HARDY'S FISHERIES BILL DOWN.

ment's rectitude on the subject, Mr. Stratton, a newspaper editor himself, adduced from what he claimed to be the general support of the independent press of the Province. He first quoted The Peterboro Times, a locally rival journal to his own, one which he said had unscrupulously opposed him, and which had stooped almost as low as possible in belittling him during the campaign. Yet it now approved of Mr. Hardy's course on the constables' vote question. Then there was The Hamilton Herald, and quoting from it, Mr. Stratton stumbled and hesitated when he came to the statement "Mr. Hardy has opposed sharp practice with sharp practice." The Opposition laughed. The favorable attitude of The London Evening News and The Toronto Telegram met with little comment. But the speaker provoked a little jolly when he mentioned The Toronto Star as an independent paper and its editor as one who had stumped the country against Sir Oliver in 1890 and in 1894.

"Where is he now?" came from Whip Wardell. The laconic answer came from a Conservative throat, "In Mexico."

At any rate, said Mr. Stratton, he can be fairly classed as independent. In conclusion, he defended the constable legislation because it saved the country the expense of needless by-elections and candidates the cost of endless litigation. Defending the position of the discredited Ministers, he pleaded for a reasonable allowance of time to let them get back into the House, and, layman that he was, insisted that too much faith should not be pinned to precedents, but more to present circumstances.

Good Maiden Speech.

Next, in the seemingly endless alternation, arose Mr. Hoyle, the new Conservative member for North Ontario and the redeemer of that constituency. Mr. Hoyle asked the indulgence of the House, but sooth to say he needed it but little. He is prolific in debate, and brings to bear a ready repartee, once or twice locking horns, none to his disadvantage, with the Attorney-General. He opened by a very picturesque compliment to Mr. Speaker. "If," said he, "it were in the palmy days of the Roman Empire, you, sir, would be introduced to the Temple of Virtue, and through it to the inner Temple of Fame." Mr. Hoyle does not think that abuse of opposing leaders during their active life has come all from the Conservative side, and he reminded the Liberals of the way they had vilified the great Sir John while he had lived and helped sanctify him when dead. The Liberals complained of injuries received at the hands of the alleged senseless cry, "It is time for a change." He recalled how the Provincial Secretary had ventured into his riding during the campaign, and amidst other things had asked if it would be necessary for a man who had lived with his wife for 25 years to get up some fine morning and say, "It is time for a change." Had the Liberal party, asked Mr. Hoyle amid laughter, come to think that they were wedded to the Province of Ontario? He could not but feel that it was this delusion that had come so near giving them a licking March 1 last. [Laughter.] He ridiculed Mr. Stratton's 30,000 farmer visitors to the Agricultural College with even more force. Why, said he, they were men, women and children enjoying cheap rates and bent on a holiday trip! They had been lunched by the Government, but one stout vigorous farmer had boasted on returning that he could farm better than anything he had seen there. The Government boasted that no graduates were criticized by the college. What about the criticism of the members for Cardwell and East Victoria, he asked.

In a Hopeless Minority.

Mr. Hoyle did not bother himself much about Mr. Stratton's figures as to the Government's majority. He waived it aside with the comment that they were not calculated on a fair basis, in that the votes of Conservatives and all independents were not added together as unitedly cast in condemnation of the Government. He referred to The Globe of 1896 as supporting his contention. Taking it this way, the Government was found to be in a hopeless minority. He regretted that Mr. Stratton had seen fit to cast reflections on the judiciary. For instance, he did not think there was a trial judge in the Dominion, let alone in the province, who deserved to be dubbed, "A narrow-minded partisan."

Mr. Stratton here explained that he had said, "A possibly narrow-minded partisan," and Mr. Whitney acceded to this.

Then, returned Mr. Hoyle, such an insinuation should never have been made, and Mr. Whitney led the Opposition applause.

The speaker congratulated, like all others, the Giver of All Good, for the abundant harvest, adding that farmers were well satisfied, excepting for the rise in the price of binder twine. [Laughter.] Mr. Hardy had promised that his Central Prison plant was retained to keep down the price. Farmers were wondering why the monopoly still kept it up. The electorate had been denounced as corrupt upon the floor of the House, but he believed they were far superior to some members of the House.

Against Galloping Sessions.

Before recess he had also succeeded in making numerous points against the practice of holding galloping sessions. He quoted the words of a Grit lawyer, reported in The Weekly Sun, to the effect that the statutes were so much amended and mixed that they could scarcely be located. Judge Deacon was stated to have said that "the Ontario Legislature was pumping out laws as fast as a fire engine pumps out water." Nearer home, Judge McDougall had complained of failure to interpret the statutes with reasonable clearness, because of the language used. He had come to the conclusion that some of them had no meaning at all. [Laughter.] He had just deducted that these were proofs of the folly of hasty legislation such as the Government was trying to push through, when the Speaker left the chair at 6 p.m.

Evening Session.

Mr. Hoyle, continuing after dinner, quoted the statement of The Farmers' Sun, on the retroactive legislation and panicky attitude of the Government in calling the present session. It was only by sticking to the law, he declared, that it was possible to know where right lay, and just what the law allowed on the 1st of March was the action to be taken. [Applause.] In the matter of the constables' vote, it was to the legislative glory of the province to stay by the decision of the courts.

The speaker, coming to the question of the ballot system in vogue, likened it to a marked card in a game of whist. During the recent campaign he had more than 20 persons in his riding declare that they would mark their ballots for him only that they would be afraid to do so with a numbered ballot.

The Franchise Act needed to be entirely renewed; like Paddy's gun, it wanted a new barrel.

The speaker's quotation from The Citizen and Country, that if defeated, a Minister should resign at once and leave his office to be conducted by his deputy, was received with loud applause. He then moved the following amendment:

That the following words be added to the amendment: "And to respectfully express its hope and desire that Your Honor will, without delay, take steps to put an end to such an unusual and undesirable state of affairs."

Senior Representative of the Capital

Mr. Lumsden of Ottawa, a tall man with a long, venerable beard and an irresponsibly shaped bulkhead, said that he spoke as the senior representative of the Capital. He believed that he spoke collectively for the lumbermen in expressing confidence in the Hardy Administration. In spite of the narrow Liberal majority, it was the right arm of the province, and, did the Conservatives occupy the same position, they would claim to be not only its right arm, but its body and breeches. [Laughter.]

J. McLaughlin, Stormont, asked what the Hardy Government had done in the way of aiding the farmers in the province. Every dollar they had voted had gone to provide jobs for their friends. He declared that the students turned out annually from the Guelph Agricultural College were not what the country expected. [Applause.]

The farmers were bitterly disappointed in the neglect of the Government to reduce the price of binding twine. The man chiefly responsible for all the agricultural mismanagement of the province was Hon. Mr. Dryden, and a true estimate had been made of him by his constituents.

The speaker charged the Liberal party with driving out the Sandfield Macdonald Government by treachery, and holding the position by treachery and bribery ever since. [Applause and laughter.]

He raised laughter on the topic of the harvest of protests by stating that in his own riding a poverty-stricken grocer, unable to foot the bill, had been pushed forward to file the protest.

Mr. Russell of East Hastings, who had a very weak voice, and declaimed like a parson, spoke in favor of retaining the Minister of Crown Lands as one who had left the Conservative party without a semblance of a policy, and as one who would render invaluable aid to the country at the Quebec conference.

At a few minutes past 10 p.m. Thomas Crawford moved and carried an adjournment.

Thornhill.

Rev. W. F. Wilson of Hamilton visited a number of friends in the village on Saturday.

The first quarterly board meeting under the superintendency of Rev. F. C. Keam was held yesterday. The finances were in a satisfactory condition, and the board felt themselves able to raise the pastor's salary $25.

The pretty dwelling belonging to the Park estate has been purchased by Mr. F. G. Gallanough.

The annual garden party in aid of the Presbytery funds of St. Luke's and St. Mary's R.C. Church was held last evening in the church grounds at Thornhill. The evening was cool and pleasant and a large number gathered and spent an enjoyable time with their friends. The village band drew the crowd, played a number of choice selections at the grounds and then handed over the management to Jack O'Leary and W. Payne, who regaled the dancers with fitting selections, till the most ardent followers of the Terpsichorean are acknowledged their inability to wear out the staying powers of the fiddler. Jack McCann was director of ceremonies, and Rev. Father McMahon was ubiquitous in his endeavors to look after the wellbeing of his parishioners. The occasion was graced by the presence of W. F. Maclean, M.P., and Mrs. Maclean, W. J. Hill, M.L.A., and Mr. J. W. Moyes. The refreshment booth was pleasingly attended by Miss Marshall, Miss Glover, Miss Kelly and Miss Fitzpatrick.

Woodridge.

Woodbridge, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—James Golden, one of the section men on the C. P. R., is confined to the house with an injured foot, caused by an iron rail falling upon it.

Abraham Hilton had several sheep killed by dogs yesterday, and will enter action for damages against the owners of the dogs.

Pink eye is very prevalent among the cattle in this neighborhood.

Threshing in general and the crops are turning out better than expected. Mr. Rob of the 7th Con., Vaughan, threshed wheat and barley for three days in order to get in the remainder of his crop, averaging about 1000 bushels per day. Henry Keffer of Sherwood had 38 bushels of fall wheat to the acre and 30 bushels of barley. His oats are not light, as it was thought they would be.

Michael Brown has purchased a trotting mare out of Wild Brino, owned by Dr. Hodgins of Toronto. It has every indication of making a mark.

Mr. T. F. Wallace and family returned from a trip to islands in Muskoka on Saturday.

The citizens contemplate holding a day's sport here on their Civic Holiday, Aug. 18. There will be bicycle races, sports and a lacrosse match.

Death of Mr. Joseph Simpson.

Mr. Joseph Simpson of 140 St. George-street, well known to many citizens, died at his residence on Sunday morning after a brief illness of three days.

Deceased was engaged in manufacturing business for many years, and was the founder of the business carried on at Berkeley-street Knitting Mills. Mr. Simpson was a most exemplary citizen, and highly esteemed as most honorable and upright in his business relations. He leaves quite a large estate. He was a member of the National Club and Board of Trade.

Deceased was in his 75th year. He leaves a widow, two sons, Mr. R. M. Simpson of Glen Road, Mr. E. A. Simpson of Admiral road, and a daughter, Mrs. George W. Gates of San Francisco. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Paul Roddy, living on Simcoe-street, was arrested yesterday, charged with assaulting Gatekeeper Hart of the Union Station.

COUNTY AND SUBURBAN

Toronto Junction, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Civi Holiday was quietly observed to-day. The Suburban Electric cars were well patronized with excursionists going to the parks and to Weston, and the baseball matches drew large crowds of spectators.

An exciting match was played in the Town Park between the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen of the C. P. R. and the Locomotive Engineers and Firemen. There is a strong rivalry between these two sections of the railway men. As in the former game, the Trainmen were again victorious. Score, 38 to 25. Boston and Steele were the battery for the winning team; McInerney and Campbin for the Engineers.

The Bantams played against the Brockton Beavers this morning, and were victorious by a score of 10 to 5. This afternoon they played against the Hams of Hamilton and were again victorious by 16 to 2. J. Colwell and H. Wallace did the twirling for the Bantams.

East Toronto.

A summons has been issued charging John Gallagher with assault, the complainant being James Hewitt. Both parties live on Coxwell-avenue.

Agnes, the 5-year-old daughter of Mr. Ferguson of Norway, fell out of the baby carriage and broke her right wrist. Dr. Schnerk of East Toronto set the fracture, and the little one is doing well.

Mr. Marter J. Somers, proprietor of the Somers House, Scarboro, died yesterday morning at St. Michael's Hospital, to which place he went a few days ago to be treated for cancer in the stomach.

County Constable Burns, while playing cricket yesterday on the Woodbine, had the misfortune to have his nose cut by the ball. He had to have three stitches put in it. He returned shortly afterwards and finished the game.

Weston.

Mr A. P. Jackson a large property owner in Weston, died in Brandon hospital on Sunday. The remains will be brought to Toronto for interment.

The Gospel Tent, conducted by Evangelists McClintock and Teifer, was filled at all services yesterday.

The Epworth League of Christian Endeavor will excursh to Lambton Park tonight.

North Toronto.

The local baseball team played against the Athletics yesterday morning on the Davisville grounds, and defeated them by 11 runs to 7 with an innings to spare. The Regents defaulted to the North Torontos in the afternoon.

Despite the fact that yesterday was a holiday, Judge Morgan held the final Court of Revision of the assessment of York Township at the Town Hall. Thirteen appeals were up for hearing, and those of Messrs. McL. Howard and H. J. Grasett were traversed to the judge's chambers tomorrow. The reductions made were: Morse Bros., $3800 to $3500; W. B. Smith & Sons, lots on Woodbine-avenue, $4 to $3 per foot; Arthur Harvey, 12¼ acres, Little York, $2500 to $1250; Dr. McCausland and Messrs. R. Swann Bros., lots at Little York, from $2 to $1 per foot. The 1¼ miles of track of the Toronto & Scarboro Railway were assessed for $5000, but, on the representations made by Mr. E. McKenzie, and, governed by the decision of the Hamilton judges, the assessment was lowered to $2700, this being set as the actual marketable value of the poles, rails, wires, etc., outside of its connection with the railway as a running concern. Munro Park, formerly rated on $3000, was, on the strong advice of Mr. W. A. Clarke, the Township Clerk, raised to $5000, with the understanding that this figure would also stand good for next year also.

A new council of the C.O.C.F. was instituted with a membership of 21 at the Orange Hall last night. The following comprise the first set of officers for the new lodge: P C, T A Gibson; C C, J S Davis; V C, A J Childs, R, J M Whaley; A R, F Piper; treas, W J Farr; Prelate, A E Cummer; marshal, W J Moses; warden, J Mull; organist, J S Burkholder; guord, J Rydall; sentry, G R Reid; medical adviser, Dr G W Jackes.

For a Cyclist's Kit.

All cyclists who are up-to-date will carry a small-sized bottle of Abbey's Effervescent Salt in their "kit" this season. A teaspoonful of Abbey's Effervescent Salt in a tumbler of water makes a delicious and invigorating drink after a run. Sold by druggists everywhere.

A MINISTER'S WIFE SPEAKS.

Feels It Is Her Duty to Let People Know About Doan's Kidney Pills.

Many people are suffering from kidney diseases and disorders—don't know the right remedy—frittering away their money and their health on something that does them no good. Listen to the advice of Mrs. Phillips, wife of Rev. C. T. Phillips, Woodstock, N.B., who says:

"A member of our family took cold from exposure and over exertion, which brought on severe kidney trouble, and suffered intensely from pains in the back and distress while urinating.

"We tried Doan's Kidney Pills, and they removed the trouble at once. I do not hesitate to recommend a remedy that does its work so faithfully. I have proved them to be a specific for weakness of the urinary organs, general debility and other distressing troubles. I can therefore recommend them, feeling assured that those giving them a fair trial will find the result most gratifying."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers, or sent by mail on receipt of price—50 cents a box or 3 boxes for $1.25. The Doan Kidney Pill Co., Toronto, Ont.

Remember the name "Doan's" and refuse all others.
