greek tried to pacify a Garibaldian who was about to dash his brains out with a stone, whereupon an Italian fired and wounded the Garibaldian. Instantly the cry was raised, 'A Greek has been killed,' and the villagers began to fire their rifles. The melee became general, but the Italians displayed a flag of truce, and the embarkation was effected, though with great difficulty."

RUSSIA'S PROPOSAL.

The correspondent of the Frankfort Zeitung at Constantinople says: "Count Nelidoff, the Russian ambassador made the proposal, as a condition of the international control of the Greek debt, that Russia should take over the Greek indemnity as a set-off to the Turkish indemnity due Russia, but the sultan will probably refuse, as he wants possession of the cash himself."

General Cables.

Fatal Outcome of the "William Tell" Act.

The Crisis in the Spanish Cabinet Continues.

Over-Production of Sugar in Brazil—Unseasonable Weather in England Retards the Crops—Irish Political Prisoners May Be Pardoned.

THE SUGAR INDUSTRY.

A dispatch from Buenos Ayres says: The sugar industry is threatened with a severe crisis, owing to over-production. The excess of available export for the current year is more than 100,000 tons.

BAD WEATHER FOR CROPS.

London, May 25.—The weather during the past week has been unseasonably cold, with frosts in many districts. During the latter part of the week, however, the weather improved, and now brilliant sunshine is bettering the condition of the crops.

KILLED HIS SISTER.

London, May 25.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Berlin says that the expert shot, Kruger, while firing backward today, sent the bullet through the head of his sister, who was assisting him in a William Tell act. She died in a few minutes.

POLITICAL PRISONERS MAY BE PARDONED.

Dublin, May 25.—It is believed to be certain that many, perhaps all, the political prisoners, including the Invincibles, Jas. Fitzharris, Larry Hamlon and Joe Mullett, will be pardoned early in June, in commemoration of the 60th year of the reign of Queen Victoria.

SPAIN'S CABINET CRISIS.

Madrid, May 25.—The political situation here seems to be as follows: The Government, not wishing to yield to the Opposition by resigning, will appear before the Cortes; but if the Liberals do not attend today's session, a Ministerial crisis will be occasioned. Under the circumstances the retention of the present Cabinet does not seem impossible.

VANDERBILT NOT WANTED.

St. Petersburg, May 25.—The Odessky Listok, of Odessa, announces the coming arrival there of one of the Vanderbilts, who, according to that newspaper, is about to start big naphtha works at Baku, Russian Transcaucasia. The Novoe Vremya, commenting on this statement, protests vigorously at the "increasing invasion by foreigners of the naphtha fields," and says: "They will not hesitate to create a monopoly which will be prejudicial to Russian national industry."

VON TAUSCH'S TRIAL.

Berlin, May 25.—The trial of Herr Von Tausch, former commissioner of the secret political police, began yesterday. He made a statement relative to the employment of Von Luetzow, and a newspaper man named Schumann by the secret political police, and assured the court that he (Von Tausch) had never caused political interests to be served by his agents. Von Luetzow, during the course of his examination, testified that he received definite instructions to publish reports about the ear troubles of the emperor. The witness was asked if Von Tausch attributed these troubles to an alleged malady. He replied: "Certainly, Von Tausch said the malady had a cancerous basis, was inherited from his father, and that the disease considerably affected his majesty's health."

Workmen Mangled.

Two Bad Accidents in One Day at Newcastle.

A Big Furnace Falls Through a Foundry Roof—Cave-In at a Big Cut.

Newcastle, Pa., May 25.—On Sunday morning the big Rosena furnace, in this city, owned by Senator Mark Hanna and ex-Senator Cameron, let go, and the next instant a heavy volume of coke, iron ore and coal came rushing through the roof of the casting house, burying in the neighborhood of thirty men under the debris. Manager Reis was taken out with the skin hanging in shreds from his hands and arms, and his legs were terribly burned and bruised. The others injured are:

Samuel Moody, burned and bruised all over the body.

Mike Petro, head cut in half a dozen places, and bruises and burned about the hands and arms.

Wm. Hanna, head cut, arms almost severed by falling sheet iron.

Joseph Love, head a mass of cuts laying the skull bare in three places.

Frank Sheard, head badly cut, legs bruised, back burned, and arms terribly burned. His injuries are very bad and may result in death.

Half a dozen other men were also more or less injured, but the above are the worst cases.

A SECOND DISASTER.

The second accident of the day occurred about twenty minutes after the one at the Rosena furnace. It was a cave-in at the big seventy foot cut of the Newcastle Traction Company, that is engaged in making a track to the new Cascade Park. Michael Kurdy was buried under at least seventy-five feet of sand, gravel, clay and rocks, and was dead when taken out. Peter Herinsky was terribly crushed about the shoulders and hips, while his chest was crushed. He will likely live.

RIOT IN THE REICHSRATH

The President Faints From Excitement and the Members Bombarded Each Other With Books.

London, May 25.—The Standard's correspondent at Vienna says: "The obstruction which has characterized the proceedings in the Reichsrath during the last few weeks culminated today in an unprecedented scene. The president became so much excited in anticipation of trouble that he fainted before the session opened and the Vice-President had to take the chair.

For hours the members of the Opposition had recourse to every parliamentary device for obstructing business, and finally, when these were exhausted, they overturned the desks, smashed inkstands, flung books in the faces of speakers, ingulged in coarse invectives and finally came to blows in a great riot.

CHARGED TO CIGARETTES.

Suicide of a Young Boy of Camden, New Jersey.

Camden, N. J., May 25.—Wm. Ross, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ross, of Stockton, this county, committed suicide Sunday by hanging himself. The boy was in good spirits when his parents started for church. On their return they found him hanging lifeless.

He was addicted to the use of cigarettes, for which he was chided by his father. It is believed that he could not break off the habit, and in despair took his life.

FIRE IN TORONTO.

Simpson's Planing Mill and Lumber Yard Destroyed—Three Firemen Injured.

Toronto, May 25.—The small boy and his firecracker were much in evidence yesterday, as usual. One result, probably attributable to his fun is that W. A. Simpson's planing mill and lumber yard at 314 Queen street west, is a mass of charred ruins, and three firemen have been injured, though not seriously. The fire was first discovered about a quarter after six o'clock last evening at the rear of the premises, but by the time the firemen had arrived the flames had made such headway that it became a matter of doubt as to whether the surrounding buildings could be saved.

Firemen Joseph Spence and Tom Davis, of Portland street, and Joseph Lamb, of John street hall, were working at the eastern end of the mill when the wall toppled over them. None of the men, however, are injured seriously, but they are badly bruised.

As far as could be ascertained, the damage, including the total destruction of valuable machinery, is from $10,000 to $12,000, with insurance on building, plant and lumber of $2,000. The fire will throw ten men out of employment.

NEW QUEBEC MINISTRY.

The New Liberal Premier Has Selected His Cabinet.

Quebec, May 25.—Hon. M. Marchand arrived by boat yesterday, and was sent for by the Lieutenant-Governor and intrusted with the formation of a new Ministry. The new Cabinet will be constituted as follows:

Premier and President of the Council—Hon. M. Marchand.
Treasurer—Mr. Duffy.
Public Works—Mr. Parent.
Agriculture—Mr. Dechene.
Attorney-General—Mr. Archambault.
Crown Lands—Mr. Turgeon.
Mines—Mr. Bickerdike.
Ministers without portfolio—Dr. Guerin and Hon. Mr. Shehyn.
Speaker of the Legislative Council—Hon. R. C. Marcil.
Speaker of the Legislative Assembly—Hon. Jules Tessier.

Hon. Mr. Marchand attended a state banquet at Spencerwood last evening, and left again for Montreal today.

Today at the Capital.

Members Returning to Participate in the Tariff Debate—An Important Railway Case.

Special to The Advertiser, via C. P. R. Line.

Ottawa, May 25.—The tariff resolutions are expected to be taken up in the House of Commons this afternoon. In consequence of this, the members of Parliament are returning this morning so as to be in their places in the House at 3 o'clock. It will now be seen what kind of a fight the Conservatives intend putting up against the different items. The Opposition is not likely to be very strong or very unanimous in the matter, and therefore before the week closes a very good idea will be gained as to when prorogation will take place.

The Great Northwestern Railway, which has been before the courts and before Parliament for nearly twenty years in one way or another, had an application before the railway committee today to get an extension of time. The reason was that the company could not go on with construction until the case before the judicial committee of the Privy Council as to ownership was decided. Judgment is expected shortly. Mr. Blair suggested giving a year from January next, with the provision that twenty miles be built in that time. This was agreed to. The expression, "There is nothing in it for the boy," came out some years ago at the committee in connection with this road.

Briefs by Wire.

The M. C. R. employes will have an excursion to Niagara Falls July 16.

The Grand Tent of Ontario, K. O. T. M., will meet in Guelph Wednesday morning.

Mr. Alex. Grange, of Newburg, Ont., was knocked off the yacht Orpha near Indian Point Monday and drowned.

Edouard Cote, a train hand at Chaudier Curve, Que., was run down by a G. T. R. train at that place yesterday and instantly killed.

At Toronto on Monday between 10,000 and 15,000 people witnessed the presentation to the Royal Grenadiers of their new stand of colors.

It was George E. Mellor, of Toronto, who was drowned in the Welland Canal, near lock 24, Thorold. He was riding down the canal bank from Welland, and it is supposed that his bicycle got into a rut and threw him into the canal.

The creditors of Adam Hope & Co. accepted the offer of 50 cents on the dollar, in three equal payments, in three, six and nine months. The trade liabilities are about $12,000, and the remainder of the liabilities are secured. The assets are about $26,000.

In Syracuse, N. Y., a boy named Dinehart, 10 years old, while playing with a number of comrades, was killed by a live wire Monday. One of the youngsters threw a coil of small wire over a trolley cable, the ends coming in contact with the track. Young Dinehart grasped the wire and fell over dead.

NO SUNDAY WORK.

Chicago, May 25.—A new edict by John D. Rockefeller against Sunday labor in his ore docks is announced. The men will be called on at any hour of night or day except from 12 midnight Saturday to 12 midnight Sunday.

DAZED BY A SEARCHLIGHT AND DROWNED.

Clayton, N. Y., May 25.—Minnie Memier, 16 years old, of Thousand Island Park, was drowned last night at Pine View Park. She became dazed at the rays of a searchlight on a passing steamer, and fell from the dock on which she was standing.

CROW'S NEST LINE LOCATED.

Winnipeg, May 25.—The McLeod Gazette says: The final location of the Crow's Nest Pass line has been made past McLeod. The line runs diagonally through the northeast corner of the race track. The station will be about a mile from Twenty-fourth street, the present business street of the town.

TWENTY-FOURTH AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, May 25.—The state function of the 24th was the dinner at Government House in the evening, followed by a state reception from 10 o'clock until midnight. The Premier, the Cabinet Ministers, Archbishop Duhamel, Bishop Hamilton, the judges of the Supreme Court and other dignitaries of church and state were among the guests of their Excellencies. Lord Aberdeen sent a congratulatory telegram to her Majesty during the day.

WHY TWO EARS ARE NECESSARY

Sound travels by waves radiating from a central point of disturbance, just as waves radiate when a stone is dropped into still water.

So far as the hearing of each individual is concerned, these waves move in a direct line from the cause of the sound to his ear, the impact being the greater in the ear nearest to the source.

This being the case, a person who has totally lost the sense of hearing in one ear, although he may imagine that the defect is of little consequence, cannot locate the direction of a sound to save his life, even when the center of disturbance is quite near him.—Answers.

A CHILD IN AN EAGLE'S TALONS.

Youngstown, O., May 25.—While playing in the yard yesterday a large gray eagle swooped down upon a 3-year-old child of Samuel Jackson, a farmer residing east of this city. The bird sunk its talons into the child and was attempting to carry it away when two farm hands appeared and clubbed it off.

How Americans Are Received On the Other Side of the Atlantic.

Invitations That Are Formal, Yet Extremely Cordial.

Complaints used to be heard in times past that Englishmen—some few of them—who had been well received in America had treated their American hosts coldly in England. There may have been such cases. The best society is not perfect, nor always entirely free from black sheep. But my conjecture would be that in most cases there had been a misunderstanding or misapprehension, and that this misapprehension was on the part of the American. One of these complaints was made to me, the maker an American of such a position that it seemed most unlikely he should incur a slight. "When A. was in America he stayed with me on the Hudson. I gave him dinners in New York, and letters to friends who did everything for him. I called on him here by his request. He has not offered me so much as a cup of tea, nor sent me an invitation of any kind." I suggested that it was already the end of the London season, that I knew that A. was leaving town and his town house closed, and I asked my irate friend whether he had not been asked to visit A. in Scotland.

"Asked? No, not asked. He just said, casually, he hoped I would let him know when I was coming to Scotland. You don't call that an invitation?"

Nevertheless, that is precisely what it was meant to be, and was. It it the English way. The Englishman, I explained as delicately as I knew how, never says a thing he does not mean, never emphasizes, often says less than he means, is never elaborate, not often ceremonious. "He said to you exactly what he would have said to an intimate friend. He does not make allowance for your unacquaintance with English customs. He wants you to come, and if you do not, he will not understand why. Country house life in Scotland is on easier terms than in England. You do not shoot, and therefore you are not asked to make one of a shooting-party for a fixed date. You are treated not as a gun, but as a friend. Propose yourself whenever it is convenient, and you will be welcomed." I had used an unlucky phrase. "Propose myself? Do you think I am going to ask A. to receive me as a guest?" Again I had to explain. The phrase, though not perhaps very elegant, is conventional. It is the equivalent of the one which my high-spirited countryman, whom it was impossible not to like the better for his high spirit, had resented. It is perhaps rather more common, or is used to supplement the other. If you say you are going to Scotland, the rejoinder is, "Will you propose yourself to us?" For the convenience of both parties a fixed date is avoided, and for the convenience of both a date is named by the arriving guest a little later, and not long before his visit. If it prove inconvenient, the answer is, "We are full on that date. Can you come a week later?" In this way visits are dovetailed into each other; the host keeps his house full, and the guest arranges his route, or, as the phrase is, his round of visits, to suit himself. All this is perfectly understood in England and Scotland. The American on his first trip abroad did not understand it. He did not seem to like it, even after it had been explained to him. He made his visit nevertheless, proposed himself, got a cordial letter, "delighted to see you," went, stayed ten days, and wrote me that nothing could be more charming than his reception, and that A. and all his family had treated him as an old friend.

This English reserve of manner and speech may or may not be the best thing in the world, but it is English and you must take the English as you find them. No missionary effort to make them over into the similitude of Americans or others will be of the least avail. They are genuine, simple, convinced and entirely sincere. We are quite entitled to think that the American way is best, and that an invitation ought to be expressed with enthusiasm, that ceremonies ought to be observed, or that a host's manner ought to be demonstrative and pressing. But you will not convert the English to that view, and the plain alternative before you is to take them as they are or leave them alone.—[From "English Country House Life," by George W. Smalley, in Harper's Magazine for May.

A BIG SALMON.

Astoria, May 25.—What is believed to be the largest salmon ever captured in the Columbia River has just been delivered at S. Elmore's packing house in this city. The monster was one of the truest and most perfect specimens of royal chinook salmon ever seen in Astoria. His actual measurement from tip to tip was 4 feet 5½ inches, and his largest circumference 1 foot. The spread of the tail was 1 foot 4 inches, and the exact weight 81½ pounds. The head, when severed from the body, weighed 8½ pounds. On being cooked and packed the fish filled 5¼ dozen one-pound cans.
